§ 1. Toutes les stations, quel que soit leur objet, doivent, autant que possible, être établies et exploitées de manière à ne pas troubler les communications ou services radioélectriques, soit des autres gouvernements contractants, soit des exploitations privées reconnues par ces gouvernements contractants et des autres exploitations dûment autorisées qui effectuent un service de radiocommunication.

[18] Frequency tolerance: The frequency tolerance is the maximum permissible separation between the frequency assigned to a station and the actual frequency of emission.

[19] Power of a radio transmitter: The power of a radio transmitter shall be the power supplied to the antenna.

[20] In the case of a modulated wave transmitter, the power in the antenna shall be represented by two numbers, one indicating the value of the carrier-wave power supplied to the antenna and the other indicating the actual maximum rate of modulation used.

[21] Telegraphy: Telecommunication by any system of telegraph signaling. The word "telegram" also covers "radiotelegram", except when the text expressly precludes such a meaning.

[22] Telephony: Telecommunication by any system of telephone signaling.

[23] General network of telecommunication channels: The whole of the existing telecommunication channels open to public service, with the exception of the radio channels of the mobile service.

[24] Aeronautical service: A radio service carried on between aircraft stations and land stations and by aircraft stations communicating among themselves. This term shall also apply to fixed and special radio services intended to insure the safety of aerial navigation.

[25] Fixed service: A service carrying on radio communication of any kind between fixed points, with the exception of the broadcasting services and special services.

[26] Special service: A telecommunication service carried on especially for the needs of a specific service of general interest and not et non ouvert à la correspondance publique, tel que: un service de radiophare, de radiogoniométrie, de signaux horaires, de bulletins météorologiques réguliers, d'avis aux navigateurs, de messages de presse adressés à tous, d'avis médicaux (consultations radiomédicales), de fréquences étalonnées, d'émissions destinées à des buts scientifiques, etc.

[27] Service de radiodiffusion téléphonique: Un service effectuant la diffusion d'émissions radiophoniques essentiellement destinées à être reçues par le public en général.

[28] Service de radiodiffusion visuelle: Un service effectuant la diffusion d'images visuelles, fixes ou animées, essentiellement destinées à être reçues par le public en général.

ARTICLE 2.

Secret des radiocommunications.

[29] Les administrations s'engagent à prendre les mesures nécessaires pour faire interdire et réprimer:

[30] a) l'interception, sans autorisation, de radiocommunications qui ne sont pas destinées à l'usage général du public;

[31] b) la divulgation du contenu ou simplement de l'existence, la publication ou l'usage, sans autorisation, de radiocommunications qui auraient été interceptées délibérément ou non.

ARTICLE 3.

Licence.

[32] § 1. (1) Aucune station émettrice ne pourra être établie ou exploitée par un particulier, ou par une entreprise quelconque, sans licence spéciale délivrée par le gouvernement du pays dont relève la station en question.

[34] § 2. Le titulaire d'une licence est tenu de garder le secret des télécommunications, comme il est prévu à l'article 24 de la Convention. En outre, il doit résulter de la licence qu'il est interdit de capter les correspondances de radiocommunication autres que celles que la station est autorisée à recevoir et que, dans le cas où de telles correspondances sont involontairement reçues, elles ne doivent être ni reproduites, ni communiquées à des tiers, ni utilisées dans un but quelconque, et leur existence même ne doit pas être révélée.

[35] § 3. Afin de faciliter la vérification des licences délivrées à des stations mobiles, il est recommandé d'ajouter, s'il y a lieu, au texte rédigé dans la langue nationale, une traduction de ce texte en une langue dont l'usage est très répandu dans les relations internationales.

Definitions—Contd.

open to public correspondence, such as: a service of radiobeacons, radio direction finding, time signals, regular meteorological bulletins, notices to navigators, press messages addressed to all, medical notices (medical consultation by radio), standard frequencies, emissions for scientific purposes, etc.

[27] Telephone broadcasting service: A service carrying on the broadcasting of radiotelephone emissions primarily intended to be received by the general public.

[28] Visual broadcasting service: A service carrying on the broadcasting of visual images, either fixed or moving, primarily intended to be received by the general public.

ARTICLE 2

Secrecy of Radio Communications

Secrecy of radio communications.

[29] The administrations agree to take the necessary measures to prohibit and prevent:

[30] (a) the unauthorized interception of radio communications not intended for the general use of the public;

[31] (b) the divulging of the contents or of the mere existence, the publication or use, without authorization, of radio communications which may have been intercepted intentionally or otherwise.

ARTICLE 3

License

License.

[32] § 1. (1) No transmitting station may be established or operated by any person or by any enterprise whatever without a special license issued by the government of the country to which the station in question is subject.

[33] (2) Mobile stations having their port of registry in a colony, a territory under sovereignty or mandate, an overseas territory, or a protectorate, may be considered as being subject to the authority of this colony, these territories, or this protectorate, so far as concerns the granting of licenses.

[34] § 2. The holder of a license shall be bound to preserve the secrecy of telecommunications, as provided for in article 24 of the Convention. In addition, the license must state that it is prohibited to receive radio correspondence other than that which the station is authorized to receive, and that, in case such correspondence is received involuntarily, it must neither be reproduced nor communicated to third persons, nor used for any purpose whatever, and that the very existence thereof must not be revealed.

[35] § 3. In order to facilitate the verification of licenses issued to mobile stations, it is recommended that there be added, when necessary, to the text drafted in the national language, a translation of this text into a language in general use in international relations.

[36] § 4. The government issuing the license to a mobile station shall mention therein the category to which this station belongs from the standpoint of international public correspondence.

ARTICLE 4.

Choix des appareils.

[37] § 1. Le choix des appareils et des dispositifs radioélectriques à employer dans une station est libre, à condition que les ondes émises satisfassent aux stipulations du présent Règlement.

[38] § 2. Toutefois, dans les limites compatibles avec les exigences économiques, le choix des appareils d'émission, de réception et de mesure doit s'inspirer des plus résents progrès de la technique, tels qu'ils sont indiqués notamment dans les avis du C.C.I.R.

ARTICLE 5.

Classification des émissions.

[39] § 1. Les émissions sont réparties en deux classes:

A. Ondes entretenues,
B. Ondes amorties, définies comme suit:

[40] Classe A: Ondes dont les oscillations successives sont identiques en régime permanent.

[41] Classe B: Ondes composées de séries successives d'oscillations dont l'amplitude, après avoir atteint un maximum, décroît graduellement.

[42] § 2. Des ondes de la classe A dérivent les ondes des types ci-après:

[46] Type A4. Ondes entretenues dont l'amplitude ou la fréquence varie suivant une loi quelconque de fréquence plus grande que les fréquences audibles. Un exemple de ce type est la télévision.

[47] § 3. La classification qui précède, en ondes A1, A2, A3 et A4, n'empêche pas l'emploi, dans des conditions fixées par les administrations intéressées, d'ondes modulées ou manipulées, par des procédés ne rentrant pas dans les définitions des types A1, A2, A3 et A4.

[48] § 4. Ces définitions ne sont pas relatives aux systèmes des appareils d'émission.

[49] § 5. Les ondes seront désignées, en premier lieu, par leur fréquence en kilocycles par seconde (kc/s). A la suite de cette désignation sera indiquée, entre parenthèses, la longueur approximative en mètres. Dans le présent Règlement, la valeur approximative de la longueur d'onde en mètres est le quotient de la division du nombre 300 000 par la fréquence exprimée en kilocycles par seconde.

ARTICLE 4

Choice of Apparatus

Choice of apparatus.

[37] § 1. The choice of radio apparatus and devices to be used in a station shall be unrestricted, provided that the waves emitted satisfy the provisions of the present Regulations.

[38] § 2. However, within limits compatible with economic requirements, the choice of transmitting, receiving, and measuring apparatus must be guided by the most recent technical progress as shown, notably, in the Opinions of the C.C.I.R.

ARTICLE 5

Classification of Emissions

Classification of emissions.

[39] § 1. Emissions shall be divided into two classes:

A. Continuous waves,
B. Damped waves,

defined as follows:

[40] Class A: Waves the successive oscillations of which are identical under fixed conditions.

[41] Class B: Waves composed of successive series of oscillations the amplitude of which, after attaining a maximum, decreases gradually.

[42] § 2. The following types of waves are derived from Class A waves:

[43] Type A1. Continuous waves the amplitude or frequency of which varies under the effect of telegraph keying.

[44] Type A2. Continuous waves the amplitude or frequency of which varies according to a periodic audiofrequency law, combined with telegraph keying.

[45] Type A3. Continuous waves the amplitude or frequency of which varies according to a complex and variable audiofrequency law. An example of this type is radiotelephony.

[46] Type A4. Continuous waves the amplitude or frequency of which varies according to any law of frequencies greater than audible frequencies. An example of this type is television.

[47] § 3. The foregoing classification into waves of types A1, A2, A3, and A4 shall not prevent the use, under conditions fixed by the administrations concerned, of waves modulated or keyed by methods not included in the definitions of types A1, A2, A3, and A4.

[48] § 4. These definitions shall not relate to systems of transmitting apparatus.

[49] § 5. Waves shall be indicated first by their frequency in kilocycles per second (kc). Following this indication there shall be indicated, in parentheses, the approximate length in meters. In the present Regulations, the approximate value of the wave length in meters is the quotient of the number 300,000 divided by the frequency expressed in kilocycles per second.

ARTICLE 6.

Qualité des émissions.

[50] § 1. Les ondes émises par une station doivent être maintenues à la fréquence autorisée, aussi exactement que le permet l'état de la technique, et leur rayonnement doit être aussi exempt qu'il est pratiquement possible de toute émission qui n'est pas essentielle au type de la communication effectuée.

[53] (3) En ce qui concerne la largeur des bandes de fréquences occupées par les émissions, il faut tenir compte, dans la pratique, des conditions suivantes:

1° Largeur de la bande donnée dans l'appendice 2.
2° Variation de la fréquence de l'onde porteuse.
3° Conditions techniques supplémentaires, telles que les possibilités techniques relatives à la forme des caractéristiques des circuits filtrants, tant pour les émetteurs que pour les récepteurs.

[54] § 3. (1) Les administrations vérifieront fréquemment si les ondes émises par les stations relevant de leur autorité répondent aux prescriptions du présent Règlement.

[55] (2) On s'efforcera d'obtenir une collaboration internationale en cette matière.

[56] § 4. Afin de réduire les brouillages dans la bande de fréquences au-dessus de 6000 kc/s (longueurs d'onde inférieures à 50 m), il est recommandé d'employer, lorsque la nature du service le permet, des systèmes d'antennes directives.

ARTICLE 7.

Répartition et emploi des fréquences (longueurs d'onde) et des types d'émission.

[57] § 1. Sous réserve des dispositions de l'alinéa (5) du § 5 ci-après, les administrations des pays contractants peuvent attribuer une fréquence quelconque et un type d'onde quelconque à toute station radioélectrique sous leur autorité, à la seule condition qu'il n'en résulte pas de brouillages avec un service quelconque d'un autre pays.

[58] § 2. Toutefois, les administrations sont d'accord pour attribuer aux stations qui, en raison de leur nature même. sont susceptibles de

ARTICLE 6

Quality of Emissions

Quality of emissions.

[50] § 1. The waves emitted by a station must be kept on the authorized frequency as exactly as the state of the art permits, and their radiation must be as free as practically possible from all emissions not essential to the type of communication carried on.

[51] § 2. (1) The administrations shall, for the various cases of operation, determine the characteristics relative to the quality of the emissions, notably the accuracy and stability of frequency of the emitted wave, the level of harmonics, the width of the total frequency band occupied, etc., so that they will be in accord with technical progress.

Tables.
Post, pp. 2585, 2589.

[52] (2) The administrations agree to consider the tables (appendix 1: Table of Frequency Tolerances and of Instabilities; appendix 2: Table of Frequency Band Widths Occupied by the Emissions) as a guide indicating for the various cases, the limits to be observed to the extent possible.

[53] (3) Concerning the widths of frequency bands occupied by emissions, in practice the following conditions must be taken into account:

Post, p. 2589.

1. Width of the band as shown in appendix 2.
2. Variation of the frequency of the carrier wave.
3. Other technical conditions, such as the technical possibilities with regard to the form of filter circuit characteristics, both for transmitters and for receivers.

[54] § 3. (1) The administrations shall frequently check the waves emitted by the stations under their jurisdiction to determine whether or not they comply with the provisions of the present Regulations.

[55] (2) Effort shall be made to obtain international cooperation in this matter.

[56] § 4. In order to reduce interference in the frequency bands above 6,000 kc (wavelengths below 50 m), the use of directive antenna systems is recommended when such use is compatible with the nature of the service.

ARTICLE 7

Allocation and Use of Frequencies (Wavelengths) and of Types of Emission Frequencies.

Allocation, etc., of.
Post, p. 2457.

[57] § 1. Subject to the provisions of subparagraph (5) of § 5 below, the administrations of the contracting countries may assign any frequency and any type of wave to any radio station under their jurisdiction on the sole condition that no interference with any service of another country will result therefrom.

[58] § 2. The administrations, however, agree to assign to stations which by their very nature are capable of causing serious international causer de sérieux brouillages internationaux, des fréquences et des types d'onde en conformité avec les règles de répartition et d'emploi des ondes, telles qu'elles sont indiquées ci-après.

[59] § 3. Les administrations s'engagent aussi à attribuer des fréquences à ces stations, selon le genre de leur service, en se conformant au tableau de répartition des fréquences (voir le tableau ci-après).

[61] § 5. (1) Les fréquences assignées par les administrations à toutes stations fixes, terrestres et de radiodiffusion, ainsi que la limite supérieure de la puissance prévue doivent être notifiées au Bureau de l'Union, en vue de leur publication, lorsque les stations en question effectueront un service régulier et qu'elles seront susceptibles de causer des brouillages internationaux. Doivent également être notifiées au Bureau de l'Union, en vue de leur publication, les fréquences sur lesquelles reçoit une station côtière pour effectuer un service particulier avec les stations de navire utilisant des émetteurs stabilisés. Les fréquences doivent être choisies de manière à éviter, autant que possible, de brouiller les services internationaux appartenant aux pays contractants et effectués par des stations existantes, dont les fréquences ont déjà été notifiées au Bureau de l'Union. La notification précitée devra être faite selon les dispositions de l'article 15, § 1, b) et de l'appendice 3 avant la mise en service de la fréquence et suffisamment à temps pour permettre aux administrations de prendre toute mesure qui leur semblerait nécessaire en vue d'assurer une bonne exécution de leurs services.

[62] (2) a) Toutefois, lorsque la fréquence qu'une administration a l'intention d'assigner à une station est une fréquence en dehors des bandes autorisées par le présent Règlement pour le service en cause, cette administration fera, par avis spécial, la notification prévue à l'alinéa précédent au moins six mois avant la mise en exploitation de cette fréquence et, dans les cas d'urgence, au moins trois mois avant cette date.

[65] (3) a) Les administrations intéressées s'entendent, en cas de besoin, pour la fixation des ondes à attribuer aux stations dont il interference, frequencies and types of waves in conformity with the rules for allocation and use of waves, as set forth below.

[59] § 3. The administrations also agree to assign frequencies to these stations, according to the kind of service they perform, in conformity with the table of allocation of frequencies (see table below). Post, p. 2459.

[60] § 4. In the case where bands of frequencies are assigned to a specific service, the stations of that service must use frequencies sufficiently separated from the limits of these bands so as not to produce harmful interference with the operation of stations belonging to services to which the frequency bands immediately adjoining have been assigned.

[61] § 5. (1) The frequencies assigned by administrations to all fixed, land, and broadcasting stations, as well as the upper limit of power contemplated, must be notified to the Bureau of the Union with a view to their publication, when the stations in question carry on a regular service and are capable of causing international interference. Frequencies on which a coast station receives in carrying on a particular service with ship stations using stabilized transmitters must also be notified to the Bureau of the Union with a view to their publication. Frequencies must be selected in such a way as to avoid, so far as possible, interfering with international services belonging to the contracting countries and operated by existing stations, of which the frequencies have already been notified to the Bureau of the Union. The aforesaid notification must be made in accordance with the provisions of article 15, § 1 (b) and appendix 6 before the frequency is put into service and sufficiently in advance thereof to allow administrations to take any action which they may deem necessary to insure the efficient operation of their services. Notification. Post, pp. 2497, 2599.

[62] (2) (a) However, when the frequency which an administration intends to assign to a station is outside the bands authorized by the present Regulations for the service involved, this administration shall, in a special report, make the notification mentioned in the preceding subparagraph at least 6 months before this frequency is put into service, and in urgent cases, at least 3 months before that date.

[63] (b) The notification procedure laid down above shall also be observed when an administration intends to increase or to authorize the increase of the power or a change in the conditions of radiation of a station already operating outside the authorized bands, even if the frequency used is to remain the same.

[64] (c) With regard to stations which, when the present Regulations go into force, are already operating outside the bands authorized therein, the frequency and the power used shall be notified immediately to the Bureau of the Union, with a view to their publication, if such a notification has not been made previously.

[65] (3) (a) The administrations concerned shall conclude agreements, when needed, for determining the waves to be assigned s'agit, ainsi que pour la détermination des conditions d'emploi des ondes ainsi attribuées.

[70] c) L'administration qui désire établir un tel service ou obtenir une modification des conditions fixées par un accord antérieur relatif à un tel service (fréquence, puissance, position géographique, etc.) en saisit les administrations européennes par l'intermédiaire du Bureau de l'Union. Toute administration qui n'aura pas répondu dans un délai de 6 semaines après réception de ladite communication sera considérée comme ayant donné son assentiment.

[72] § 6. (1) En principe, la puissance des stations de radiodiffusion ne doit pas dépasser la valeur permettant d'assurer économiquement un service national efficace et de bonne qualité dans les limites du pays considéré.

[73] (2) En principe, l'emplacement des stations de radiodiffusion puissantes, et plus particulièrement de celles qui travaillent près des limites des bandes de fréquences réservées à la radiodiffusion, to the stations in question, as well as for laying down the conditions of use of the waves thus assigned.

[66] (b) The administrations of any region may, in accordance with article 13 of the Convention, conclude regional arrangements regarding the allocation either of frequency bands to the services of the participating countries, or of frequencies to stations of these countries, and concerning the conditions for the use of the waves so assigned. The provisions of § 1 and those of § 5 (1) and (2) shall also apply to any arrangement of this nature.

Ante, p. 2401.

Ante, pp. 2445, 2451.

[67] (4) The administrations concerned shall conclude the necessary agreements to avoid interference and, when needed, shall, for this purpose, in conformity with the procedure which will be agreed among them in bilateral or regional agreements, call upon organs of expert investigation or of expert investigation and conciliation. If no agreement can be reached with regard to avoiding interference, the provisions of article 15 of the Convention can be applied.

If no agreement reached.

[68] (5) (a) With regard to European broadcasting and subject to any right to which the extra-European administrations might be entitled by virtue of the present Regulations, the detailed provisions below, which can be abrogated or changed by agreement among the European administrations and which in no way change the provisions of subparagraph (2) above, shall be brought to bear in applying the principle laid down in § 1.

European broadcasting.

[69] (b) Failing a preliminary agreement between the administrations of the European contracting countries, the right contemplated in § 1 cannot, within the limits of the European region, be used for the purpose of carrying on a broadcasting service outside the bands authorized by the present Regulations on frequencies below 1,500 kc (wavelengths above 200 m).

[70] (c) An administration wishing to establish such a service or to obtain a change in the conditions laid down by a previous agreement with regard to such a service (frequency, power, geographic position, etc.) shall submit the request to the European administrations through the Bureau of the Union. Any administration which does not answer within 6 weeks after the receipt of the said communication shall be considered as having given its assent.

[71] (d) It is fully understood that such a preliminary agreement shall also be necessary whenever, in a European broadcasting station, operating outside the authorized frequency bands, a change is made in the characteristics previously reported to the Bureau of the Union, and when such change is capable of affecting the condition of international interference.

Use of power.

[72] § 6. (1) In principle, the power of broadcasting stations must not exceed the value necessary to insure economically an effective high-quality national service within the limits of the country considered.

[73] (2) In principle, the location of powerful broadcasting stations, and especially of those which operate near the limits of the frequency bands reserved to broadcasting, must be chosen in such a

R. S. S. et les territoires bordant la Méditerranée, à l'exception des parties de l'Arabie et du Hedjaz qui se trouvent comprises dans ce secteur.

[76] 1) L'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m) est l'onde d'appel des stations mobiles utilisant des ondes longues entretenues.

[79] 4) La bande de fréquences de 160 à 265 kc/s (1 875 à 1 132 m) est également attribuée à l'Australie et à la Nouvelle-Zélande pour la radiodiffusion comme distribution régionale. Les administrations de ces deux pays sont d'accord pour placer les stations, qui émettront dans cette bande, de manière à éviter des brouillages avec les autres services dans les autres régions.

[75] * Definition of the European region: The European region is limited on the north and west by the natural boundaries of Europe, on the east by the meridian 40° East of Greenwich and on the south by the parallel 30° North, so as to include the western part of the U.S.S.R. and the territories bordering on the Mediterranean, except the parts of Arabia and Hejaz which are included in this sector.

[76] [1] The wave of 143 kc (2,100 m) is the calling-wave of mobile stations using continuous long waves.

[77] [2] The European administrations shall arrange among themselves for placing in the band 240 to 265 kc (1,250 to 1,132 m) broadcasting stations which, by reason of their geographical position, will not interfere with services not open to public correspondence or with aeronautical services. Furthermore, these services shall be organized in such a way as not to interfere with the reception of the broadcasting stations thus chosen, within the limits of the national territories of these stations.

[78] [3] Services open to public correspondence shall not be admitted in the bands allocated to broadcasting, between 160 and 265 kc (1,875 and 1,132 m), even under the terms of article 7, § 1.

[79] [4] The frequency band 160 to 265 kc (1,875 to 1,132 m) shall also be assigned to Australia and New Zealand for broadcasting, as a regional allocation. The administrations of these two countries agree to place stations transmitting in this band, in such a way as to avoid interfering with other services in other regions.

[32] [7]) L'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m) est l'onde internationale d'appel et de détresse. L'emploi de cette onde est défini aux articles 19, 22 et 30.

[34] Par ailleurs, les services non ouverts à la correspondance publique s'organiseront pour ne pas brouiller la réception des stations de radiodiffusion ainsi choisies, dans les limites des territoires nationaux de ces stations.

[35] [9]) Les services mobiles peuvent utiliser la bande de 550 à 1 300 kc/s (545 à 230,8 m), à condition de ne pas brouiller les services d'un pays qui utilise cette même bande exclusivement pour la radiodiffusion.

[55] 9 Mobile services may use the band 550 to 1,300 kc (545 to 230.8 m) on condition that they do not interfere with the services of a country which uses this same band exclusively for broadcasting.

[56] 10 On the frequency of 1,364 kc (220 m), type B waves shall be forbidden between 18:00 and 23:00 o'clock, local time, in all the regions where their use might interfere with broadcasting. However, in the region of North America, type-A1 waves only shall be authorized during these hours.

[87] 11) La fréquence de 1 650 kc/s (182 m) est une onde d'appel pour le service mobile de radiotéléphonie avec les stations de navire de faible puissance. Cette onde d'appel n'est pas obligatoire et la date à laquelle elle deviendra obligatoire pour chaque pays sera déterminée par réglementation intérieure.

[89] 13) Aucun trafic ne peut se faire dans la bande de 1 630 à 1 670 kc/s (184,0 à 179,6 m).

[90] L'appel sur l'onde de 1 650 kc/s (182 m) n'est pas obligatoire; sa mise en vigueur pour chaque pays sera déterminée par réglementation intérieure.

[91] 14) A l'intérieur de l'Europe, les bandes de fréquences de 1 530 à 1 630 kc/s et de 1 670 à 1 715 kc/s (196,1 à 184,0 m et 179,6 à 174,9 m) peuvent être utilisées par les services fixes à courte distance, à condition de ne pas brouiller les services mobiles.

[87] 11 The frequency 1,650 kc (182 m) is a calling-wave for the mobile radiotelephone service with low-power ship stations. This calling-wave shall not be obligatory and the date on which it shall become obligatory for each country shall be determined by internal regulation.

[88] 12 In principle, this frequency band shall be reserved for telephone service with low-power ship stations. The countries of Europe whose ships do not use this type of communication shall avoid, so far as possible, the use of telegraphy in this band in regions near those where this telephone service is carried on.

[89] 13 No traffic may be carried on in the band 1,630 to 1,670 kc (184 to 179.6 m).

[90] Calling on the wave of 1,650 kc (182 m) shall not be obligatory; each country shall determine, by internal regulation, when it shall become effective.

[91] 14 Within Europe, the frequency bands 1,530 to 1,630 kc and 1,670 to 1,715 kc (196.1 to 184 m and 179.6 to 174.9 m) may be used by short-distance fixed services, provided they do not interfere with mobile services.

[92] NOTE.—A European conference, which is to take place before the going into effect of the present Regulations, may, as an exception, decide on annexing to its protocol some of the derogations which it may decide to make in the regional bands and which it may deem necessary to show therein. Such derogations will be in addition to those which are already provided for in the above table.

[93] § 8. (1) L'usage des ondes du type B est interdit pour toutes les fréquences à l'exception des fréquences suivantes:

375 kc/s (800 m)
410 kc/s (730 m)
425 kc/s (705 m)
454 kc/s (660 m)
500 kc/s (600 m)
1364 kc/s (220 m) *)

[94] (2) Aucune nouvelle installation d'émetteurs d'ondes du type B ne peut être faite sur des navires ou des aéronefs, sauf quand ces émetteurs, travaillant à pleine puissance, dépenseront moins de 300 watts mesurés à l'entrée du transformateur d'alimentation à fréquence audible.

[97] (5) Les administrations s'efforceront d'abandonner le plus tôt possible les ondes du type B, autres que l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m).

[98] § 9. L'emploi des ondes du type A1 seulement est autorisé entre 100 et 160 kc/s (3 000 et 1 875 m); la seule exception à cette règle est relative aux ondes du type A2 qui peuvent être utilisées dans la bande de 100 à 125 kc/s (3 000 à 2 400 m) pour les signaux horaires exclusivement.

[101] (2) Cette règle ne s'applique pas aux régions où des accords particuliers en disposent autrement.

[102] § 12. (1) En principe, toute station qui assure un service entre points fixes sur une onde de fréquence inférieure à 110 kc/s (longueur d'onde supérieure à 2 727 m) doit employer une seule fréquence, choisie parmi les bandes attribuées audit service (§ 7 ci-avant), pour chacun des émetteurs qu'elle comporte. susceptibles de fonctionner simultanément.

[103] (2) Il n'est pas permis à une station de faire usage, pour un service entre points fixes, d'une fréquence autre que celle attribuée comme il est dit ci-avant.

*) Voir la note 10) du tableau de répartition des fréquences.

[93] § 8. (1) The use of type-B waves shall be forbidden on all frequencies, except the following: Type-B waves.

[94] (2) No new installation of transmitters of type-B waves may be made on ships or aircraft, except when these transmitters, working at full power, use less than 300 watts measured at the input of the audiofrequency supply transformer.

[95] (3) The use of type-B waves on all frequencies shall be forbidden, beginning January 1, 1940, except for transmitters meeting the power requirements stated in subparagraph (2) above.

[96] (4) No new installation of type-B-wave transmitters may be made in a land or fixed station. The waves of this type shall be forbidden in all land stations beginning January 1, 1935.

[97] (5) The administrations shall endeavor to abandon type-B waves, other than the 500-kc (600-m) wave, as soon as possible.

[98] § 9. The use of type-A1 waves only shall be authorized between 100 and 160 kc (3,000 and 1,875 m); the only exception to this rule shall be for type-A2 waves which may be used in the band 100 to 125 kc (3,000 to 2,400 m) for time signals exclusively.

[99] § 10. In the band 460 to 550 kc (652 to 545 m) no type of emission capable of rendering inoperative the distress, alarm, safety, or urgent signals sent on 500 kc (600 m) shall be authorized. Frequencies interfering with distress, etc., signals.

[100] § 11. (1) In the band 325 to 345 kc (923 to 870 m), no type of emission capable of rendering inoperative distress, safety, or urgent signals shall be authorized.

[101] (2) This rule shall not apply to regions in which special agreements provide otherwise.

[102] § 12. (1) In principle, any station carrying on a service between fixed points on a wave with a frequency below 110 kc (wavelengths above 2,727 m) must use only one frequency, chosen from the bands allocated to the said service (§ 7 above), for each of its transmitters capable of simultaneous operation. Use of more than one frequency.

[103] (2) A station shall not be permitted to use a frequency other than that allocated as stated above, for a service between fixed points. Use of unauthorized frequency.

* See footnote (10) to the allocation table.

[105] § 14. Une station fixe peut effectuer, sur sa fréquence normale de travail, comme service secondaire, des émissions destinées aux stations mobiles, à condition:

[106] a) que les administrations intéressées jugent nécessaire d'utiliser cette méthode exceptionnelle de travail; [107] b) qu'il n'en résulte aucune augmentation des brouillages.

[108] § 15. Afin de faciliter l'échange des messages météorologiques synoptiques dans les régions européennes, les fréquences 41,6 kc/s et 89,5 kc/s (7210 m et 3 352 m) sont attribuées à ce service.

[109] § 16. Pour faciliter la transmission et la distribution rapides des renseignements utiles à la découverte des crimes et à la poursuite des criminels, une fréquence entre 37,5 et 100 kc/s (entre 8 000 et 3 000 m) sera réservée pour cet objet, par des arrangements régionaux.

[110] § 17. Chaque administration peut attribuer aux stations d'amateur des bandes de fréquences conformes au tableau de répartition (§ 7 ci-avant).

[111] § 18. En vue de réduire les brouillages dans les bandes de fréquences supérieures à 4000 kc/s (longueurs d'onde inférieures à 75 m), utilisées par le service mobile, et en particulier pour éviter de gêner les communications téléphoniques à grande distance de ce service, les administrations sont d'accord pour adopter, autant que possible, les règles suivantes, en tenant compte du développement de la technique courante:

[112] (1) a) Dans les bandes de fréquences supérieures à 5 500 kc/s (longueurs d'onde inférieures à 54,55 m) attribuées exclusivement au service mobile, les fréquences (longueurs d'onde) qui devront être utilisées par les stations de navire affectées au service commercial seront du côté des basses fréquences (ondes plus longues) et spécialement dans les limites des bandes harmoniques énumérées ci-après:

5 500 à 5 550 kc/s (54,55 à 54,05 m)
6 170 à 6 250 kc/s (48,62 à 48,00 m)
8 230 à 8 330 kc/s (36,45 à 36,01 m)
11 000 à 11 100 kc/s (27,27 à 27,03 m)
12 340 à 12 500 kc/s (24,31 à 24,00 m)
16 460 à 16 660 kc/s (18,23 à 18,01 m)
22 000 à 22 200 kc/s (13,64 à 13,51 m).

[113] Note. Les bandes de fréquences de 4115 à 4165 kc/s (72,90 à 72,03 m) peuvent également être utilisées par les stations susdites (voir aussi (2), c) ci-après).

[104] § 13. In principle, the stations shall use the same frequencies and the same types of emission for the transmission of messages by the unilateral method as for their normal service. Regional arrangements may, however, be made for the purpose of exempting the stations concerned from complying with this rule.

Mobile station transmissions; conditions.

[105] § 14. A fixed station may, as secondary service, on its normal working frequency, make transmissions intended for mobile stations on the following conditions:

[106] (a) that the administrations concerned deem it necessary to use this exceptional working method;

[107] (b) that no increase in interference results therefrom.

Exchanging synoptic meteorological messages.

[108] § 15. In order to facilitate the exchange of synoptic meteorological messages in the European regions, the frequencies of 41.6 kc and 89.5 kc (7,210 m and 3,352 m) shall be allocated to this service.

Criminal detection, etc.

[109] § 16. To facilitate rapid transmission and distribution of information of value in the detection of crime and pursuit of criminals, a frequency between 37.5 and 100 kc (between 8,000 and 3,000 m) shall be reserved for this purpose by regional arrangements.

Amateur stations.

[110] § 17. Each administration may allocate to amateur stations frequency bands in accordance with the allocation table (§ 7 above).

Interference provisions.

[111] § 18. In order to decrease interference in the frequency bands above 4,000 kc (wavelengths below 75 m), used by the mobile service, and particularly in order to avoid interfering with the long-distance telephone communications of this service, the administrations agree to adopt the following rules, wherever possible, taking into account current engineering development:

Ship stations, commercial service.

[112] (1) (a) In the frequency bands above 5,500 kc (wavelengths below 54.55 m) allocated exclusively to the mobile service, the frequencies (wavelengths) which must be used by ship stations carrying on commercial service shall be on the low-frequency (long-wave) side of the band, and especially in the limits of the harmonic bands enumerated below:

5,500 to 5,550 kc (54.55 to 54.05 m)
6,170 to 6,250 kc (48.62 to 48.00 m)
8,230 to 8,330 kc (36.45 to 36.01 m)
11,000 to 11,100 kc (27.27 to 27.03 m)
12,340 to 12,500 kc (24.31 to 24.00 m)
16,460 to 16,660 kc (18.23 to 18.01 m)
22,000 to 22,200 kc (13.64 to 13.51 m)

[113] NOTE.—The frequency bands 4,115 to 4,165 kc (72.90 to 72.03 m) may also be used by the stations mentioned above [see also (2) (c) below].

Ship to coast.

[114] (b) However, any commercial ship station the emissions of which comply with the frequency tolerances required of land stations under § 2 (2) of article 6, may transmit on the same frequency as the coast station with which it communicates.

Ante, p. 2453.

4 140 kc/s (72,46 m)
5 520 kc/s (54,35 m)
6 210 kc/s (48,31 m)
8 280 kc/s (36,23 m)
11 040 kc/s (27,17 m)
12 420 kc/s (24,15 m)
16 560 kc/s (18,12 m)
22 080 kc/s (13,59 m).

[116] Note. Les administrations sont d'accord pour indiquer, en notifiant la fréquence d'une station côtière, sur laquelle des ondes spécifiées à l'alinéa (1), litt. c) l'écoute sera faite.

4 400 à 4 450 kc/s (68,18 à 67,42 m)
8 800 à 8 900 kc/s (34,09 à 33,71 m)
13 200 à 13 350 kc/s (22,73 à 22,47 m)
17 600 à 17 750 kc/s (17,05 à 16,90 m)
22 900 à 23 000 kc/s (13,10 à 13,04 m).

[118] b) On peut également utiliser des fréquences choisies dans la portion de la bande réservée aux services mobiles de 6 600 à 6 675 kc/s (45,45 à 44,94 m), en relation harmonique avec les bandes précédentes.

[119] c) Les prescriptions de l'alinéa (2), a) ne s'appliquent pas à la portion de la bande commune entre 4 115 et 4 165 kc/s (72,90 et 72,03 m) qui peut être utilisée par toute station de navire affectée au service commercial.

[120] (3) En choisissant les fréquences des nouvelles stations fixes et côtières, les administrations éviteront d'employer les fréquences des bandes spécifiées dans les alinéas (1), litt. a), (2), litt. a), (2), litt. b) et (2), litt. c).

[121] § 19. (1) Il est reconnu que les fréquences entre 6 000 et 30 000 kc/s (50 et 10 m) sont très efficaces pour les communications à longue distance.

[122] (2) Les administrations s'efforceront, dans toute la mesure du possible, de réserver les fréquences de cette bande dans ce but, excepté quand leur emploi pour des communications à courte ou à moyenne distance n'est pas susceptible de brouiller les communications à grande distance.

[115] (c) When a communication for which no special arrangement has been made must be established between a ship station, on one hand, and another ship station or a coast station, on the other hand, the mobile station shall use one of the following frequencies situated approximately in the middle of the bands:

4,140 kc (72.46 m)
5,520 kc (54.35 m)
6,210 kc (48.31 m)
8,280 kc (36.23 m)
11,040 kc (27.17 m)
12,420 kc (24.15 m)
16,560 kc (18.12 m)
22,080 kc (13.59 m)

[116] NOTE.—The administrations agree, in reporting the frequency of a coast station, to indicate on which one of the waves specified in subparagraph (1) (c) listening will be carried on.

[117] (2) (a) Ship stations carrying on commercial service shall use the shared bands above 4,000 kc (wavelengths below 75 m) only when their emissions comply with the frequency tolerances specified for land stations in § 2 (2) of article 6. In this case, the frequencies used must be chosen on the higher-frequency (shorter-wave) side of the shared band and, more especially, in the limits of the harmonic bands enumerated below:

4,400 to 4,450 kc (68.18 to 67.42 m)
8,800 to 8,900 kc (34.09 to 33.71 m)
13,200 to 13,350 kc (22.73 to 22.47 m)
17,600 to 17,750 kc (17.05 to 16.90 m)
22,900 to 23,000 kc (13.10 to 13.04 m)

[118] (b) Frequencies chosen in the portion of the band reserved to mobile services from 6,600 to 6,675 kc (45.45 to 44.94 m), in harmonic relation with the preceding bands, may also be used.

[119] (c) The provisions of subparagraph (2) (a) shall not apply to the portion of the shared band between 4,115 and 4,165 kc (72.90 and 72.03 m) which may be used by any ship station carrying on a commercial service.

[120] (3) In selecting frequencies for new fixed and coast stations, the administrations shall avoid using the frequencies in the bands specified in subparagraphs (1) (a), (2) (a), (2) (b), and (2) (c). Selecting frequencies for new stations.

[121] § 19. (1) It is recognized that the frequencies between 6,000 and 30,000 kc (50 and 10 m) are very efficient for long-distance communications. Long-distance communications.

[122] (2) The administrations shall make the greatest possible effort to reserve the frequencies of this band for this purpose, except when their use for short- or medium-distance communication is not likely to interfere with long-distance communications.

[123] § 20. En Europe, Afrique, Asie, les radiophares directionnels de faible puissance et dont la portée ne dépasse pas 50 km environ peuvent faire usage de toute fréquence dans la bande de 1 500 à 3 500 kc/s (200 à 85,71 m), à l'exception de la bande de protection de 1 630 à 1 670 kc/s (184 à 180 m), sous réserve d'accord des pays dont les services sont susceptibles d'être brouillés.

ARTICLE 8.

Stations d'amateur et stations expérimentales privées.

[124] § 1. L'échange de communications entre stations d'amateur et entre stations expérimentales privées de pays différents est interdit si l'administration de l'un des pays intéressés a notifié son opposition à cet échange.

[125] § 2. (1) Lorsque cet échange est permis, les communications doivent s'effectuer en langage clair et se limiter aux messages ayant trait aux expériences et à des remarques d'un caractère personnel pour lesquelles, en raison de leur manque d'importance, le recours au service télégraphique public ne saurait entrer en considération. Il est absolument interdit aux titulaires des stations d'amateur de transmettre des communications internationales émanant de tierces personnes.

[129] § 5. (1) La puissance maximum que les stations d'amateur et les stations expérimentales privées peuvent utiliser est fixée par les administrations intéressées, en tenant compte des qualités techniques des opérateurs et des conditions dans lesquelles lesdites stations doivent travailler.

[130] (2) Toutes les règles générales fixées dans la Convention et dans le présent Règlement s'appliquent aux stations d'amateur et aux stations expérimentales privées. En particulier, la fréquence des ondes émises doit être aussi constante et aussi exempte d'harmoniques que l'état de la technique le permet.

[131] (3) Au cours de leurs émissions, ces stations doivent transmettre, à de courts intervalles, leur indicatif d'appel, ou leur nom dans le cas de stations expérimentales non encore pourvues d'indicatif d'appel.

[123] § 20. In Europe, Africa, and Asia, low-power directional radiobeacons the range of which does not exceed about 50 km may use any frequency in the band 1,500 to 3,500 kc (200 to 85.71 m) except the guard band of 1,630 to 1,670 kc (184 to 180 m) subject to agreements with the countries whose services are likely to be interfered with.

ARTICLE 8

Amateur Stations and Private Experimental Stations

Amateur and private experimental stations.

[124] § 1. The exchange of communications between amateur stations and between private experimental stations of different countries shall be forbidden if the administration of one of the interested countries has given notice of its opposition to this exchange.

[125] § 2. (1) When this exchange is permitted, the communications must be carried on in plain language and be limited to messages relating to experiments and to remarks of a private nature for which, by reason of their lack of importance, the use of the telegraph service could not enter into consideration. It shall be strictly forbidden for owners of amateur stations to transmit international communications emanating from third persons.

[126] (2) The foregoing provisions may be modified by special arrangements between the interested countries.

[127] § 3. In amateur stations or in private experimental stations, authorized to conduct transmissions, any person operating the apparatus on his own account or for third persons must have proved that he is able to transmit texts in Morse code signals and to read, by aural radiotelegraph reception, texts so transmitted. He can be replaced only by authorized persons possessing the same qualifications.

[128] § 4. Administrations shall take such measures as they judge necessary to verify, from a technical standpoint, the qualifications of any person operating the apparatus.

[129] § 5. (1) The maximum power which amateur stations and private experimental stations may use shall be fixed by the interested administrations, taking account of the technical qualifications of the operators and of the conditions under which the said stations must work.

[130] (2) All the general rules laid down in the Convention and in the present Regulations shall apply to amateur stations and to private experimental stations. In particular, the frequency of the wave emitted must be as constant and as free from harmonics as the state of the art permits.

[131] (3) In the course of their emissions, these stations must, at short intervals, transmit their call signals or, in the case of experimental stations not yet provided with call signals, their names.

ARTICLE 9.

Conditions à remplir par les stations mobiles.

A. GÉNÉRALITÉS.

[134] (3) Enfin, l'emploi des ondes du type B de toutes fréquences sera interdit à partir du 1er janvier 1940, sauf pour les émetteurs remplissant les mêmes conditions de puissance que ci-avant.

[135] § 2. La fréquence d'émission des stations mobiles sera vérifiée le plus souvent possible par le service d'inspection dont elles relèvent.

[136] § 3. Les appareils récepteurs doivent être tels que le courant qu'ils induisent dans l'antenne soit aussi réduit que possible et n'incommode pas les stations du voisinage.

B. STATIONS DE NAVIRE.

[140] (3) Toutes les stations de navire émettant sur des fréquences dans les bandes de 100 à 160 kc/s (3 000 à 1 875 m) et sur des fréquences supérieures à 4 000 kc/s (longueurs d'onde inférieures à 75 m) doivent être munies d'un ondemètre ayant une précision au moins égale à $\frac{5}{1000}$ ou d'un dispositif équivalent.

[141] § 6. Toute station installée à bord d'un navire obligatoirement pourvu d'appareils radioélectriques par suite d'un accord international doit pouvoir émettre et recevoir sur l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m), du type A2 ou B et, en outre, au moins sur une autre onde, du type A2 ou B, dans les bandes autorisées entre 365 et 485 kc/s (822 et 619 m).

ARTICLE 9

Conditions to be Observed by Mobile Stations

Conditions to be observed by mobile stations.

A. GENERAL

General.

[132] § 1. (1) Mobile stations must be established in such a way as to conform, as regards frequencies and types of waves, to the general provisions forming the subject of article 7.

Ante, p. 2453.

[133] (2) In addition, no new type-B-wave transmitter installation shall be made in mobile stations, except when these transmitters, working at full power, use less than 300 watts measured at the input of the audiofrequency supply transformer.

[134] (3) Finally, the use of type-B waves on all frequencies shall be forbidden, beginning with January 1, 1940, except for transmitters fulfilling the same conditions as above regarding power.

[135] § 2. The frequency of emission of mobile stations shall be verified as often as possible by the inspection service to which they are subject.

[136] § 3. Receiving apparatus must be such that the current which they induce into the antenna shall be as low as possible and shall not disturb neighboring stations.

[137] § 4. Transmitting and receiving sets of any mobile station must permit of making frequency changes as rapidly as possible. All installations must be such that, after the communication is established, the time necessary to change from transmission to reception and vice versa shall be as short as possible.

B. SHIP STATIONS

Ship stations.

[138] § 5. (1) The transmitting apparatus used in ship stations working on type-A2 or -B waves in the authorized band between 365 and 515 kc (822 and 583 m) must be provided with devices making it possible conveniently and appreciably to reduce the power thereof.

[139] (2) This provision shall not apply to transmitters in which the power, as measured at full load, does not exceed 300 watts on the transmitting-tube plates (type-A2 emission) or at the input of the audiofrequency supply transformers (type-B emission).

[140] (3) All ship stations transmitting on frequencies in the band 100 to 160 kc (3,000 to 1,875 m) and on frequencies above 4,000 kc (wavelengths below 75 m) must be equipped with a wave meter having a precision at least equal to 5/1000, or with an equivalent device.

[141] § 6. Any station installed on board a ship, compulsorily provided with radio apparatus as a result of an international agreement, must be able to transmit and to receive on the wave of 500 kc (600 m), type-A2 or -B and, in addition, on at least one other type-A2 or -B wave, in the authorized band between 365 and 485 kc (822 and 619 m).

[142] § 7. (1) En plus des ondes visées ci-avant, les stations de navire équipées pour émettre des ondes des types A1, A2 ou A3 peuvent employer les ondes autorisées à l'article 7.

[143] (2) L'usage des ondes du type B est interdit pour toutes les fréquences à l'exception des fréquences suivantes:

375 kc/s (800 m)
410 kc/s (730 m)
425 kc/s (705 m)
454 kc/s (660 m)
500 kc/s (600 m)
1 364 kc/s (220 m) *).

[144] § 8. Tous les appareils de stations de navire établis pour la transmission d'ondes du type A1 des bandes autorisées entre 100 et 160 kc/s (3 000 et 1 875 m) doivent permettre l'emploi, en plus de la fréquence de 143 kc/s (2 100 m), de deux fréquences au minimum, choisies dans ces bandes.

[145] § 9. (1) Toutes les stations à bord des navires obligatoirement pourvus d'appareils radiotélégraphiques doivent être à même de recevoir l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m) et, en outre, toutes les ondes nécessaires à l'accomplissement du service qu'elles effectuent.

[146] (2) Ces stations doivent être à même de recevoir facilement et efficacement, sur les mêmes fréquences, les ondes des types A1 et A2.

C. STATIONS D'AÉRONEF.

[147] § 10. (1) a) Toute station installée à bord d'un aéronef effectuant un parcours maritime, obligatoirement pourvu d'appareils radioélectriques par suite d'un accord international, doit pouvoir émettre et recevoir sur l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m), du type A2 ou B.

[148] b) En ce qui concerne la restriction dans l'usage des ondes du type B, voir sous B, § 7 (2) ci-avant.

[149] (2) a) Toute station d'aéronef doit pouvoir émettre et recevoir l'onde de 333 kc/s (900 m), du type A2 ou A3.

[150] b) Cette règle ne s'applique pas aux stations d'aéronef survolant les régions où des accords locaux, qui en disposent autrement, sont en vigueur.

ARTICLE 10.

Certificats des opérateurs.

A. DISPOSITIONS GÉNÉRALES.

[151] § 1. (1) Le service de toute station mobile, radiotélégraphique ou radiotéléphonique, doit être assuré par un opérateur radiotélégraphiste, titulaire d'un certificat délivré par le gouvernement dont dépend cette station. Toutefois, dans les stations mobiles pourvues d'une installation radioélectrique de faible puissance [d'une puissance d'onde porteuse dans l'antenne ne dépassant pas 100 watts, sauf dans

*) Voir la note [10]) du tableau de répartition des fréquences.

[142] § 7. (1) In addition to the waves mentioned above, ship stations equipped to transmit type-A1, -A2, or -A3 waves may use the waves authorized in article 7.

[143] (2) The use of type-B waves shall be prohibited on all frequencies, except the following ones:

375 kc (800 m)
410 kc (730 m)
425 kc (705 m)
454 kc (660 m)
500 kc (600 m)
1,364 kc (220 m)*

[144] § 8. All the ship station apparatus installed for the transmission of type-A1 waves in the authorized band between 100 and 160 kc (3,000 and 1,875 m) must permit of using at least two frequencies, selected in this band, in addition to the frequency of 143 kc (2,100 m).

[145] § 9. (1) All stations on board ships compulsorily provided with radiotelegraph apparatus must be capable of receiving the wave of 500 kc (600 m) and, in addition, all the waves necessary to the operation of the service which they carry on.

[154] § 3. (1) Il y a deux classes de certificats et un certificat spécial pour les opérateurs radiotélégraphistes, et deux certificats pour les opérateurs radiotéléphonistes (général et restreint).

Toutefois, la production de la licence peut être remplacée par l'affichage à demeure, dans la station, d'une copie de la licence, certifiée conforme par l'autorité qui l'a délivrée.

[193] (2) Lorsque la licence ne peut être produite, ou que des anomalies manifestes sont constatées, les gouvernements ou administrations peuvent faire procéder à l'inspection des installations radioélectriques, en vue de s'assurer qu'elles répondent aux stipulations du présent Règlement.

[194] (3) En outre, les inspecteurs sont en droit d'exiger la production des certificats des opérateurs, sans qu'aucune justification de connaissances professionnelles puisse être demandée.

[195] § 2. (1) Lorsqu'un gouvernement ou une administration s'est trouvé dans l'obligation de recourir à la mesure prévue au §1 ci-avant ou lorsque les certificats d'opérateur n'ont pu être produits, il y a lieu d'en informer immédiatement le gouvernement ou l'administration dont dépend la station mobile en cause. [200] § 3. Si une administration a connaissance d'une infraction à la Convention ou aux Règlements, commise dans une des stations qu'elle a autorisées, elle constate les faits, fixe les responsabilités et prend les mesures nécessaires.

responsible for the station must submit to this verification. The license must be kept in such a way that it may be furnished without delay. However, the production of the license may be replaced by a permanent posting in the station, of a copy of the license certified by the authority which has granted it.

[194] (3) Moreover, the inspectors shall have the right to demand the production of the operators' certificates although no proof of professional qualifications may be demanded.

[195] § 2. (1) When a government or an administration has found it necessary to resort to the measures provided for in § 1 above, or when it has not been possible to produce the operators' certificates, it shall be necessary immediately to inform thereof the government or the administration to which the mobile station in question is subject. In addition, the procedure specified in article 13 shall be followed should necessity arise.

[196] (2) The official of the government or of the administration which has inspected the station must, before leaving the latter, communicate his findings to the commander or to the responsible person (art. 11) or to their substitute.

[197] § 3. As regards the technical and operating conditions which mobile stations holding a license must satisfy in the international radio-communication service, the contracting governments shall bind themselves not to impose upon foreign stations which are temporarily located in their territorial waters, or which may stop temporarily in their territory, conditions more stringent than those which are provided for in the present Regulations. These provisions shall in no way affect the provisions which, coming within the scope of international agreements relative to maritime or air navigation, are not determined in the present Regulations.

[211] (g) one or two letters and a single figure (other than 0 or 1) followed by a group of not more than three letters, in the case of private experimental stations, amateur stations, and private radiocommunication stations; however, the prohibition against the use of the figures 0 and 1 shall not apply to amateur stations.

[212] § 3. (1) In the aeronautical radio service, after communication has been established by means of the complete call signal [see § 2, (d) and (e)], the aircraft station may use an abbreviated call signal composed:

[213] (a) in radiotelegraphy, of the first and last letters of the complete 5-letter call signal;

[214] b) en radiotéléphonie, par tout ou partie du nom du propriétaire de l'aéronef (compagnie ou particulier) suivi des deux dernières lettres de la marque d'immatriculation.

[217] (2) Toutefois, les combinaisons de lettres indiquées ci-après ne peuvent être employées comme indicatifs d'appel:

[218] a) combinaisons commençant par A ou par B, ces deux lettres étant réservées pour la partie géographique du Code International de Signaux;

[222] § 5. (1) Chaque pays choisit les indicatifs d'appel de ses stations dans la série internationale qui lui est allouée et notifie au Bureau de l'Union les indicatifs d'appel qu'il a attribués à ses stations.

[223] (2) Le Bureau de l'Union veille à ce qu'un même indicatif d'appel ne soit pas attribué plus d'une fois et à ce que les indicatifs d'appel qui pourraient être confondus avec les signaux de détresse, ou avec d'autres signaux de même nature, ne soient pas attribués.

Article 15.

ARTICLE 16.

Procédure générale radiotélégraphique dans le service mobile.[1] [2]

[243] § 1 (1) Dans le service mobile, la procédure détaillée ci-après est obligatoire, sauf dans le cas d'appel ou de trafic de détresse auquel sont applicables les dispositions de l'article 22.

[244] (2) Pour l'échange des radiocommunications, les stations du service mobile utilisent les abréviations visées à l'appendice 9.

[245] § 2. (1) Avant d'émettre, toute station doit s'assurer qu'elle ne produira pas un brouillage nuisible aux transmissions s'effectuant dans son rayon d'action; si un tel brouillage est probable, la station attend le premier arrêt de la transmission qu'elle pourrait troubler.

[246] (2) Toutefois, même si, en opérant ainsi, l'émission de cette station vient à brouiller une transmission radioélectrique déjà en cours, on appliquera les règles suivantes:

[248] b) Dans le cas où une transmission radioélectrique déjà en cours entre deux navires vient à être brouillée par une émission d'un autre navire, ce dernier doit cesser d'émettre à la première demande de l'un quelconque des deux autres.

[249] c) La station qui demande cette cessation doit indiquer la durée approximative de l'attente imposée à la station dont elle suspend l'émission.

[251] § 4. APPEL D'UNE STATION ET SIGNAUX PRÉPARATOIRES AU TRAFIC.

[252] (1) Formule d'appel.

L'appel est constitué comme suit:

trois fois, au plus, l'indicatif d'appel de la station appelée;
le mot DE;
trois fois, au plus, l'indicatif d'appel de la station appelante.

[253] (2) Onde à utiliser pour l'appel et les signaux préparatoires.

Pour faire l'appel ainsi que pour transmettre les signaux préparatoires, la station appelante utilise l'onde sur laquelle veille la station appelée.

[1]) Cette procédure est applicable aux ondes courtes, dans la mesure du possible.

[2]) Les dispositions des §§ 2 et 8 sont applicables aux transmissions radiotéléphoniques du service mobile.

ARTICLE 16

General Radiotelegraph Procedure in the Mobile Service [1] [2]

[243] § 1. (1) In the mobile service, the following detailed procedure shall be obligatory except in the case of distress call or traffic to which the provisions of article 22 shall apply.

General radiotelegraph procedure in the mobile service. Post, p. 2523.

[244] (2) For the exchange of radio communications, stations of the mobile service shall use the abbreviations given in appendix 9.

Post, p. 2619.

[245] § 2. (1) Before transmitting, any station must make sure that it will not produce harmful interference with the transmissions being made within its range; if such interference is likely, the station shall await the first stop in the transmission which it may disturb.

[246] (2) If however, even after taking these precautions, the emissions of this station should cause interference with a radio transmission already in progress, the following rules shall be applied:

[247] (a) In the communication zone of a land station open to the public correspondence service or of any aeronautical station, the station whose emission produces the interference must cease transmitting at the first request of the above-mentioned land or aeronautical station.

[248] (b) In the case where a radio transmission already in progress between two ships happens to be interfered with by an emission from another ship, the latter must cease transmitting at the first request of either of the other two.

[249] (c) The station requesting this cessation must indicate the approximate length of the wait imposed upon the station whose emission it is suspending.

[250] § 3. Radiotelegrams of all kinds transmitted by ship stations shall be numbered in daily series, assigning number 1 to the first radiotelegram transmitted each day to each land station separately.

[251] § 4. CALLING A STATION AND SIGNALS PREPARATORY TO TRAFFIC

[252] (1) Method of calling

The call shall consist of the following:

not more than three times the call signal of the station called;
the word DE;
not more than three times the call signal of the calling station.

Calling a station and signals preparatory to traffic.

[253] (2) Wave to be used for the call and for preparatory signals

To make the call as well as to transmit preparatory signals the calling station shall use the wave on which the station called is listening.

[1] This procedure shall be applicable to short waves so far as possible.

[2] The provisions of §§ 2 and 8 shall be applicable to radiotelephone transmissions of the mobile service.

[254] (3) Indication de l'onde à utiliser pour le trafic.

[255] L'appel, tel qu'il est indiqué à l'alinéa (1) ci-avant, doit être suivi de l'abréviation réglementaire indiquant la fréquence et/ou le type d'onde que la station appelante se propose d'utiliser pour transmettre son trafic.

[256] Lorsque, par exception à cette règle, l'appel n'est pas suivi de l'indication de l'onde à utiliser pour le trafic:

[257] a) si la station appelante est une station terrestre:

c'est que cette station se propose d'utiliser pour le trafic son onde normale de travail, indiquée dans la nomenclature; c'est que l'onde à utiliser pour le trafic est à choisir par la station appelée.

[258] b) si la station appelante est une station mobile:

[262] § 5. REPONSE AUX APPELS ET SIGNAUX PRÉPARATOIRES AU TRAFIC.

[263] (1) Formule de réponse aux appels.

La réponse aux appels est constituée comme suit:

trois fois, au plus, l'indicatif d'appel de la station appelante;
le mot DE;
l'indicatif d'appel de la station appelée.

[264] (2) Onde de réponse.

[266] Par exception à cette règle, quand une station mobile appelle une station côtière sur l'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m), la station côtière transmet la réponse aux appels sur son onde normale de travail des bandes de 100 à 160 kc/s (3 000 à 1 875 m), telle qu'elle est indiquée dans la nomenclature.

[268] A. Si la station appelée est d'accord avec la station appelante, elle transmet:

a) la réponse à l'appel;

b) l'abréviation réglementaire indiquant qu'à partir de ce moment elle écoute sur la fréquence et/ou le type d'onde annoncés par la station appelante;

[254] (3) Indication of the wave to be used for the traffic

[255] The call, as indicated in subparagraph (1) above, must be followed by the regulatory abbreviation indicating the frequency and/or the type of wave which the calling station proposes to use to transmit its traffic.

[256] When, as an exception to this rule, the call is not followed by the indication of the wave to be used for the traffic:

[257] (a) if the calling station is a land station:

it shall mean that this station proposes to use its normal working-wave, as indicated in the nomenclature, for the traffic.

[258] (b) if the calling station is a mobile station:

it shall mean that the wave to be used for the traffic is to be chosen by the station called.

[259] (4) Indication, when required, of the number of telegrams or of transmission by series

[260] When the calling station has more than one telegram to transmit to the station called, the preceding preparatory signals shall be followed by the regulatory abbreviation and by the figure specifying the number of these telegrams.

[261] Furthermore, when the calling station wishes to transmit these telegrams in series, it shall so indicate by adding the regulatory abbreviation requesting the consent of the station called.

[262] § 5. REPLY TO CALLS AND SIGNALS PREPARATORY TO TRAFFIC

[263] (1) Method of reply to calls Reply to calls and signals.

The reply to calls shall consist of the following:

not more than three times the call signal of the calling station;
the word DE;
the call signal of the station called.

[264] (2) Wave for reply

[265] To transmit the reply to calls and to preparatory signals, the station called shall use the wave on which the calling station must listen.

[266] As an exception to this rule, when a mobile station calls a coast station on the wave 143 kc (2,100 m), the coast station shall transmit the reply to the calls on its normal working-wave of the bands between 100 and 160 kc (3,000 and 1,875 m), as indicated in the nomenclature.

[267] (3) Understanding as to the wave to be used for the traffic

[268] A. If the station called has an understanding with the calling station, it shall transmit:

(a) the reply to the call;

(b) the regulatory abbreviation indicating that from that time on it is listening on the frequency and/or the type of wave announced by the calling station;

c) éventuellement les indications prévues à l'alinéa (4);

d) la lettre K si la station appelée est prête à recevoir le trafic de la station appelante;

e) éventuellement, si c'est utile, l'abréviation réglementaire et le chiffre indiquant la force des signaux reçus (voir l'appendice 10).

[269] B. Si la station n'est pas d'accord, ou si elle doit choisir l'onde à utiliser pour le trafic, elle transmet:

a) la réponse à l'appel;

b) l'abréviation réglementaire indiquant la fréquence et/ou le type d'onde demandés *);

c) éventuellement les indications prévues à l'alinéa (4).

[270] Lorsque l'accord est réalisé sur l'onde que devra employer la station appelante pour son trafic, la station appelée transmet la lettre K à la suite des indications contenues dans sa réponse.

[272] La station appelée, répondant à une station appelante qui a demandé à transmettre ses radiotélégrammes par série [§ 4, (4)], indique, au moyen de l'abréviation réglementaire, son refus ou son acceptation et, dans ce dernier cas, s'il y a lieu, elle spécifie le nombre des radiotélégrammes qu'elle est prête à recevoir en une série.

[273] (5) Difficultés de réception.

[274] a) Si la station appelée est empêchée de recevoir, elle répond à l'appel comme il est indiqué à l'alinéa (3) ci-avant, mais elle remplace la lettre K par le signal • ▬ • • • (attente), suivi d'un nombre indiquant en minutes la durée probable de l'attente. Si cette durée probable excède 10 minutes (5 minutes dans le service mobile de l'aéronautique), l'attente doit être motivée.

[276] § 6. ACHEMINEMENT DU TRAFIC.

[278] a) Chaque station du service mobile transmet son trafic en employant, en principe, une de ses ondes de travail, telles qu'elles sont indiquées dans la nomenclature, pour la bande dans laquelle a eu lieu l'appel.

*) Dans le cas où le choix de l'onde à utiliser pour le trafic revient à la station appelée, et si, exceptionnellement, cette dernière station ne donne pas l'indication correspondante, le trafic a lieu sur l'onde utilisée pour l'appel.

(c) in some cases, the indications mentioned in subparagraph (4);

(d) the letter K, if the station called is ready to receive the traffic of the calling station;

(e) in certain cases, if it is useful, the regulatory abbreviation and the figure indicating the strength of the signals received. (See appendix 10.)

Post, p. 2633.

[269] B. If the station has no preliminary understanding, or if it must choose the wave to be used for the traffic, it shall transmit:

(a) the reply to the call;

(b) the regulatory abbreviation indicating the frequency and/or the type of wave requested;*

(c) in some cases, the indications mentioned in subparagraph (4).

[270] When an agreement is reached on the wave which the calling station must use for its traffic, the station called shall transmit the letter K after the indications contained in its reply.

[271] (4) Reply to the request for transmission by series

[272] The station called, replying to a calling station which has asked to transmit its telegrams in series [§ 4 (4)], shall indicate, by means of the regulatory abbreviation, whether it refuses or accepts and, in the latter case, if need be, shall specify the number of radiotelegrams which it is ready to receive in one series.

[273] (5) Difficulties in reception

[274] (a) If the station called is prevented from receiving, it shall reply to the call as indicated in subparagraph (3) above, but it shall replace the letter K by the signal • ▬ • • • (wait), followed by a number indicating in minutes the probable duration of the wait. If this probable duration exceeds 10 minutes, (5 minutes in the aeronautical mobile service), a reason must be given therefor.

[275] (b) When a station receives a call without being certain that this call is intended for it, it must not reply before the call has been repeated and understood. When, on the other hand, a station receives a call which is intended for it, but is doubtful about the call signal of the calling station, it must reply immediately, using the regulatory abbreviation instead of the call signal of the latter station.

[276] § 6. ROUTING OF TRAFFIC

[277] (1) Traffic wave

Routing of traffic.

[278] (a) Each station of the mobile service shall transmit its traffic by using, in principle, one of its working-waves, as they are indicated in the nomenclature for the band in which the call was made.

* In the case where the choice of the wave to be used for the traffic falls to the station called, and if, in exceptional cases, the latter station does not give the corresponding indication, the traffic shall take place on the wave used for the call.

[280] c) L'emploi des ondes d'appel pour le trafic est réglementé par l'article 19.

[281] (2) Longs radiotélégrammes.

[282] a) En principe, tout radiotélégramme contenant plus de 100 mots est considéré comme formant une série, ou met fin à la série en cours.

[283] b) En règle générale, les longs radiotélégrammes, tant ceux en langage clair que ceux en langage convenu ou chiffré, sont transmis par tranches, chaque tranche contenant 50 mots dans le cas du langage clair et 20 mots ou groupes lorsqu'il s'agit du langage convenu ou chiffré.

[284] c) A la fin de chaque tranche, le signal • • ▬ ▬ • • (?) signifiant «avez-vous bien reçu le radiotélégramme jusqu'ici?» est transmis. Si la tranche a été correctement reçue, la station réceptrice répond par la lettre K et la transmission du radiotélégramme est poursuivie.

Quand une station du service mobile transmet sur une onde de travail d'une station terrestre et cause ainsi du brouillage à ladite station terrestre, elle doit suspendre son travail à la demande de cette dernière.

[286] § 7. FIN DU TRAFIC ET DU TRAVAIL.

[287] (1) Signal de fin de transmission.

[288] a) La transmission d'un radiotélégramme se termine par le signal • ▬ • ▬ • (fin de transmission), suivi de l'indicatif d'appel de la station transmettrice et de la lettre K.

[289] b) Dans le cas de transmission par série, la fin de chaque radiotélégramme est indiquée par le signal • ▬ • ▬ • et la fin de la série par l'indicatif d'appel de la station transmettrice et la lettre K.

[293] c) L'accusé de réception est fait par la station réceptrice sur la même onde que pour la réponse à l'appel [voir § 5, (2) ci-avant].

[279] (b) Outside of its normal working-wave which is printed in boldface type in the nomenclature, each station may use additional waves of the same band, in accordance with the provisions of article 19 § 1 (10). Post, p. 2515.

[280] (c) The use of calling waves for traffic shall be governed by article 19.

[281] (2) Long radiotelegrams

[282] (a) In principle, any radiotelegram containing more than 100 words shall be considered as forming a series or shall end a series in progress.

[283] (b) As a general rule, long radiotelegrams, both in plain language and in code or cipher language, shall be transmitted in sections, each section containing 50 words in the case of plain language, and 20 words or groups in the case of code or cipher.

[284] (c) At the end of each section the signal ••▬▬•• (?) meaning "have you received the radiotelegram correctly up to this point?" shall be transmitted. If the section has been correctly received, the receiving station shall reply by the letter K and the transmission of the radiotelegram shall be continued.

[285] (3) Suspension of traffic

When a station of the mobile service transmits on a working-wave of a land station and thus causes interference with the said land station, it must suspend its work at the request of the latter.

[286] § 7. END OF TRAFFIC AND OF WORK

[287] (1) Signal for the end of transmission

End of traffic, etc.

[288] (a) The transmission of a radiotelegram shall be ended by the signal •▬•▬• (end of transmission), followed by the call signal of the transmitting station and the letter K.

[289] (b) In the case of transmission by series, the end of each radiotelegram shall be indicated by the signal •▬•▬• and the end of the series by the call signal of the transmitting station and the letter K.

[290] (2) Acknowledgment of receipt

[291] (a) The acknowledgment of receipt of a radiotelegram shall be given by transmitting the letter R, followed by the number of the radiotelegram; this acknowledgment of receipt shall be preceded by the following formula: call signal of the station which has transmitted, word DE, call signal of the station which has received.

[292] (b) The acknowledgment of receipt of a series of radiotelegrams shall be given by transmitting the letter R followed by the number of the last radiotelegram received. This acknowledgment of receipt shall be preceded by the above formula.

[293] (c) The acknowledgment of receipt shall be made by the receiving station on the same wave as for the reply to the call [see § 5 (2) above].

[295] a) La fin du travail entre deux stations est indiquée par chacune d'elles au moyen du signal • • • ▬ • ▬ (fin du travail), suivi de son propre indicatif d'appel.

[296] b) Pour ces signaux, la station émettrice continue à utiliser l'onde de trafic et la station réceptrice l'onde de réponse à l'appel.

[297] c) Le signal • • • ▬ • ▬ (fin du travail) est aussi utilisé lorsque la transmission des radiotélégrammes d'information générale, des informations météorologiques et des avis généraux de sécurité se termine et que la transmission se termine dans le service de radiocommunication à grande distance avec accusé de réception différé ou sans accusé de réception.

[298] § 8. Durée du travail.

[299] (1) a) En aucun cas, dans le service mobile maritime, le travail sur 500 kc/s (600 m) ne doit dépasser dix minutes.

[300] b) En aucun cas, dans le service mobile aérien, le travail sur 333 kc/s (900 m) ne doit dépasser cinq minutes.

[301] (2) Sur les fréquences autres que celles de 500 kc/s (600 m) et 333 kc/s (900 m), la durée des périodes de travail est déterminée:

[302] a) entre station terrestre et station mobile, par la station terrestre, [303] b) entre stations mobiles, par la station réceptrice.

[304] § 9. Essais.

Lorsqu'il est nécessaire de faire des signaux d'essais, soit pour le réglage d'un émetteur avant de transmettre l'appel, soit pour le réglage d'un récepteur, ces signaux ne doivent pas durer plus de 10 secondes et ils doivent être constitués par une série de VVV suivie de l'indicatif d'appel de la station qui émet pour essais.

Article 17.

Appel général «à tous».

[305] § 1. Deux types de signaux d'appels «à tous» sont reconnus:

1° appel CQ suivi de la lettre K (voir §§ 2 et 3);
2° appel CQ non suivi de la lettre K (voir § 4).

[306] § 2. Les stations qui désirent entrer en communication avec des stations du service mobile, sans toutefois connaître le nom de celles de ces stations qui sont dans leur rayon d'action, peuvent employer le signal de recherche CQ, remplaçant l'indicatif de la station appelée dans la formule d'appel, cette formule étant suivie de la lettre K (appel général à toutes les stations du service mobile, avec demande de réponse).

[307] § 3. Dans les régions où le trafic est intense, l'emploi de l'appel CQ suivi de la lettre K est interdit, sauf en combinaison avec des signaux d'urgence.

[294] (3) End of work

[295] (a) The end of work between two stations shall be indicated by each of them by means of the signal • • • ▬ • ▬ (end of work), followed by its own call signal.

[296] (b) For these signals, the sending station shall continue to use the traffic wave and the receiving station the wave for the reply to the call.

[297] (c) The signal • • • ▬ • ▬ (end of work) shall also be used when the transmission of radiotelegrams of general information, meteorological information, and general safety warnings is ended and the transmission ends in the long-distance radio-communication service with deferred acknowledgment of receipt or without acknowledgment of receipt.

[298] § 8. DURATION OF WORK

Duration of work.

[299] (1) (a) In no case, in the maritime mobile service, must the work on 500 kc (600 m) exceed 10 minutes.

[300] (b) In no case, in the aerial mobile service, must the work on 333 kc (900 m) exceed 5 minutes.

[301] (2) On frequencies other than those of 500 kc (600 m) and 333 kc (900 m) the duration of the periods of work shall be determined:

[302] (a) between a land station and a mobile station, by the land station, [303] (b) between mobile stations, by the receiving station.

[304] § 9. TESTS

Tests.

When it is necessary to make test signals, either for the adjustment of a transmitter before transmitting the call, or for the adjustment of a receiver, these signals must not last more than 10 seconds, and they must be composed of a series of V's followed by the call signal of the station transmitting for the tests.

ARTICLE 17

General Call "to all"

General call "to all."

[305] § 1. Two types of call signals "to all" shall be recognized:

1. the CQ call followed by the letter K (see §§ 2 and 3);
2. the CQ call not followed by the letter K (see § 4).

[306] § 2. Stations desiring to enter into communication with stations of the mobile service, without however, knowing the names of the mobile stations within their range, can use the inquiry signal CQ, in place of the call signal of the station called, in the calling formula, this formula being followed by the letter K (general call to all mobile stations, with request for reply).

[307] § 3. In regions where traffic is heavy, the use of the CQ call followed by the letter K shall be forbidden, except in combination with urgent signals.

[308] § 4. L'appel CQ non suivi de la lettre K (appel général à toutes les stations sans demande de réponse) est employé avant la transmission des informations de toute nature destinées à être lues ou utilisées par quiconque peut les capter.

ARTICLE 18.

Appels.

[309] § 1. (1) En règle générale, il incombe à la station mobile d'établir la communication avec la station terrestre. Elle ne peut appeler la station terrestre dans ce but qu'après être arrivée dans le rayon d'action de celle-ci.

[313] (3) Les stations mobiles qui, dans cette transmission, perçoivent leur indicatif d'appel, doivent répondre, aussitôt qu'elles le peuvent, en observant entre elles, autant que possible, l'ordre dans lequel elles ont été appelées.

[308] § 4. The CQ call not followed by the letter K (general call to all stations without request for reply) shall be used before transmission of information of all kinds intended to be read or used by anyone who can receive it.

ARTICLE 18

Calling

Calling.

[309] § 1. (1) As a general rule, it shall devolve upon the mobile station to establish communication with the land station. It may call the land station for this purpose only after having arrived within the range of the latter.

[311] § 2. (1) Furthermore, land stations may transmit their calls in the form of "lists of calls" consisting of the call signals of all mobile stations for which they have traffic on hand, at definite intervals, at least 2 hours apart, which have been established by agreements between the governments concerned. Land stations which transmit their calls on the wave of 500 kc (600 m) shall transmit them in the form of "lists of calls", in alphabetical order, to include only the call signals of mobile stations for which they have traffic on hand and which are within their range. To their own call signal they shall add the abbreviations to indicate the working-wave they wish to use in the transmission. Land stations which use continuous waves outside of the band of 365 to 515 kc (822 to 583 m) shall transmit the call signals in the order which is most convenient for them.

[312] (2) The time at which land stations transmit their lists of calls, as well as the frequencies and types of waves which they use for this purpose must be indicated in the nomenclature.

[313] (3) Mobile stations which, during this transmission, hear their call signal, must answer as soon as they can, following, so far as possible, the order in which they were called.

[314] (4) When the traffic cannot be disposed of immediately, the land station shall inform each mobile station concerned of the probable time at which the work can begin, as well as the frequency and the type of wave which will be used in the work with it, if this is necessary.

[315] § 3. When a land station receives calls from several mobile stations at practically the same time, it shall decide as to the order in which these stations may transmit their traffic to it, its decision being based only on the necessity for permitting each calling station to exchange with it the greatest possible number of radiotelegrams.

[317] (2) La station terrestre peut, au moyen de l'abréviation PTR, demander à la station mobile de lui fournir les indications ci-après:

a) distance approximative en milles marins et relèvement par rapport à la station terrestre ou bien position indiquée par la latitude et la longitude;

b) prochain lieu d'escale.

[320] § 6. Dans les échanges entre stations mobiles, et sauf dans le cas de détresse, la station appelée a le contrôle du travail, comme il est indiqué au § 5 ci-avant.

[322] (2) L'appel peut être répété à des intervalles moins longs, s'il n'est pas à craindre qu'il vienne brouiller des communications en cours.

[323] § 8. Lorsque le nom et l'adresse de l'exploitant d'une station mobile ne sont pas mentionnés dans la nomenclature ou ne sont plus en concordance avec les indications de celle-ci, il appartient à la station mobile de donner d'office à la station terrestre à laquelle elle transmet du trafic, tous les renseignements nécessaires, sous ce rapport, en utilisant, à cette fin, les abréviations appropriées.

Article 19.

Emploi des ondes dans le service mobile.

[324] § 1. (1) Dans les bandes comprises entre 365 et 515 kc/s (822 et 583 m), les seules ondes admises en type B sont les suivantes:

375, 410, 425, 454 et 500 kc/s (800, 730, 705, 660 et 600 m).

[325] (2) L'onde générale d'appel qui doit être employée par toute station de navire et toute station côtière travaillant en radiotélégraphie dans les bandes autorisées entre 365 et 515 kc/s (822 et 583

[316] § 4. (1) When communication is first established with a land station, every mobile station, if it deems it advisable on account of possible confusion, can transmit its name spelled out as it appears in the nomenclature.

[317] (2) The land station can, by means of the abbreviation PTR, request the mobile station to give it the following information:

(a) approximate distance in nautical miles and bearing with reference to the land station, or else the position indicated by latitude and longitude;

(b) next port of call.

[318] (3) The information covered by subparagraph (2) shall be furnished by authorization of the commander or the person responsible for the vehicle carrying the mobile station and only in case it is requested by the land station.

[319] § 5. In communications between land stations and mobile stations, the mobile station shall comply with the instructions given by the land station, in all questions relative to the order and the time of transmission, to the choice of frequency (wavelength) and/or of the type of wave and to the suspension of work. This provision shall not apply to cases of distress.

[320] § 6. In communications between mobile stations, and except for cases of distress, the station called shall control the work as indicated in §5 above.

[321] § 7. (1) When a station called does not answer a call sent three times, at intervals of 2 minutes, the call must cease and it may be resumed only 15 minutes later (5 minutes for aeronautical mobile service). The calling station, before resuming the call, must make certain that the station called is not in communication with another station at that time.

[322] (2) The call may be repeated at shorter intervals if there is no danger that it will interfere with communications in progress.

[323] § 8. When the name and the address of the operating agency of a mobile station are not shown in the nomenclature or are no longer in accord with the data given therein, it shall devolve upon the mobile station, as a matter of routine, to furnish the land station to which it sends traffic with all the necessary information in this connection, using for this purpose the appropriate abbreviations.

ARTICLE 19

Use of Waves in the Mobile Service

Use of waves in mobile service.

[324] § 1. (1) In the bands included between 365 and 515 kc (822 and 583 m), the only type-B waves permissible shall be the following:

375, 410, 425, 454, and 500 kc (800, 730, 705, 660, and 600 m).

[325] (2) The general calling-wave which must be used by all ship stations and by all coast stations working in radiotelegraphy in the authorized bands between 365 and 515 kc (822 and 583 m), as

m), ainsi que par les aéronefs qui désirent entrer en communication avec une station côtière ou une station de navire, est l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m) (A1, A2 ou B).

[326] (3) L'onde de 333 kc/s (900 m) est l'onde internationale d'appel pour les services aériens, sauf comme il est indiqué dans l'article 9, § 10 (2).

[327] (4) L'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m) (du type A1 seulement) est l'onde internationale d'appel employée dans les communications du service mobile à grande distance dans les bandes de 100 à 160 kc/s (3 000 à 1 875 m).

[328] (5) L'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m) est l'onde internationale de détresse; elle est utilisée dans ce but par les stations de navire et par les stations d'aéronef qui demandent l'assistance des services maritimes. Elle ne peut être utilisée d'une manière générale que pour l'appel et la réponse ainsi que pour le trafic de détresse, les signaux et messages d'urgence et de sécurité.

[329] (6) Toutefois, à condition de ne pas troubler les signaux de détresse, d'urgence, de sécurité, d'appel et de réponse, l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m) peut être utilisée:

[330] a) dans les régions de trafic intense pour la transmission d'un radiotélégramme unique et court; [1]) [331] b) dans les autres régions, pour d'autres buts, mais avec discrétion.

[332] (7) En dehors de l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m), l'usage des ondes de tous types comprises entre 485 et 515 kc/s (620 et 583 m) est interdit.

[333] (8) En dehors de l'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m), l'usage de toutes ondes comprises entre 140 et 146 kc/s (2 143 et 2 055 m) est interdit.

[1]) Les régions de trafic intense sont indiquées par la nomenclature des stations côtières; ces régions sont constituées par les zones d'action des stations côtières indiquées comme n'acceptant pas le trafic sur 500 kc/s (600 m) (voir l'appendice 7).

well as by aircraft wishing to enter into communication with a coast station or a ship station, shall be the wave 500 kc (600 m) (A1, A2, or B).

[326] (3) The wave of 333 kc (900 m) shall be the international calling-wave for aerial services, except as indicated in article 9, §10 (2). Ante, p. 2481.

[327] (4) The wave of 143 kc (2,100 m) (Type-A1 only), shall be the international calling-wave for use in long-distance communications of the mobile service in the band 100 to 160 kc (3,000 to 1,875 m).

[328] (5) The wave of 500 kc (600 m) shall be the international distress wave; it shall be used for that purpose by ship stations and aircraft stations in requesting help from the maritime services. It may be used in a general way only for calls and replies as well as for distress traffic, urgent and safety messages, and signals.

[329] (6) However, on condition that the distress, urgent, safety, calling, and reply signals are not interfered with, the wave of 500 kc (600 m) may be used:

[330] (a) in the regions of heavy traffic for the transmission of a single short radiotelegram;[1]

[331] (b) in other regions, for other purposes, but with discretion.

[332] (7) Besides the wave of 500 kc (600 m), the use of waves of all types between 485 and 515 kc (620 and 583 m) shall be forbidden.

[333] (8) Except for the wave of 143 kc (2,100 m) the use of any wave between 140 and 146 kc (2,143 and 2,055 m) shall be forbidden.

[334] (9) Coast and ship stations working within the authorized band between 365 and 515 kc (822 and 583 m) must be able to use at least one wave besides that of 500 kc (600 m); when an additional wave is printed in heavy type in the nomenclature, this is the normal working-wave of the station. The additional waves thus chosen for coast stations may or may not be the same as those of ship stations. In any case, the working-waves of coast stations must be chosen in such a way as to avoid interference with neighboring stations.

[335] (10) Besides their normal working-waves, printed in heavy type in the nomenclature, land and on-board stations may use, in the authorized bands, supplementary waves which shall be mentioned in the nomenclature in ordinary print. However, the band of frequencies from 365 to 385 kc (822 to 779 m) shall be reserved to the radio direction-finding service; it can be used by the mobile service, for radiotelegraph correspondence, only subject to the conditions set forth in article 7. Ante, p. 2453.

[1] The regions of heavy traffic are indicated in the nomenclature of coast stations. These regions consist of the service areas of the coast stations indicated as not accepting traffic on 500 kc (600 m).

[336] (11) a) L'onde de réponse à un appel émis sur l'onde générale d'appel [voir § 1, (2)] est l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m), la même que celle d'appel.

[338] c) L'onde de réponse à un appel émis sur l'onde internationale d'appel de 143 kc/s (2 100 m) [voir § 1, (4)] est:

pour une station mobile, l'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m); pour une station côtière, son onde normale de travail.

[340] (2) Pendant les intervalles indiqués ci-avant, en dehors des émissions envisagées à l'article 22 (§§ 22 à 28):

[341] A. Les émissions doivent cesser dans les bandes de 460 à 550 kc/s (652 à 545 m);

[342] B. Hors de ces bandes:

a) les émissions des ondes du type B sont interdites;

b) les autres émissions des stations du service mobile peuvent continuer; les stations du service mobile maritime peuvent écouter ces émissions sous réserve expresse que ces stations assurent d'abord la veille sur l'onde de détresse, comme il est prévu à l'alinéa (1) de ce paragraphe.

[343] § 3. Les appels dans les bandes autorisées entre 365 et 515 kc/s (822 et 583 m) et entre 315 et 365 kc/s (952 et 822 m) étant faits normalement sur les ondes internationales d'appel [§ 1, (2) et (3) ci-avant], les stations du service mobile ouvertes au service de la correspondance publique et utilisant pour leur travail des ondes de ces bandes doivent, pendant leurs heures de veille, rester à l'écoute sur l'onde d'appel de leur service. Ces stations, tout en observant les prescriptions de l'article 19, § 2, (1) et (2), et § 4, D, ne sont autorisées à abandonner cette écoute que lorsqu'elles sont engagées dans une communication sur d'autres ondes.

[345] A. a) Toute station côtière assurant une communication sur une de ces ondes doit faire l'écoute sur l'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m), à moins qu'il n'en soit disposé autrement dans la nomenclature.

[336] (11) (a) The wave for the reply to a call transmitted on the general calling-wave [see § 1 (2)] shall be the wave of 500 kc (600 m), the same as that for calling.

[337] (b) The wave for the reply to a call, for aircraft stations and aeronautical stations working in the band 315 to 365 kc (952 to 822 m) shall be the wave of 333 kc (900 m), the same as that for calling.

[338] (c) The wave for the reply to a call transmitted on the international calling-wave of 143 kc (2,100 m) [see § 1 (4)] shall be:

the wave of 143 kc (2,100 m) for a mobile station;
the normal working-wave, for a coast station.

[339] § 2. (1) In order to increase safety of life at sea (ships), and over the sea (aircraft), all the stations of the maritime mobile service which normally listen on the waves of the authorized bands between 365 and 515 kc (822 and 583 m) must, during their working hours, make the necessary provisions to insure the watch on the distress wave [500 kc (600 m)] twice per hour, for 3 minutes, beginning at x:15 and at x:45 o'clock, Greenwich mean time.

[341] A. Transmissions must cease in the bands of 460 to 550 kc (652 to 545 m);

[342] B. Outside these bands:

(a) transmissions of type B waves shall be forbidden;

(b) other transmissions of the mobile service stations may continue; stations of the maritime mobile service may listen to these transmissions on the express condition that these stations shall first insure the watch on the distress wave, as provided for in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

[343] § 3. Since calls in the authorized bands between 365 and 515 kc (822 and 583 m) and from 315 to 365 kc (952 to 822 m) are normally made on the international calling-waves [§ 1 (2) and (3) above], mobile service stations open to the service of public correspondence and using waves from these bands for their work must, during their hours of watch, remain on watch on the calling-wave of their service. These stations, while observing the provisions of article 19, § 2 (1) and (2) and § 4 D, are authorized to abandon this watch only when they are engaged in a communication on other waves. Ante, p. 2513.

[344] § 4. The following rules must be followed in the operation of stations of the mobile service using type-A1 waves in the band 100 to 160 kc (3,000 to 1,875 m):

[345] A. (a) Any coast station carrying on a communication on one of these waves must listen on the wave of 143 kc (2,100 m), unless otherwise indicated in the nomenclature.

[346] b) La station côtière transmet tout son trafic sur l'onde ou sur les ondes qui lui sont spécialement attribuées.

[347] c) Une station côtière, à laquelle une ou plusieurs ondes comprises dans la bande de 125 à 150 kc/s (2 400 à 2 000 m) sont allouées, possède sur cette ou sur ces ondes un droit de préférence.

[350] b) Cette onde, désignée comme onde générale d'appel, doit être employée exclusivement, dans l'Atlantique Nord:

1° pour la production des appels individuels et des réponses à ces appels;

2° pour la transmission des signaux préalables à la transmission du trafic.

[351] C. Une station mobile, après avoir établi la communication avec une autre station du service mobile sur l'onde générale d'appel de 143 kc/s (2 100 m), doit, autant que possible, transmettre son trafic sur une autre onde quelconque des bandes autorisées, à condition de ne pas troubler le travail en cours d'une autre station.

[352] D. En règle générale, toute station mobile équipée pour le service sur les ondes du type A1 des bandes de 100 à 160 kc/s (3 000 à 1 875 m) et qui n'est pas engagée dans une communication sur une autre onde doit, en vue de permettre l'échange du trafic avec d'autres stations du service mobile, revenir chaque heure sur l'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m) pendant 5 minutes à partir de x h 35, temps moyen de Greenwich, durant les heures prévues, suivant la catégorie à laquelle appartient la station envisagée.

[355] c) L'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m) peut être employée pour les appels individuels et sera, de préférence, utilisée dans ce but pendant la période indiquée au § 4, D.

[357] 1. Pour les stations d'aéronef:

a) En radiotéléphonie (appel et travail) pour les aéronefs dont l'équipage ne comporte pas d'opérateur radiotélégraphiste.

[346] (b) The coast station shall transmit all its traffic on the wave or on the waves which are specifically assigned to it.

[347] (c) A coast station to which one or more waves within the band 125 to 150 kc (2,400 to 2,000 m) have been allocated, shall have a prior right to this or these waves.

[348] (d) Any other mobile service station transmitting public traffic on this or these waves and thereby causing interference with the said coast station must discontinue its work at the request of the latter.

[349] B. (a) When a mobile station wishes to establish communication on one of these waves with another station of the mobile service, it must use the wave of 143 kc (2,100 m), unless otherwise indicated in the nomenclature.

[350] (b) This wave, designated as a general calling-wave, must be used exclusively in the North Atlantic:

1. for making individual calls and answering these calls;

2. for transmitting signals preliminary to the transmission of traffic.

[351] C. A mobile station, after having established communication with another station of the mobile service on the general calling-wave of 143 kc (2,100 m) must, so far as possible, transmit its traffic on some other wave of the authorized bands, provided it does not interfere with the work in progress of another station.

[352] D. As a general rule, any mobile station equipped for service on type-A1 waves in the band 100 to 160 kc (3,000 to 1,875) and which is not engaged in a communication on another wave, must, in order to permit the exchange of traffic with other stations of the mobile service, return each hour to the wave of 143 kc (2,100 m) for 5 minutes beginning at x:35 o'clock Greenwich mean time, during the specified hours, according to the category to which the station in question belongs.

[353] E. (a) Land stations must, so far as possible, transmit calls in the form of call lists; in this case, the stations shall transmit their call lists at specified hours published in the nomenclature, on the wave or waves allocated to them, in the band 100 to 160 kc (3,000 to 1,875 m), but not on the wave of 143 kc (2,100 m).

[354] (b) Land stations may, however, call mobile stations individually at any other time, outside the hours fixed for the transmission of call lists, according to circumstances or according to the work which they have to perform.

[355] (c) The wave of 143 kc (2,100 m) may be used for individual calls and shall preferably be used for this purpose during the period indicated in § 4, D.

[356] § 5. Radio communications from aeronautical and aircraft stations shall, in principle, be exchanged in the following manner:

[357] 1. For aircraft stations:

(a) In radiotelephony (calling and working) for aircraft of which the crew does not include a radiotelegraph operator.

b) En radiotélégraphie sur ondes entretenues pour les aéronefs dont l'équipage comporte un opérateur radiotélégraphiste.

Appel: ondes du type A2.

Travail: ondes du type A1 (le type A2 est admis dans le cas du travail sur ondes courtes).

[358] 2. Pour les stations aéronautiques:

a) En radiotéléphonie (appel et travail) lorsque la station doit communiquer avec un aéronef dont l'équipage ne comporte pas d'opérateur radiotélégraphiste.

b) En radiotélégraphie lorsque la station doit communiquer avec un aéronef dont l'équipage comporte un opérateur radiotélégraphiste.

Ondes du type A1 (appel et travail).

Les ondes du type A2 sont admises (appel et travail) dans le cas des ondes courtes.

ARTICLE 20.

Brouillages.

[359] § 1. (1) L'échange de signaux ou correspondances superflus est interdit à toutes les stations.

[360] (2) Des essais et des expériences sont tolérés dans les stations mobiles, s'ils ne troublent point le service d'autres stations. Quant aux stations autres que les stations mobiles, chaque administration apprécie, avant de les autoriser, si les essais ou expériences proposés sont susceptibles ou non de troubler le service d'autres stations.

[361] § 2. Il est recommandé de transmettre le trafic se rapportant à la correspondance publique sur des ondes du type A1, plutôt que sur des ondes du type A2 et sur des ondes du type A2, plutôt que sur des ondes du type B.

[362] § 3. Toutes les stations du service mobile sont tenues d'échanger le trafic avec le minimum d'énergie rayonnée nécessaire pour assurer une bonne communication.

[364] § 5. Les signaux d'essais et de réglage doivent être choisis de telle manière qu'aucune confusion ne puisse se produire avec un signal, une abréviation, etc., d'une signification particulière définie par le présent Règlement ou par le Code International de Signaux.

[365] § 6. (1) Quand il est nécessaire d'émettre des signaux d'essais ou de réglage, et qu'il y a risque de troubler le service de la station terrestre voisine, le consentement de cette station terrestre doit être obtenu avant d'effectuer de telles émissions.

[366] (2) Une station quelconque effectuant des émissions pour des essais, des réglages ou des expériences doit transmettre son indi-

(b) In radiotelegraphy on continuous waves for aircraft of which the crew includes a radiotelegraph operator.

Calling: type-A2 waves.

Working: type-A1 waves (type A2 shall be permitted in the case of work on short waves).

[358] 2. For aeronautical stations:

(a) In radiotelephony (calling and working) when the station must communicate with an aircraft of which the crew does not include a radiotelegraph operator.

(b) In radiotelegraphy, when the station must communicate with an aircraft of which the crew includes a radiotelegraph operator.

Type-A1 waves (calling and working).

Type-A2 waves shall be permitted (calling and working) in the case of short waves.

ARTICLE 20

Interference

[359] § 1. (1) The exchange of unnecessary signals or messages shall be forbidden to all stations. Interference.

[360] (2) Tests and experiments shall be permitted in mobile stations if they do not interfere with the service of other stations. As for stations other than mobile stations, each administration shall judge, before authorizing them, whether or not the proposed tests or experiments are likely to interfere with the service of other stations.

[361] § 2. It is recommended that traffic relating to public correspondence be transmitted on type-A1 waves rather than on type-A2 waves, and on type-A2 waves rather than on type-B waves.

[362] § 3. All stations of the mobile service shall be required to exchange traffic with the minimum of radiated power necessary to insure good communication.

[363] § 4. Except in cases of distress, communications between on-board stations must not interfere with the work of land stations. When this work is thus interfered with, the on-board stations which cause it must stop transmitting or change wave, upon the first request of the land station concerned.

[364] § 5. Test and adjustment signals must be selected in such a way that there will result no confusion with a signal, an abbreviation, etc., having a particular meaning defined by these Regulations or by the International Code of Signals.

[365] § 6. (1) When it is necessary to transmit test or adjustment signals, and there is danger of interfering with the service of the adjoining land station, permission must be obtained from that land station before such transmissions are made.

[366] (2) Any station making transmissions for purposes of testing, adjusting, or experimenting, must transmit its call signal or, catif d'appel ou, en cas de besoin, son nom, à de fréquents intervalles au cours de ces émissions.

[367] § 7. L'administration ou l'entreprise qui formule une plainte en matière de brouillage doit, pour étayer et justifier celle-ci:

a) préciser les caractéristiques du brouillage constaté (fréquence, variations de réglage, indicatif du poste brouilleur, etc);

b) déclarer que le poste brouillé utilise bien la fréquence qui lui est attribuée;

c) faire connaître qu'elle emploie régulièrement des appareils de réception d'un type équivalent au type le meilleur utilisé dans la pratique courante du service dont il s'agit.

[368] § 8. Les administrations prennent les mesures qu'elles jugent utiles et qui sont compatibles avec leur législation intérieure, pour que les appareils électriques susceptibles de troubler sérieusement un service autorisé de radiocommunication soient employés de manière à éviter de telles perturbations.

Article 21.

Installations de secours.

[370] § 2. Pour l'utilisation des installations de secours, toutes les prescriptions du présent Règlement doivent être observées.

Article 22.

Signal et trafic de détresse. Signaux d'alarme, d'urgence et de sécurité.

A. Généralités.

[373] (2) La vitesse de transmission du signal d'alarme est indiquée au § 21, (1).

B. Ondes à employer en cas de détresse.

[374] § 3. (1) Navires.—En cas de détresse, l'onde à employer est l'onde internationale de détresse, c'est-à-dire 500 kc/s (600 m) (voir article 19); elle doit être, de préférence, utilisée en type A2 ou B. Les bâtiments qui ne peuvent émettre sur l'onde internationale de détresse utilisent leur onde normale d'appel.

if need be, its name at frequent intervals in the course of these transmissions.

[367] § 7. The administration or enterprise which makes a complaint regarding interference must, to support and justify the complaint:

(a) specify the characteristics of the interference noted (frequency, variations in adjustment, call signal of the interfering station, etc.);

(b) state that the station interfered with actually uses the frequency assigned to it;

(c) state that it regularly uses receiving instruments of a type equivalent to the best used in the current practice of the service concerned.

[368] § 8. The administrations shall take the steps which they deem advisable and which are in keeping with their domestic legislation so that electrical apparatus capable of serious interference with an authorized radio service, will be used in such a manner as to avoid such interference.

ARTICLE 21

Emergency Installations

Emergency installations.

[369] § 1. The Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea shall determine which ships must be provided with emergency installations and shall define the conditions to be fulfilled by installations of this category.

[370] § 2. In the use of emergency installations, all the provisions of the present Regulations must be observed.

ARTICLE 22

Distress Traffic and Distress Signals—Alarm, Emergency, and Safety Signals

Distress traffic and distress signals, etc.

A. GENERAL

General.

[371] § 1. No provision of these Regulations shall prevent a mobile station in distress from using any means available to it for drawing attention, signaling its position, and obtaining help.

[372] § 2. (1) When distress, emergency, or safety is involved, the telegraph transmission speed in general, must not exceed 16 words per minute.

[373] (2) The transmission speed for the alarm signal is indicated in § 21 (1).

B. WAVES TO BE USED IN CASE OF DISTRESS

Waves to be used in distress cases.

Ante, p. 2513.

[374] § 3. (1) Ships.—In case of distress, the wave to be used shall be the international distress wave, that is, 500 kc (600 m) (see art. 19); it must preferably be used in type A2 or B. Vessels which cannot transmit on the international distress wave shall use their normal calling-wave.

[375] (2) Aéronefs.—Tout aéronef en détresse doit transmettre l'appel de détresse sur l'onde de veille des stations fixes ou mobiles susceptibles de lui porter secours: 500 kc/s (600 m) pour les stations du service maritime, 333 kc/s (900 m) pour les stations du service aéronautique [sauf comme il est indiqué à l'article 9, § 10, (2)]. Les ondes à employer sont du type A2 ou A3.

C. SIGNAL DE DÉTRESSE.

[376] § 4. (1) En radiotélégraphie, le signal de détresse consiste dans le groupe •••▬▬▬••• ; en radiotéléphonie, le signal de détresse consiste dans l'expression parlée MAYDAY (correspondant à la prononciation française de l'expression «m'aider»).

[377] (2) Ces signaux de détresse annoncent que le navire, l'aéronef, ou tout autre véhicule qui émet le signal de détresse est sous la menace d'un danger grave et imminent et demande une assistance immédiate.

D. APPEL DE DÉTRESSE.

[378] § 5. (1) L'appel de détresse, lorsqu'il est émis par radiotélégraphie sur 500 kc/s (600 m), est, en règle générale, immédiatement précédé du signal d'alarme tel que ce dernier est défini au § 21, (1).

[380] (3) L'appel de détresse comprend:

le signal de détresse transmis trois fois, le mot DE, et l'indicatif d'appel de la station mobile en détresse, transmis trois fois.

E. MESSAGE DE DÉTRESSE.

[382] § 6. (1) L'appel de détresse doit être suivi aussitôt que possible du message de détresse. Ce message comprend l'appel de détresse, suivi du nom du navire, de l'aéronef ou du véhicule en détresse, des indications relatives à la position de celui-ci, à la nature de la détresse et à la nature du secours demandé et, éventuellement, de tout autre renseignement qui pourrait faciliter ce secours.

[383] (2) Lorsque, après avoir transmis son message de détresse, un aéronef ne peut signaler sa position, il s'efforce d'émettre son indicatif d'appel suffisamment longtemps pour permettre aux stations radiogoniométriques de déterminer sa position.

[375] (2) Aircraft.—Any aircraft in distress must transmit the distress call on the watching-wave of the fixed or mobile stations likely to help it: 500 kc (600 m) for stations of the maritime service, 333 kc (900 m) for stations of the aeronautical service [except as indicated in art. 9, § 10 (2)]. The waves to be used are type A2 or A3.

Ante, p. 2480.

C. DISTRESS SIGNAL

Distress signal.

[376] § 4. (1) In radiotelegraphy, the distress signal shall consist of the group • • • ▬ ▬ ▬ • • •; in radiotelephony, the distress signal shall consist of the spoken expression MAYDAY (corresponding to the French pronunciation of the expression "m'aider").

[377] (2) These distress signals shall announce that the ship, aircraft, or any other vehicle which sends the distress signal is threatened by serious and imminent danger and requests immediate assistance.

D. DISTRESS CALL

Distress call.

[278] § 5. (1) The distress call, when sent in radiotelegraphy on 500 kc (600 m) shall, as a general rule, be immediately preceded by the alarm signal as the latter is defined in § 21 (1).

[379] (2) When circumstances permit, the transmission of the call shall be separated from the end of the alarm signal by a 2-minute silence.

[380] (3) The distress call shall include:

the distress signal transmitted three times,
the word DE, and the call signal of the mobile station in distress transmitted three times.

[381] (4) This call shall have absolute priority over other transmissions. All stations hearing it must immediately cease all transmission capable of interfering with the distress traffic, and must listen on the wave used for the distress call. This call must not be sent to any particular station and does not require an acknowledgment of receipt.

E. DISTRESS MESSAGE

Distress message.

[382] § 6. (1) The distress call must be followed as soon as possible by the distress message. This message shall include the distress call followed by the name of the ship, aircraft, or the vehicle in distress, information regarding the position of the latter, the nature of the distress and the nature of the help requested, and any other further information which might facilitate this assistance.

[383] (2) When, after having sent its distress message, an aircraft is unable to signal its position, it shall endeavor to send its call signal long enough so that the radio direction-finding stations may determine its position.

[384] § 7. (1) En règle générale, un navire ou un aéronef à la mer signale sa position en latitude et longitude (Greenwich), en employant des chiffres pour les degrés et les minutes, accompagnés de l'un des mots NORTH ou SOUTH et de l'un des mots EAST ou WEST; un point sépare les degrés des minutes. Eventuellement, le relèvement vrai et la distance en milles marins par rapport à un point géographique connu peuvent être donnés.

[385] (2) En règle générale, un aéronef en vol au-dessus de la terre signale sa position par le nom de la localité la plus proche, sa distance approximative par rapport à celle-ci, accompagnée, selon le cas, de l'un des mots NORTH, SOUTH, EAST ou WEST ou, éventuellement, des mots indiquant les directions intermédiaires.

[386] § 8. L'appel et le message de détresse ne sont émis que sur ordre du commandant ou de la personne responsable du navire, de l'aéronef ou de tout autre véhicule portant la station mobile.

[387] § 9. (1) Le message de détresse doit être répété, par intervalles, jusqu'à ce qu'une réponse soit reçue et, notamment, pendant les périodes de silence prévues à l'article 19, § 2.

[388] (2) Le signal d'alarme peut également être répété, si nécessaire.

[389] (3) Les intervalles doivent, toutefois, être suffisamment longs pour que les stations qui se préparent à répondre aient le temps de mettre leurs appareils émetteurs en marche.

[390] (4) Dans le cas où la station de bord en détresse ne reçoit pas de réponse à un message de détresse transmis sur l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m), le message peut être répété sur toute autre onde disponible, à l'aide de laquelle l'attention pourrait être attirée.

[391] § 10. De plus, une station mobile qui apprend qu'une autre station mobile est en détresse peut transmettre le message de détresse dans l'un des cas suivants:

[392] a) la station en détresse n'est pas à même de le transmettre elle-même; [393] b) le commandant (ou son remplaçant) du navire, aéronef ou autre véhicule portant la station intervenante juge que d'autres secours sont nécessaires.

[384] § 7. (1) As a general rule, a ship or aircraft at sea shall signal its position in latitude and longitude (Greenwich), using figures, for the degrees and minutes, accompanied by one of the words NORTH or SOUTH and one of the words EAST or WEST. A period shall separate the degrees from the minutes. In some cases, the true bearings and the distance in nautical miles from some known geographical point may be given.

[385] (2) As a general rule, an aircraft flying over land shall signal its position by the name of the nearest locality, its approximate distance from this point, accompanied according to the case, by one of the words NORTH, SOUTH, EAST, or WEST, or, in some cases, words indicating intermediate directions.

[386] § 8. The distress call and message shall be sent only by order of the master or person responsible for the ship, aircraft, or other vehicle carrying the mobile station.

[387] § 9. (1) The distress message must be repeated at intervals until an answer has been received, and especially during the periods of silence provided for in article 19, § 2. Ante, p. 2513.

[388] (2) The alarm signal may also be repeated, if necessary.

[389] (3) The intervals must, however, be sufficiently long so that stations preparing to reply may have time to put their transmitters in operation.

[390] (4) In case the on-board station in distress receives no answer to a distress message sent on the 500-kc (600-m) wave, the message may be repeated on any other available wave by means of which attention might be attracted.

[391] § 10. Furthermore, a mobile station which becomes aware that another mobile station is in distress, may transmit the distress message in either of the following cases:

[392] (a) when the station in distress is not itself in a position to transmit it;

[393] (b) when the master (or his relief) of the vessel, aircraft, or other vehicle carrying the station which intervenes, believes that further help is necessary.

[394] § 11. (1) Stations which receive a distress message from a mobile station which is unquestionably in their vicinity, must acknowledge receipt thereof at once (see §§ 18 and 19 below), taking care not to interfere with the transmission of the acknowledgment of receipt of the said message by other stations.

[395] (2) Stations which receive a distress message from a mobile station which unquestionably is not in their vicinity, must wait a short period of time before acknowledging receipt thereof, in order to make it possible for stations nearer to the mobile station in distress to answer and acknowledge receipt without interference.

F. TRAFIC DE DÉTRESSE.

[396] § 12. Le trafic de détresse comprend tous les messages relatifs au secours immédiat nécessaire à la station mobile en détresse.

[397] § 13. Tout radiotélégramme d'un trafic de détresse doit comprendre le signal de détresse transmis au début du préambule.

[400] (2) Lorsque la station en détresse veut imposer silence, elle emploie la procédure qui vient d'être indiquée, en substituant le signal de détresse • • • ▬ ▬ ▬ • • • au mot DÉTRESSE.

[401] § 16. (1) Toute station qui entend un appel de détresse doit se conformer aux prescriptions du § 5, (4).

[402] (2) Toute station du service mobile qui a connaissance d'un trafic de détresse doit suivre ce trafic, même si elle n'y participe pas.

[403] (3) Pendant toute la durée d'un trafic de détresse, il est interdit à toutes les stations qui ont connaissance de ce trafic et qui n'y participent pas:

[404] a) d'employer l'onde de détresse [500 kc/s (600 m)] ou l'onde sur laquelle a lieu le trafic de détresse; [405] b) d'employer des ondes du type B.

[406] (4) Une station du service mobile qui, tout en suivant un trafic de détresse dont elle a connaissance, est capable de continuer son service normal, peut le faire, lorsque le trafic de détresse est bien établi, dans les conditions suivantes:

[407] a) l'emploi des ondes indiquées en (3) est interdit;

[408] b) l'emploi des ondes du type A1, à l'exception de celles qui pourraient troubler le trafic de détresse, lui est permis; [409] c) l'emploi des ondes des types A2 ou A3 ne lui est permis que dans la ou les bandes affectées au service mobile et qui ne comprennent pas de fréquence utilisée pour le trafic de détresse [la bande autour de 500 kc/s (600 m) s'étend de 385 à 550 kc/s (779 à 545 m)].

[410] § 17. Lorsque l'observation du silence n'est plus nécessaire ou que le trafic de détresse est terminé, la station qui a eu la direction de ce trafic transmet sur l'onde de détresse et, s'il y a lieu, sur l'onde

F. DISTRESS TRAFFIC

Distress traffic.

[396] § 12. Distress traffic shall include all messages relative to immediate assistance needed by the mobile station in distress.

[397] § 13. Every distress traffic radiotelegram must include the distress signal transmitted at the beginning of the preamble.

[398] § 14. The control of distress traffic shall devolve upon the mobile station in distress or upon the mobile station which, by application of the provisions of § 10 (a), has sent the distress call. These stations may delegate the control of the distress traffic to another station.

[399] § 15. (1) When it considers it indispensable, any station of the mobile service in the proximity of the ship, aircraft, or vehicle in distress, may impose silence either to all the stations of the mobile service in the zone, or to any one station which may be causing interference with the distress traffic. In both cases, the regulatory abbreviation (QRT) shall be used, followed by the word DISTRESS; these indications shall be addressed "to all" stations or to one station only, as the case may be.

[400] (2) When the station in distress wishes to impose silence, it shall use the above-mentioned procedure, substituting the distress signal • • • ▬ ▬ ▬ • • • for the word DISTRESS.

[401] § 16. (1) Any station hearing a distress call must conform to the provisions of § 5 (4).

[402] (2) Any station of the mobile service which becomes aware of distress traffic must listen to this traffic even if it is not taking part in it.

[403] (3) For the entire duration of distress traffic, it shall be prohibited for all stations which are aware of this traffic and which are not taking part in it:

[404] (a) to use the distress wave [500 kc (600 m)] or the wave on which the distress traffic is taking place;

[405] (b) to use type-B waves.

[406] (4) A station of the mobile service which, while following distress traffic of which it is aware, is able to continue its normal service, may do so, when the distress traffic is well established, under the following conditions:

[407] (a) the use of the waves specified in (3) shall be forbidden;

[408] (b) the use of type-A1 waves, with the exception of those which might interfere with the distress traffic, shall be permitted;

[409] (c) it shall be allowed to use type-A2 or -A3 waves only in the band or bands allocated to the mobile service and which do not include frequencies used for distress traffic [the band around 500 kc (600 m) extends from 385 to 550 kc (779 to 545 m)].

[410] § 17. When it is no longer necessary to observe silence, or when the distress traffic is ended, the station which has controlled this traffic shall send on the distress wave, and, where necessary, on the utilisée pour ce trafic de détresse, un message adressé «à tous» indiquant que le trafic de détresse est terminé. Ce message affecte la forme suivante:

l'appel à tous CQ (trois fois),
le mot DE,
l'indicatif d'appel de la station qui transmet le message,
le signal de détresse,
l'heure de dépôt du message, le nom et l'indicatif d'appel de la station mobile qui était en détresse, les mots «trafic détresse terminé».

G. ACCUSÉ DE RÉCEPTION D'UN MESSAGE DE DÉTRESSE.

[411] § 18. L'accusé de réception d'un message de détresse est donné sous la forme suivante:

l'indicatif d'appel de la station mobile en détresse (trois fois),
le mot DE,
l'indicatif d'appel de la station qui accuse réception (trois fois), le groupe RRR,
le signal de détresse.

[412] § 19. (1) Toute station mobile qui donne l'accusé de réception à un message de détresse doit, sur ordre du commandant ou de son remplaçant, faire connaître, aussitôt que possible, les renseignements ci-après dans l'ordre indiqué:

son nom,
sa position dans la forme indiquée au § 7, la vitesse maximum avec laquelle elle se dirige vers le navire (aéronef ou autre véhicule) en détresse.

[413] (2) Avant d'émettre ce message, la station devra s'assurer qu'elle ne brouille pas les émissions d'autres stations mieux placées pour apporter un secours immédiat à la station en détresse.

H. RÉPÉTITION D'UN APPEL OU D'UN MESSAGE DE DÉTRESSE.

[414] § 20. (1) Toute station du service mobile, qui n'est pas à même de fournir du secours et qui a entendu un message de détresse auquel il n'a pas été donné immédiatement d'accusé de réception, doit prendre toutes les dispositions possibles pour attirer l'attention des stations du service mobile qui sont en situation de fournir du secours.

[415] (2) Dans ce but, avec l'autorisation de l'autorité responsable de la station, l'appel de détresse ou le message de détresse peut être répété; cette répétition est faite à toute puissance soit sur l'onde de détresse, soit sur une des ondes qui peuvent être employées en cas de détresse (§ 3 du présent article); en même temps, toutes les dispositions nécessaires seront prises pour aviser les autorités qui peuvent intervenir utilement.

wave used for this distress traffic, a message addressed "to all", indicating that the distress traffic is ended. This message shall take the following form:

CQ call "to all" (three times),
the word DE,
call signal of the station transmitting the message,
distress signal,
time of filing of the message, name and call signal of the mobile station which was in distress, words "distress traffic ended".

G. ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF RECEIPT OF A DISTRESS MESSAGE

Acknowledgment of receipt of distress message.

[411] § 18. The acknowledgment of receipt of a distress message shall be given in the following form:

call signal of the mobile station in distress (three times),
the word DE,
call signal of the station acknowledging receipt (three times), group RRR,
distress signal.

[412] § 19. (1) Any mobile station acknowledging receipt of a distress message must, on the order of the master or his relief, give the following information as soon as possible, in the order indicated:

its name,
its position, in the form specified in § 7, the maximum speed at which it is proceeding towards the ship (aircraft or other vehicle) in distress.

[413] (2) Before transmitting this message the station must make sure that it is not interfering with the emissions of other stations in a better position to render immediate assistance to the station in distress.

H. REPETITION OF A DISTRESS CALL OR MESSAGE

Repetition of distress call or message.

[414] § 20. (1) Any station of the mobile service which is not in a position to render assistance and which has heard a distress message for which acknowledgment of receipt has not immediately been given, must take all possible steps to attract the attention of stations of the mobile service which are in a position to furnish help.

[415] (2) For this purpose, with the permission of the authority responsible for the station, the distress call or distress message may be repeated; this repetition shall be made at full power, either on the distress wave or on one of the waves which may be used in case of distress (§ 3 of this article); at the same time all necessary steps shall be taken to inform the authorities whose assistance may be advantageous.

[416] (3) Une station qui répète un appel de détresse ou un message de détresse le fait suivre du mot DE et de son propre indicatif d'appel transmis 3 fois.

I. SIGNAL D'ALARME AUTOMATIQUE.

[417] § 21. (1) Le signal d'alarme se compose d'une série de douze traits transmis en une minute, la durée de chaque trait étant de quatre secondes et la durée de l'intervalle entre deux traits de une seconde. Il peut être émis à la main ou par un appareil automatique.

[418] (2) Ce signal spécial a pour seul but de faire fonctionner les appareils automatiques donnant l'alarme. Il doit être employé uniquement soit pour annoncer qu'un appel ou message de détresse va suivre, soit pour annoncer une émission d'avis urgent de cyclone; dans ce dernier cas, il ne peut être employé que par les stations côtières dûment autorisées par leur gouvernement.

[420] (4) Les appareils automatiques destinés à la réception du signal d'alarme doivent satisfaire aux conditions suivantes:

1° répondre au signal d'alarme, même lorsque de nombreux postes travaillent, et aussi quand il y a du brouillage atmosphérique;

2° n'être pas mis en action par des «atmosphériques» ou par des signaux puissants autres que le signal d'alarme;

3° posséder une sensibilité égale à celle d'un récepteur détecteur-cristal relié à la même antenne;

4° avertir quand son fonctionnement cesse d'être normal.

[421] (5) Avant qu'un récepteur automatique d'alarme soit approuvé pour l'usage des navires, l'administration dont ils relèvent doit s'être assurée, par des expériences pratiques faites dans des conditions de brouillage convenables, que l'appareil satisfait aux prescriptions du présent Règlement.

[422] (6) L'adoption du type de signal d'alarme mentionné en (1) n'empêche pas une administration d'autoriser l'emploi d'un appareil automatique qui répondrait aux conditions fixées ci-avant et qui serait actionné par le signal de détresse • • • ▬ ▬ ▬ • • •.

J. SIGNAL D'URGENCE.

[423] § 22. (1) En radiotélégraphie, le signal d'urgence consiste en trois répétitions du groupe XXX, transmis en séparant bien les lettres de chaque groupe et les groupes successifs; il est émis avant l'appel.

[416] (3) A station which repeats a distress call or a distress message shall transmit after it the word DE followed by its own call signal three times.

I. AUTOMATIC ALARM SIGNAL

Automatic alarm signal.

[417] § 21. (1) The alarm signal shall consist of a series of 12 dashes sent in 1 minute, the duration of each dash being 4 seconds and the duration of the interval between 2 dashes, 1 second. It can be transmitted by hand or by means of an automatic instrument.

[418] (2) The only purpose of this special signal is to set into operation the automatic apparatus used to give the alarm. It must only be used either to announce that a distress call or message is to follow, or to announce the transmission of an urgent cyclone warning; in the latter case it can only be used by coast stations duly authorized by their government.

[419] (3) In cases of distress, the use of the alarm signal is indicated in § 5 (1); in the case of urgent cyclone warnings, the emission of this warning must begin only 2 minutes after the end of the alarm signal.

[420] (4) The automatic instruments intended for the reception of the alarm signal must satisfy the following conditions:

1. they must be set into operation by the alarm signal even when numerous stations are working, and also when there is atmospheric interference;
2. they must not be made to operate by "atmospherics" or by powerful signals other than the alarm signal;
3. they must possess a sensitivity equal to that of a crystal-detector receiver connected to the same antenna;
4. they must give warning when their operation ceases to be normal.

[421] (5) Before an automatic alarm receiver may be approved for use on ships, the administration having jurisdiction must be satisfied by practical tests made under suitable conditions of interference, that the apparatus complies with the provisions of these Regulations.

[422] (6) The adoption of the type of alarm signal mentioned in (1) shall not prevent an administration from authorizing the use of an automatic instrument complying with the conditions set forth above and which would be operated by the distress signal • • • ▬ ▬ ▬ • • •

J. URGENT SIGNAL

Urgent signal.

[423] § 22. (1) In radiotelegraphy, the urgent signal shall consist of the group XXX transmitted three times, with the letters of each group, as well as the consecutive groups well separated; it shall be sent before the call.

[424] (2) En radiotéléphonie, le signal d'urgence consiste en trois répétitions de l'expression PAN (correspondant à la prononciation française du mot «panne»); il est émis avant l'appel [1]).

[425] (3) Le signal d'urgence indique que la station appelante a un message très urgent à transmettre concernant la sécurité d'un navire, d'un aéronef, d'un autre véhicule ou celle d'une personne quelconque se trouvant à bord ou en vue du bord.

[426] (4) En particulier, un aéronef envoyant un message pour indiquer qu'il est en difficulté et sur le point d'atterrir (ou d'amerrir) obligatoirement, mais qu'il n'a pas besoin de secours immédiat, fait précéder son message du signal d'urgence.

[427] (5) Le signal d'urgence émis par un aéronef et non suivi d'un message signifie que l'aéronef est contraint d'atterrir (ou d'amerrir), ne peut transmettre de message, mais n'a pas besoin de secours immédiat.

[428] (6) Le signal d'urgence a la priorité sur toutes autres communications, sauf sur celles de détresse, et toutes les stations mobiles ou terrestres qui l'entendent doivent prendre soin de ne pas brouiller la transmission du message qui suit le signal d'urgence.

[429] (7) Dans le cas où le signal d'urgence est employé par une station mobile, ce signal doit, en règle générale, être adressé à une station déterminée.

[430] § 23. Quand le signal d'urgence est employé, les messages que ce signal précède doivent, en règle générale, être rédigés en langage clair, sauf dans le cas des messages médicaux échangés entre des navires ou entre un navire et une station côtière.

[431] § 24. (1) Les stations mobiles qui entendent le signal d'urgence doivent rester sur écoute pendant trois minutes au moins. Passé ce délai, et si aucun message d'urgence n'a été entendu, elles peuvent reprendre leur service normal.

[432] (2) Toutefois, les stations terrestres et de bord qui sont en communication sur des ondes autres que celle utilisée pour la transmission du signal d'urgence et de l'appel qui le suit peuvent continuer sans arrêt leur travail normal.

[434] (2) Dans le cas d'une station terrestre, le signal d'urgence ne peut être transmis qu'avec l'approbation de l'autorité responsable.

K. SIGNAL DE SÉCURITÉ.

[435] § 26. (1) En radiotélégraphie, le signal de sécurité consiste en trois répétitions du groupe TTT, transmis en séparant bien les lettres de chaque groupe et les groupes successifs. Ce signal est suivi du mot

[1]) Dans le service aéronautique le signal PAN est actuellement utilisé également comme signal radiotélégraphique d'urgence; dans ce cas, les 3 lettres doivent être bien séparées afin que les lettres AN ne se transforment pas en la lettre P.

[424] (2) In radiotelephony the urgent signal shall consist of three transmissions of the expression PAN (corresponding to the French pronunciation of the word "panne"); it shall be transmitted before the call.[1]

[425] (3) The urgent signal shall indicate that the calling station has a very urgent message to transmit concerning the safety of a ship, an aircraft, or another vehicle, or concerning the safety of some person on board or sighted from on board.

[426] (4) In particular, an aircraft sending a message to indicate that it is in trouble and on the point of being forced to land (or to take to the sea), but that it is not in need of immediate help, shall send the urgent signal before its message.

[427] (5) The urgent signal sent by an aircraft and not followed by a message shall mean that the aircraft is forced to land (or to take to the sea), is not able to transmit a message, but is not in need of immediate help.

[428] (6) The urgent signal shall have priority over all other communications, except distress communications, and all mobile or land stations hearing it must take care not to interfere with the transmission of the message which follows the urgent signal.

[429] (7) In case the urgent signal is used by a mobile station, this signal must, as a general rule, be addressed to a definite station.

[430] § 23. When the urgent signal is used the messages which this signal precedes must, as a general rule, be written in plain language, except in the case of medical messages exchanged between ships or between a ship and a coast station.

[431] § 24. (1) Mobile stations hearing the urgent signal must listen for at least 3 minutes. After this interval, and if no urgent message has been heard, they may resume their normal service.

[432] (2) However, land and on-board stations which are in communication on waves other than that used for the transmission of the urgent signal and the call following it, may continue their normal work without interruption.

[433] § 25. (1) The urgent signal may be transmitted only with the authorization of the master or of the person responsible for the ship, aircraft, or any other vehicle carrying the mobile station.

[434] (2) In the case of a land station, the urgent signal may be transmitted only with the approval of the responsible authority.

K. SAFETY SIGNAL

Safety signal.

[435] § 26. (1) In radiotelegraphy, the safety signal shall consist of the group TTT, transmitted three times, with the letters of each group, as well as the consecutive groups, well separated. This signal

[1] In the aeronautical service, at present, the signal PAN is also used as the radiotelegraph urgent signal; in this case the three letters must be well separated in order that the letters AN will not be changed into the letter P.

DE et de trois fois l'indicatif d'appel de la station qui l'émet. Il annonce que cette station va transmettre un message concernant la sécurité de la navigation ou donnant des avertissements météorologiques importants.

[436] (2) En radiotéléphonie, le mot SÉCURITÉ (correspondant à la prononciation française du mot «sécurité») répété trois fois est utilisé comme signal de sécurité.

[437] § 27. Le signal de sécurité et le message qui le suit sont transmis sur l'onde de détresse ou sur une des ondes qui peuvent éventuellement être employées en cas de détresse (voir § 3 du présent article).

[438] § 28. (1) Dans le service mobile maritime, en dehors des messages dont la transmission est faite à heure fixe, le signal de sécurité doit être transmis vers la fin de la première période de silence qui se présente (article 19, § 2) et le message est transmis immédiatement après la période de silence; dans les cas prévus à l'article 30, A, § 4, (3) et § 5, (1), B, § 7, le signal de sécurité et le message qui le suit doivent être transmis dans le plus bref délai possible, mais doivent être répétés, comme il vient d'être indiqué, à la première période de silence suivante.

[439] (2) Toutes les stations qui perçoivent le signal de sécurité doivent rester à l'écoute sur l'onde sur laquelle le signal de sécurité a été émis jusqu'à ce que le message ainsi annoncé soit terminé; elles doivent de plus observer le silence sur toute onde susceptible de brouiller le message.

[440] (3) Les règles précédentes sont applicables au service aérien, dans la limite où elles ne sont pas en opposition avec des arrangements régionaux assurant à la navigation aérienne une protection au moins égale.

ARTICLE 23.

Vacations des stations du service mobile.

[441] § 1. Afin de permettre l'application des règles indiquées ci-après, au sujet des heures de veille, toute station du service mobile doit avoir une montre précise et prendre les dispositions voulues pour que celle-ci soit correctement réglée sur le temps moyen de Greenwich.

A. STATIONS TERRESTRES.

[442] § 2. (1) Le service des stations terrestres est, autant que possible, permanent (de jour et de nuit). Toutefois, certaines stations terrestres peuvent avoir un service de durée limitée. Chaque administration ou exploitation privée, dûment autorisée à cet effet, fixe les heures de service des stations terrestres placées sous son autorité.

[443] (2) Les stations terrestres dont le service n'est point permanent ne peuvent prendre clôture avant d'avoir:

1° terminé toutes les opérations motivées par un appel de détresse;

shall be followed by the word DE and three transmissions of the call signal of the station sending it. It announces that this station is about to transmit a message concerning the safety of navigation or giving important meteorological warnings.

[436] (2) In radiotelephony, the word SECURITY (corresponding to the French pronunciation of the word "sécurité") repeated three times, shall be used as the safety signal.

[437] § 27. The safety signal and the message which follows it shall be transmitted on the distress wave or on one of the waves which, in some instances, may be used in case of distress (see § 3 of this article.)

[438] § 28. (1) In the maritime mobile service, apart from messages transmitted according to a schedule, the safety signal must be transmitted toward the end of the first ensuing period of silence (art. 19, § 2), and the message shall be transmitted immediately after the period of silence; in the cases provided for in article 30, A, § 4 (3) and § 5 (1), B, § 7, the safety signal and the message which follows it must be transmitted with as little delay as possible, but must be repeated, as has just been indicated, at the first ensuing period of silence.

Ante, p. 2513.

Post, p. 2557.

[439] (2) All stations hearing the safety signal must continue listening on the wave on which the safety signal has been sent until the message so announced has been completed; they must moreover keep silence on all waves likely to interfere with the message.

[440] (3) The foregoing rules shall be applicable to the aeronautical service so far as they are not in conflict with regional arrangements providing aerial navigation with at least equivalent protection.

ARTICLE 23

Working Hours of Stations of the Mobile Service

Station working hours.

[441] § 1. In order to permit the application of the rules indicated below regarding the hours of watch, each station of the mobile service must have an accurate clock and must take the necessary steps to see that it is correctly adjusted to Greenwich mean time.

A. LAND STATIONS

Land stations.

[442] § 2. (1) The service of land stations shall, so far as possible, be continuous (day and night). However, the duration of the service of certain land stations may be limited. Each administration or public enterprise duly authorized to this effect, shall determine the service hours of the land stations under its authority.

[443] (2) Land stations the service of which is not continuous may not close before having:

1. finished all operations called for by a distress call;

2° échangé tous les radiotélégrammes originaires ou à destination des stations mobiles qui se trouvent dans leur rayon d'action et ont signalé leur présence avant la cessation effective du travail.

[444] (3) Le service des stations aéronautiques est continu pendant toute la durée du vol dans le ou les secteurs du ou des parcours dont la station considérée assure le service des radiocommunications.

B. STATIONS DE NAVIRE.

[445] § 3. (1) Pour le service international de la correspondance publique, les stations de navire sont classées, suivant la réglementation intérieure des administrations dont elles dépendent, en trois catégories:

[446] stations de première catégorie: ces stations effectuent un service permanent;

[447] stations de deuxième catégorie: ces stations effectuent un service de durée limitée, tel qu'il est indiqué à l'alinéa (2) ci-après;

[448] stations de troisième catégorie: ces stations effectuent un service de durée plus limité que celui des stations de deuxième catégorie ou un service dont la durée n'est pas fixée par le présent Règlement.

[449] (2) a) Les stations de navire classées dans la deuxième catégorie doivent assurer le service au moins pendant la durée qui leur est attribuée dans l'appendice 4. Il est fait mention de cette durée dans la licence.

[450] b) Dans le cas de courtes traversées, elles assurent le service pendant les heures fixées par l'administration dont elles dépendent.

[451] (3) Le cas échéant, les heures de service des stations de navire de la troisième catégorie peuvent être mentionnées dans la nomenclature.

[453] § 4. (1) Les dispositions du § 2, alinéa (2) du présent article s'appliquent aux stations de navire strictement en ce qui concerne le service de détresse et, autant que possible, en conformité avec l'esprit de ce qui est dit sous le 2° dudit alinéa.

[454] (2) Il appartient à chacun des gouvernements contractants d'assurer l'efficacité du service dans les stations de navire de sa nationalité, en exigeant la présence dans ces stations du nombre d'opérateurs nécessaires, compte tenu de sa réglementation intérieure en cette matière.

2. exchanged all radiotelegrams originating in or destined to the mobile stations which are within their range and have signaled their presence before the effective cessation of work.

[444] (3) The service of aeronautical stations shall be continuous during the entire period of flight in the sector or sectors of the course or courses for which the station in question carries on the radio service.

B. SHIP STATIONS

[445] § 3. (1) For the international service of public correspondence, ship stations shall be classified into three categories according to the internal regulations of the administration to which they are subject, as follows: Ship stations.

[446] stations of the first category: these stations shall carry on a continuous service;

[447] stations of the second category: these stations shall carry on a service of limited duration, as outlined in subparagraph (2) below;

[448] stations of the third category: these stations shall carry on a service of a more limited duration than that of the stations of the second category, or a service the duration of which is not determined by these Regulations.

[449] (2) (a) Ship stations classified in the second category must carry on their service at least during the period assigned to them in appendix 4. This period shall be mentioned in the license.

[450] (b) In the case of short crossings, they shall carry on the service during the hours determined by the administration to which they belong.

[451] (3) In certain cases, the service hours of stations on ships of the third category may be mentioned in the nomenclature.

[452] (4) As a general rule, when a coast station has traffic on hand for a station on a ship of the third category not having fixed listening hours and which is presumed to be within the range of the coast station, the latter shall call the ship station during the first half-hour of the first and third listening periods of ship stations of the second category carrying on an 8-hour service in accordance with the provisions of appendix 4. Post, p. 2595.

[453] § 4. (1) The provisions of § 2 (2) of this article shall apply strictly to ship stations with regard to the distress service, and, so far as possible, in conformity with the spirit of the contents of item 2 of the said subparagraph.

[454] (2) It shall devolve upon each of the contracting governments to insure the efficiency of the service in the ship stations of its nationality by requiring in these stations the presence of the necessary number of operators, taking into account its internal regulations on the subject.

C. STATIONS D'AÉRONEF.

[455] § 5. Pour le service international de la correspondance publique, les stations d'aéronef sont classées, suivant la réglementation intérieure des administrations dont elles dépendent, en deux catégories:

[456] stations de première catégorie: ces stations effectuent un service permanent;

[457] stations de deuxième catégorie: ces stations effectuent un service limité dont la durée n'est pas fixée par le présent Règlement.

D. DISPOSITIONS COMMUNES.

[458] § 6. (1) Une station mobile qui n'a pas de vacations déterminées doit communiquer à la station terrestre, avec laquelle elle est entrée en relation, l'heure de clôture et l'heure de réouverture de son service.

[459] (2) a) Toute station mobile dont le service est sur le point de fermer pour cause d'arrivée doit en avertir la station terrestre la plus proche et, s'il est utile, les autres stations terrestres avec lesquelles elle correspond en général. Elle ne doit prendre clôture qu'après liquidation du trafic en instance.

[460] b) Au moment de son départ, elle doit aviser de sa réouverture la ou les stations terrestres précitées.

E. CLASSE ET NOMBRE MINIMUM D'OPÉRATEURS.

[461] § 7. En ce qui concerne le service international de la correspondance publique des stations mobiles, le personnel de ces stations devra comporter au moins:

[462] 1° pour les stations de navire de la première catégorie: un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat de radiotélégraphiste de 1re classe;

[463] 2° pour les stations de navire de la deuxième catégorie: un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat de radiotélégraphiste de 1re ou de 2e classe.

[464] 3° a) pour les stations de navire de la troisième catégorie, sauf dans les cas prévus aux litteras b) et c) qui suivent, un opérateur qui a subi avec succès l'examen pour le certificat de radiotélégraphiste de 2e classe; [465] b) pour les stations des navires auxquels l'installation radiotélégraphique n'est pas imposée par des accords internationaux, un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat spécial, répondant aux conditions de l'article 10, D, § 6, (1);

[466] c) pour les stations des navires munis d'une installation radiotéléphonique de faible puissance, un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat de radiotéléphoniste, répondant aux conditions de l'article 10, E, § 7; [467] 4° a) pour les stations d'aéronef, sauf dans les cas prévus aux alinéas b) et c) qui suivent, un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat de radiotélégraphiste de 1re ou de 2e classe, suivant les dispositions d'ordre intérieur prises par les gouvernements dont dépendent ces stations;

C. AIRCRAFT STATIONS

Aircraft stations.

[455] § 5. For the international service of public correspondence, aircraft stations shall be classified into two categories according to the internal regulations of the administrations to which they are subject, as follows:

[456] stations of the first category: these stations shall carry on a continuous service;

[457] stations of the second category: these stations shall carry on a limited service of which the duration is not determined by these Regulations.

D. GENERAL PROVISIONS

General provisions.

[458] § 6. (1) A mobile station which has no fixed working-hours must advise the land station with which it is in communication of the closing and reopening hours of its service.

[459] (2) (a) Every mobile station the service of which is about to close, due to arrival, must so advise the nearest land station and, if necessary, the other land stations with which it generally communicates. It must not close until it has cleared all traffic on hand.

[460] (b) At the time of its departure, it must advise the aforesaid land station or stations of its reopening.

E. CLASS AND MINIMUM NUMBER OF OPERATORS

Class and minimum number of operators.

[461] § 7. With respect to the international service of public correspondence of mobile stations, the personnel of these stations must include at least:

[462] 1. for ship stations of the first category; an operator holding a first-class radiotelegraph operator's certificate;

[463] 2. for ship stations of the second category; an operator holding a first- or second-class radiotelegraph operator's certificate;

[464] 3. (a) for ship stations of the third category, except in the cases provided for in subparagraphs (b) and (c) below, an operator having successfully passed the examination for a second-class radiotelegraph operator's certificate;

[465] (b) for ship stations of which radiotelegraph equipment is not made compulsory by international agreements, an operator holding a special certificate covering the conditions contained in article 10, D, § 6 (1);

Ante, p. 2487.

[466] (c) for ship stations equipped with a low-power radiotelephone installation, an operator holding a radiotelephone operator's certificate covering the conditions contained in article 10, E, § 7;

[467] 4. (a) for aircraft stations, except in the cases provided for in subparagraphs (b) and (c) below, an operator holding a first- or second-class radiotelegraph operator's certificate, according to provisions of an internal character laid down by the governments to which these stations are subject;

[468] b) pour les stations des aéronefs auxquels l'installation radiotélégraphique n'est pas imposée par des accords internationaux, un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat spécial répondant aux conditions de l'article 10, D, § 6, (1); [469] c) pour les stations des aéronefs munis d'une installation radiotéléphonique de faible puissance, un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat de radiotéléphoniste, répondant aux conditions de l'article 10, E, § 7.

ARTICLE 24.

Ordre de priorité des communications dans le service mobile.

[470] L'ordre de priorité des radiocommunications dans le service mobile est le suivant:

1° appels de détresse, messages de détresse et trafic de détresse:
2° communications précédées d'un signal d'urgence;
3° communications précédées du signal de sécurité;
4° communications relatives aux relèvements radiogoniométriques;
5° radiotélégrammes d'Etat pour lesquels le droit de priorité n'a pas été abandonné;
6° toutes les autres communications.

ARTICLE 25.

Indication de la station d'origine des radiotélégrammes.

[473] § 3. La station terrestre peut, si elle le juge utile, compléter l'indication du nom de la station mobile d'origine par le mot «navire» ou «avion» ou «dirigeable» placé avant le nom de ladite station d'origine, en vue d'éviter toute confusion avec un bureau télégraphique ou une station fixe de même nom.

ARTICLE 26.

Direction à donner aux radiotélégrammes.

[474] § 1. (1) En règle générale, la station mobile qui fait usage d'ondes du type A2, A3 ou B comprises dans la bande de 365 à 515 kc/s (822 à 583 m) transmet ses radiotélégrammes à la station terrestre

[468] (b) for stations on board aircraft for which radiotelegraph equipment is not made compulsory by international agreements, an operator holding a special certificate covering the conditions contained in article 10, D, § 6 (1); Ante, p. 2487.

[469] (c) for stations on board aircraft equipped with a low-power radiotelephone installation, an operator holding a radiotelephone operator's certificate covering the conditions contained in article 10, E, § 7.

ARTICLE 24

Order of Priority of Communications in the Mobile Service

Communications in Mobile Service. Order of priority.

[470] The order of priority of radio communications in the mobile service shall be as follows:

1. distress calls, distress messages, and distress traffic;
2. communications preceded by an urgent signal;
3. communications preceded by a safety signal;
4. communications relative to radio direction-finding bearings;
5. government radiotelegrams for which priority right has not been waived;
6. all other communications.

ARTICLE 25

Indication of the Station of Origin of Radiotelegrams

Indication of station of origin.

[471] § 1. When the name of a station, due to similarity of names, is followed by the call signal of that station, that signal shall be separated from the name of the station by a fraction bar. Example: Oregon/OZOC (and not Oregonozoc); Rose/DDOR (and not Roseddor).

[472] § 2. When reforwarding, over the communication channels of the general network, a radiotelegram received from a mobile station, the land station shall transmit, as the origin, the name of the mobile station where the radiotelegram originated, as that name is shown in the nomenclature followed by the name of the said land station.

[473] § 3. If it deems advisable, the land station may complete the indication of the mobile station of origin by the word "ship", or "aircraft", or "dirigible" placed before the name of the said station of origin, for the purpose of avoiding any confusion with a telegraph office or a fixed station having the same name.

ARTICLE 26

Routing of Radiotelegrams

Routing of radiotelegrams.

[744] § 1. (1) As a general rule, a mobile station using type-A2, -A3, or -B waves within the band 365 to 515 kc (822 to 583 m) shall send its radiotelegrams to the nearest land station. In order to accelerate or la plus proche. En vue d'accélérer ou de faciliter la transmission des radiotélégrammes elle peut cependant les transmettre à une autre station mobile. Cette dernière traite les radiotélégrammes ainsi reçus comme ceux déposés chez elle-même (voir également article 7 du Règlement additionnel).

[477] § 3. Si l'expéditeur d'un radiotélégramme déposé dans une station mobile a désigné la station terrestre à laquelle il désire que son radiotélégramme soit transmis, la station mobile doit, pour effectuer cette transmission à la station terrestre indiquée, attendre éventuellement que les conditions prévues aux paragraphes précédents soient remplies.

ARTICLE 27.

Comptabilité des radiotélégrammes.

A. ETABLISSEMENT DES COMPTES.

[478] § 1. En principe, les taxes terrestres et de bord n'entrent pas dans les comptes télégraphiques internationaux.

[479] § 2. Les gouvernements se réservent la faculté de prendre entre eux et avec les exploitations privées intéressées des arrangements différents, en vue de l'adoption d'autres dispositions concernant la comptabilité, notamment l'adoption, autant que possible, du système sous lequel les taxes terrestres et de bord suivent les radiotélégrammes de pays à pays, par la voie des comptes télégraphiques.

[481] § 4. Dans le cas où l'exploitant des stations terrestres n'est pas l'administration du pays, cet exploitant peut être substitué, en ce qui concerne les comptes, à l'administration de ce pays.

facilitate the transmission of radiotelegrams, it may, however, transmit them to another mobile station. The latter shall treat radiotelegrams thus received like those filed in its own station. (See also art. 7 of the Additional Regulations.)

[475] (2) However, when the mobile station can choose among several land stations situated at approximately the same distance, it must give the preference to the station located on the territory of the country of destination or of normal transit of the radiotelegram. When the station chosen is not the nearest, the mobile station must cease working or change the type or frequency of emission upon the first request made by the land station of the service concerned which is actually the nearest, when this request is based upon the interference which the work in question causes to the latter.

[476] § 2. Mobile stations using either type-A1 waves or type-A2 or -A3 waves, outside the band 365 to 515 kc (822 to 583 m) must, as a general rule, give preference to the land station located on the territory of the country of destination or of the country which it appears could most reasonably effect the transit of the radiotelegrams.

[477] § 3. If the sender of a radiotelegram filed in a mobile station has designated the land station to which he desires his radiotelegram sent, the mobile station must, in some cases, wait until the conditions specified in the preceding paragraphs are fulfilled, before making the transmission to the designated land station.

ARTICLE 27

Accounting for Radiotelegrams

A. ESTABLISHMENT OF ACCOUNTS

Accounting.

[478] § 1. In principle, land and on-board charges shall not enter into international telegraph accounts.

[479] § 2. Governments reserve the right to make different arrangements among themselves and with the private enterprises concerned, with a view to the adoption of other provisions for accounting, notably the adoption, so far as possible, of the system in which land and on-board charges follow radiotelegrams from country to country through the telegraph accounts.

[480] § 3. In the absence of a different arrangement, in accordance with the provisions of § 2 above, accounts for these charges shall be set up each month by the administrations to which the land stations are subject and sent by them to the administrations concerned.

[481] § 4. Where the land stations are not operated by the administration of the country, the operating agency may be substituted for the administration of the country, so far as accounts are concerned.

[482] § 5. For radiotelegrams originating with on-board stations, the administration to which the land station is subject shall debit the administration to which the on-board station of origin is subject with taxes afférentes aux parcours sur le réseau général des voies de télécommunication—qui seront dorénavant appelées taxes télégraphiques—, des taxes totales perçues pour les réponses payées, des taxes terrestres et télégraphiques perçues pour le collationnement, des taxes perçues pour la remise par exprès, par poste ou par poste-avion et des taxes perçues pour les copies des télégrammes multiples. Pour la transmission sur les voies de communication télégraphiques, les radiotélégrammes sont traités, au point de vue des comptes, conformément au Règlement télégraphique.

[483] § 6. Pour les radiotélégrammes à destination d'un pays situé au delà de celui auquel appartient la station terrestre, les taxes télégraphiques à liquider, conformément aux dispositions ci-avant, sont celles qui résultent soit des tableaux des tarifs afférents à la correspondance télégraphique internationale, soit d'arrangements spéciaux conclus entre les administrations de pays limitrophes et publiés par ces administrations, et non les taxes qui pourraient être perçues en appliquant des minima par télégramme ou des méthodes d'arrondir les prix par télégramme de quelque manière que ce soit.

[484] § 7. Pour les radiotélégrammes à destination des stations de bord, l'administration dont dépend le bureau d'origine est débitée directement par celle dont dépend la station terrestre des taxes terrestres et de bord plus les taxes terrestres et de bord applicables au collationnement, mais seulement dans le cas où le radiotélégramme a été transmis à la station de bord. Toutefois, dans le cas visé au § 4 de l'article 9 du Règlement additionnel, l'administration dont dépend le bureau d'origine est débitée de la taxe terrestre par celle dont dépend la station terrestre. L'administration dont dépend le bureau d'origine est toujours débitée, de pays à pays, s'il y a lieu, par la voie des comptes télégraphiques, et par l'administration dont dépend la station terrestre, des taxes totales afférentes aux réponses payées et des taxes télégraphiques afférentes au collationnement. En ce qui concerne les taxes télégraphiques et les taxes relatives à la remise par poste ou par poste-avion, et aux copies des télégrammes multiples, il est opéré, pour ce qui regarde les comptes télégraphiques, conformément à la procédure télégraphique normale. L'administration dont dépend a station terrestre crédite, pour autant que le radiotélégramme ait été transmis, celle dont dépend la station de bord destinataire: a) de la taxe de bord; b) s'il y a lieu, des taxes revenant aux stations de bord intermédiaires, de la taxe totale perçue pour les réponses payées, de la taxe de bord relative au collationnement, des taxes perçues pour les copies des télégrammes multiples et des taxes perçues pour la remise par poste ou par poste-avion.

[485] § 8. Les avis de service taxés et les réponses aux radiotélégrammes avec réponse payée sont traités, à tous égards, dans les comptes du service mobile comme les autres radiotélégrammes.

the land charges, the charges pertaining to the course on the general system of telecommunication channels—hereinafter called telegraph charges—the total charges collected for prepaid replies, land and telegraph charges collected for collating, charges collected for delivery by special messenger, mail or air mail, and charges collected for copies of multiple telegrams. For transmission over telegraph-communication channels, radiotelegrams shall be handled, from the standpoint of accounts, in accordance with the Telegraph Regulations.

[483] § 6. For radiotelegrams addressed to a country situated beyond the one to which the land station is subject, the telegraph charges to be settled in conformity with the above provisions shall be those resulting either from rate tables pertaining to the international telegraph correspondence, or from special arrangements concluded among administrations of bordering countries and published by these administrations, and not the charges which might be collected by applying either minimum charges per telegram, or methods for rounding off prices per telegram in any way whatever.

[484] § 7. For radiotelegrams addressed to on-board stations, the administration to which the office of origin is subject, shall be debited directly by that to which the land station is subject, with the land and on-board charges plus the land and on-board charges applicable for collating, but only in the case where the radiotelegram has been transmitted to the on-board station. However, in the case covered in § 4, article 9 of the Additional Regulations, the administration to which the office of origin is subject shall be debited with the land charge by the administration to which the land station is subject. The administration to which the office of origin is subject shall always be debited from country to country, if necessary, through the telegraph accounts, and by the administration to which the land station is subject, with the total charges appertaining to prepaid replies and with the telegraph charge pertaining to collating. Regarding telegraph charges, charges concerning delivery by mail or air mail, and charges for copies of multiple telegrams, the normal telegraph procedure shall be adopted, with respect to telegraph accounts. The administration to which the land station is subject shall, so far as the radiotelegram has been transmitted, credit the administration to which the on-board station of destination is subject: (a) with the on-board charge; (b) if necessary, with the charges accruing to intermediate on-board stations, with the total amount collected for prepaid replies, with the on-board charge paid for collating, with the charges collected for copies of multiple telegrams, and with the charges collected for mail or air mail delivery.

[485] § 8. In the mobile service accounts, paid service notices and replies to radiotelegrams with prepaid reply shall be handled in every respect like other radiotelegrams.

[486] § 9. Pour les radiotélégrammes échangés entre stations de bord

[487] a) par l'intermédiaire d'une seule station terrestre:

L'administration dont dépend la station terrestre débite celle dont dépend la station de bord d'origine: de la taxe terrestre, de la taxe télégraphique territoriale s'il y a lieu et de la taxe de la station de bord de destination. Elle crédite l'administration dont dépend la station de bord de destination de la taxe de bord revenant à cette station.

[488] b) par l'intermédiaire de deux stations terrestres:

L'administration dont dépend la première station terrestre débite celle dont dépend la station de bord d'origine de toutes les taxes perçues, déduction faite des taxes revenant à cette station de bord. L'administration dont dépend la seconde station terrestre débite directement l'administration dont dépend la première station terrestre des taxes afférentes à la transmission à la station mobile de destination, mais seulement dans le cas où cette transmission a été effectuée.

B. ECHANGE, VÉRIFICATION ET LIQUIDATION DES COMPTES.

[490] § 11. En principe, la liquidation des comptes afférents aux échanges entre stations de bord se fait directement entre les exploitants de ces stations, l'exploitant dont dépend la station d'origine étant débité par celui dont dépend la station de destination.

[491] § 12. En principe, les comptes mensuels servant de base à la comptabilité des radiotélégrammes, visés au présent article, sont établis, en utilisant autant que possible le relevé modèle qui fait l'objet de l'appendice 11, par station de bord et d'après le nombre mensuel de mots des radiotélégrammes de même origine pour une même destination, échangés avec une même station terrestre. Les comptes sont envoyés dans un délai de trois mois à partir du mois auquel ils se rapportent.

[492] § 13. La notification de l'acceptation d'un compte ou des observations y relatives a lieu dans un délai de six mois prenant cours à la date de son envoi.

[486] § 9. For radiotelegrams exchanged between on-board stations—

[487] (a) through the intermediary of a single land station:

The administration to which the land station is subject shall debit the one to which the on-board station of origin is subject: with the land charge, with the territorial telegraph charge, if any, and with the charge of the on-board station of destination. It shall credit the administration to which the on-board station of destination is subject with the on-board charge accruing to that station.

[488] (b) through the intermediary of two land stations:

The administration to which the first land station is subject shall debit the one to which the on-board station of origin is subject, with all the charges collected, deduction being made of the charges accruing to this on-board station. The administration to which the second land station is subject, shall debit directly the administration to which the first land station is subject, with the charges pertaining to transmission to the mobile station of destination, but only where this transmission has been made.

[489] § 10. For radiotelegrams which are routed, at the sender's request, through one or two intermediary on-board stations, each of these shall debit the on-board station of destination, in the case of a radiotelegram addressed to an on-board station, or the on-board station of origin when the radiotelegram originates with an on-board station, with the on-board charge accruing to it for transit.

B. EXCHANGE, VERIFICATION, AND SETTLEMENT OF ACCOUNTS

Exchange, verification, and settlement of accounts.

[490] § 11. In principle, settlement of accounts pertaining to exchanges between on-board stations shall be made directly among the agencies operating these stations, the operating agency to which the station of origin is subject being debited by that to which the station of destination is subject.

[491] § 12. In principle, monthly accounts, serving as basis for the accounting of radiotelegrams, dealt with in this article, shall be set up, using so far as possible the model form shown in appendix 11, for each on-board station separately and according to the number of words per month in the radiotelegrams of the same origin and for the same destination, exchanged with the same land station. Accounts shall be sent within 3 months after the month to which they refer.

[492] § 13. Notice of acceptance of an account, or comments concerning it, shall be sent within 6 months from the date on which the latter is rendered.

[493] § 14. The periods mentioned in the two preceding paragraphs may exceed the time stipulated when exceptional difficulties arise in the postal transport of documents between land stations and the administrations to which they belong. Nevertheless, the closing and settlement of accounts presented more than 18 months after the date of the filing of the radiotelegrams, to which the accounts relate, may be refused by the debtor administration.

[494] § 15. Sauf entente contraire, les dispositions suivantes sont applicables aux comptes radiotélégraphiques visés au présent article.

[495] § 16. (1) Les comptes mensuels sont admis sans revision quand la différence entre les comptes dressés par les deux administrations intéressées ne dépasse pas un pour cent (1%) du compte de l'administration créditrice, pourvu que le montant de ce compte ne soit pas supérieur à cent mille francs (100 000 fr.); lorsque le montant du compte dressé par l'administration créditrice est supérieur à cent mille francs (100 000 fr.), la différence ne doit pas dépasser une somme totale comprenant:

1° 1 % des premiers cent mille francs (100 000 fr.);

2° 0,5 % du surplus du montant du compte.

[496] Toutefois, si la différence ne dépasse pas vingt-cinq francs (25 fr.), le décompte devra être accepté.

[497] (2) Une revision commencée est arrêtée dès que, à la suite d'échanges d'observations entre les deux administrations intéressées, la différence a été ramenée à une valeur ne dépassant pas le maximum fixé par le premier alinéa de ce paragraphe.

[498] § 17. (1) Immédiatement après l'acceptation des comptes afférents au dernier mois d'un trimestre, un compte trimestriel, faisant ressortir le solde pour l'ensemble des trois mois du trimestre, est, sauf arrangement contraire entre les deux administrations intéressées, dressé par l'administration créditrice et transmis en deux exemplaires à l'administration débitrice qui, après vérification, renvoie l'un des deux exemplaires revêtu de son acceptation.

[499] (2) A défaut d'acceptation de l'un ou l'autre des comptes mensuels d'un même trimestre avant l'expiration du 6e mois qui suit le trimestre auquel ces comptes se rapportent, le compte trimestriel peut, néanmoins, être dressé par l'administration créditrice en vue d'une liquidation provisoire qui devient obligatoire pour l'administration débitrice dans les conditions fixées par le § 18 ci-après. Les rectifications reconnues ultérieurement nécessaires sont comprises dans une liquidation trimestrielle subséquente.

[500] § 18. Le compte trimestriel doit être vérifié et le montant doit en être payé dans un délai de six semaines à dater du jour où l'administration débitrice l'a reçu. Passé ce délai, les sommes dues à une administration par une autre sont productives d'intérêts à raison de 6 % par an, à dater du lendemain du jour d'expiration dudit délai.

[501] § 19. (1) Sauf entente contraire, le solde du compte trimestriel est payé par l'administration débitrice à l'administration créditrice, en or ou au moyen de chèques ou de traites payables à vue et établis pour un montant équivalent à la valeur du solde exprimé en francs-or.

[494] § 15. In the absence of contrary arrangement, the following provisions shall be applicable to radiotelegraph accounts considered in the present article.

[495] § 16. (1) Monthly accounts shall be accepted without revision when the difference between the accounts prepared by the two administrations concerned does not exceed one percent (1%) of the account of the creditor administration, provided that the amount of this account be not greater than one hundred thousand francs (100,000 fr.); when the amount of the account drawn up by the creditor administration is greater than a hundred thousand francs (100,000 fr.), the difference must not exceed a total sum comprising:

1st. 1% of the first hundred thousand francs (100,000 fr.);
2d. 0.5% of the remainder of the amount of the account.

[496] However, if the difference does not exceed twenty-five francs (25 fr.), the discrepancy must be disregarded.

[497] (2) A revision once begun shall cease as soon as, following an exchange of comments between the two administrations concerned, the difference has been reduced to an amount not exceeding the maximum fixed by the first subparagraph of this paragraph.

[498] § 17. (1) Immediately after the acceptance of the accounts appertaining to the last month of a quarter, a quarterly account, setting forth the balance for the whole of the 3 months of the quarter, shall, in the absence of a contrary arrangement between the two administrations concerned, be prepared by the creditor administration and forwarded in duplicate to the debtor administration, which, after checking it, shall return one of the two copies endorsed with its acceptance.

[499] (2) Failing acceptance of one or the other of the monthly accounts of the same quarter before the expiration of the sixth month following the quarter to which the accounts refer, the quarterly account may, nevertheless, be prepared by the creditor administration for a provisional settlement, which shall become obligatory for the debtor administration in the conditions set forth in § 18 below. Corrections subsequently found to be necessary shall be included in a subsequent quarterly settlement.

[500] § 18. The quarterly account must be verified and the amount thereof must be paid within 6 weeks from the date on which the debtor administration has received it. After this period, the sums due to one administration by another shall bear interest at the rate of 6 percent per annum, dating from the day following expiration of the said period of grace.

[501] § 19. (1) In the absence of a different agreement, the balance of the quarterly account shall be paid by the debtor administration to the creditor administration, in gold or by means of checks or sight drafts drawn up for an amount equivalent to the amount of the balance expressed in gold francs.

[502] (2) En cas de paiement au moyen de chèques ou de traites, ces titres sont établis en monnaie d'un pays où la banque centrale d'émission ou une autre institution officielle d'émission achète et vend de l'or ou des devises-or contre la monnaie nationale à des taux fixes déterminés par la loi ou en vertu d'un arrangement avec le gouvernement. Si les monnaies de plusieurs pays répondent à ces conditions, il appartient à l'administration créditrice de désigner la monnaie qui lui convient. La conversion est faite au pair des monnaies d'or.

[503] (3) Dans le cas où la monnaie d'un pays créditeur ne répond pas aux conditions prévues ci-avant sous (2), et si les deux pays se sont mis d'accord à ce sujet, les chèques ou traites peuvent aussi être exprimés en monnaie du pays créditeur. Dans ce cas, le solde est converti au pair des monnaies d'or en monnaie d'un pays répondant aux conditions susvisées. Le résultat obtenu est ensuite converti dans la monnaie du pays débiteur, et de celle-ci dans la monnaie du pays créditeur, au cours de la bourse de la capitale ou d'une place commerciale du pays débiteur au jour de la remise de l'ordre d'achat du chèque ou de la traite.

[507] § 1. Les dispositions suivantes ne concernent que le service des stations radiotéléphoniques mobiles dont la puissance d'onde porteuse dans l'antenne ne dépasse pas 100 watts (sauf accords régionaux prévus à l'article 10, § 7, (4) du présent Règlement) à l'intérieur de la bande de 1 530 à 2 000 kc/s (196,1 à 150 m).

[508] § 2. Le service d'une telle station doit être assuré par un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat de radiotéléphoniste (article 10, § 7 du présent Règlement).

*) Le cas échéant, ces dispositions peuvent être appliquées aux stations d'aéronef.

[502] (2) In case of payment by means of checks or drafts, these papers shall be drawn up in the currency of a country where the central issuing bank or another official issuing institution buys and sells gold or gold currency for the national currency at fixed rates determined by law or by virtue of an agreement with the government. If the currencies of several countries answer these conditions, it shall devolve upon the creditor administration to indicate the currency which it desires. Conversion shall be made at par of gold currency.

[503] (3) In the case where the currency of a creditor country does not comply with the conditions set forth above under (2), and if the two countries have an agreement on the subject, the checks or drafts may also be drawn up in the currency of the creditor country. In this case, the balance shall be converted at par of gold currency into the currency of a country complying with the above conditions. The resulting values shall then be converted into the currency of the debtor country, and from that into the currency of the creditor country, at the rate of exchange of the capital or of a place of commerce of the debtor country on the day of delivery of the purchasing order for the check or draft.

[504] § 20. Remittance charges shall be borne by the debtor administration.

[505] § 21. The originals of radiotelegrams and statements of accounts relating thereto shall be preserved until the settlement of the accounts to which they relate and in any case for at least 10 months, counting from the month following the filing of the radiotelegram, with all necessary precautions to maintain secrecy.

Service of Low-power Mobile Radiotelephone Stations [1]

Mobile radiotelephone station.

Lower power.

[507] § 1. The following provisions affect only the service of mobile radiotelephone stations, in which the carrier-wave power in the antenna does not exceed 100 watts [except by regional agreements provided for in art. 10, § 7 (4) of the present Regulations] within the band 1,530 to 2,000 kc (196.1 to 150 m).

Ante, p. 2489.

[508] § 2. The service of such a station must be performed by an operator holding a radiotelephone operator's certificate. (Art. 10, § 7 of the present Regulations).

Ante, p. 2487.

[1] When the occasion arises, these provisions may be applied to aircraft stations.

[509] § 3. (1) Pour appeler les stations côtières, l'indicatif d'appel ou le nom géographique du lieu, tel qu'il figure dans la nomenclature des stations côtières et de navire ou dans la nomenclature des stations effectuant des services spéciaux, peut être employé comme indicatif d'appel radiotéléphonique.

[510] (2) Pour appeler les stations de navire, on peut employer comme indicatif d'appel radiotéléphonique soit le nom du navire, soit un indicatif d'appel établi conformément à l'article 14 du présent Règlement.

[511] (3) Dans les cas où le nom et la nationalité du navire ne peuvent être établis avec certitude, l'indicatif d'appel ou le nom sera précédé du nom du propriétaire.

[512] § 4. (1) L'onde de 1 650 kc/s (182 m) est une onde d'appel pour le service mobile de radiotéléphonie. Elle peut être utilisée dans les conditions visées à l'article 7, § 7 [tableau, notes [11]) et [13])]. Cette disposition n'exclut pas l'emploi des autres fréquences qui peuvent être fixées par les administrations pour le service radiotéléphonique avec des stations côtières ou des stations de navire désignées par elles.

[513] (2) Les stations côtières et de navire qui utilisent l'onde d'appel de 1 650 kc/s (182 m) devront disposer d'au moins une autre onde dans la bande de 1 530 à 2 000 kc/s (196,1 à 150 m). Cette deuxième onde sera imprimée en caractère gras dans la nomenclature des stations pour indiquer qu'elle est l'onde normale de travail de la station. Les ondes de travail de ces stations devront être choisies de manière à éviter les brouillages avec les autres stations de radiocommunication.

[514] (3) En dehors de leur onde normale de travail, les stations côtières et de navire peuvent employer, dans la bande mentionnée, des ondes supplémentaires. Ces ondes sont indiquées dans la nomenclature en caractères ordinaires.

[515] § 5. (1) En cas de détresse, s'il n'est pas possible d'utiliser pour la radiotéléphonie l'onde générale de détresse de 500 kc/s (600 m), l'onde de 1 650 kc/s (182 m) peut être employée pour l'appel et le trafic de détresse. La station peut également employer toute autre onde pour attirer l'attention, signaler sa situation et obtenir du secours.

[516] (2) Le signal de détresse radiotéléphonique consiste dans l'expression parlée MAYDAY (correspondant à la prononciation française de l'expression «m'aider»).

[517] § 6. Dans la mesure où cela sera pratique et raisonnable, on appliquera au service radiotéléphonique mobile les dispositions concernant le service radiotélégraphique et, en particulier, les dispositions relatives aux brouillages, aux services de détresse, d'urgence, de sécurité, à la clôture du service et aux appels (articles 16, 20, 22, 23 et 18 du présent Règlement).

[518] § 7. Dans le service des stations radiotéléphoniques mobiles à faible puissance, la procédure indiquée dans l'appendice 12 du présent Règlement peut être appliquée.

[509] § 3. (1) In order to call coast stations, the call signal or the geographical name of the place, as it appears in the nomenclature of coast and ship stations, or in the nomenclature of stations operating special services, may be used as a radiotelephone call signal.

[510] (2) In order to call ship stations, either the name of the ship or a call signal conforming to the provisions of article 14 of the present Regulations may be used as a radiotelephone call signal. Ante, p. 2493.

[511] (3) In case the name and the nationality of the ship cannot be ascertained beyond doubt, the call signal or the name shall be preceded by the name of the owner.

[512] § 4. (1) The wave of 1,650 kc (182 m) is a calling-wave for the radiotelephone mobile service. It may be used under the conditions stipulated in article 7, § 7 [table, notes (11) and (13)]. This rule shall not preclude the use of other frequencies which may be determined by the administrations for the radiotelephone service with coast or ship stations designated by them. Ante, p. 2459.

[513] (2) Coast and ship stations using the 1,650-kc (182-m) calling-wave must have available at least one other wave in the band 1,530 to 2,000 kc (196.1 to 150 m). This second wave shall be printed in boldface type in the nomenclature of the stations, to indicate that it is the normal working-wave of the station. The working-waves of these stations must be selected in such a manner as to avoid interference with the other radio stations.

[514] (3) In addition to the normal working-wave, coast and ship stations may use additional waves in the band mentioned. These waves shall be indicated in the nomenclature in ordinary type.

[515] § 5. (1) In case of distress, if it is not possible to use the general distress wave of 500 kc (600 m) for radiotelephony, the wave of 1,650 kc (182 m) may be used for distress call and traffic. The station may also use any other wave in order to attract attention, signal its position, and obtain help.

[516] (2) The radiotelephone distress signal shall consist of the spoken expression MAYDAY (corresponding to the French pronunciation of the expression "m'aider").

[517] § 6. The provisions concerning radiotelegraph service and, in particular, the provisions referring to interference, to the distress, urgent, and safety services, to the closing of services, and to calling (arts. 16, 20, 22, 23, and 18 of the present Regulations) shall, so far as it is practicable and reasonable, be applicable to the mobile radiotelephone service.

[518] § 7. The procedure given in appendix 12 to the present Regulations may be applied in the service of low-power mobile radiotelephone stations.

A. MÉTÉOROLOGIE.

[519] § 1. Les messages météorologiques comportent:

[520] a) des messages destinés aux services de météorologie chargés officiellement de la prévision du temps et de la protection des navigations maritime et aérienne; [521] b) des messages de ces services météorologiques destinés spécialement:

1° aux stations mobiles du service maritime;
2° à la protection du service aérien;
3° au public.

[522] Les renseignements contenus dans ces messages peuvent être :

1° des observations à heure fixe;
2° des avis de phénomènes dangereux;
3° des prévisions et avertissements;
4° des exposés de la situation météorologique générale.

[523] § 2. (1) Les différents services météorologiques nationaux s'entendent pour l'établissement de programmes communs d'émissions de manière à utiliser les émetteurs les mieux placés, au bénéfice de régions étendues que ceux-ci peuvent desservir.

[524] (2) Les observations météorologiques contenues dans les catégories a) et b) 1° et 2° ci-avant (§ 1) sont rédigées, en principe, dans un code météorologique international, qu'elles soient transmises par des stations mobiles ou qu'elles leur soient destinées.

[525] § 3. Les messages d'observation destinés à un service météorologique officiel profitent des facilités résultant de l'attribution d'ondes exclusives à la météorologie synoptique et à la météorologie aéronautique, conformément aux accords régionaux établis par les services intéressés pour l'emploi de ces ondes.

[526] § 4. (1) Les messages météorologiques destinés spécialement à l'ensemble des stations mobiles du service maritime sont émis, en principe, d'après un horaire déterminé et, autant que possible, aux heures où leur réception peut se faire par celles de ces stations n'ayant qu'un seul opérateur, la vitesse de transmission étant choisie de manière que la lecture des signaux soit possible à un opérateur ne possédant que le certificat de 2e classe.

Special Services

Special services.

A. METEOROLOGY

Meteorology.

[519] § 1. Meteorological messages shall include:

[520] (a) messages intended for meteorological services officially charged with making weather forecasts and with the protection of maritime and aerial navigation;

[521] (b) messages of these meteorological services intend especially:

1st, for mobile stations of the maritime service;
2d, for the protection of the aeronautical service;
3d, for the public.

[522] The information contained in these messages may be:

(1) observations at scheduled hours;
(2) notices of dangerous phenomena;
(3) forecasts and warnings;
(4) statements on the general meteorological situation.

[523] § 2. (1) The various national meteorological services shall arrange for the establishment of common transmission programs in such a way as to use the transmitters best located for such extensive areas as the latter can serve.

[524] (2) The meteorological observations contained in the classes (a) and (b), 1st and 2d above (§ 1) shall, in principle, be written in an international meteorological code, whether they are transmitted by mobile stations or intended for them.

[525] § 3. For weather-observation messages intended for an official meteorological service, advantage shall be taken of the facilities resulting from the assignment of exclusive waves to synoptic meteorology and to aeronautical meteorology, in conformity with the regional agreements established by the services concerned for the use of these waves.

[526] § 4. (1) Meteorological messages intended especially for all mobile stations of the maritime service shall, in principle, be transmitted in accordance with a definite time schedule, and so far as possible, at hours when they may be received by those of the stations mentioned which have but one operator, the transmission speed being selected in such a way that the reading of the signals will be possible for an operator having only a second-class certificate.

[527] (2) During transmissions "to all" of meteorological messages intended for stations of the mobile service, all stations of this service whose transmissions might interfere with the reception of the messages in question, must observe silence, in order to make it possible for all the stations desiring to receive the said messages

[528] (3) Les messages d'avertissements météorologiques sont transmis immédiatement et doivent être répétés après la fin de la première période de silence qui se présente (voir article 19, § 2). Ces messages doivent être transmis sur les ondes attribuées au service mobile maritime. Leur transmission est précédée du signal de sécurité.

[529] (4) En plus des services réguliers d'information, prévus dans les alinéas précédents, les administrations prennent les mesures nécessaires pour que certaines stations soient chargées de communiquer, sur demande, des messages météorologiques aux stations du service mobile.

[532] (2) Toute station mobile peut écouter, pour son propre usage, les observations météorologiques émises par d'autres stations mobiles, même quand elles sont adressées à un service météorologique national. Les stations du service mobile qui transmettent des observations météorologiques, adressées à un service météorologique national, ne sont pas tenues de répéter ces observations; mais l'échange, sur demande, des renseignements relatifs à l'état du temps est autorisé entre stations mobiles.

B. SIGNAUX HORAIRES. AVIS AUX NAVIGATEURS.

[533] § 6. Les prescriptions du § 4 ci-avant sont applicables aux signaux horaires et aux avis aux navigateurs, à l'exception, en ce qui concerne les signaux horaires, des prescriptions du § 4, (3) du titre A.

[535] § 8. Lorsqu'elles le jugent utile, et à condition que l'expéditeur y consente, les administrations peuvent autoriser leurs stations terrestres à communiquer des renseignements concernant les avaries et sinistres maritimes ou présentant un intérêt général pour la navigation, aux agences d'information maritime, agréées par elles et suivant des conditions fixées par elles-mêmes.

[528] (3) Meteorological warning messages shall be transmitted immediately and must be repeated at the end of the first period of silence ensuing (see art. 19, § 2). These messages must be sent on the waves allocated to the maritime mobile service. Their transmission shall be preceded by the safety signal.

Ante, p. 2517.

[529] (4) In addition to the regular information services provided for in the preceding subparagraphs, the administrations shall take the necessary steps so that, upon request, certain stations will be charged with communicating meteorological messages to stations of the mobile service.

[530] (5) The preceding rules shall be applicable to the aeronautical service so far as they do not conflict with more definite regional arrangements insuring at least equivalent protection to aerial navigation.

[531] § 5. (1) Messages emanating from mobile stations and containing information relative to the presence of tropical cyclones must be transmitted in as short a time as possible to the other neighboring mobile stations and to the competent authorities at the first point on the coast with which contact may be established. Their transmission shall be preceded by the safety signal.

[532] (2) Any mobile station may, for its own use, listen to the meteorological observations transmitted by other mobile stations even when they are addressed to a national meteorological service. The stations of the mobile service which transmit meteorological observations addressed to a national meteorological service shall not be required to repeat these observations; but the exchange, upon request, of information relating to weather conditions shall be authorized between mobile stations.

B. TIME SIGNALS—NOTICES TO NAVIGATORS

Time signals, notices to navigators, etc.

[533] § 6. The provisions of § 4 above shall be applicable to time signals and to notices to navigators, with the exception, as regards time signals, of the provisions contained in § 4 (3) of title A.

[534] § 7. Messages containing information relative to the presence of dangerous ice, dangerous wrecks, or of any other imminent danger to navigation, must be transmitted with as little delay as possible to the other neighboring mobile stations and to the competent authorities at the first point of the coast with which contact may be established. These transmissions must be preceded by the safety signal.

[535] § 8. When they deem it necessary, and on condition that the sender consents, the administrations may authorize their land stations to communicate to such maritime information agencies as they choose, and under conditions laid down by themselves, information concerning averages and disasters at sea or information of a general interest to navigation.

C. SERVICES DES STATIONS RADIOGONIOMÉTRIQUES.

[536] § 9. Les administrations sous l'autorité desquelles sont placées les stations radiogoniométriques n'acceptent aucune responsabilité quant aux conséquences d'un relèvement inexact.

[537] § 10. Ces administrations notifient, pour être insérées dans la nomenclature des stations effectuant des services spéciaux, les caractéristiques de chaque station radiogoniométrique en indiquant, pour chacune d'elles, les secteurs dans lesquels les relèvements sont normalement sûrs. Tout changement en ce qui concerne ces renseignements doit être publié sans retard; si le changement est d'une nature permanente, il doit être communiqué au Bureau de l'Union.

[538] § 11. (1) L'onde normale de radiogoniométrie est l'onde de 375 kc/s (800 m). Toutes les stations radiogoniométriques côtières doivent, en principe, pouvoir l'utiliser [1]). Elles doivent, en outre, être à même de prendre des relèvements d'émissions faites sur 500 kc/s (600 m), en particulier pour relever les signaux de détresse, d'alarme et d'urgence.

[539] (2) Une station d'aéronef désirant avoir un relèvement doit, pour le demander, appeler sur l'onde de 333 kc/s (900 m) ou sur une onde affectée à la route aérienne sur laquelle vole l'aéronef. Dans tous les cas où une station d'aéronef, étant à proximité de stations côtières, s'adresse à celles-ci pour obtenir un relèvement, elle doit faire usage de la fréquence de veille de ces stations côtières.

[540] § 12. La procédure à suivre dans le service radiogoniométrique est donnée à l'appendice 13.

D. SERVICE DES RADIOPHARES.

[541] § 13. (1) Lorsqu'une administration juge utile, dans l'intérêt de la navigation maritime et aérienne, d'organiser un service de radiophares, elle peut employer dans ce but:

[542] a) des radiophares proprement dits, établis sur terre ferme ou sur des navires amarrés de façon permanente; ces radiophares sont à émission circulaire ou à émission directionnelle; [543] b) des stations fixes, des stations côtières ou des stations aéronautiques, désignées pour fonctionner aussi comme radiophares à la demande des stations mobiles.

[544] (2) Les radiophares proprement dits emploient les ondes suivantes:

[1]) Il est reconnu que certaines stations existantes ne sont pas à même de pouvoir utiliser cette onde, mais toute nouvelle station devra pouvoir prendre des relèvements sur 375 kc/s (800 m) et sur 500 kc/s (600 m).

C. SERVICE OF RADIO DIRECTION-FINDING STATIONS

Radio direction-finding stations.

[536] § 9. The administrations to which radio direction-finding stations are subject accept no responsibility for the consequences of an inexact bearing.

[537] § 10. These administrations shall notify, for insertion in the nomenclature of stations carrying on special services, the characteristics of each radio direction-finding station, indicating for each one the sectors in which bearings are normally safe. Any change concerning this information must be published without delay; if the change is of a permanent nature, it must be communicated to the Bureau of the Union.

[538] § 11. (1) The normal radio direction-finding wave shall be the wave of 375 kc (800 m). In principle, all coastal radio direction-finding stations must be able to use it.[1] In addition, they must be able to take bearings from emissions made on 500 kc (600 m), particularly to locate distress, alarm, and urgent signals.

[539] (2) An aircraft station desiring to obtain its bearing must, in order to request same, call on the 333-kc (900-m) wave or on a wave assigned to the air route over which it is flying. Where an aircraft station, while in the vicinity of coast stations, calls them in order to obtain a bearing, it must use the watch frequency of these coast stations.

Procedure.
Post, p. 2611.

[540] § 12. The procedure to be followed in the radio direction-finding service is given in appendix 13.

D. RADIOBEACON SERVICE

Radiobeacon service.

[541] § 13. (1) When an administration deems it advisable, in the interests of maritime and aerial navigation, to organize a radiobeacon service, it may use for this purpose:

[542] (a) radiobeacons proper, established on land or on vessels permanently moored; the emissions of these radiobeacons may be either nondirectional or directional;

[543] (b) fixed stations, coast stations, or aeronautical stations designated to function also as radiobeacons, upon request of mobile stations.

[544] (2) Radiobeacons proper shall use the following waves:

[545] (a) In the European region, for the maritime radiobeacons, the waves of the band 290 to 320 kc (1,034 to 938 m) and, for the aeronautical radiobeacons the waves of the band 350 to 365 kc (857 to 822 m), as well as certain waves of the band 255 to 290 kc (1,176 to 1,034 m), selected by international aeronautical organizations.

[546] b) Dans les autres régions, pour les radiophares maritimes, les ondes de la bande de 285 à 315 kc/s (1 053 à 952 m) et, pour les radiophares aériens, des ondes choisies dans la bande de 194 à 365 kc/s (1 546 à 822 m).

[547] c) En outre, en Europe, Afrique, Asie, les radiophares directionnels (maritimes et aériens) peuvent employer les ondes des bandes de 1 500 à 1 630 kc/s (200 à 184 m) et de 1 670 à 3 500 kc/s (179,6 à 85,71 m) aux conditions fixées par le § 20 de l'article 7.

[548] d) L'emploi des ondes du type B est interdit aux radiophares proprement dits.

[549] (3) Les autres stations notifiées comme radiophares utilisent leur fréquence normale et leur type normal d'émission.

[550] § 14. Les signaux émis par les radiophares doivent permettre des repérages exacts et précis; ils doivent être choisis de manière à éviter tout doute lorsqu'il s'agit de distinguer entre eux deux ou plusieurs radiophares.

[551] § 15. Les administrations qui ont organisé un service de radiophares n'acceptent aucune responsabilité quant aux conséquences de relèvements inexacts obtenus au moyen des radiophares de ce service.

[553] (2) Toute modification ou toute irrégularité de fonctionnement survenant dans le service des radiophares doit être publiée sans délai; si la modification ou l'irrégularité de fonctionnement est d'une nature permanente, elle doit être notifiée au Bureau de l'Union.

Article 31.

Comité consultatif international des radiocommunications (C.C.I.R.).

[554] § 1. Un comité consultatif international des radiocommunications (C.C.I.R.) est chargé d'étudier les questions radioélectriques techniques et celles dont la solution dépend principalement de considérations d'ordre technique et qui lui sont soumises par les administrations et les compagnies d'exploitation radioélectrique.

[555] § 2. (1) Il est formé d'experts des administrations et des compagnies ou groupes de compagnies d'exploitation radioélectrique reconnues par leurs gouvernements respectifs, qui déclarent vouloir participer à ses travaux et qui s'engagent à contribuer, par parts égales, aux frais communs de ses réunions. La déclaration est adressée à l'administration du pays où a été tenue la dernière conférence administrative.

[556] (2) Sont aussi admis des organismes internationaux s'intéressant aux études radioélectriques qui sont désignés par la dernière conférence de plénipotentiaires ou administrative, et qui s'engagent à contribuer aux frais des réunions comme il est indiqué à l'alinéa précédent.

[546] (b) In the other regions, for the maritime radiobeacons, the waves of the band 285 to 315 kc (1,053 to 952 m) and, for the aeronautical radiobeacons, the waves taken from the band 194 to 365 kc (1,546 to 822 m).

[547] (c) In addition, in Europe, Africa, Asia, the directional radiobeacons (maritime and aeronautical) may use the waves of the bands 1,500 to 1,630 kc (200 to 184 m) and 1,670 to 3,500 kc (179.6 to 85.71 m) under the conditions set forth in § 20 of article 7.

[548] (d) The use of type-B waves shall be prohibited for radiobeacons proper.

[549] (3) Other stations notified as radiobeacons shall use their normal frequency and their normal type of emission.

[550] § 14. Signals sent by radiobeacons must permit of exact and accurate observations; they must be chosen in such a way as to eliminate all doubt when the question arises of distinguishing among them two or more radiobeacons.

[551] § 15. The administrations which have organized a radiobeacon service accept no responsibility for the consequences of inexact bearings obtained by means of the radiobeacons of that service.

[552] § 16. (1) The administrations shall notify, for insertion in the nomenclature of stations operating special services, the characteristics of each radiobeacon proper, and of each station designated to operate as a radiobeacon, including, if necessary, indications of the sectors in which bearings are normally reliable.

[553] (2) Any modification or irregularity of operation occurring in the radiobeacon service must be published without delay; if the modification or irregularity of operation is of a permanent nature, it must be reported to the Bureau of the Union.

International Radio Consulting Committee (C.C.I.R.)

International Radio Consulting Committee.

[554] § 1. An International Radio Consulting Committee (C.C.I.R.) shall be charged with the study of technical radio questions and those of which the solution depends principally upon considerations of a technical character, which shall be submitted to it by the administrations and radio operating companies.

[555] § 2. (1) It shall be formed of experts of the administrations and radio operating companies or groups of radio operating companies recognized by their respective governments, which state their desire to participate in its work and undertake to contribute, in equal shares, to the common expenses of its meetings. The statement shall be addressed to the administration of the country in which the last administrative conference was held.

[556] (2) International organizations interested in radio studies, who shall have been designated by the last plenipotentiary or administrative conference, and who undertake to contribute to the expenses of the meetings, as indicated in the preceding subparagraph, shall also be admitted.

[557] (3) Les dépenses personnelles des experts de chaque administration, compagnie, groupe de compagnies ou organisme international sont supportées par ceux-ci.

[558] § 3. En principe, les réunions du C.C.I.R. ont lieu de cinq en cinq ans. Cependant, une réunion fixée peut être avancée ou ajournée par l'administration qui l'a convoquée, sur demande de dix administrations participantes, si le nombre et la nature des questions á examiner le justifient.

[559] § 4. (1) Les langues et le mode de votation employés dans les assemblées plénières, commissions et sous-commissions, sont ceux adoptés par la dernière conférence de plénipotentiaires ou administrative.

[560] (2) Toutefois, lorsqu'un pays n est pas représenté par une administration, les experts des compagnies d'exploitation reconnues de ce pays disposent, pour leur ensemble et quel que soit leur nombre, d'une seule voix délibérative.

[561] § 5. Le directeur du Bureau de l'Union ou son représentant et les représentants des autres comités consultatifs internationaux, C.C.I.F. et C.C.I.T., ont le droit de participer, avec voix consultative, aux réunions du C.C.I.R.

[562] § 6. L'organisation intérieure du C.C.I.R. est régie par les dispositions de l'appendice 14 au présent Règlement.

APPENDICE 1.

Tableau des tolérances de fréquence et des instabilités.

(Voir l'article 6.)

1° La tolérance de fréquence est le maximum de l'écart admissible entre la fréquence assignée à une station et la fréquence réelle d'émission.

2° Cet écart résulte de la combinaison de trois erreurs:

a) l'erreur du radiofréquencemètre ou de l'indicateur de fréquence employé;

b) l'erreur faite lors du réglage du poste;

c) les variations lentes de la fréquence de l'émetteur.

3° Dans la tolérance de fréquence, il n'est pas tenu compte de la modulation.

4° L'instabilité de fréquence est le maximum de l'écart admissible résultant de la seule erreur visée au c) ci-avant.

TABLEAU DES TOLÉRANCES DE FRÉQUENCE ET DES INSTABILITÉS.

c) Stations mobiles utilisant une onde quelconque à l'intérieur de la bande			0,5 %	0,5 %

[1]) Il est reconnu qu'il existe dans ce service un grand nombre d'émetteurs à étincelles et de simples émetteurs auto-oscillateurs qui ne sont pas à même de satisfaire à cette condition.

APPENDIX 1

Appendix 1.

Table of Frequency Tolerances and of Instabilities

Frequency tolerances. Ante, p. 2453.

(See article 6)

1. The frequency tolerance is the maximum permissible separation between the frequency assigned to a station and the actual frequency of emission.

2. This separation results from the combination of three errors:
   (a) the error of the radio frequency meter or of the frequency indicator used;
   (b) the error made when the set is adjusted;
   (c) the slow variations of the transmitter frequency.

3. In the frequency tolerance, modulation is not to be considered.

4. The instability of the frequency is the maximum permissible separation resulting from the error mentioned in the above (c) only.

[1] It is recognized that a great number of spark transmitters and simple self-oscillator transmitters exist in this service which are not able to meet these requirements.

[1]) Les tolérances admissibles n'étant pas données, les administrations fixeront des tolérances aussi réduites que faire se pourra.

Note. Les administrations s'efforceront de profiter des progrès de la technique pour réduire progressivement les tolérances de fréquence et les limites d'instabilité.

(f) Low-power fixed and land stations (up to 250 watts-antenna) operating in the bands shared by fixed and mobile services	(2)	(2)	0.1%	0.05%

[2] The permissible tolerances not being given, the administrations shall fix tolerances as low as possible.

NOTE.—The administrations shall endeavor to take advantage of technical progress to reduce gradually the frequency tolerances and the limits of instability.

APPENDICE 2.

Tableau des largeurs de bande de fréquences occupées par les émissions.

(Voir l'article 6.)

Les bandes de fréquences effectivement utilisées, en principe, par les différents types de transmission dans l'état actuel de la technique sont indiquées ci-après.

Type de transmission	Largeur de la bande Cycles par seconde (y compris les deux bandes latérales)
Télégraphie, vitesse de 100 mots par minute, code Morse (40 points par seconde) sur onde entretenue non modulée	de 80 à 240 (correspondant à la fréquence fondamentale de manipulation et à son troisième harmonique).
sur onde entretenue modulée ...	même valeur que ci-avant, plus deux fois la fréquence de modulation.
Transmission d'images fixes	environ le rapport du nombre d'éléments [1]) d'images à transmettre au nombre de secondes nécessaires à la transmission. Exemple: 100 000: 100=1 000.
Télévision	environ le produit du nombre d'éléments [1]) d'une image par le nombre d'images transmises par seconde. Exemple: 10 000×20=200 000.
Radiotéléphonie commerciale ...	environ 6 000.
Radiotéléphonie de haute qualité, comme par exemple en radiodiffusion	environ 10 000 à 20 000.

APPENDIX 2

Appendix 2.

Table of Frequency-band Widths Occupied by the Emissions

Frequency-band widths.

(See article 6)

Ante, p. 2453.

Table.

Generally, the frequency bands actually used by the different types of transmission at the present state of the art are indicated below:

Type of transmission	Width of the band in cycles per second (including both sidebands)
Telegraphy, speed of 100 words per minute, Morse code (40 dots per second) on unmodulated continuous waves	From 80 to 240 (corresponding to the fundamental keying frequency and to its third harmonic).
on modulated continuous waves	Same figure as above, plus twice the modulation frequency.
Transmission of still pictures	Approximately the ratio between the number of picture elements [1] to be transmitted and the number of seconds necessary for the transmission. Example: 100,000:100=1,000.
Television	Approximately the product of the number of picture elements [1] in a single picture multiplied by the number of pictures transmitted per second. Example: 10,000×20=200,000.
Commercial radiotelephony	About 6,000.
High-quality radiotelephony, as, for instance, in broadcasting	About 10,000 to 20,000.

[1] A cycle is composed of two elements, one black and one white; the modulation frequency therefore is one half of the number of elements transmitted per second.

Partie C. Etat signalétique des stations de navire.

Les renseignements relatifs à ces stations sont publiés en deux ou trois lignes dans l'ordre suivant:

1re ligne.

Indicatif d'appel au-dessous duquel figurera la taxe du navire, suivie d'un renvoi pour désigner l'administration ou l'exploitation privée à laquelle les comptes de taxe doivent être adressés. En cas de changement de l'adresse de l'exploitant, un second renvoi, après la taxe, donnera la nouvelle adresse et la date à partir de laquelle le changement entrera en vigueur; nom du navire rangé à l'ordre alphabétique sans considération de nationalité, suivi de l'indicatif d'appel en cas d'homonymie; dans ce cas, le nom et l'indicatif sont séparés par une barre de fraction; ensuite, des notations ⁂, △, etc. Lorsque deux ou plusieurs stations de navire de même nationalité portent le même nom, ainsi que dans les cas où les comptes de taxes doivent être adressés directement au propriétaire du navire, il est fait, dans un renvoi, mention du nom de la compagnie de navigation ou de l'armateur auquel appartient le navire; puissance dans l'antenne en kilowatts;

mètres-ampères, entre parenthèses.

Pour établir le produit «mètres-ampères», on multiplie la hauteur réelle de l'antenne en mètres à partir de la ligne de charge par le courant efficace en ampères à la base de l'antenne; heures d'ouverture sous forme de notation de service ou de renvoi. Les heures indiquées autrement que sous forme de notation de service doivent être indiquées en temps moyen de Greenwich.

nature du service;

2e ligne.

(pour la taxe, voir 1re ligne).

fréquences (longueurs d'onde) d'émission pour lesquelles les réglages sont faits, l'onde normale de travail étant imprimée en caractères gras.

3e ligne.

Renvois et observations succincts.

Part C. Descriptive List of Ship Stations

The information relating to these stations is published in two or three lines in the following order:

First line

Call signal below which will appear the ship charge, followed by a reference to indicate the administration or private operating enterprise to which the accounts for charges must be addressed. In case of a change of address of the operating agency, a second reference after the charge will give the new address and the date on which the change will become effective.

Name of the ship, placed in alphabetical order without regard to nationality followed by the call signal in case of similarity of names; in this case, the name and call signal shall be separated by a fraction bar; next, the symbols ⁂, △, etc. When two or more ship stations of the same nationality have the same name, as well as in cases where statements of charges must be sent directly to the owner of the ship, mention shall be made, in a footnote, of the name of the shipping company or of the shipowner to which the ship belongs.

Power in the antenna in kilowatts.

Meter amperes, in parentheses.

In order to obtain the "meter-ampere" product, the real height of the antenna in meters, measured from the transmission line, is multiplied by the effective current in amperes at the base of the antenna.

Nature of the service.

Working hours shown as a service indication or note.

Hours shown otherwise than in the form of service indications must be given in Greenwich mean time.

Second line

(For charges, see first line)

Country to which the station is subject (abbreviated indication);

Types and frequencies (wavelengths) of emission for which adjustments are made, the normal working-wave being printed in boldface type.

Third line

LISTE DES FRÉQUENCES.

I. Généralités.

a) En ce qui concerne les stations fixes, terrestres et de radiodiffusion, les administrations notifient au Bureau de l'Union un état signalétique complet pour chaque fréquence attribuée à ces stations (voir l'article 7, § 5).

b) En ce qui concerne les stations mobiles, il n'est pas fourni d'état signalétique complet. On indique seulement pour chaque pays, séparément pour chaque catégorie de stations (de navire, d'aéronef, d'autres véhicules), les fréquences attribuées à ces stations dans les bandes qui leur sont réservées.

Exemple:

5 525 kc/s (54,30 m) stations de navire Etats-Unis d'Amérique.
5 690 kc/s (52,72 m) stations d'aéronef Brésil.

c) Les fréquences attribuées aux stations effectuant des services spéciaux ainsi qu'aux stations d'amateur et expérimentales privées sont indiquées en bloc, par pays et pour chaque catégorie de stations [exemple: 3 500 à 4 000 kc/s (85,71 à 75 m) stations d'amateur Canada].

d) En vue de faciliter l'utilisation de la liste des fréquences, le Bureau de l'Union mentionne sur chaque page la gamme de fréquences du tableau de répartition correspondant aux fréquences qui figurent sur cette page [exemple: 7 300 à 8 200 kc/s (41,10 à 36,59 m) services fixes].

e) Pour les termes et indications techniques employés dans la liste, il est recommandé aux administrations de se référer aux avis du C.C.I.R.

II. Notification.

a) La date de notification d'une fréquence, à insérer dans la colonne 3 a, est la date que porte la communication par laquelle le Bureau de l'Union a été informé de la première attribution de cette fréquence à une station du pays indiqué. Le nom de cette station figure dans la colonne 5.

Frequency list.

Frequency List

I. General.

I. General

(a) With regard to fixed, land, and broadcasting stations, the administrations shall furnish the Bureau of the Union with a complete descriptive list of each frequency assigned to these stations (see art. 7, § 5).

(b) With regard to mobile stations, no complete descriptive list shall be furnished. Only the frequencies assigned to these stations in the bands reserved to them shall be indicated in the case of each country, for each category of stations separately (ship, aircraft, other vehicles).

Example:

5,525 kc (54.30 m) ship stations, United States of America
5,690 kc (52.72 m) aircraft stations, Brazil

(c) The frequencies assigned to stations carrying on special services as well as to amateur stations and private experimental stations shall be indicated collectively for each country and for each class of stations (example: 3,500 to 4,000 kc (85.71 to 75 m), amateur stations, Canada).

(d) In order to facilitate the use of the frequency list, the Bureau of the Union shall show on each page the frequency range of the allocation table which corresponds to the frequencies appearing on this page (example: 7,300 to 8,200 kc (41.10 to 36.59 m), fixed services).

(e) For technical terms and indications used in the list, it is recommended that the administrations refer to the Opinions of the C.C.I.R.

II. Notification.

II. Notification

(a) The date of notification of a frequency, to be inserted in column 3a, is the date of the communication by which the Bureau of the Union was informed of the first allocation of this frequency to a station of the country indicated. The name of this station appears in column 5.

Par pays, on entend, dans cette liste, le pays dans les limites duquel est installée la station.

b) Lors de la première notification d'une fréquence pour une station d'un pays, la date à inscrire dans la colonne 3 b, en regard de cette station, est la même que celle portée dans la colonne 3 a. Si l'on attribue ultérieurement la même fréquence à une autre station du même pays, on insère en regard de la nouvelle station, dans la colonne 3 a, la date de la première notification visée ci-avant et, dans la colonne 3 b, la date de l'attribution de cette fréquence à cette nouvelle station.

c) Si, deux ans après la notification (colonne 3 b), la fréquence notifiée n'a pas été mise en exploitation par la station à laquelle elle a été attribuée, les inscriptions y relatives sont annulées, à moins que l'administration intéressée, obligatoirement consultée par le Bureau de l'Union six mois avant l'expiration du délai précité, n'en ait demandé le maintien. Dans ce cas, les dates de notification insérées dans les colonnes 3 a et 3 b subsistent.

Fréquence exacte en kc/s	Longueur d'onde approximative en mètres	Date		Indicatif d'appel	Nom et position géographique [1]) de la station et nom du pays dont relève cette station	Type d'émission (A1, A2, A3, A4, B, Spécial)	Puissance dans l'antenne		Directivité de l'antenne	Fréquence maximum de modulation pour les types d'émission A2, A3, A4 et Spécial [2])	Vitesse maximum normale de transmission en bauds [3])	Nature du service et pays avec lesquels la communication est prévue ou établie	Date de mise en exploitation de la fréquence par la station dont le nom figure dans la colonne 5 (date prévue entre parenthèses) [4])	Administration ou compagnie exploitante	Observations

[1]) Méridien de Greenwich.

[2]) Le chiffre à inscrire dans la colonne 9 doit permettre de déterminer la largeur de la bande de fréquences occupée par la transmission.

Aucun signe ne précède le chiffre, lorsque la transmission utilise les deux bandes latérales. Si la transmission n'utilise qu'une bande latérale, on l'indique en plaçant devant le chiffre le signe + (bande latérale de fréquences supérieure à la fréquence porteuse) ou — (bande latérale de fréquences inférieure à la fréquence porteuse).

[3]) La vitesse en bauds pour le code Morse international est approximativement égale à 0,8 × mots par minute.

[4]) Les administrations notifient sans délai au Bureau de l'Union la mise en exploitation des fréquences pour lesquelles un état signalétique complet figure dans la liste des fréquences.

By country, in this list, is meant the country within the limits of which the station is installed.

(b) When a frequency is first notified for a station of a country, the date to be written in column 3b opposite this station is the same as that in column 3a. If the same frequency is later assigned to another station of the same country, the date of the first notification mentioned above shall be inserted in column 3a opposite the new station and, in column 3b, the date of the assignment of this frequency to this new station.

(c) If two years after the notification (column 3b) the station to which the notified frequency has been assigned is not operating on this frequency, the indications relating thereto shall be canceled, unless the administration concerned, which must be consulted by the Bureau of the Union 6 months before the expiration of the aforesaid period, has asked for their retention. In this case the dates of notification inserted in column 3a and 3b shall remain.

Exact frequency in kc	Approximate wavelength in meters	Date: of the first notification of the frequency for a station of this country (3a)	Date: of the notification of this frequency for the station whose name appears in col. 5 (3b)	Call signal	Name and geographical location [1] of the station and name of the country to which this station is subject	Types of emission (A1, A2, A3, A4, B, Special)	Power in the antenna: in kw (7a)	Power in the antenna: rate of modulation in % (7b)	Directivity of the antenna	Maximum frequency of modulation for the types of emission A2, A3, A4, and Special [2]	Maximum normal speed of transmission in bauds [3]	Nature of the service and countries with which communication is contemplated or established	Date of putting into service of the frequency by the station whose name appears in col. 5 (date contemplated in parentheses) [4]	Administration or operating company	Remarks

(1) Greenwich meridian.

(2) The figure to be entered in column 9 must permit a determination of the width of the frequency band occupied by the transmission No sign shall precede the figure when the transmission uses both sidebands. If the transmission uses only one sideband, this is indicated by placing before the figure the sign + (sideband of frequencies above the carrier frequency) or − (sideband of frequencies below the carrier frequency).

(3) The speed in bauds for the International Morse Code is approximately equal to 0.8 × words per minute.

(4) The administrations shall notify without delay to the Bureau of the Union the putting into service of any frequency for which a complete descriptive list appears in the frequency list.

5° A répond:

Allo B, A répond, exact, exact, coupant.

6° A coupe ensuite la communication et les deux stations reprennent l'écoute normale.

Remarque: Au commencement d'une communication, la formule d'appel est prononcée deux fois, et par la station appelante et par la station appelée. Une fois la communication établie, elle est prononcée une fois seulement.

[1]) Dans le service téléphonique européen, l'utilisation du mot «Allo» est interdite.

§ 1. The following is given by way of example: [1]

Procedure.

1st. A calling:

Hello B, Hello B, A calling, A calling, radiotelegram for you, radiotelegram for you, over.

2d. B replying:

Hello A, Hello A, B replying, B replying, send your radiotelegram, send your radiotelegram, over.

3d. A replying:

Hello B, A replying, radiotelegram begins from . . . no. . . . number of words . . . date . . . time . . . address . . . text . . . signature . . . .
transmission of radiotelegram ended, I repeat, radiotelegram begins, from . . . no. . . . number of words . . . date . . . time . . . address . . . text . . . signature . . .,

4th. B replying:

Hello A, B replying, your telegram begins from . . . no. . . . number of words . . . date . . . time . . . address . . . text . . . signature . . ., your telegram ended, over.

5th. A replying:

Hello B, A replying, exact, exact, cutting off.

6th. A then cuts off the communication and the two stations resume their normal listening.

Remark: At the beginning of a communication, the calling formula shall be pronounced twice, both by the calling station and the station called. Once the communication is established, it shall be pronounced once only.

[1] In the European telephone service the use of the word "Allo" shall be forbidden.

§ 2. En tant qu'une épellation des indicatifs d'appel, des abréviations de service et des mots est nécessaire, il y sera procédé suivant le tableau ci-après:

Chiffre à indiquer [2])	Lettres à épeler	Mots à utiliser pour l'épellation	Lettres à épeler	Mots à utiliser pour l'épellation
1	A	Amsterdam	N	New York
2	B	Baltimore	O	Oslo

§ 3. Lorsque la station réceptrice a la certitude d'avoir reçu correctement le radiotélégramme, la répétition visée au 4° du § 1 n'est pas nécessaire, à moins qu'il ne s'agisse d'un radiotélégramme avec collationnement. Si l'on renonce à la répétition, la station B accuse réception du radiotélégramme transmis, dans la forme suivante:

Allo A, B répond, bien reçu votre radiotélégramme, commutez (over).

[2]) Toute transmission de chiffres est annoncée et se termine par les mots ‹‹en nombre›› répétés deux fois.

If repetition is waived, station B shall acknowledge receipt of the radiotelegram transmitted in the following manner:

Hello A, B replies, your radiotelegram well received, over.

[1] All transmissions of figures is begun and ended by the words "in figures" repeated twice.

APPENDICE 13.

Obtention des relèvements radiogoniométriques.

(Voir l'article 30.)

I. INSTRUCTIONS GÉNÉRALES.

A. Avant d'appeler une ou plusieurs stations radiogoniométriques, pour demander son relèvement, la station mobile doit rechercher dans la nomenclature:

1° Les indicatifs d'appel des stations à appeler pour obtenir les relèvements radiogoniométriques qui l'intéressent.

2° L'onde sur laquelle les stations radiogoniométriques veillent, et l'onde ou les ondes sur lesquelles elles prennent les relèvements.

3° Les stations radiogoniométriques qui, grâce à des liaisons par fils spéciaux, peuvent être groupées avec la station radiogoniométrique à appeler.

B. La procédure à suivre par la station mobile dépend de diverses circonstances. D'une façon générale, elle doit tenir compte de ce qui suit:

1° Si les stations radiogoniométriques ne veillent pas sur la même onde, que ce soit l'onde pour l'opération du relèvement ou une autre onde, les relèvements doivent être demandés séparément à chaque station ou groupe de stations utilisant une onde donnée.

2° Si toutes les stations radiogoniométriques intéressées veillent sur une même onde, et si elles sont en mesure de prendre des relèvements sur une onde commune—qui peut être une autre onde que l'onde de veille—il y a lieu de les appeler ensemble, afin que les relèvements soient pris par toutes ces stations à la fois, sur une seule et même émission.

3° Si plusieurs stations radiogoniométriques sont groupées à l'aide de fils spéciaux, une seule d'entre elles doit être appelée, même si toutes sont munies d'appareils émetteurs. Dans ce cas, la station mobile doit cependant, s'il est nécessaire, mentionner dans l'appel, au moyen des indicatifs d'appel, les stations radiogoniométriques dont elle désire obtenir des relèvements.

II. RÈGLES DE PROCÉDURE.

A. La station mobile appelle la ou les stations radiogoniométriques sur l'onde indiquée à la nomenclature comme étant leur onde de veille. Elle transmet l'abréviation QTE qui signifie:

APPENDIX 13

Procedure to Obtain Radio Direction-finding Bearings

Radio direction-finding bearings.

(See article 30)

Ante, p. 2557.

I. General Instructions

General instructions.

A. Before calling one or more radio direction-finding stations, the mobile station, in order to request its bearing, must refer to the nomenclature for:

1. The call signals of the stations to be called to obtain the radio direction-finding bearings desired.

2. The wave on which the radio direction-finding stations watch, and the wave or waves on which they take bearings.

3. The radio direction-finding stations which by means of special wire connections, may be grouped with the radio direction-finding station to be called.

B. The procedure to be followed by the mobile station depends on varying circumstances. Generally, the following must be taken into account:

1. If the radio direction-finding stations do not listen on the same wave, whether it be the wave on which bearings are taken or another wave, the bearings must be requested separately from each station or group of stations using a given wave.

2. If all the radio direction-finding stations concerned listen on the same wave, and if they are able to take bearings on a common wave—which may be a wave other than the listening wave—they must all be called together, in order that the bearings may be taken by all these stations at the same time, on one and the same transmission.

3. If several radio direction-finding stations are grouped by means of special wires, only one of them must be called, even if all are furnished with transmitting apparatus. In this case, the mobile stations must, however, if it is necessary, specify in the call by means of the call signals, the radio direction-finding stations whose bearings they wish to obtain.

II. Rules of Procedure

Rules of procedure.

A. The mobile station shall call the radio direction-finding station or stations on the wave indicated in the nomenclature as being their watching-wave. It shall transmit the abbreviation QTE which means:

"I wish to know my radio direction-finding bearing with respect to the radio direction-finding station which I am calling."

or

ou

le ou les indicatifs d'appel nécessaires, et finit en indiquant, si besoin est, l'onde qu'elle va employer pour faire établir son relèvement. Après cela, elle attend des instructions.

B. La ou les stations radiogoniométriques appelées se préparent à prendre le relèvement; elles avertissent, si nécessaire, les stations radiogoniométriques avec lesquelles elles sont conjugées. Aussitôt que les stations radiogoniométriques sont prêtes, celles parmi ces stations qui sont pourvues d'appareils émetteurs répondent à l'adresse de la station mobile, dans l'ordre alphabétique de leurs indicatifs d'appel, en donnant leur indicatif d'appel suivi de la lettre K.

Dans le cas où il s'agit de stations radiogoniométriques groupées, la station appelée prévient les autres stations du groupement et informe la station mobile dès que les stations du groupement sont prêtes à prendre le relèvement.

C. Après avoir, si nécessaire, préparé sa nouvelle onde de transmission, la station mobile répond en transmettant son indicatif d'appel, combiné éventuellement avec un autre signal, pendant un temps suffisamment prolongé pour permettre le relèvement.

D. La ou les stations radiogoniométriques qui sont satisfaites de l'opération transmettent le signal QTE («Votre relèvement vrai par rapport à moi était de ... degrés»), précédé de l'heure de l'observation, et suivi d'un groupe de trois chiffres (000 à 359) indiquant, en degrés, le relèvement vrai de la station mobile par rapport à la station radiogoniométrique.

Si une station radiogoniométrique n'est pas satisfaite de l'opération, elle demande à la station mobile de répéter l'émission indiquée en C.

E. Dès que la station mobile a reçu le résultat de l'observation, elle répète le message à la station radiogoniométrique qui, alors, annonce que la répétition est exacte ou, le cas échéant, rectifie en répétant le message. Quand la station radiogoniométrique a la certitude que la station mobile a correctement reçu le message, elle transmet le signal «fin de travail». Ce signal est alors répété par la station mobile pour indiquer que l'opération est terminée.

F. Les indications relatives: a) au signal à employer pour obtenir le relèvement; b) à la durée des émissions à faire par la station mobile et c) à l'heure utilisée par la station radiogoniométrique considérée, sont données dans la nomenclature.

"I wish to know my radio direction-finding bearing with respect to the station or stations whose call signals follow."

or

"I wish to know my radio direction-finding bearing with respect to the radio direction-finding stations grouped under your control," the necessary call signal or signals, and shall conclude by indicating, if necessary, the wave which it is going to use to have its bearing determined. It shall then await instructions.

B. The radio direction-finding station or stations called shall prepare to take the bearing; they shall, if necessary, notify the radio direction-finding stations with which they are connected. As soon as the radio direction-finding stations are ready, such of these stations as are provided with transmitters shall reply to the mobile station in the alphabetical order of their call signals, by giving their call signal followed by the letter K.

In the case of radio direction-finding stations which are grouped, the station called shall notify the other stations of the group and shall inform the mobile station as soon as the stations of the group are ready to take the bearing.

C. After having prepared its new transmitting wave, wherever this is required, the mobile station shall reply by sending its call signal sometimes combined with another signal, during a length of time sufficiently prolonged to take the bearing.

D. The radio direction-finding station or stations which are satisfied with the operation shall transmit the signal QTE ("Your true bearing with respect to me was . . . degrees"), preceded by the time of the observation and followed by a group of three figures (000 to 359), showing in degrees the true bearing of the mobile station with respect to the radio direction-finding station.

If a radio direction-finding station is not satisfied with the operation, it shall request the mobile station to repeat the transmission indicated under C.

E. As soon as the mobile station has received the result of the observation, it shall repeat the message to the radio direction-finding station, which shall then state that the repetition is correct or, when necessary, shall correct it by repeating the message. When the radio direction-finding station is certain that the mobile station has received the message correctly, it shall transmit the signal "end of work". This signal shall then be repeated by the mobile station, as an indication that the operation is completed.

F. The data concerning (a) the signal to be used to obtain the bearings; (b) the duration of the transmission to be made by the mobile station; and (c) the time used by the radio direction-finding station in question shall be given in the nomenclature.

APPENDICE 14.

Elle désigne aussi le président et le vice-président du C.C.I.R., le président et le ou les vice-présidents de chaque commission.

§ 2. Le président du C.C.I.R. dirige les assemblées plénières; il a, en outre, la direction générale des travaux de la réunion. Les vice-présidents prêtent assistance aux présidents et les remplacent en cas d'absence.

Article 4.

Le secrétariat de la réunion du C.C.I.R. est assuré par l'administration gérante, avec la collaboration du Bureau de l'Union.

ARTICLE 2

The managing administration shall set the place and definite date of the meeting which it has charge of organizing. At least 6 months before the aforesaid date, the managing administration shall address the invitation to this meeting to all the administrations of the International Telecommunication Union, and, through the latter, to the companies, groups of companies, and international radio organizations covered in article 31 of the General Radio Regulations.

ARTICLE 3

§ 1. The first meeting of the plenary assembly shall be opened by the managing administration. This assembly shall appoint the necessary committees and shall distribute to them the questions to be dealt with, in classes. It shall also appoint the president and the vice president of the C.C.I.R. and the chairman and the vice chairman or vice chairmen of each committee.

§ 2. The president of the C.C.I.R. shall conduct the plenary assemblies; in addition, he shall have the general supervision of the work of the meeting. The vice chairmen shall assist the chairmen and replace them in case of absence.

ARTICLE 4

The secretariat for the meeting of the C.C.I.R. shall be provided by the managing administration, with the collaboration of the Bureau of the Union.

ARTICLE 5.

En principe, les procès-verbaux et les rapports ne reproduisent les exposés des délégués que dans leurs points principaux. Cependant, chaque délégué a le droit de demander l'insertion analytique ou in extenso au procès-verbal ou au rapport de toute déclaration qu'il a faite, à condition qu'il en fournisse le texte au plus tard le matin qui suit la fin de la séance.

ARTICLE 6.

§ 1. Une délégation qui serait empêchée, pour une cause grave, d'assister à des séances, a la faculté de charger de sa ou de ses voix une autre délégation. Toutefois, une même délégation ne peut réunir et disposer dans ces conditions des voix de plus de deux délégations, y compris la sienne ou les siennes.

§ 2. Une proposition n'est adoptée que si elle réunit la majorité absolue des suffrages exprimés; en cas d'égalité de voix, elle est écartée. Les procès-verbaux indiqueront le nombre des délégations qui ont voté pour et la nombre de celles qui ont voté contre la proposition.

§ 3. Les votations ont lieu soit à mains levées, soit, sur demande d'une délégation, par appel nominal, dans l'ordre alphabétique du nom français des pays participants. Dans ce dernier cas, les procès-verbaux indiqueront les délégations qui ont voté pour et celles qui ont voté contre la proposition.

ARTICLE 7.

§ 1. Les commissions instituées par l'assemblée plénière peuvent se subdiviser en sous-commissions, et les sous-commissions en sous-sous-commissions.

§ 2. Les présidents des commissions proposent à la ratification de la commission respective le choix du président de chaque sous-commission et sous-sous-commission. Les commissions, sous-commissions et sous-sous-commissions nomment elles-mêmes leurs rapporteurs.

§ 3. Les avis émis par les commissions doivent porter la formule: «à l'unanimité» si l'avis a été émis à l'unanimité des votants, ou la formule: «à la majorité» si l'avis a été adopté à la majorité.

ARTICLE 8.

Le Bureau de l'Union prend part aux divers travaux du C.C.I.R. en vue de la centralisation et de la publication d'une documentation générale à l'usage des administrations.

ARTICLE 9.

§ 1. A la séance de clôture de l'assemblée plénière, le président communique la liste des avis et celle des questions qui restent à résoudre et des questions nouvelles soumises par les commissions.

ARTICLE 5

In principle, the minutes and reports shall give only the main points of the statements of the delegates. However, each delegate shall have the right to require the insertion into the minutes or report, of any statement he has made, either in summary or verbatim, on condition that he furnish the text thereof not later than the morning following the end of the meeting.

ARTICLE 6

§ 1. Any delegation which might, for serious reasons, be prevented from attending meetings, shall have the right to entrust its vote or votes to another delegation. However, a single delegation may not, under these circumstances, combine and use the votes of more than two delegations, including its own vote or votes.

§ 2. A proposal shall be adopted only if supported by an absolute majority of the votes cast; in case of a tie it shall fall. The minutes shall show the number of delegations which voted in favor of and of those who voted against the proposal.

§ 3. Voting shall be conducted either by raising the hands, or, at the request of a delegation, by roll call in the alphabetical order of the French names of the participating countries. In the latter case, the minutes shall indicate the delegations who voted in favor of and those who voted against the proposal.

ARTICLE 7

§ 1. The committees created by the plenary assembly may be divided into subcommittees and the subcommittees into sub-subcommittees.

§ 2. The chairmen of the committees shall propose the selection of the chairman of each subcommittee and sub-subcommittee for the ratification of the respective committee. The committees, subcommittees, and sub-subcommittees shall appoint their own reporters.

§ 3. The opinions expressed by the committees must be marked: "unanimously" if the opinion has been expressed by the voters unanimously, or: "by a majority" if the opinion was adopted by a majority.

ARTICLE 8

The Bureau of the Union shall take part in the various tasks of the C.C.I.R. for the purpose of centralizing and publishing general documents for the use of the administrations.

ARTICLE 9

§ 1. At the closing session of the plenary assembly, the president shall communicate the list of opinions and that of the questions left to be solved and of the new questions submitted by the committees.

§ 2. Le président constate, le cas échéant, l'adoption définitive des avis exprimés. S'il y a lieu à votation à l'assemblée plénière, les formules «à l'unanimité» ou «à la majorité» s'appliquent à cette votation.

§ 3. Les questions non résolues et les questions nouvelles sont enregistrées par le président, si l'assemblée est d'accord pour en faire poursuivre l'étude. Celui-ci demande ensuite quelles administrations désirent se charger de la préparation des propositions se rapportant à ces questions et quelles autres administrations ou entreprises d'exploitation radioélectrique sont prêtes à collaborer aux travaux. D'après les réponses, il dresse une liste officielle des questions à inscrire à l'ordre du jour de la réunion suivante, avec l'indication des administrations centralisatrices et des administrations et entreprises privées d'exploitation radioélectrique collaboratrices. Cette liste est insérée au procès-verbal de l'assemblée.

§ 4. A la même séance de l'assemblée plénière, le C.C.I.R., sur l'offre ou le consentement de la délégation intéressée, désigne l'administration qui convoquera la réunion suivante et la date approximative de cette réunion.

Article 10.

§ 1. Après la clôture de la réunion, la préparation des questions mises à l'étude est confiée à l'administration désignée pour organiser la prochaine réunion (administration gérante nouvelle). Les affaires en instance sont, au contraire, confiées à l'administration gérante ancienne, laquelle est chargée de les terminer, en collaboration avec le Bureau de l'Union.

§ 2. L'ancienne administration gérante transmet les documents à la nouvelle administration gérante, au plus tard cinq mois après la clôture de cette réunion.

Article 11.

Après la fin d'une réunion, toutes les autres questions que les administrations et compagnies d'exploitation radioélectrique désirent soumettre au comité sont adressées à la nouvelle administration gérante. Cette administration inscrit ces questions à l'ordre du jour de la prochaine réunion. Toutefois, aucune question ne peut y être comprise, si elle n'a été communiquée à l'administration gérante au moins six mois avant la date de la réunion.

Article 12.

§ 1. Tous les documents afférents à une réunion, envoyés avant cette réunion à l'administration gérante, ou présentés pendant la réunion, sont imprimés et distribués par le Bureau de l'Union en collaboration avec l'administration gérante.

§ 2. The president shall place on record the final adoption of the opinions expressed, if any. If there is occasion for voting at the plenary assembly, the formulas "unanimously" or "by a majority" shall apply to this vote.

§ 3. Unsolved and new questions shall be recorded by the president if the assembly is in favor of continuing their study. The latter shall then inquire as to what administrations wish to take charge of preparing proposals relating to these questions and what other administrations or radio operating enterprises are willing to collaborate in the work. On the basis of the replies, he shall prepare an official list of the questions to be included in the agenda of the following meeting, with the indication of the centralizing administrations and of the collaborating administrations and private radio operating enterprises. This list shall be included in the minutes of the meeting.

§ 4. In the same session of the plenary assembly, the C.C.I.R., upon the offer or with the consent of the interested delegation, shall designate the administration which is to call the following meeting and the approximate date of that meeting.

ARTICLE 10

§ 1. After the meeting is closed, the preparation of questions submitted for study shall be entrusted to the administration designated to organize the next meeting (new managing administration). The unfinished business shall, on the contrary, be entrusted to the former managing administration, which shall be in charge of completing it, in collaboration with the Bureau of the Union.

§ 2. The former managing administration shall forward the documents to the new managing administration not later than five months after the closing of this meeting.

ARTICLE 11

After the end of a meeting, all other questions which the administrations and radio operating companies wish to submit to the committee shall be addressed to the new managing administration. This administration shall include these questions in the agenda of the next meeting. 3) lisäksi on sovittu, että muuttamatta tämän sopimuksen määräyksiä, mikäli ne koskevat luotsimaksujen suuruutta, Yhdysvallat suostuvat olemaan vaatimatta tämän sopimuksen perusteella amerikkalaisille laivoille mitään niitä erikoismyönnytyksiä valtion luotsien käyttöön nähden, joita Suomen hallitus on antanut tai vastedes ehkä antaa suomalaisille ja ruotsalaisille, Suomen ja Ruotsin välillä kulkeville laivoille Itämerellä ja sen lahdissa 59 pohjoisen leveysasteen pohjoispuolella, niin kauan kuin sellaisia myönnytyksiä ei uloteta kolmannen maan aluksiin;

Konsulivirkamiehiä, jotka ovat heidät nimittäneen valtion kansalaisia, ei saa vangita, ellei heitä syytetä lainrikkomuksista, joita asemamaassa pidetään rikoksina ja joihin itsensä syypääksi tehnyttä henkilöä on rikollisena rangaistava. Sellaiset virkamiehet ovat vapautetut sotilasmajoituksista sekä kaikenlaisesta sota- tai laivastopalveluksesta ja hallinnollisista tai poliisitehtävistä, olivatpa ne mitä laatua tahansa.

The demand shall be made with all possible regard for the consular dignity and the duties of the office; and there shall be compliance on the part of the consular officer.

To be subject to jurisdiction of courts in civil cases.

Consular officers shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the courts in the state which receives them in civil cases, subject to the proviso, however, that when the officer is a national of the state which appoints him and is engaged in no private occupation for gain, his testimony shall be taken orally or in writing at his residence or office and with due regard for his convenience. The officer should, however, voluntarily give his testimony at the trial whenever it is possible to do so without serious interference with his official duties.

Rikosasioissa voidaan kantajan tai vastaajan puolelta vaatia konsulivirkamiestä kuulusteltavaksi todistajana. Vaatimus on tehtävä kaikella mahdollisella huomaavaisuudella konsulin arvoa ja hänen virkavelvollisuuksiaan kohtaan; ja konsulivirkamiehen on noudatettava tätä vaatimusta.

Konsulivirkamiehet ovat siviliasioissa sen valtion tuomioistuinten tuomiovallan alaisia, joka heidät on vastaanottanut, kuitenkin ehdolla, että kun virkamies on sen valtion kansalainen, joka hänet on nimittänyt, ja kun hänellä ei ole mitään yksityistä ansiotointa, hänen todistuksensa on otettava suullisesti tai kirjallisesti hänen asunnossaan tai virastossaan ja ottamalla asianmukaisesti huomioon hänen mukavuutensa. Konsulin olisi kuitenkin vapaaehtoisesti annettava todistuksensa oikeudessa, milloin se vain on mahdollista tuottamatta vakavaa haittaa hänen virkavelvollisuuksilleen.

18° Corruption.

19° Coups et blessures graves dont la peine minimum n'est pas inférieure à un an d'emprisonnement.

20° Tentative d'infractions, énumérées ci-dessus, punie de peine criminelle.

21° Complicité dans l'un quelconque des crimes ou délits mentionnés ci-dessus, si cette complicité est passible d'emprisonnement ou d'une peine plus forte, par les lois des deux Hautes Parties Contractantes.

Article 3.

L'extradition n'aura pas lieu pour crime ou délit politique ou pour les faits connexes à un semblable crime ou délit.

Ne sera pas réputé crime ou délit politique l'attentat contre la vie d'un Chef d'Etat ou des membres de sa famille.

Aucune personne livrée par l'une des Hautes Parties Contractantes à l'autre Partie ne sera poursuivie ou punie pour une infraction commise avant la demande d'extradition, autre que celle pour laquelle l'extradition a été accordée, à moins qu'elle n'y consente expressément, par écrit, ce qui sera communiqué à la Partie ayant effectué l'extradition, ou qu'ayant eu pendant les 30 jours, depuis son élargissement définitif, la faculté de quitter le territoire de l'Etat requérant, elle n'ait pas usé de cette faculté, ou bien qu'elle y revienne après l'avoir quitté.

Article 4.

Lorsque la personne dont l'extradition est demandée est poursuivie, qu'elle soit détenue préventivement ou qu'elle soit en liberté provisoire, ou lorsqu'elle a été condamnée pour une autre infraction dans le pays où elle s'est réfugiée, son extradition pourra être différée jusqu'à la clôture de la procédure pénale et sa mise en liberté définitive conformément à la loi.

Article 5.

Les Hautes Parties Contractantes ne sont pas tenues d'accorder l'extradition de leurs ressortissants respectifs.

Article 6.

Les demandes d'extradition seront présentées par la voie diplomatique.

Lorsque la personne dont l'extradition est demandée aura été condamnée à raison de l'infraction qui a motivé la demande d'extradition, cette demande devra être accompagnée d'une expédition authentique de l'arrêt prononcé. Si la personne réclamée est seulement prévenue d'une infraction, la demande devra être accompagnée d'une copie dûment certifiée du mandat d'arrêt délivré par le magistrat compétent de la Partie requérante, ainsi que des copies dûment légalisées des dépositions ou autres preuves sur la base desquelles le mandat d'arrêt a été délivré. Ces documents devront contenir l'indication précise de l'infraction incriminée, du lieu où elle a été commise et de sa date. Ils devront être accompagnés d'une copie dûment certifiée des dispositions légales applicables aux infractions incriminées ainsi que des éléments nécessaires pour établir l'identité de la personne réclamée.

Les documents susindiqués seront dressés dans la forme prescrite par les lois de la Partie requérante et accompagnés d'une traduction, dans la langue de la Partie requise ou en français, certifiée conforme.

Il est entendu que la procédure d'extradition sera réglée d'après les dispositions en vigueur, à l'époque de la demande, dans l'Etat requis.

Article 7.

Lorsque l'arrestation provisoire d'une personne sera requise avant que la demande d'extradition ait été présentée, la demande y afférente sera faite par la voie diplomatique ou adressée directement aux autorités compétentes de la Partie requise par le Consul compétent de la Partie requérante, ou par une autre personne autorisée par cette Partie. La procédure à suivre pour l'arrestation sera réglée d'après les dispositions en vigueur dans l'Etat requis.

La détention provisoire devra cesser et la personne arrêtée devra être mise en liberté si, dans le délai de trois mois, à dater de l'arrestation, le jour de l'arrestation non compris, une demande formelle d'extradition, accompagnée des pièces nécessaires, n'est pas présentée de la manière prescrite dans l'article 6.

Article 8.

L'extradition ne sera pas accordée lorsque d'après la loi de la Partie requise ou d'après celle de la Partie requérante l'action pénale ou la peine prononcée est prescrite.

Article 9.

Tous les objets saisis, trouvés en la possession de la personne réclamée lors de son arrestation, doivent être remis à la Partie requérante, au moment de l'extradition en même temps que cette personne; cette remise ne s'étendra pas seulement aux objets acquis par l'infraction pour laquelle la personne est poursuivie, mais encore à tous autres objets pouvant servir à établir la preuve de l'infraction. Toutefois, les droits des tiers sur les objets en question devront être dûment respectés.

Article 10.

Les frais de l'arrestation, de la détention et du transport des individus réclamés seront payés par la Partie requérante.

Article 11.

Le présent Traité entrera en vigueur deux mois après la date de l'échange des ratifications et aura une durée de cinq ans.

Si ce Traité n'est pas dénoncé par l'une ou l'autre des Hautes Parties Contractantes au moins six mois avant l'expiration de la dite période de cinq ans, il restera en vigueur jusqu'à ce qu'il soit dénoncé, cette dénonciation ne devant produire ses effets qu'après l'expiration d'un délai de six mois.

Article 12.

Le présent Traité, rédigé en français, en anglais et en turc, sera ratifié. En cas de divergence le texte français fera foi.

Les ratifications seront échangées à Constantinople aussitôt que possible.

EN FOI DE QUOI les Plénipotentiaires susnommés ont signé le présent Traité et y ont apposé leurs sceaux.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE INTERNATIONAL LABOUR ORGANISATION.

Constitution.

(The Constitution of the International Labour Organisation formed Part XIII of the Treaty of Versailles of 28 June 1919, Part XIII of the Treaty of St. Germain of 10 September 1919, Part XIII of the Treaty of Trianon of 4 June 1920 and Part XII of the Treaty of Neuilly of 27 November 1919. The numbering of the articles in the present text is that of Part XIII of the Treaty of Versailles.)

Section I.

ORGANISATION DU TRAVAIL.

Attendu que la Société des Nations a pour but d'établir la paix universelle, et qu'une telle paix ne peut être fondée que sur la base de la justice sociale;

Attendu qu'il existe des conditions de travail impliquant pour un grand nombre de personnes l'injustice, la misère et les privations, ce qui engendre un tel mécontentement que la paix et l'harmonie universelles sont mises en danger, et attendu qu'il est urgent d'améliorer ces conditions: par exemple, en ce qui concerne la réglementation des heures de travail, la fixation d'une durée maxima de la journée et de la semaine de travail, le recrutement de la main-d'oeuvre, la lutte contre le chômage, la garantie d'un salaire assurant des conditions d'existence convenables, la protection des travailleurs contre les maladies générales ou professionnelles et les accidents résultant du travail, la protection des enfants, des adolescents et des femmes, les pensions de vieillesse et d'invalidité, la défense des intérêts des travailleurs occupés à l'étranger, l'affirmation du principe de la liberté syndicale, l'organisation de l'enseignement professionnel et technique et autres mesures analogues;

Section I.

ORGANISATION OF LABOUR.

Organization of labor.

Whereas the League of Nations has for its object the establishment of universal peace, and such a peace can be established only if it is based upon social justice;

And whereas conditions of labour exist involving such injustice, hardship and privation to large numbers of people as to produce unrest so great that the peace and harmony of the world are imperilled; and an improvement of those conditions is urgently required: as, for example, by the regulation of the hours of work, including the establishment of a maximum working day and week, the regulation of the labour supply, the prevention of unemployment, the provision of an adequate living wage, the protection of the worker against sickness, disease and injury arising out of his employment, the protection of children, young persons and women, provision for old age and injury, protection of the interests of workers when employed in countries other than their own, recognition of the principle of freedom of association, the organisation of vocational and technical education and other measures;

Attendu que la non-adoption par une nation quelconque d'un régime de travail réellement humain fait obstacle aux efforts des autres nations désireuses d'améliorer le sort des travailleurs dans leurs propres pays;

Les HAUTES PARTIES CONTRACTANTES, mues par des sentiments de justice et d'humanité aussi bien que par le désir d'assurer une paix mondiale durable, ont convenu ce qui suit:

Whereas also the failure of any nation to adopt humane conditions of labour is an obstacle in the way of other nations which desire to improve the conditions in their own countries;

The HIGH CONTRACTING PARTIES, moved by sentiments of justice and humanity as well as by the desire to secure the permanent peace of the world, agree to the following:

Chaque Délégué pourra être accompagné par des conseillers techniques dont le nombre pourra être de deux au plus pour chacune des matières distinctes inscrites à l'ordre du jour de la session. Quand des questions intéressant spécialement des femmes doivent venir en discussion à la Conférence, une au moins parmi les personnes désignées comme conseillers techniques devra être une femme.

Les Membres s'engagent à désigner les délégués et conseillers techniques non gouvernementaux d'accord avec les organisations professionnelles les plus représentatives soit des employeurs, soit des travailleurs du pays considéré, sous la réserve que de telles organisations existent.

Advisers shall not speak except on a request made by the Delegate whom they accompany and by the special authorization of the President of the Conference, and may not vote.

A Delegate may by notice in writing addressed to the President appoint one of his advisers to act as his deputy, and the adviser, while so acting, shall be allowed to speak and vote.

The names of the Delegates and their advisers will be communicated to the International Labour Office by the Government of each of the Members.

Les pouvoirs des délégués et de leurs conseillers techniques seront soumis à la vérification de la Conférence, laquelle pourra, par une majorité des deux-tiers des suffrages exprimés par les délégués présents, refuser d'admettre tout délégué ou tout conseiller technique qu'elle ne jugera pas avoir été désigné conformément aux termes du présent article.

The credentials of Delegates and their advisers shall be subject to scrutiny by the Conference, which may, by two-thirds of the votes cast by the Delegates present, refuse to admit any Delegate or adviser whom it deems not to have been nominated in accordance with this Article.

ARTICLE 390.

Voting.

Chaque délégué aura le droit de voter indivuellement sur toutes les questions soumises aux délibérations de la Conférence.

Dans le cas où l'un des Membres n'aurait pas désigné l'un des délégués non gouvernementaux auquel il a droit, l'autre délégué non gouvernemental aura le droit de prendre part aux discussions de la Conférence, mais n'aura pas le droit de voter.

Au cas où la Conférence, en vertu des pouvoirs que lui confère l'article 389, refuserait d'admettre l'un des délégués d'un des Membres, les stipulations du présent article seront appliquées comme si ledit délégué n'avait pas été désigné.

ARTICLE 390.

Every Delegate shall be entitled to vote individually on all matters which are taken into consideration by the Conference.

If one of the Members fails to nominate one of the non-Government Delegates whom it is entitled to nominate, the other non-Government Delegate shall be allowed to sit and speak at the Conference, but not to vote.

If in accordance with Article 389 the Conference refuses admission to a Delegate of one of the Members, the provisions of the present Article shall apply as if that Delegate had not been nominated.

ARTICLE 391.

Sur les seize Membres représentés, six devront être des Etats extra-européens.

Les contestations éventuelles sur la question de savoir quels sont les Membres ayant l'importance industrielle la plus considérable seront tranchées par le Conseil de la Société des Nations.

Les personnes représentant les patrons et les personnes représentant les ouvriers seront élues respectivement par les délégués patronaux et les délégués ouvriers à la Conférence. Deux représentants des patrons et deux représentants des ouvriers devront appartenir à des Etats extra-européens.

Le Conseil sera renouvelé tous les trois ans.

La manière de pourvoir aux sièges vacants, la désignation des suppléants et les autres questions de même nature pourront être réglées par le Conseil sous réserve de l'approbation de la Conférence.

CHAPITRE II.

Procedure.

Fonctionnement.

ARTICLE 400.

Agenda for meetings.

Le Conseil d'administration établira l'ordre du jour des sessions de la Conférence après avoir examiné toutes propositions faites par le Gouvernement d'un des Membres ou par toute autre organisation visée à l'article 389 au sujet des matières à inscrire à cet ordre du jour.

Ante, p. 2714.

ARTICLE 401.

Secretary of Conference; duty respecting agenda.

Le Directeur remplira les fonctions de Secrétaire de la Conférence, et devra faire parvenir l'ordre du jour de chaque session, quatre mois avant l'ouverture de cette session, à chacun des Membres, et, par l'intermédiaire de ceux-ci, aux délégués non gouvernementaux, lorsque ces derniers auront été désignés.

CHAPTER II.

Procedure.

ARTICLE 400.

The agenda for all meetings of the Conference will be settled by the Governing Body, who shall consider any suggestion as to the agenda that may be made by the Government of any of the Members or by any representative organisation recognised for the purpose of Article 389.

ARTICLE 401.

The Director shall act as the Secretary of the Conference, and shall transmit the agenda so as to reach the Members four months before the meeting of the Conference, and, through them, the non-Government Delegates when appointed.

ARTICLE 402.

Chacun des Gouvernements des Membres aura le droit de contester l'inscription, à l'ordre du jour de la session, de l'un ou plusieurs des sujets prévus. Les motifs justifiant cette opposition devront être exposés dans un mémoire explicatif adressé au Directeur, lequel devra le communiquer aux Membres de l'Organisation permanente.

Les sujets auxquels il aura été fait opposition resteront néanmoins inclus à l'ordre du jour si la Conférence en décide ainsi à la majorité des deux-tiers des suffrages exprimés par les délégués présents.

Toute question au sujet de laquelle la Conférence décide, à la même majorité des deux-tiers, qu'elle doit être examinée (autrement que prévu dans l'alinéa précédent), sera portée à l'ordre du jour de la session suivante.

ARTICLE 403.

La Conférence formulera les règles de son fonctionnement; elle élira son président; elle pourra nommer des commissions chargées de présenter des rapports sur toutes questions qu'elle estimera devoir mettre à l'étude.

La simple majorité des suffrages exprimés par les membres présents de la Conférence décidera dans tous les cas où une majorité plus forte n'est pas spécialement prévue par d'autres articles de la présente Partie du présent Traité.

Aucun vote n'est acquis si le nombre des suffrages exprimés est inférieur à la moitié du nombre des délégués présents à la session.

ARTICLE 402.

Filing, etc., objections.

Any of the Governments of the Members may formally object to the inclusion of any item or items in the agenda. The grounds for such objection shall be set forth in a reasoned statement addressed to the Director, who shall circulate it to all the Members of the Permanent Organisation.

Items to which such objection has been made shall not, however, be excluded from the agenda, if at the Conference a majority of two-thirds of the votes cast by the Delegates present is in favour of considering them.

If the Conference decides (otherwise than under the preceding paragraph) by two-thirds of the votes cast by the Delegates present that any subject shall be considered by the Conference, that subject shall be included in the agenda for the following meeting.

ARTICLE 403.

Conduct of procedure.

The Conference shall regulate its own procedure, shall elect its own President, and may appoint committees to consider and report on any matter.

Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Part of the present Treaty, all matters shall be decided by a simple majority of the votes cast by the Delegates present.

The voting is void unless the total number of votes cast is equal to half the number of the Delegates attending the Conference.

ARTICLE 404.

Experts to committees.

La Conférence pourra adjoindre aux Commissions qu'elle constitue des conseillers techniques qui auront voix consultative mais non délibérative.

ARTICLE 404.

The Conference may add to any committees which it appoints technical experts, who shall be assessors without power to vote.

ARTICLE 405.

Proposals.

Si la Conférence se prononce pour l'adoption de propositions relatives à un objet à l'ordre du jour, elle aura à déterminer si ces propositions devront prendre la forme: a) d'une "recommandation" à soumettre à l'examen des Membres, en vue de lui faire porter effet sous forme de loi nationale ou autrement; b) ou bien d'un projet de convention internationale à ratifier par les Membres.

Dans les deux cas, pour qu'une recommandation ou qu'un projet de convention soient adoptés au vote final par la Conférence, une majorité des deux-tiers des voix des délégués présents est requise.

Recommendations or draft convention.

En formant une recommandation ou un projet de convention d'une application générale, la Conférence devra avoir égard aux pays dans lesquels le climat, le développement incomplet de l'organisation industrielle ou d'autres circonstances particulières rendent les conditions de l'industrie essentiellement différentes, et elle aura à suggérer telles modifications qu'elle considérerait comme pouvant être nécessaires pour répondre aux conditions propres à ces pays.

Un exemplaire de la recommandation ou du projet de convention sera signé par le Président de la Conférence et le Directeur et sera déposé entre les mains du Secré-

ARTICLE 405.

When the Conference has decided on the adoption of proposals with regard to an item in the agenda, it will rest with the Conference to determine whether these proposals should take the form: (a) of a recommendation to be submitted to the Members for consideration with a view to effect being given to it by national legislation or otherwise, or (b) of a draft international convention for ratification by the Members.

In either case a majority of two-thirds of the votes cast by the Delegates present shall be necessary on the final vote for the adoption of the recommendation or draft convention, as the case may be, by the Conference.

In framing any recommendation or draft convention of general application the Conference shall have due regard to those countries in which climatic conditions, the imperfect development of industrial organisation or other special circumstances make the industrial conditions substantially different and shall suggest the modifications, if any, which it considers may be required to meet the case of such countries.

A copy of the recommendation or draft convention shall be authenticated by the signature of the President of the Conference and of the Director and shall be deposited taire général de la Société des Nations. Celui-ci communiquera une copie certifiée conforme de la recommandation ou du projet de convention à chacun des Membres.

Chacun des Membres s'engage à soumettre dans le délai d'un an à partir de la clôture de la session de la Conférence (ou, si par suite de circonstances exceptionnelles, il est impossible de procéder dans un délai d'un an, dès qu'il sera possible, mais jamais plus de dix-huit mois après la clôture de la session de la Conférence), la recommandation ou le projet de convention à l'autorité ou aux autorités dans la compétence desquelles rentre la matière, en vue de la transformer en loi ou de prendre des mesures d'un autre ordre.

S'il s'agit d'une recommandation, les Membres informeront le Secrétaire général des mesures prises.

S'il s'agit d'un projet de convention, le Membre qui aura obtenu le consentement de l'autorité ou des autorités compétentes, communiquera sa ratification formelle de la convention au Secrétaire général et prendra telles mesures qui seront nécessaires pour rendre effectives les dispositions de ladite convention.

Si une recommandation n'est pas suivie d'un acte législatif ou d'autres mesures de nature à rendre effective cette recommandation ou bien si un projet de convention ne rencontre pas l'assentiment de l'autorité ou des autorités dans la compétence desquelles rentre la matière, le Membre ne sera soumis à aucune autre obligation.

with the Secretary-General of the League of Nations. The Secretary-General will communicate a certified copy of the recommendation or draft convention to each of the Members.

Each of the Members undertakes that it will, within the period of one year at most from the closing of the session of the Conference, or if it is impossible owing to exceptional circumstances to do so within the period of one year, then at the earliest practicable moment and in no case later than eighteen months from the closing of the session of the Conference, bring the recommendation or draft convention before the authority or authorities within whose competence the matter lies, for the enactment of legislation or other action.

In the case of a recommendation, the Members will inform the Secretary-General of the action taken.

In the case of a draft convention, the Member will, if it obtains the consent of the authority or authorities within whose competence the matter lies, communicate the formal ratification of the convention to the Secretary-General and will take such action as may be necessary to make effective the provisions of such convention.

If on a recommendation no legislative or other action is taken to make a recommendation effective, or if the draft convention fails to obtain the consent of the authority or authorities within whose competence the matter lies, no further obligation shall rest upon the Member.

Dans le cas où il s'agit d'un Etat fédératif dont le pouvoir d'adhérer à une convention sur des objets concernant le travail est soumis à certaines limitations, le Gouvernement aura le droit de considérer un projet de convention auquel s'appliquent ces limitations comme une simple recommandation et les dispositions du présent article en ce qui regarde les recommandations s'appliqueront dans ce cas.

L'article ci-dessus sera interprété en conformité du principe suivant:

En aucun cas il ne sera demandé à aucun des Membres, comme conséquence de l'adoption par la Conférence d'une recommandation ou d'un projet de convention, de diminuer la protection déjà accordée par sa législation aux travailleurs dont il s'agit.

In the case of a federal State, the power of which to enter into conventions on labour matters is subject to limitations, it shall be in the discretion of that Government to treat a draft convention to which such limitations apply as a recommendation only, and the provisions of this Article with respect to recommendations shall apply in such case.

The above Article shall be interpreted in accordance with the following principle:

In no case shall any Member be asked or required, as a result of the adoption of any recommendation or draft convention by the Conference, to lessen the protection afforded by its existing legislation to the workers concerned.

ARTICLE 406.

Effect of ratification.

Toute convention ainsi ratifiée sera enregistrée par le Secrétaire général de la Société des Nations, mais ne liera que les Membres qui l'ont ratifiée.

ARTICLE 406.

Any convention so ratified shall be registered by the Secretary-General of the League of Nations, but shall only be binding upon the Members which ratify it.

ARTICLE 407.

Convention failing to secure necessary votes.

Tout projet qui, dans le scrutin final sur l'ensemble, ne recueillera pas la majorité des deux tiers des suffrages exprimés par les membres présents peut faire l'objet d'une convention particulière entre ceux des Membres de l'Organisation permanente qui en ont le désir.

Toute convention particulière de cette nature devra être communiquée par les Gouvernements intéressés au Secrétaire général de la Société des Nations, lequel la fera enregistrer.

ARTICLE 407.

If any convention coming before the Conference for final consideration fails to secure the support of two-thirds of the votes cast by the Delegates present, it shall nevertheless be within the right of any of the Members of the Permanent Organisation to agree to such convention among themselves.

Any convention so agreed to shall be communicated by the Governments concerned to the Secretary-General of the League of Nations, who shall register it.

ARTICLE 408.

Chacun des Membres s'engage à présenter au Bureau international du Travail un rapport annuel sur les mesures prises par lui pour mettre à exécution les conventions auxquelles elle a adhéré. Ces rapports seront rédigés sous la forme indiquée par le Conseil d'administration et devront contenir les précisions demandées par ce dernier. Le Directeur présentera un résumé de ces rapports à la plus prochaine session de la Conférence.

ARTICLE 408.

Reports.

Each of the Members agrees to make an annual report to the International Labour Office on the measures which it has taken to give effect to the provisions of conventions to which it is a party. These reports shall be made in such form and shall contain such particulars as the Governing Body may request. The Director shall lay a summary of these reports before the next meeting of the Conference.

ARTICLE 409.

Toute réclamation adressée au Bureau international du Travail par une organisation professionnelle ouvrière ou patronale et aux termes de laquelle l'un quelconque des Membres n'aurait pas assuré d'une manière satisfaisante l'exécution d'une convention à laquelle ledit Membre a adhéré, pourra être transmise par le Conseil d'administration au Gouvernement mis en cause et ce Gouvernement pourra être invité à faire sur la matière telle déclaration qu'il jugera convenable.

ARTICLE 409.

Reports of failure to observe treaty provisions.

In the event of any representation being made to the International Labour Office by an industrial association of employers or of workers that any of the Members has failed to secure in any respect the effective observance within its jurisdiction of any convention to which it is a party, the Governing Body may communicate this representation to the Government against which it is made and may invite that Government to make such statement on the subject as it may think fit.

ARTICLE 410.

Si aucune déclaration n'est reçue du Gouvernement mis en cause dans un délai raisonnable, ou si la déclaration reçue ne paraît pas satisfaisante au Conseil d'administration, ce dernier aura le droit de rendre publique la réclamation reçue et, le cas échéant, la réponse faite.

ARTICLE 410.

Action, if no satisfactory statement received.

If no statement is received within a reasonable time from the Government in question, or if the statement when received is not deemed to be satisfactory by the Governing Body, the latter shall have the right to publish the representation and the statement, if any, made in reply to it.

ARTICLE 411.

Chacun des Membres pourra déposer une plainte au Bureau international du Travail contre un autre Membre qui, à son avis,

ARTICLE 411.

Complaints.

Any of the Members shall have the right to file a complaint with the International Labour Office if it is not satisfied that any other n'assurerait pas d'une manière satisfaisante l'exécution d'une convention que l'un et l'autre auraient ratifiée en vertu des articles précédents.

Le Conseil d'administration peut, s'il le juge à propos, et avant de saisir une Commission d'enquête selon la procédure indiquée ci-après, se mettre en rapports avec le Gouvernement mis en cause de la manière indiquée à l'article 409.

Si le Conseil d'administration ne juge pas nécessaire de communiquer la plainte au Gouvernement mis en cause, ou, si cette communication ayant été faite, aucune réponse ayant satisfait le Conseil d'administration n'a été reçue dans un délai raisonnable, le Conseil pourra provoquer la formation d'une commission d'enquête qui aura mission d'étudier la question soulevée et de déposer un rapport à ce sujet.

La même procédure pourra être engagée par le Conseil, soit d'office, soit sur la plainte d'un délégué à la Conférence.

Lorsqu'une question soulevée par l'application des articles 410 ou 411 viendra devant le Conseil d'administration, le Gouvernement mis en cause, s'il n'a pas déjà un représentant au sein du Conseil d'administration, aura le droit de désigner un délégué pour prendre part aux délibérations du Conseil relatives à cette affaire. La date à laquelle ces discussions doivent avoir lieu sera notifiée en temps utile au Gouvernement mis en cause.

ARTICLE 412.

Commission of Enquiry.

La Commission d'enquête sera constituée de la manière suivante:

Member is securing the effective observance of any convention which both have ratified in accordance with the foregoing Articles.

The Governing Body may, if it thinks fit, before referring such a complaint to a Commission of Enquiry, as hereinafter provided for, communicate with the Government in question in the manner described in Article 409.

If the Governing Body does not think it necessary to communicate the complaint to the Government in question, or if, when they have made such communication, no statement in reply has been received within a reasonable time which the Governing Body considers to be satisfactory, the Governing Body may apply for the appointment of a Commission of Enquiry to consider the complaint and to report thereon.

The Governing Body may adopt the same procedure either of its own motion or on receipt of a complaint from a Delegate to the Conference.

When any matter arising out of Articles 410 or 411 is being considered by the Governing Body, the Government in question shall, if not already represented thereon, be entitled to send a representative to take part in the proceedings of the Governing Body while the matter is under consideration. Adequate notice of the date on which the matter will be considered shall be given to the Government in question.

ARTICLE 412.

The Commission of Enquiry shall be constituted in accordance with the following provisions:

Chacun des Membres s'engage à désigner, dans les six mois qui suivront la date de mise en vigueur du présent Traité, trois personnes compétentes en matières industrielles, la première représentant les patrons, la deuxième représentant les travailleurs et la troisième indépendante des uns et des autres. L'ensemble de ces personnes formera une liste sur laquelle seront choisis les membres de la Commission d'enquête.

Le Conseil d'administration aura le droit de vérifier les titres desdites personnes et de refuser, à la majorité des deux tiers des suffrages exprimés par les représentants présents, la nomination de celles dont les titres ne satisferaient pas aux prescriptions du présent article.

Sur la demande du Conseil d'administration, le Secrétaire général de la Société des Nations désignera trois personnes respectivement choisies dans chacune des trois catégories de la liste pour constituer la Commission d'enquête et désignera, en outre, l'une de ces trois personnes pour présider ladite Commission. Aucune des trois personnes ainsi désignées ne pourra relever d'un des Membres directement intéressés à la plainte.

ARTICLE 413.

Dans le cas où une plainte serait renvoyée, en vertu de l'article 411, devant une Commission d'enquête, chacun des Membres, qu'il soit ou non directement intéressé à la plainte, s'engage à mettre à la disposition de la Commission toute information qui se trouverait en sa possession relativement à l'objet de la plainte.

Each of the Members agrees to nominate within six months of the date on which the present Treaty comes into force three persons of industrial experience, of whom one shall be a representative of employers, one a representative of workers, and one a person of independent standing, who shall together form a panel from which the Members of the Commission of Enquiry shall be drawn.

The qualifications of the persons so nominated shall be subject to scrutiny by the Governing Body, which may by two-thirds of the votes cast by the representatives present refuse to accept the nomination of any person whose qualifications do not in its opinion comply with the requirements of the present Article.

Upon the application of the Governing Body, the Secretary-General of the League of Nations shall nominate three persons, one from each section of this panel, to constitute the Commission of Enquiry, and shall designate one of them as the President of the Commission. None of these three persons shall be a person nominated to the panel by any Member directly concerned in the complaint.

ARTICLE 413.

Information to be furnished.

ARTICLE 414.

La Commission d'enquête, après un examen approfondi de la plainte, rédigera un rapport dans lequel elle consignera ses constatations sur tous les points de fait permettant de préciser la portée de la contestation, ainsi que les recommandations qu'elle croira devoir formuler quant aux mesures à prendre pour donner satisfaction au Gouvernement plaignant et quant aux délais dans lesquels ces mesures devraient être prises.

Ce rapport indiquera également, le cas échéant, les sanctions d'ordre économique contre le Gouvernement mis en cause que la Commission jugerait convenables et dont l'application par les autres Gouvernements lui paraîtrait justifiée.

ARTICLE 414.

When the Commission of Enquiry has fully considered the complaint, it shall prepare a report embodying its findings on all questions of fact relevant to determining the issue between the parties and containing such recommendations as it may think proper as to the steps which should be taken to meet the complaint and the time within which they should be taken.

It shall also indicate in this report the measures, if any, of an economic character against a defaulting Government which it considers to be appropriate, and which it considers other Governments would be justified in adopting.

ARTICLE 415.

Le Secrétaire général de la Société des Nations communiquera le rapport de la Commission d'enquête à chacun des Gouvernements intéressés dans le différend et en assurera la publication.

Reference to Permanent Court of International Justice.

Chacun des Gouvernements intéressés devra signifier au Secrétaire général de la Société des Nations, dans le délai d'un mois, s'il accepte ou non les recommandations contenues dans le rapport de la Commission, et, au cas où il ne les accepte pas, s'il désire soumettre le différend à la Cour permanente de justice internationale de la Société des Nations.

ARTICLE 415.

The Secretary-General of the League of Nations shall communicate the report of the Commission of Enquiry to each of the Governments concerned in the complaint, and shall cause it to be published.

Each of these Governments shall within one month inform the Secretary-General of the League of Nations whether or not it accepts the recommendations contained in the report of the Commission; and if not, whether it proposes to refer the complaint to the Permanent Court of International Justice of the League of Nations.

ARTICLE 418.

Les conclusions ou recommandations éventuelles de la Commission d'enquête pourront être confirmées, amendées ou annulées par la Cour permanente de justice internationale, laquelle devra, le cas échéant, indiquer les sanctions d'ordre économique, qu'elle croirait convenable de prendre à l'encontre d'un Gouvernement en faute, et dont l'application par les autres Gouvernements lui paraîtrait justifiée.

ARTICLE 418.

Powers of Court.

The Permanent Court of International Justice may affirm, vary or reverse any of the findings or recommendations of the Commission of Enquiry, if any, and shall in its decision indicate the measures, if any, of an economic character which it considers to be appropriate, and which other Governments would be justified in adopting against a defaulting Government.

ARTICLE 419.

Si un Membre quelconque ne se conforme pas dans le délai prescrit aux recommandations éventuellement contenues soit dans le rapport de la Commission d'enquête, soit dans la décision de la Cour permanente de justice internationale, tout autre Membre pourra appliquer audit Membre les sanctions d'ordre économique que le rapport de la Commission ou la décision de la Cour auront déclarées applicables en l'espèce.

ARTICLE 419.

Executing Commission's recommendations.

In the event of any Member failing to carry out within the time specified the recommendations, if any, contained in the report of the Commission of Enquiry, or in the decision of the Permanent Court of International Justice, as the case may be, any other Member may take against that Member the measures of an economic character indicated in the report of the Commission or in the decision of the Court as appropriate to the case.

Dans ce cas les stipulations des articles 412, 413, 414, 415, 417 et 418 s'appliqueront, et si le rapport de la Commission d'enquête ou la décision de la Cour permanente de Justice internationale sont favorables au Gouvernement en faute, les autres Gouvernements devront aussitôt rapporter les mesures d'ordre économique qu'ils auront prises à l'encontre dudit Etat.

Section II.

PRINCIPES GENERAUX.

ARTICLE 427.

Les Hautes Parties Contractantes, reconnaissant que le bien-être physique, moral et intellectuel des travailleurs salariés est d'une importance essentielle au point de vue international, ont établi pour parvenir à ce but élevé, l'organisme permanent prévu à la Section I et associé à celui de la Société des Nations.

Section II.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES. General principles.

ARTICLE 427.

The High Contracting Parties, recognising that the well-being, physical, moral and intellectual, of industrial wage-earners is of supreme international importance, have framed, in order to further this great end, the permanent machinery provided for in Section I and associated with that of the League of Nations.

Elles reconnaissent que les différences de climat, de moeurs et d'usages, d'opportunité économique et de tradition industrielle rendent difficile à atteindre, d'une manière immédiate, l'uniformité absolue dans les conditions du travail. Mais, persuadées qu'elles sont que le travail ne doit pas être considéré simplement comme un article de commerce, elles pensent qu'il y a des méthodes et des principes pour la réglementation des conditions du travail que toutes les communautés industrielles devraient s'efforcer d'appliquer, autant que les circonstances spéciales dans lesquelles elles pourraient se trouver, le permettraient.

They recognise that differences of climate, habits and customs, of economic opportunity and industrial tradition, make strict uniformity in the conditions of labour difficult of immediate attainment. But, holding as they do, that labour should not be regarded merely as an article of commerce, they think that there are methods and principles for regulating labour conditions which all industrial communities should endeavour to apply, so far as their special circumstances will permit.

Methods, etc.

Parmi ces méthodes et principes, les suivants paraissent aux Hautes Parties Contractantes être d'une importance particulière et urgente:

1. Le principe dirigeant ci-dessus énonce que le travail ne doit pas être considéré simplement comme une marchandise ou un article de commerce.

2. Le droit d'association en vue de tous objets non contraires aux lois, aussi bien pour les salariés que pour les employeurs.

3. Le payement aux travailleurs d'un salaire leur assurant un niveau de vie convenable tel qu'on le comprend dans leur temps et dans leur pays.

4. L'adoption de la journée de huit heures ou de la semaine de quarante-huit heures comme but à atteindre partout où il n'a pas encore été obtenu.

5. L'adoption d'un repos hebdomadaire de vingt-quatre heures au minimum, qui devrait comprendre le dimanche toutes les fois que ce sera possible.

Among these methods and principles, the following seem to the High Contracting Parties to be of special and urgent importance:

First.—The guiding principle above enunciated that labour should not be regarded merely as a commodity or article of commerce.

Second.—The right of association for all lawful purposes by the employed as well as by the employers.

Third.—The payment to the employed of a wage adequate to maintain a reasonable standard of life as this is understood in their time and country.

Fourth.—The adoption of an eight hours day or a forty-eight hours week as the standard to be aimed at where it has not already been attained.

Fifth.—The adoption of a weekly rest of at least twenty-four hours, which should include Sunday wherever practicable.

6. La suppression du travail des enfants et l'obligation d'apporter au travail des jeunes gens des deux sexes les limitations nécessaires pour leur permettre de continuer leur éducation et d'assurer leur développement physique.

7. Le principe du salaire égal, sans distinction de sexe, pour un travail de valeur égale.

8. Les règles édictées dans chaque pays au sujet des conditions du travail devront assurer un traitement économique équitable à tous les travailleurs résidant légalement dans le pays.

9. Chaque Etat devra organiser un service d'inspection, qui comprendra des femmes, afin d'assurer l'application des lois et règlements pour la protection des travailleurs.

Sans proclamer que ces principes et ces méthodes sont ou complets, ou définitifs, les Hautes Parties Contractantes sont d'avis qu'ils sont propres à guider la politique de la Société des Nations; et que, s'ils sont adoptés par les communautés industrielles qui sont membres de la Société des Nations, et s'ils sont maintenus intacts dans la pratique par un corps approprié d'inspecteurs, ils répandront des bienfaits permanents sur les salariés du monde.

Sixth.—The abolition of child labour and the imposition of such limitations on the labour of young persons as shall permit the continuation of their education and assure their proper physical development.

Seventh.—The principle that men and women should receive equal remuneration for work of equal value.

Eighth.—The standard set by law in each country with respect to the conditions of labour should have due regard to the equitable economic treatment of all workers lawfully resident therein.

Ninth.—Each State should make provision for a system of inspection in which women should take part, in order to ensure the enforcement of the laws and regulations for the protection of the employed.

Without claiming that these methods and principles are either complete or final, the High Contracting Parties are of opinion that they are well fitted to guide the policy of the League of Nations; and that, if adopted by the industrial communities who are Members of the League, and safeguarded in practice by an adequate system of such inspection, they will confer lasting benefits upon the wage-earners of the world.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Providing for membership of the United States in the International Labor Organization.

International Labor Organization. Preamble.

Whereas progress toward the solution of the problems of international competition in industry can be made through international action concerning the welfare of wage earners; and

Vol. 48, p. 1182.

Whereas the failure of a nation to establish humane conditions of labor is an obstacle in the way of other nations which desire to maintain and improve the conditions in their own countries; and

Whereas the United States early recognized the desirability of international cooperation in matters pertaining to labor and took part in 1900 in establishing, and for many years thereafter supported, the International Association for Labor Legislation; and

Whereas the International Labor Organization has advanced the welfare of labor throughout the world through studies, recommendations, conferences, and conventions concerning conditions of labor; and

Whereas other nations have joined the International Labor Organization without being members of the League of Nations; and

Whereas special provision has been made in the constitution of the International Labor Organization by which membership of the United States would not impose or be deemed to impose any obligation or agreement upon the United States to accept the proposals of that body as involving anything more than recommendations for its consideration: Therefore be it

President authorized to accept membership therein.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the President is hereby authorized to accept membership for the Government of the United States of America in the International Labor Organization, which, through its general conference of representatives of its members and through its International Labor Office, collects information concerning labor throughout the world and prepares international conventions for the consideration of member governments with a view to improving conditions of labor.

No obligation assumed under covenant of League of Nations.

A cet effet, chacune des Administrations en cause choisit un autre membre de l'Union qui n'est pas directement intéressé dans l'affaire.

By International Bureau on default.

Au cas où l'une des Administrations en désaccord ne donne pas suite à une proposition d'arbitrage dans le délai de six mois, ou de neuf mois pour les Pays éloignés, le Bureau international, si la demande lui en est faite, provoque à son tour la désignation d'un arbitre par l'Administration défaillante ou en désigne un lui-même, d'office.

ARTICLE 11

Arbitration

1. In case of disagreement between two or more members of the Union as to the interpretation of the Convention and Agreements, or as to the responsibility imposed upon an Administration by the application of those Acts, the question in dispute is settled by arbitration. To that end, each of the Administrations concerned chooses another member of the Union which is not directly interested in the matter.

If one of the Administrations involved in the dispute does not take any action on a proposal for arbitration within a period of six months, or nine months in the case of distant countries, the International Bureau, if a request is made of it to that effect, calls upon the defaulting Administration to appoint an arbitrator, or appoints one itself officially.

2. The decision of the arbitrators is made on an absolute majority of votes.

3. In case of a tie vote, the arbitrators, for the purpose of settling the difference, choose another Administration which likewise has no interest in the dispute.

In case of disagreement as to a choice, that Administration is designated by the International Bureau from among the members of the Union not proposed by the arbitrators.

4. If it is a question of a dispute concerning one of the Agreements, only such Administrations as execute that Agreement may be designated as arbitrators.

ARTICLE 12

Withdrawal from the Union. Termination of participation in the Agreements

Chaque Pays se fait représenter au Congrès par un ou plusieurs délégués plénipotentiaires munis, par leur Gouvernement, des pouvoirs nécessaires. Il peut, au besoin, se faire représenter par la délégation d'un autre Pays. Toutefois, il est entendu qu'une délégation ne peut être chargée que de la représentation de deux Pays, y compris celui qui l'a primitivement accréditée.

Dans les délibérations, chaque Pays dispose d'une seule voix.

2.—Chaque Congrès fixe le lieu de réunion du Congrès suivant. Celui-c est convoqué par les soins du Gouvernement du Pays dans lequel il doit avoir lieu, après entente avec le Bureau international. Ce Gouvernement est également chargé de la notification à tous les Gouvernements des Pays de l'Union des décisions prises par le Congrès.

Ratifications of Acts of Congresses.

The Acts of Congresses are ratified as soon as possible, and the ratifications are communicated to the Government of the country where the Congress was held, and by that Government to the Governments of the contracting countries.

Validity.

Dans le cas où une ou plusieurs des Parties contractantes ne ratifieraient pas l'un ou l'autre des Actes signés par elles, ceux-ci n'en seraient pas moins valables pour les Etats qui les auront ratifiés.

Effect and duration.

Ces Actes sont mis à exécution simultanément et ont la même durée.

Dès le jour fixé pour la mise à exécution des Actes adoptés par un Congrès, tous les Actes du Congrès précédent sont abrogés.

In case that one or more of the contracting countries do not ratify one or another of the Acts signed by them, the latter will nevertheless be valid for the countries which have ratified them.

Those Acts are put into effect simultaneously and have the same duration.

From the date fixed for the entry into force of the Acts adopted by a Congress, all the Acts of the preceding Congress are abrogated.

Le même droit est accordé aux Administrations des Pays participant aux Arrangements en ce qui concerne ces Arrangements, leurs Règlements et leurs Protocoles finals.

Pour être mises en délibération, toutes les propositions introduites par une Administration dans l'intervalle des réunions doivent être appuyées par au moins deux autres Administrations. Ces propositions restent sans suite lorsque le Bureau international ne reçoit pas, en même temps, le nombre nécessaire de déclarations d'appui.

Fixing of responsibility

1. Until the contrary is proved, responsibility for the loss of a registered article falls on the Administration which, having received the article without making any servation et étant mise en possession de tous les moyens réglementaires d'investigation, ne peut établir ni la délivrance au destinataire ni, s'il y a lieu, la transmission régulière à l'Administration suivante.

Une Administration intermédiaire ou destinataire est, jusqu'à preuve du contraire, dégagée de toute responsabilité:

a) lorsqu'elle a observé les dispositions de l'article 159, § 3, du Règlement;

b) lorsqu'elle peut établir qu'elle n'a été saisie de la réclamation qu'après la destruction des documents de service relatifs à l'envoi recherché, le délai de garde prévu à l'article 177 du Règlement ètant expiré; cette réserve ne porte pas atteinte aux droits du réclamant.

Toutefois, si la perte a eu lieu en cours de transport sans qu'il soit possible d'établir sur le territoire ou dans le service de quel pays le fait s'est accompli, les Administrations en cause supportent le dommage par parts égales.

2.—Lorsqu'un objet recommandé a été perdu dans des circonstances de force majeure, l'Administration sur le territoire ou dans le service de laquelle la perte a eu lieu n'en est responsable envers l'Administration expéditrice que si les deux pays se chargent des risques dérivant du cas de force majeure.

3.—Les droits de douane et autres dont l'annulation n'a pu être obtenue tombent à la charge des Administrations responsables de la perte.

4.—L'Administration qui a effectué le payement de l'indemnité est subrogée, jusqu'à concurrence du montant de cette indemnité, dans les droits de la personne qui l'a reçue, pour tout recours éventuel, soit contre le destinataire, soit contre l'expéditeur ou contre destiers.

5.—En cas de découverte ultérieure d'un envoi recommandé considéré comme perdu, la personne à qui l'indemnité a été payée doit être avisée qu'elle peut observations, and, being furnished all particulars of inquiry prescribed by the regulations, can not establish either delivery to the addressee or regular transmission to the next Administration, as the case may be.

Release of intermediate, etc., Administration.

An Administration of intermediation or destination is, until the contrary is proved, released from all responsibility:

Verification observed. Post, p. 2853.

(a) When it has observed the provisions of Article 159, Section 3, of the Regulations;

Inquiry received after records destroyed. Post, p. 2874.

(b) When it can establish that it did not receive the inquiry until after the destruction of the service records relating to the article sought, the retention-period prescribed by Article 177 of the Regulations having expired; this reservation does not affect the rights of the claimant.

When place of loss cannot be determined.

However, if the loss has taken place in the course of transmission, without its being possible to determine on the territory or in the service of what country the loss occurred, the Administrations concerned bear the loss in equal shares.

Loss by force majeure.

2. When a registered article has been lost under circumstances of force majeure, the Administration on whose territory or in whose service the loss took place is not responsible therefor to the Administration of origin unless both countries undertake risks arising from cases of force majeure.

Customs, etc., duties.

3. The customs duties and other charges whose cancelation it has been impossible to obtain are charged to the Administrations responsible for the loss.

Subrogation of rights to paying Administration.

4. The Administration which has effected payment of the indemnity is subrogated up to the amount of such indemnity in the rights of the person who has received it for all eventual recourse against the addressee, the sender, or third parties.

Subsequent recovery.

5. In case of subsequent recovery of a registered article considered as lost, the person to whom indemnity has been paid shall be advised that he may obtain pos-prendre possession de l'envoi contre restitution du montant de l'indemnité.

ARTICLE 62

Remboursement de l'indemnité à l'Administration expéditrice.

Repayment to Administration of origin.

1.—L'Administration responsable ou pour le compte de laquelle le payement est effectué en conformité de l'article 60 est tenue de rembourser à l'Administration expéditrice, dans un délai de trois mois à compter de l'envoi de la notification du payement, le montant de l'indemnité effectivement payée à expéditeur.

Ante, p. 2774.

Si l'indemnité doit être supportée par plusieurs Administrations en conformité de l'article 61, l'intégralité de l'indemnité due doit être versée à l'Administration expéditrice, dans le délai mentionné à l'alinéa précédent, par la première Administration qui, ayant dûment reçu l'envoi réclamé, ne peut en établir la transmission régulière au service correspondant. Il appartient à cette Administration de récupérer sur les autres Administrations responsables la quote-part éventuelle de chacune d'elles dans le dédommagement de l'ayant droit.

Method of reimbursement.

2.—Le remboursement à l'Administration créancière s'effectue sans frais pour cette Administration, soit au moyen d'un mandat de poste, d'un chèque ou d'une traite payable à vue sur la capitale ou sur une place commerciale du pays créancier, soit en espèces ayant cours dans ce pays.

Lorsque la responsabilité a été reconnue, de même que dans le cas prévu à l'article 60, § 2, le montant de l'indemnité peut également être repris d'office sur le pays responsable par la voie d'un décompte quelconque, soit directement, soit par l'intermédiaire d'une Administration qui échange régulièrement des décomptes avec l'Administration responsable.

session of the article upon repayment of the amount of the indemnity.

ARTICLE 62

Repayment of the indemnity to the Administration of origin

1. The Administration which is responsible, or on whose behalf payment is made in accordance with Article 60, is bound to reimburse the Administration of origin, within a period of three months, counted from the sending of the notification of payment, for the amount of indemnity actually paid to the sender.

If the indemnity must be paid by several Administrations in conformity with Article 61, the whole of the indemnity due must be turned over to the Administration of origin, within the period mentioned in the preceding paragraph, by the first Administration which, having duly received the article inquired about, can not establish its regular transmission to the corresponding service. It is incumbent upon that Administration to recover from the other responsible Administrations the eventual share of each of them in the indemnity paid to the rightful claimant.

2. The reimbursement of the creditor Administration is effected without expense for that Administration by means of either a money order, a check or a draft payable at sight on the capital or a commercial city of the creditor country, or in coin current in that country.

When responsibility has been acknowledged, as well as in the case contemplated by Article 60, Section 2, the amount of indemnity may likewise be recovered from the responsible country officially thru any account, either directly or thru the intermediary of an Administration which regularly exchanges accounts with the responsible Administration.

At the expiration of the period of three months, the sum due to péditrice est productive d'intérêt à raison de 5% l'an à compter du jour de l'expiration dudit délai.

3.—L'Administration d'origine ne peut réclamer le remboursement de l'indemnité à l'Administration responsable que dans le délai de deux ans à compter de l'envoi de la notification de la perte, ou, s'il y a lieu, du jour de l'expiration du délai prévu à l'article 60, § 2.

4.—L'Administration dont la responsabilité est dûment établie et qui a tout d'abord décliné le payement de l'indemnité doit prendre à sa charge tous les frais accessoires résultant du retard non justifié apporté au payement.

5.—Les Administrations peuvent s'entendre pour liquider périodiquement les indemnités qu'elles ont payées aux expéditeurs et dont elles ont reconnu le bien-fondé.

the Administration of origin bears interest at the rate of 5 per cent a year, counting from the date of expiration of the said period.

Time limit.

3. The Administration of origin may claim repayment of the indemnity from the responsible Administration only within the period of two years, counting from the date of sending the notification of the loss; or, if occasion arises, from the date of expiration of the period contemplated by Article 60, Section 2.

Ante, p. 2774.

Arrearage penalty.

4. An Administration whose responsibility is duly established and which has at first declined to pay the indemnity must bear all the additional expenses resulting from the unjustified delay in making payment.

Periodical settlements.

5. Administrations may agree among themselves to make periodical settlements of the indemnities which they have paid to the senders and the justness of which they have recognized.

a) une taxe fixe qui ne peut dépasser 50 centimes par envoi et un droit proportionnel de ½% au maximum du montant du remboursement, s'il désire que ce montant soit liquidé au moyen d'un mandat de remboursement émis gratuitement à son profit;

b) une taxe fixe de 25 centimes au maximum, s'il demande la liquidation au moyen d'un versement en compte courant postal dans le pays de destination de l'envoi.

Collection.

6.—Chaque Administration a la faculté d'adopter, pour la perception du droit proportionnel prévu au § 2, lettre a, l'échelle qui répond le mieux à ses convenances de service.

3. The method of settlement contemplated by Section 2, letter (b), is permitted only if the Administrations concerned undertake to apply such procedure for settlement. The Administration of destination turns over to the current account, by means of a domestic transfer bulletin, the amount collected from the addressee, after deducting a fixed fee of 25 centimes at most and the ordinary transfer fee applicable in its domestic service.

4. Irrespective of the method of settlement, the maximum amount of the C. O. D. charge is equal to that fixed for money orders addressed to the country of origin of the article.

5. In the absence of contrary agreement, the amount of the C. O. D. charge is expressed in money of the country of origin of the article. However, in case of transfer to a current postal-check account held in the country of destination of the article, such amount shall be indicated in money of that country.

6. Each Administration has the option of adopting, for the collection of the proportional fee contemplated by Section 2, letter (a), the scale which is most convenient for its service.

L'expéditeur d'un envoi recommandé grevé de remboursement peut demander le dégrèvement total ou partiel du montant du remboursement.

Si la demande de dégrèvement total ou partiel du montant du remboursement doit être transmise par voie télégraphique, la taxe du télégramme est augmentée de la taxe applicable à une lettre recommandée de port simple.

ARTICLE 64

The sender of a registered C. O. D. article may request total or partial cancelation of the amount to be collected.

ARTICLE 67

Indemnité en cas de non-encaissement du montant du remboursement, d'encaissement insuffisant ou frauduleux.

1.—Si l'envoi a été livré au destinataire sans encaissement du montant du remboursement, l'expéditeur a droit à une indemnité, pourvu qu'une réclamation ait été formulée dans le délai prévu à l'article 53, § 2, et à moins que le non-encaissement ne soit dû à une faute ou à une négligence de sa part, ou que le contenu de l'envoi ne tombe sous le coup des interdictions prévues aux articles 34, §§ 4 et 6, lettre c, et 46, § 1.

Il en est de même si la somme encaissée du destinataire est inférieure au montant du remboursement indiqué ou si l'encaissement a été effectué frauduleusement.

III

Avoirdupois ounce

It is agreed, as an exceptional measure, that countries which, on account of their domestic legislation, can not adopt the decimal metric system of weights, have the option of substituting therefor the avoidupois ounce (28.3465 grams), assimilating one ounce to 20 grams for letters and 2 ounces to 50 grams for commercial papers, prints, samples and small packets.

IV

RÈGLEMENT D'EXÉCUTION DE LA CONVENTION POSTALE UNIVERSELLE

Measures adopted. Ante, p. 2746.

Les soussignés, vu l'article 4 de la Convention postale universelle conclue au Caire le 20 mars 1934, ont, au nom de leurs Administrations respectives, arrêté, d'un commun accord, les mesures suivantes pour assurer l'exécution de ladite Convention:

TITRE I

General provisions.

DISPOSITIONS GÉNÉRALES.

CHAPITRE UNIQUE

ARTICLE 101

Transit en dépêches closes et transit à découvert.

Use of closed and open mails.

Les Administrations peuvent s'expédier réciproquement, par l'intermédiaire d'une ou de plusieurs d'entre elles, tant des dépêches closes que des correspondances à découvert, suivant les besoins du trafic et les convenances du service. La transmission des correspondances à découvert à une Administration intermédiaire doit se limiter strictement aux cas où la confection de dépêches closes ne se justifie pas.

Open mail to intermediate.

Administration limited.

ARTICLE 102

Echange en dépêches closes.

Exchange in closed mails.

1.—L'échange des correspondances en dépêches closes est réglé d'un commun accord entre les Administrations intéressées.

Il est obligatoire de former des dépêches closes toutes les fois qu'une des Administrations intermédiaires en fait la demande, se basant sur le fait que le nombre de correspondances à découvert est de nature à entraver ses opérations.

REGULATIONS OF EXECUTION OF THE UNIVERSAL POSTAL CONVENTION

The undersigned, in view of Article 4 of the Universal Postal Convention concluded at Cairo on March 20, 1934, have, in the name of their respective Administrations, drawn up, by common consent, the following measures to assure the execution of the said Convention:

TITLE I

GENERAL PROVISIONS

SOLE CHAPTER

ARTICLE 101

Transit in closed mails and transit in open mail

Administrations may send reciprocally, thru the intermediary of one or more of them, both closed mails and correspondence in open mail, in accordance with the needs of the traffic and the requirements of the service. The transmission of correspondence in open mail to an intermediate Administration must be limited strictly to cases where the preparation of closed mails is not justified.

ARTICLE 102

Exchange in closed mails

1. The exchange of correspondence in closed mails is governed by mutual agreement between the Administrations concerned.

It is obligatory to make up closed mails whenever one of the intermediate Administrations so requests, basing its request on the fact that the number of articles in open mail is such as to hinder its operations.

2.—Les Administrations par l'intermédiaire desquelles des dépêches closes sont à expédier doivent être prévenues en temps opportun.

3.—En cas de changement dans un service d'échange en dépêches closes établi entre deux Administrations par l'entremise d'un ou de plusieurs pays tiers, l'Administration qui a provoqué le changement en donne connaissance aux Administrations de ces pays.

ARTICLE 103

Acheminement des correspondances.

1.—Chaque Administration est obligée d'acheminer, par les voies les plus rapides qu'elle emploie pour ses propres envois, les dépêches closes et les correspondances à découvert qui lui sont livrées par une autre Administration.

Lorsqu'une dépêche se compose de plusieurs sacs, ceux-ci doivent, autant que possible, rester réunis et être acheminés par le même courrier.

Les objets de toute nature mal dirigés sont, sans aucun délai, réexpédiés sur leur destination par la voie la plus prompte.

2.—L'Administration du pays d'origine a la faculté d'indiquer la voie à suivre par les dépêches closes qu'elle expédie, pourvu que l'emploi de cette voie n'entraîne pas, pour une Administration intermédiaire, des frais spéciaux.

Sous la même réserve, les Administrations intervenant dans le transport doivent tenir compte de la voie à suivre portée par l'expéditeur sur les envois qui leur sont transmis à découvert.

3.—Les Administrations qui usent de la faculté de percevoir des taxes supplémentaires, en représentation des frais extraordinaires afférents à certaines voies, sont libres de ne pas diriger par ces voies les correspondances non ou insuffisamment affranchies.

2. The Administrations thru whose intermediary closed mails are to be exchanged shall be duly notified in advance

3. In case of alteration in an exchange of closed mails established between two Administrations thru the intermediary of one or more third countries, the Administration which has caused the change gives notice thereof to the Administrations of those countries.

ARTICLE 103

Routing of mails

Routing of mails.

1. Each Administration is bound to forward by the most rapid routes which it employs for its own dispatches the closed mails and articles in open mail which are delivered to it by another Administration.

When a mail is composed of several sacks, they shall, as far as possible, remain together and be forwarded in the same dispatch.

Missent articles of all kinds are forwarded without any delay to their destination by the most rapid route.

Optional routes may be designated.

Conversion du montant du remboursement.

Conversion of collections.

Sauf entente contraire, le montant du remboursement exprimé dans la monnaie du pays d'origine de l'envoi est converti en monnaie du pays destinataire par les soins de l'Administration de ce pays, qui se sert du taux de conversion dont elle fait usage pour les mandats de poste à destination du pays d'origine des envois.

ARTICLE 133

Divergence entre les indications du montant du remboursement.

Settlement of differences in delivery charges.

En cas de divergence entre les indications du montant du remboursement figurant sur l'envoi et sur le mandat, la somme la plus élevée doit être encaissée sur le destinataire.

ARTICLE 131

Transfer to a current postal-check account in the country of destination of the article

Every article whose amount, when collected, is to be turned over to a current postal-check account in the country of destination is accompanied, barring contrary agreement, by a transfer bulletin conforming to the model prescribed in the domestic service of that country. The bulletin shall designate the holder of the account to be credited, and shall contain all other information called for by the text of the form, with the exception of the amount to be credited, which will be entered by the Administration of destination after collecting the amount of the C. O. D. charge. If the transfer bulletin has a coupon, the sender mentions thereon his name and address, as well as such other information as he deems necessary.

The transfer bulletin is attached securely to the article.

ARTICLE 132

Conversion of the amount collected

Barring contrary agreement, the amount of the trade charge, expressed in money of the country of origin of the article, is converted into money of the country of destination by the Administration of that country, which makes use of the conversion rate which it employs for money orders destined for the country of origin of the articles.

ARTICLE 133

Difference between indications of the amount of the C. O. D. charge

In case of difference between the indications of the amount of the charge to be collected on delivery shown on the article and on the money order, the higher sum shall be collected from the addressee.

Si celui-ci refuse de verser cette somme, l'envoi peut être livré, sauf l'exception prévue ci-après, contre payement de la somme inférieure, mais sous réserve qu'un payement complémentaire sera effectué, s'il y a lieu, dès réception des renseignements qui seront fournis par l'Administration expéditrice. Si le destinataire n'accepte pas cette condition, il est sursis à la livraison de l'envoi.

Dans tous les cas, une demande de renseignements est transmise immédiatement à l'Administration expéditrice qui doit y répondre, dans le plus court délai possible, en précisant le montant exact du remboursement et en appliquant, le cas échéant, les prescriptions de l'article 135, § 2, ci-après.

Lorsque le destinataire est de passage ou doit s'absenter, le payement de la somme la plus élevée est toujours exigé. En cas de refus, l'envoi n'est livré qu'à la réception de la réponse à la demande de renseignements.

If the latter refuses to pay that sum, the article may be delivered, except as provided below, upon payment of the lower sum, but with the understanding that an additional payment is to be made, if necessary, upon receipt of the information to be furnished by the Administration of origin. If the addressee does not accept that condition, delivery of the article is postponed. Refusal to pay.

In all cases, a request for information is sent immediately to the Administration of origin, which shall reply thereto as soon as possible, stating the precise amount to be collected, and applying, if occasion arises, the provisions of Article 135, Section 2, hereafter.

When the addressee is traveling or must be away, payment of the higher sum is always required. In case of refusal, the article is not delivered until reply is received to the request for information. When addressee away.

ARTICLE 134

Délai de payement.

Le montant du remboursement doit être payé dans un délai de sept jours à compter du lendemain de l'arrivée de l'envoi au bureau destinataire. Ce délai peut être porté à un mois au maximum lorsque la législation interne du pays de destination l'exige. A l'expiration du délai de garde, l'objet est renvoyé au bureau d'origine. L'expéditeur peut toutefois demander, par une annotation, le retour immédiat de l'objet au cas où le destinataire ne payerait pas le montant du remboursement lors de la première présentation. Le renvoi immédiat a également lieu si de destinataire, lors de la présentation, a formellement refusé tout payement.

Period for payment

The amount to be collected shall be paid within a period of seven days, counting from the day following the arrival of the article at the office of destination. That period may be extended to one month at most when the domestic legislation of the country of destination so requires. At the expiration of the period of retention, the article is returned to the office of origin. The sender may, however, by an annotation, request the immediate return of the article in case that the addressee does not pay the amount of the C. O. D. charge when the article is first tendered for delivery. Immediate return is also effected if the addressee, on presentation, has formally refused to make any payment. Time for paying amount of order. Return to sender.

ARTICLE 135

Réduction ou annulation du remboursement.

Reduction, etc., of sums to be collected.

1.—Les demandes d'annulation ou de réduction du montant du remboursement sont soumises aux règles et formalités prescrites par l'article 148 ci-après.

Telegraphic requests.

S'il s'agit d'une demande télégraphique, celle-ci doit être confirmée, par le premier courrier, par une demande postale accompagnée du facsimilé dont il est question à l'article 148, § 1, ci-après, et portant en tête l'annotation soulignée au crayon de couleur "Confirmation de la demande télégraphique du . . .".

Post, p. 2840.

Dans ce cas, le bureau destinataire se borne à retenir l'envoi, à la réception du télégramme, et attend la confirmation postale pour faire droit à la demande.

Toutefois, l'Administration destinataire peut, sous sa propre responsabilité, donner suite à une demande télégraphique sans attendre cette confirmation.

Mail requests.

2.—Excepté le cas prévu à l'article 131, toute demande par voie postale de réduction du montant du remboursement doit être accompagnée d'une nouvelle formule de mandat de remboursement indiquant le montant rectifié.

Ante, p. 2828.

Forms.

Lorsqu'il s'agit d'une demande par voie télégraphique, le mandat de remboursement doit être remplacé par le bureau destinataire dans les conditions déterminées par l'article 138 ci-après.

ARTICLE 135

Reduction or cancelation of the amount to be collected on delivery

1. Requests for cancelation or reduction of the amount to be collected are subject to the rules and formalities prescribed by Article 148 hereafter.

In case of a telegraphic request, it shall be confirmed, by the first mail, by a postal request accompanied by the facsimile mentioned in Article 148, Section 1, hereafter, bearing at the head the notation, underlined in colored pencil: Confirmation de la demande télégraphique du . . . . . ." (confirmation of the telegraphic request of . . . . . .).

In that case, the office of destination merely holds the article on receipt of the telegram, and waits for confirmation by mail before complying with the request.

However, the Administration of destination may, on its own responsibility, comply with a telegraphic request without awaiting such confirmation.

2. Except in the case contemplated by Article 131, every request by mail for reduction of the amount to be collected on delivery shall be accompanied by a new C. O. D. money-order form indicating the correct amount.

In case of a request by telegraph, the C. O. D. money order shall be replaced by the office of destination under the conditions fixed by Article 138 hereafter.

Lorsqu'une demande de renseignements sur le montant exact du remboursement a été adressée à l'Administration d'origine, il est sursis à l'envoi du mandat jusqu'à la réception de la réponse.

ARTICLE 138

Cancelation or replacement of C. O. D. money-order or transfer-bulletin forms

Money-order and transfer-bulletin forms.

1. C. O. D. money-order forms which become useless because of difference between the indications of the amount to be collected or as a result of cancelation or reduction of the amount, as well as transfer-bulletin forms which have become useless in case of cancelation of the amount of the trade charge, are destroyed by the Administration of destination of the articles.

Post, p. 2895.

2. The forms relating to C. O. D. articles which are returned to origin for any reason shall be canceled by the Administration which effects the return.

3. When forms relating to C. O. D. articles are lost, misplaced or destroyed before the amounts of the trade charges are collected, the office of destination makes up duplicates on Form C 8, or on the transfer-bulletin form, as the case may be.

ARTICLE 139

Mandats de remboursement non délivrés ou non encaissés.

Undelivered or unpaid money orders.

Les mandats de remboursement qui n'ont pu être délivrés aux bénéficiaires sont, après avoir été éventuellement soumis à la formalité du visa pour date, quittancés par l'Administration d'origine des envois que ces titres concernent et portés en compte à l'Administration qui les a émis.

Il en est de même des mandats de remboursement qui ont été remis aux ayants droit, mais dont le montant n'a pas été encaissé. Toutefois, ces titres doivent, au préalable, être remplacés par des autorisations de payement dressées par l'Administration d'origine des mandats.

ARTICLE 139

In localities having several post offices, the stamp shall indicate which is the office of mailing.

Use of date stamp.

The application of the stamp contemplated in the preceding paragraphs is not obligatory for correspondence prepaid by means of impressions of stamping machines if the indication of the place of origin and date of mailing appears in such impressions. 4.—Le timbrage des correspondances déposées sur les navires incombe à l'agent des postes ou à l'officier du bord chargé du service ou, à leur défaut, au bureau de poste de l'escale auquel ces correspondances sont livrées à découvert. Dans ce cas, le bureau les frappe de son timbre à date et y appose la mention "Navire", "Paquebot" ou toute autre analogue.

3. Missent correspondence shall be struck with the impression of the date stamp of the office at which it arrives thru error. This obligation is imposed not only upon fixed post offices, but also upon traveling post offices as far as possible.

4. The postmarking of correspondence mailed on board ships is incumbent upon the postal agent or the officer on board in charge of the service, or in their absence upon the post office at the port of call where such correspondence is delivered in open mail. In such a case, the office strikes the articles with its date stamp and places on them the note Navire (ship), Paquebot (mail steamer), or a similar notation.

2. The application of the T-stamp, as well as the indication of the amount to be collected, is incumbent upon the Administrade réexpédition ou de mise en rebut, à l'Administration réexpéditrice.

Toutefois, s'il s'agit d'envois provenant de pays qui appliquent des taxes réduites dans les relations avec l'Administration réexpéditrice, le montant à percevoir est indiqué par l'Administration qui effectue la distribution.

3.—L'Administration de distribution frappe l'envoi de la taxe à percevoir.

4.—Tout envoi ne portant pas le timbre T est considéré comme dûment affranchi et traité en conséquence, sauf erreur évidente.

Toutefois, chaque Administration a le droit de faire effectuer, par des bureaux spécialement désignés, le renvoi des bulletins d'affranchissement grevés de frais et de demander que les bulletins soient transmis à un bureau déterminé.

Le nom du bureau auquel les bulletins doivent être renvoyés est inscrit, dans tous les cas, par le bureau expéditeur de l'envoi au recto du bulletin d'affranchissement.

Return of prepayment bulletins. Recovery of charges advanced Recovery of customs, etc., advances.

1. After the delivery to the addressee of an article free of charges, the office which has advanced the customs or other charges on behalf of the sender completes, in regard to itself, the indications which appear on the back of the prepayment bulletin, and transmits the latter, accompanied by the supporting papers, to the office of origin of the article; such transmission is effected in a sealed envelope, without indication of the contents.

Return of prepayment bulletins.

However, each Administration has the right to cause the return of prepayment bulletins bearing charges to be effected by offices specially designated, and to request that the bulletins be sent to a certain office.

The name of the office to which the bulletins are to be returned is indicated, in all cases, by the office of origin of the article on the front of the prepayment bulletin.

Duplicate bulletin substituted for lost original.

2.—Lorsqu'un envoi qui porte l'étiquette "Franc de droits" parvient au service destinataire sans bulletin d'affranchissement, le bureau chargé du dédouanement établit un duplicata du bulletin sur lequel il mentionne le nom du pays d'origine et, autant que possible, la date du dépôt de l'envoi.

Lorsque le bulletin d'affranchissement est perdu après livraison de l'envoi, un duplicata est établi dans les mêmes conditions.

Cancelation, on return of article.

3.—Les bulletins d'affranchissement afférents aux envois qui, pour un motif quelconque, sont renvoyés à l'origine doivent être annulés par les soins de l'Administration destinataire.

Currency conversion.

4.—A la réception d'un bulletin d'affranchissement indiquant les frais déboursés par le service destinataire, l'Administration d'origine convertit le montant de ces frais dans sa propre monnaie à un taux qui ne doit pas être supérieur au taux fixé pour l'émission des mandats de poste à destination du pays correspondant. Le résultat de la conversion est indiqué dans le corps de la formule et sur le coupon latéral. Après avoir recouvré le montant des frais, le bureau d'origine remet à l'expéditeur le coupon du bulletin et, le cas échéant, les pièces justificatives.

2. When an article bearing the label Franc de droits (free of charges) reaches the office of destination without any prepayment bulletin, the office charged with the customs clearance makes up a duplicate bulletin, on which it mentions the name of the country of origin and, as far as possible, the date of mailing of the article.

When the prepayment bulletin is lost after the delivery of the article, a duplicate is prepared under the same conditions.

3. Prepayment bulletins belonging to articles which are returned to origin for any reason shall be canceled by the Administration of destination.

4. On receipt of a prepayment bulletin indicating the charges paid by the service of destination, the Administration of origin converts the amount of those charges into its own money at a rate which shall not be higher than the rate fixed for the issuance of money orders destined for the corresponding country. The result of the conversion is indicated in the body of the form and on the coupon at the side. After having recovered the amount of the charges, the office of origin delivers the coupon of the bulletin, and, if need be, the supporting papers, to the sender.

3.—L'enveloppe doit être présentée ouverte au bureau réexpéditeur pour lui permettre de percevoir, s'il y a lieu, les compléments de taxe dont les objets qu'elle contient pourraient être passibles ou d'indiquer sur ces objets la taxe à percevoir à l'arrivée, lorsque le complément d'affranchissement n'est pas acquitté. Après vérification, le bureau réexpéditeur ferme l'enveloppe et y applique, le cas échéant, le timbre T avec l'indication, en francs et centimes, du montant total des taxes à percevoir.

3. The envelope shall be presented open to the reforwarding office, to permit it to collect such additional charges, if any, as may be due on the articles which it contains, or to indicate on such articles the charges to be collected on arrival when the additional postage has not been prepaid. After verification, the forwarding office seals the envelope and applies the T-stamp to it if necessary, indicating in francs and centimes the total amount of the charges to be collected.

Verification on arrival.

4.—A l'arrivée à destination, l'enveloppe peut être ouverte et son contenu vérifié par le bureau distributeur, qui perçoit, s'il y a lieu, les compléments de taxe non acquittés.

4. On arrival at destination, the envelope may be opened and its contents verified by the office of delivery, which collects the additional charges not already paid, if any.

5.—Les objets de correspondance ordinaires adressés, soit aux

Dans ce cas, les enveloppes collectrices doivent être revêtues de l'adresse du navire, de l'agence de navigation ou de voyage, etc., à qui elles doivent être remises.

ARTICLE 147

Envois tombés en rebut.

1.—Avant de renvoyer à l'Administration d'origine les correspondances non distribuées pour un motif quelconque, le bureau de destination doit indiquer d'une manière claire et concise, en langue française, au verso de ces objets, la cause de la non-remise sous la forme suivante: inconnu, refusé, en voyage, parti, non réclamé, décédé, etc. En ce qui concerne les cartes postales et les imprimés sous forme de cartes, la cause de la non-remiseest indiquée sur la moitié droite du recto.

Cette indication est fournie par l'application d'un timbre ou l'apposition d'une étiquette. Chaque Administration a la faculté d'ajouter la traduction, dans sa propre langue, de la cause de la non-remise et les autres indications qui lui conviennent.

Le bureau de destination doit biffer les indications de lieu qui le concernent et porter au recto de l'objet la mention "Retour" à côté de l'indication du bureau d'origine. Il doit, en outre, appliquer son timbre à date au verso des lettres et au recto des cartes postales.

2.—Le renvoi des correspondances tombées en rebut se fait, soit isolément, soit en une liasse spéciale étiquetée "Rebuts".

Les correspondances recommandées tombées en rebut sont renvoyées au bureau d'échange du pays d'origine comme s'il s'agissait de correspondances recommandées à diriger sur ce pays.

In that case, the collective envelopes shall be marked with the address of the ship, navigation or travel agency, etc., to which they are to be delivered.

ARTICLE 147

Undeliverable articles

Undeliverable articles.

1. Before returning correspondence which has not been delivered for any reason to the Administration of origin, the office of destination shall indicate in a clear and concise manner, in the French language, on the back of such articles, the cause of the non-delivery, in the following form: Inconnu (unknown), Refusé (refused), En voyage (traveling), Parti (removed), Non réclamé (unclaimed), Décédé (deceased), etc. In the case of post cards and prints in the form of cards, the reason for the non-delivery is indicated on the right half of the front.

Cause of nondelivery to be indicated.

Optional method.

That indication is furnished by applying a stamp or affixing a label. Each Administration has the option of adding a translation in its own language of the cause of non-delivery, and any other indications which may be convenient for it.

The office of destination shall strike out the indications of place which concern it, and place on the front of the article the note Retour (return), beside the indication of the office of origin. It shall also apply its date stamp to the back of letters and the front of post cards.

Return.

2. Undelivered articles are returned either singly or in a special bundle labeled Rebuts (dead mail matter).

Registered articles which are undeliverable are returned to the exchange office of the country of origin as if it were a question of registered correspondence addressed to that country.

Correspondence of domestic service.

Le montant des taxes perçues sur ces correspondances doit être restitué.

3. Correspondence of the domestic service which is undeliverable and must, for return to the senders, be sent to a foreign country, is treated in accordance with the provisions of Article 145.

4. Correspondence for seamen and other persons addressed in care of a Consul and returned by him to the post office as unclaimed shall be treated as rebuts.

The amount of the charges collected on such correspondence shall be refunded.

ARTICLE 148

Withdrawal or changes of address.

Retrait. Modification d'adresse.

Form of request.

1.—Les demandes de retrait de correspondances ou de modification d'adresse donnent lieu à l'établissement, par l'expéditeur, d'une formule conforme au modèle C 11 ci-annexé; une seule formule peut être utilisée pour plusieurs envois remis simultanément au même bureau par le même expéditeur à l'adresse du même destinataire. En remettant cette demande au bureau de poste, l'expéditeur doit justifier de son identité et produire, s'il y a lieu, le bulletin de dépôt. Après la justification, dont l'Administration du pays d'origine assume la responsabilité, il est procédé de la manière suivante:

Post, p. 2898.

By mail.

a) si la demande est destinée à être transmise par voie postale, la formule, accompagnée d'un fac-similé parfait de l'enveloppe ou de la suscription de l'envoi, est expédiée directement, sous pli recommandé, au bureau destinataire;

b) si la demande doit être faite par voie télégraphique, la formule est déposée au service télégraphique chargé d'en transmettre les termes au bureau de poste destinataire. Le télégramme est rédigé en langue française.

Post, p. 2898.

2.—A la réception de la formule C 11 ou du télégramme en tenant lieu, le bureau destinataire recherche la correspondance signalée et donne à la demande la suite nécessaire.

ARTICLE 148

Withdrawal. Change of address

1. Requests for withdrawal of correspondence or for change of address give rise to the preparation, by the sender, of a form agreeing with Model C 11 hereto appended; a single form may be used for several articles mailed simultaneously at the same office by the same sender addressed to the same addressee. In submitting that request to the post office, the sender shall prove his identity and produce the certificate of mailing, if any. After he has proved his identity, for which the Administration of the country of origin assumes responsibility, the procedure is as follows:

(a) If the request is intended to be sent by mail, the form, accompanied by a perfect facsimile of the envelope or address of the article, is sent directly, under registered cover, to the office of destination;

(b) If the request is to be made by telegraph, the form is turned over to the telegraph service, which is charged with transmitting the terms thereof to the post office of destination. The telegram is worded in the French language.

2. On receipt of the Form C 11 or the telegram taking its place, the office of destination searches for the correspondence in question and takes the necessary action.

Si la recherche est infructueuse, si l'envoi a déjà été remis au destinataire ou si la demande par voie télégraphique n'est pas assez explicite pour permettre de reconnaître sûrement l'envoi, le fait est signalé immédiatement au bureau d'origine, qui en prévient le réclamant.

3.—Toute Administration peut demander, par une notification adressée au Bureau international, que l'échange des demandes, en ce qui la concerne, soit effectué par l'entremise de son Administration centrale ou d'un bureau spécialement désigné.

Dans les cas où l'échange des demandes s'effectue par l'entremise des Administrations centrales, il doit être tenu compte des demandes expédiées directement par les bureaux d'origine aux bureaux de destination, dans ce sens que les correspondances y relatives sont exclues de la distribution jusqu'à l'arrivée de la demande de l'Administration centrale.

Les Administrations qui usent de la faculté prévue au premier alinéa prennent à leur charge les frais que peut entraîner la transmission, dans leur service intérieur, par voie postale ou télégraphique, des communications à échanger avec le bureau destinataire.

Le recours à la voie télégraphique est obligatoire lorsque l'expéditeur a lui-même fait usage de cette voie et que le bureau destinataire ne peut pas être prévenu en temps utile par la voie postale.

If the search is fruitless, if the article has already been delivered to the addressee, or if the telegraphic request is not explicit enough to permit the article to be surely recognized, the fact is reported at once to the office of origin, which advises the applicant accordingly.

Report to be made.

3. Any Administration may request, by a notification addressed to the International Bureau, that the exchange of requests concerning it be effected thru the intermediary of its central Administration or an office specially designated.

Exchange of requests with Administrations.

In case that the exchange of requests is effected thru the intermediary of the central Administrations, account shall be taken of requests sent directly by the offices of origin to the offices of destination, to the extent that the correspondence in question is withheld from delivery pending the arrival of the request from the central Administration.

Administrations which avail themselves of the option provided for by the first paragraph assume any expense which may be incurred by the transmission, in their domestic service, by mail or telegraph, of the communications to be exchanged with the office of destination.

Expenses to be assumed.

Employment of the telegraph service is obligatory when the sender himself has made use of that service, and when the office of destination can not be advised in time by mail.

Simple correction d'adresse.

Une simple correction d'adresse (sans modification du nom ou de la qualité du destinataire) peut être demandée directement par l'expéditeur au bureau destinataire, c'est-à-dire sans l'accomplissement des formalités prescrites pour le changement d'adresse proprement dit.

ARTICLE 149

A simple correction of address (without modification of the name or description of the addressee) may be requested directly by the sender of the office of destination; that is to say, without fulfilling the formalities prescribed for change of address properly so called.

Réclamations. Envois ordinaires.

Form for ordinary articles. Post, p. 2900.

1.—Toute réclamation relative à un envoi ordinaire donne lieu à l'établissement d'une formule conforme au modèle C 12 ci-annexé.

Procedure.

Le bureau qui reçoit la réclamation transmet directement cette formule, sans lettre d'envoi et sous enveloppe fermée, au bureau correspondant. Celui-ci, après avoir recueilli les renseignements nécessaires auprès du destinataire ou de l'expéditeur, selon le cas, renvoie la formule de la même manière au bureau qui l'a dressée.

Si la réclamation est reconnue fondée, ce dernier bureau fait parvenir la formule à son Administration centrale en vue des investigations ultérieures.

Une seule formule peut être utilisée pour plusieurs envois remis simultanément au même bureau par le même expéditeur à l'adresse du même destinataire.

Optional designation.

2.—Toute Administration peut demander, par une notification adressée au Bureau international, que les réclamations qui concernent son service soient transmises à son Administration centrale ou à un bureau spécialement désigné.

ARTICLE 150

Inquiries. Ordinary articles

1. Every inquiry relative to an ordinary article gives rise to the preparation of a form agreeing with Model C 12 hereto appended.

The office which receives the inquiry sends that form directly, without letter of transmittal, and in a sealed envelope, to the corresponding office. The latter, after having obtained the necessary information from the addressee or from the sender, as the case may be, returns the form in the same manner to the office which has prepared it.

If the inquiry is seen to be well founded, the latter office sends the form to its central Administration, for purposes of further investigation.

A single form may be used for several articles mailed simultaneously at the same office by the same sender addressed to the same addressee.

2. Any Administration may request, by a notification addressed to the International Bureau, that inquiries concerning its service be transmitted to its central Administration or an office specially designated.

Inquiries. Registered articles

1. Every inquiry relative to a registered article is made on a form agreeing with Model C 13 hereto appended, which shall be accompanied, as far as possible, by a facsimile of the envelope or address of the article.

If the inquiry concerns a C. O. D. article, it shall also be accompanied by a duplicate of the money order C 8 or by a transfer bulletin, as the case may be.

bureau par le même expéditeur à l'adresse du même destinataire

2.—La réclamation est, en règle générale, envoyée directement par le bureau d'origine au bureau de destination; cette transmission a lieu sans lettre d'envoi et sous enveloppe fermée. Si le bureau destinataire est en état de fournir les renseignements sur le sort définitif de l'envoi, il complète la formule et la retourne au bureau d'origine.

Lorsque le sort de l'envoi ne peut être établi par le bureau de destination, celui-ci constate le fait sur la formule et la réexpédie au bureau d'origine en y ajoutant, autant que possible, une déclaration du destinataire constatant qu'il n'a pas reçu l'envoi. Dans ce cas, l'Administration d'origine complète la formule en y indiquant les données de la transmission à la première Administration intermédiaire. Il l'adresse ensuite à cette dernière Administration, qui y consigne ses observations et la transmet éventuellement à l'Administration suivante. La réclamation passe ainsi d'une Administration à l'autre jusqu'à ce que le sort de l'envoi réclamé soit établi. L'Administration qui a effectué la remise au destinataire, ou qui, le cas échéant, ne peut établir ni la remise, ni la transmission régulière à une autre Administration, constate le fait sur la formule et la renvoie à l'Administration d'origine.

3.—Les Administrations d'origine et de destination peuvent, d'un commun accord, faire transmettre la réclamation de bureau à bureau en suivant la même voie d'acheminement que l'envoi.

Dans ce cas, les recherches se poursuivent depuis l'Administration d'origine jusqu'à l'Administration de destination en observant la procédure visée au dernier alinéa du § 2.

4.—Toute Administration peut demander, par une notification adressée au Bureau international, que les réclamations qui concernent son service soient

Action by office of destination.

2. The inquiry is, as a general rule, sent directly by the office of origin to the office of destination; such transmission takes place without letter of transmittal and in a sealed envelope. If the office of destination is in a position to furnish information as to the final disposal made of the article, it completes the form and returns it to the office of origin.

When the disposal of the article can not be established by the office of destination, the latter states the fact on the form and returns it to the office of origin, attaching thereto, as far as possible, a declaration of the addressee stating that he has not received the article. In that case, the Administration of origin completes the form by indicating thereon the particulars of dispatch to the first intermediate Administration. It then transmits it to this latter Administration, which places its observations thereon and transmits it to the following Administration, if any. The inquiry thus passes from one Administration to another until the disposal of the article inquired about is established. The Administration which has effected delivery to the addressee, or which can not prove either delivery or regular transmission to another Administration, as the case may be, shows the fact on the form and returns it to the Administration of origin.

Investigation through the several Administrations.

3. The Administrations of origin and destination may, by common consent, cause the inquiry to be transmitted from office to office, following the same route as the article.

In that case, the investigations are continued from the Administration of origin as far as the Administration of destination, observing the procedure indicated in the last paragraph of Section 2.

Ce délai est porté à six mois dans les relations avec les pays éloignés.

The Form C 13 and the papers attached thereto shall in all cases be returned to the Administration of origin of the article inquired about within the shortest period possible, and at the latest within a period of three months, counting from the date of the inquiry. That period is extended to six months in relations with distant countries.

Chaque dépêche prend, dans ce cas, un numéro distinct, même s'il s'agit d'une dépêche supplémentaire empruntant la même voie ou le même navire que la dépêche ordinaire.

A la première expédition de chaque année, la feuille doit porter, outre le numéro d'ordre de la dépêche, celui de la dernière dépêche de l'année précédente.

(b) Table II: Barring contrary agreement, the dispatching offices number the letter bills according to an annual series for each office of destination, when the dispatches are not formed every day. In that case, each dispatch takes a separate number, even if it is a question of a supplementary dispatch taking the same route or the same ship as the ordinary dispatch.

For the first dispatch of each year, the bill shall bear, in addition to the order number of the dispatch, that of the last dispatch of the preceding year.

The name of the ship which carries the dispatch is indicated when the dispatching office is in a position to know it;

(c) Table III: Use may be made of one or more special lists conforming to Model C 17 hereto appended, either to replace Table V or to serve as a supplementary letter bill.

The exclusive use of special lists is obligatory if the Administration of destination so requests.

When more than one list is employed, they shall be numbered.

The number of registered articles which may be entered in one and the same special list is limited to 60;

(d) Table IV: If occasion arises, the number of empty sacks belonging to an Administration other than the one to which the dispatch is addressed shall be mentioned separately, with indication of that Administration.

e) Tableau V: Ce tableau est destiné à l'inscription des envois recommandés lorsqu'il n'est pas exclusivement fait usage de listes spéciales.

Dans le cas où les Administrations correspondantes se sont entendues pour l'inscription globale des objets recommandés sur les feuilles d'avis, le nombre total de ces objets doit être indiqué en chiffres et en toutes lettres.

Lorsque la dépêche ne contient pas d'envois recommandés, la mention "Néant" est portée au tableau V.

3.—Les Administrations peuvents'entendre pour créer d'autres tableaux ou rubriques sur la feuille d'avis lorsqu'elles le jugent nécessaire. Elles peuvent, notamment, disposer les tableaux V et VI conformément à leurs besoins.

4.—Lorsqu'un bureau d'échange n'a aucun objet à livrer à un bureau correspondant, l'envoi d'une dépêche n'a lieu que si, dans les relations entre les Administrations intéressées, les feuilles d'avis ne sont pas numérotées par application du § 2, lettre b. Dans ce cas, le bureau d'échange doit envoyer, dans la forme ordinaire, une dépêche qui se compose uniquement d'une feuille d'avis négative.

5.—Quand les dépêches closes doivent être transmises au moyen de navires que l'Administration intermédiaire dont ils dépendent n'utilise pas régulièrement pour ses propres transports, le poids des lettres et autres objets doit être indiqué à la feuille d'avis et sur l'adresse de ces dépêches lorsque l'Administration chargée d'assurer l'embarquement le demande

In case that the corresponding Administrations have agreed upon the bulk billing of registered articles in the letter bills, the total number of such articles shall be indicated in figures and spelled out in full.

When an exchange office has no articles to deliver to a corresponding office, a dispatch is not sent unless, in relations between the Administrations concerned, the letter bills are not numbered, by application of Section 2, letter (b). In that case, the exchange office shall send, in the usual form, a dispatch composed only of a negative letter bill. If no mail.

Transmission of special-delivery mail.

1.—Les envois exprès ordinaires sont réunis en une liasse spéciale munie d'une étiquette portant en gros caractères la mention "Exprès" et insérés, par les bureaux d'échange, dans l'enveloppe contenant la feuille d'avis qui accompagne la dépêche.

Toutefois, si cette enveloppe doit être fixée au col du sac des envois recommandés (article 155, § 2), la liasse des envois exprès est placée dans le sac extérieur. La présence, dans la dépêche, des correspondances de l'espèce est alors annoncée par une fiche placée dans l'enveloppe contenant la

Transmission of special-delivery articles

1. Ordinary special-delivery articles are tied together in a special bundle having a label bearing the note Exprès (special delivery) in large characters and inserted by the exchange offices in the envelope containing the letter bill which accompanies the dispatch.

However, if that envelope must be affixed to the neck of the sack of registered articles (Article 155, Section 2), the bundle of special-delivery articles is placed in the outside sack. The presence in the dispatch of articles of that kind is then announced by a slip placed inside the envelope contain-

2.—Les envois exprès recommandés sont classés, à leur ordre, parmi les autres envois recommandés et la mention "Exprès" est portée dans la colonne "Observations" du tableau V de la feuille d'avis ou des listes spéciales, en regard de l'inscription de chacun d'eux. En cas d'inscription globale, la présence d'envois recommandés à remettre par exprès est signalée simplement par la mention "Exprès" au tableau V de la feuille d'avis.

2. Registered special-delivery articles are arranged in order among the other registered articles, and the note Exprès (special delivery) is placed in the Observations column of Table V of the letter bill or of the special lists, opposite the entry concerning each of them. In case of bulk billing, the presence of registered articles to be specially delivered is indicated simply by the note Exprès (special delivery) in Table V of the letter bill.

Confection des dépêches.

1.—En règle générale, les objets sont classés et enliassés par nature de correspondances, les lettres et les cartes postales étant comprises dans la même liasse et les journaux et écrits périodiques devant faire l'objet de liasses distinctes de celles des imprimés ordinaires. Les liasses sont désignées par des étiquettes portant l'indication du bureau destinataire ou réexpéditeur des envois insérés dans les liasses. Les objets de correspondance susceptibles d'être enliassés doivent être disposés dans le sens de l'adresse. Les objets affranchis sont séparés de ceux qui ne le sont pas ou le sont insuffisamment et les étiquettes de liasses d'objets non ou insuffisamment affranchis sont frappées du timbre T.

Les lettres portant des traces d'ouverture, de détérioration ou d'avarie doivent être munies d'une mention du fait et frappées du timbre à date du bureau qui l'a constaté.

Les mandats de poste expédiés à découvert sont réunis en une liasse distincte qui doit être insérée dans un paquet ou sac d'objets recommandés. Si la dépêche ne comprend pas d'objets recom-

Preparation of dispatches

1. As a general rule, articles are sorted and tied in bundles according to the nature of the correspondence, letters and post cards being included in the same bundle, and newspapers and periodicals being made up into packets apart from those containing ordinary prints. The bundles are designated by labels bearing the indication of the office of destination or redispatch of the articles contained in the bundles. Articles of correspondence capable of being tied in bundles shall be arranged in the direction of the address. Prepaid articles are separated from those which are unprepaid or shortpaid, and the labels of bundles of articles which are unprepaid or shortpaid are marked with the T-stamp.

Letters bearing traces of opening, deterioration or damage shall be marked with a mention of the fact and be struck with the date stamp of the office which has detected it.

Money orders sent uninclosed are tied in a separate bundle, which shall be included in a packet or sack of registered articles. If the dispatch does not contain any registered articles, the orders

Lorsqu'il est fait usage de ficelle, elle doit être passée deux fois autour du col avant d'être nouée. Les empreintes des cachets ou des plombs doivent reproduire, en caractères latins très lisibles, le nom du bureau d'origine ou une indication suffisante pour permettre de déterminer ce bureau.

a) en rouge vermillon, pour les sacs contenant des envois recommandés;

b) en blanc, pour les sacs ne contenant que des lettres et des cartes postales ordinaires;

c) en bleu clair, pour les sacs contenant exclusivement d'autres objets ordinaires;

d) en vert, pour les sacs contenant seulement des sacs vides renvoyés à l'origine.

Les sacs contenant de la correspondance ordinaire mixte (lettres, cartes postales et autres objets) doivent être munis de l'étiquette blanche.

Optional uses.

Toutefois, l'emploi des étiquettes de couleur blanche, bleu clair ou verte, n'est obligatoire que pour les Administrations dont le régime intérieur ne s'y oppose pas. D'autre part, les étiquettes vertes ne sont utilisées que si l'Administration de destination l'exige.

Data to be furnished.

Les étiquettes portent l'indication imprimée en petits caractères latins du nom du bureau expéditeur et, en caractères latins gras, du nom du bureau destinataire, précédés respectivement des mots "de" et "pour". Dans les échanges par voie maritime effectués dans

2. Dispatches are inclosed in sacks suitably closed, sealed with wax or lead, and labeled. When use is made of string, it shall be passed twice around the neck of the sack before being tied. The imprints on the wax or lead seals shall reproduce, in very legible Latin characters, the name of the office of origin or an indication sufficient to permit that office to be determined.

The labels of the dispatches shall be of cloth, strong cardboard, parchment, or paper pasted on a wooden block; in relations between adjacent offices, use may be made of labels of strong paper. The labels are made up in the following colors:

(a) In vermillion red, for sacks containing registered articles;

(b) In white, for sacks containing only ordinary letters and post cards;

(c) In light blue, for sacks containing only ordinary other articles;

(d) In green, for sacks containing only empty sacks returned to origin.

Sacks containing mixed ordinary correspondence (letters, post cards and other articles) shall bear the white label.

However, the use of white, light blue or green labels is obligatory only for Administrations whose internal legislation does not oppose it. Moreover, green labels are used only if the Administration of destination so demands.

The labels bear the indication, printed in small Latin characters, of the name of the dispatching office, and, in heavy Latin characters, the name of the office of destination, preceded by the words de (from) and pour (for) respectively. In exchanges by des délais indéterminés, ces indications sont complétées par la mention de la date d'expédition, du numéro de l'envoi et du port de débarquement si l'Administration intéressée le demande.

Les sacs doivent indiquer d'une façon lisible, en caractères latins, le bureau ou le pays d'origine, et porter la mention "Postes" ou toute autre analogue les signalant comme dépêches postales.

Les bureaux intermédiaires ne doivent porter aucun numéro d'ordre sur les étiquettes des sacs ou paquets de dépêches closes en transit.

3.—Sauf arrangement contraire, les dépêches peu volumineuses ou négatives sont simplement enveloppées de papier fort de manière à éviter toute détérioration du contenu, puis ficelées et cachetées ou plombées.

En cas de plombage, ces dépêches doivent être conditionnées de telle façon que la ficelle ne puisse pas être détachée. Lorsqu'elles ne contiennent que des correspondances ordinaires, elles peuvent être fermées au moyen de cachets gommés portant l'indication imprimée du bureau ou de l'Administration expéditrice. Les suscriptions des paquets doivent correspondre, en ce qui concerne les indications imprimées et les couleurs, aux prescriptions prévues au § 2 pour les étiquettes des sacs de correspondances.

4.—Lorsque le nombre ou le volume des envois exige l'emploi de plus d'un sac, des sacs distincts doivent, autant que possible, être utilisés:

a) pour les lettres et cartes postales;

b) pour les autres objets; le cas échéant, des sacs distincts doivent encore être utilisés pour les petits paquets; les étiquettes de ces derniers sacs portent la mention "Petits paquets".

The sacks shall indicate legibly, in Latin characters, the office or country of origin, and shall bear the note Postes (posts) or some other similar note characterizing them as postal dispatches.

Intermediate offices shall not place any order number on labels of sacks or packets of closed mails in transit.

3. Barring contrary agreement, dispatches of small size or negative dispatches are simply wrapped in strong paper in such a manner as to avoid all harm to the contents, then tied and sealed with wax or lead. Unimportant, etc., matter.

In case of lead sealing, those dispatches shall be prepared in such a way that the string can not be detached. When they contain nothing but ordinary correspondence, they may be fastened by means of gummed seals bearing the printed indication of the dispatching office or Administration. The addresses of the packets shall comply, in regard to the printed indications and the colors, with the provisions laid down by Section 2 for the labels of sacks of mail. Sealing.

4. When the number or volume of the mails requires the employment of more than one sack, separate sacks shall be used, as far as possible: When volume exceeds one sack.

(a) For letters and post cards;

(b) For other articles; if occasion arises, separate sacks shall also be used for small packets; the labels of these latter sacks bear the note Petits paquets (small packets).

Marking.

L'étiquette du sac ou paquet renfermant la feuille d'avis, même si celle-ci est négative, est toujours revêtue de la lettre F tracée d'une manière apparente.

Weight.

5.—Le poids de chaque sac ne doit pas dépasser 30 kilogrammes.

Combination of small packets for given office.

Remise des dépêches.

Delivery.

Prescribed conditions.

1.—La remise des dépêches entre deux bureaux correspondants s'effectue suivant les dispositions prises par les Administrations intéressées.

Seuls les sacs et paquets signalés par des étiquettes rouges doivent, au moment de la livraison, être soumis à une vérification complète de leur fermeture et de leur conditionnement. Quant aux autres sacs et paquets, la vérification en est facultative et ils sont toujours remis globalement.

Status.

2.—Les dépêches doivent être livrées en bon état. Cependant, une dépêche ne peut pas être refusée pour cause d'avarie. Lorsqu'une dépêche est reçue en mauvais état par un bureau intermédiaire, elle doit être mise telle quelle sous nouvel emballage. Le bureau qui effectue le remballage doit porter les indications de l'étiquette originale sur la nouvelle étiquette et apposer sur celle-ci une empreinte de son timbre à date, précédée de la mention "Remballé à _____".

or in a separate sack; the outside sack shall in any case bear the red label. When there is more than one sack of registered articles, the additional sacks containing nothing but registered articles other than letters and post cards may be sent uninclosed, bearing the red label.

The label of the sack or packet containing the letter bill, even if the latter is negative, is always marked with the letter F, traced in a conspicuous manner.

5. The weight of each sack shall not exceed 30 kilograms.

6. As far as possible, the exchange offices insert in their own dispatches for a given office, all dispatches of small dimensions (packets or sacks) which reach them for that office.

ARTICLE 158

Delivery of dispatches

1. The delivery of dispatches between two corresponding offices is effected in accordance with the conditions prescribed by the Administrations concerned.

Only the sacks and packets designated by red labels need, at the time of delivery, be subjected to complete verification of their closing and condition. As for the other sacks and packets, their verification is optional and they are always delivered in bulk.

2. Dispatches shall be delivered in good condition. However, a dispatch may not be refused because of damage. When a dispatch is received in bad condition by an intermediate office, it shall be placed, just as it is, under new packing. The office which effects the repacking shall enter the indications of the original label on the new label and place on the latter an imprint of its date stamp, preceded by the note Remballé à _____ (repacked at _____).

ARTICLE 159

Vérification des dépêches.

1.—Lorsqu'un bureau intermédiaire doit procéder au remballage d'une dépêche, il en vérifie le contenu s'il présume que celui-ci n'est pas resté intact.

Il dresse un bulletin de vérification conforme au modèle C 18 ci-annexé en se conformant aux dispositions du § 3 ci-après. Ce bulletin est envoyé au bureau d'échange d'où la dépêche a été reçue; une copie en est adressée au bureau d'origine et une autre est insérée dans la dépêche remballée.

2.—Le bureau destinataire vérifie si la dépêche est au complet et si les inscriptions de la feuille d'avis et, le cas échéant, des listes spéciales d'envois recommandés sont exactes. En cas de manque d'une dépêche ou d'un ou plusieurs sacs en faisant partie, d'objets recommandés, d'une feuille d'avis, d'une liste spéciale d'envois recommandés, ou lorsqu'il s'agit de toute autre irrégularité, le fait est constaté immédiatement par deux agents. Ceux-ci font les rectifications nécessaires sur les feuilles ou listes en ayant soin de biffer les indications erronées de manière à laisser reconnaître les inscriptions primitives. A moins d'une erreur évidente, les rectifications prévalent sur la déclaration originale.

3.—Les faits constatés sont signalés, au moyen d'un bulletin de vérification, au bureau d'origine de la dépêche et, en cas de manquant réel, au dernier bureau intermédiaire, par le premier courrier utilisable après vérification complète de la dépêche.

Les indications de ce bulletin doivent spécifier aussi exactement que possible de quel sac, paquet ou objet il s'agit.

Un duplicata du bulletin de vérification est envoyé, dans les mêmes conditions que l'original, à l'Administration dont relève le bureau d'origine de la dépêche, lorsque cette Administration l'ex-

Verification of dispatches

Verification.

By intermediate office when repacked.

1. When an intermediate office must proceed to repack a dispatch, it verifies the contents thereof if it presumes that they have not remained intact.

Post, p. 2908.

It makes up a bulletin of verification conforming to Model C 18 hereto appended, complying with the provisions of Section 3 hereafter. That bulletin is sent to the exchange office from which the dispatch was received; a copy thereof is addressed to the office of origin and another is inserted in the repacked dispatch.

By office of destination.

2. The office of destination verifies whether the dispatch is intact, and whether the entries on the letter bill, and on the special lists of registered articles, if any, are correct. In case of shortage of a dispatch, or of one or more sacks forming part thereof, of registered articles, of a letter bill, of a special list of registered articles, or when it is a question of any other irregularity, the fact is established at once by two employees. The latter make the necessary corrections on the bills or lists, taking care to strike out the erroneous items in such a manner as to allow the original entries to be recognized. Except in case of obvious error, the corrections prevail over the original statement.

Bulletin of verification to be sent.

3. The facts established are reported by means of a bulletin of verification to the office of origin of the dispatch, and, in case of actual loss, to the last intermediate office, by the first mail available after complete verification of the dispatch.

The indications of that bulletin shall specify as exactly as possible of what sack, packet or article it is a question.

Duplicate, on demand.

A duplicate of the bulletin of verification is sent, under the same conditions as the original, to the Administration to which the office of origin of the dispatch belongs, when that Administration so demands. When it is a question of important irregularities giving rise to the presumption of loss or rifling, the envelope or sack and the seal which fastens the packet or sack of registered articles are attached to the bulletin of verification addressed to the office of origin. The same applies to the outer envelope or sack, with its string, label and wax or lead seal, whenever the transmission of such pieces of evidence is possible.

Lorsqu'il s'agit d'irrégularités importantes permettant de présumer une perte ou une spoliation, l'enveloppe ou le sac et le cachet de fermeture du paquet ou du sac des envois recommandés sont joints au bulletin de vérification destiné au bureau d'origine. Il en est de même de l'enveloppe ou du sac extérieurs, avec leur ficelle, leur étiquette, leur cachet ou plomb de fermeture, chaque fois que l'envoi de ces pièces justificatives est possible.

Report to be attached.

Dans l'échange avec les Administrations qui exigent l'envoi d'un duplicata, les pièces justificatives mentionnées ci-dessus sont annexées au duplicata.

In the exchange with Administrations which require the sending of a duplicate, the supporting evidence mentioned above is attached to the duplicate.

Telegraphic notice.

Dans les cas prévus aux §§ 1 et 2, le bureau d'origine et, le cas échéant, le dernier bureau d'échange intermédiaire peuvent, en outre, être avisés par télégramme aux frais de l'Administration qui expédie celui-ci.

In the cases contemplated by Sections 1 and 2, the office of origin, and the last intermediate exchange office, if any, may also be advised by telegram at the expense of the Administration sending the telegram.

Traces of rifling, etc.

Un avis télégraphique doit être émis toutes les fois que la dépêche présente des traces évidentes de spoliation, afin que le bureau expéditeur ou intermédiaire procède sans aucun retard à l'instruction de l'affaire et, le cas échéant, avise également par télégramme l'Administration précédente pour la continuation de l'enquête.

Telegraphic notice shall be given whenever the dispatch shows evident traces of rifling, in order that the dispatching or intermediate office may proceed without any delay to investigate the matter, and, if need be, advise the preceding Administration, likewise by telegram, for the continuance of the investigation.

When bulletin is unnecessary.

4.—Lorsque l'absence d'une dépêche est le résultat d'un défaut de coïncidence des courriers ou lorsqu'elle est dûment expliquée sur le bordereau de remise, l'établissement d'un bulletin de vérification n'est nécessaire que si la dépêche ne parvient pas au bureau destinataire par le plus prochain courrier.

4. When the absence of a dispatch is the result of a failure of mails to connect, or when it is duly explained on the waybill, the preparation of a bulletin of verification is not necessary, unless the dispatch does not reach the office of destination by the next mail.

When duplicate delayed.

L'envoi du duplicata prévu au § 3 peut être différé si l'on présume que le manque de la dépêche provient d'un retard ou d'une fausse direction.

The sending of the duplicate provided for by Section 3 may be postponed if it is presumed that the shortage of the dispatch is due to delay or misdirection.

Second bulletin necessary.

Dès la rentrée d'une dépêche dont l'absence avait été signalée au bureau d'origine et, le cas échéant, au dernier bureau d'échange intermédiaire, il y a lieu d'adresser à ces bureaux un second bulletin de vérification annonçant la réception de cette dépêche.

When a dispatch, the absence of which had been reported to the office of origin, and to the last intermediate exchange office, if any, is located, it is necessary to send a second bulletin of verification to the said offices announcing the receipt of that mail.

5.—Les bureaux auxquels sont adressés les bulletins de vérification les renvoient le plus promptement possible après les avoir examinés et y avoir mentionné leurs observations, s'il y a lieu.

Si ces bulletins ne sont pas renvoyés à l'Administration d'origine dans le dèlai de deux mois à compter de la date de leur expédition, ils sont considérés, jusqu'à preuve du contraire, comme dûment acceptés par les bureaux auxquels ils ont été adressés.

Ce délai est porté à quatre mois dans les relations avec les pays éloignés.

6.—Lorsqu'un bureau réceptionnaire auquel la vérification de la dépêche incombait n'a pas fait parvenir au bureau d'origine et, le cas échéant, au dernier bureau d'échange intermédiaire, par le premier courrier utilisable après la vérification, un bulletin constatant des irrégularités quelconques, il est considéré, jusqu'à preuve du contraire, comme ayant reçu la dépêche et son contenu. La même présomption existe pour les irrégularités dont la mention a été omise ou signalée d'une manière incomplète dans le bulletin de vérification.

7.—Les bulletins de vérification et les duplicata sont transmis sous pli recommandé.

5. The offices to which the bulletins of verification are addressed return them as promptly as possible after having examined them, and after having entered thereon their observations, if any. Return of bulletin by receiving office.

If those bulletins are not returned to the Administration of origin within the period of two months, counting from the date of their issue, they are considered, until the contrary is proved, as duly accepted by the offices to which they were addressed. Presumption of acceptance.

That period is extended to four months in relations with distant countries.

6. When a receiving office upon which the verification of the dispatch was incumbent has not sent to the office of origin, and to the last intermediate exchange office, if any, by the first mail available after verification, a bulletin reporting any irregularities, it is considered, until the contrary is proved, as having received the dispatch and its contents. The same presumption exists in the case of irregularities which have not been mentioned, or which have been reported in an incomplete manner, in the bulletin of verification. Correctness implied.

7. The bulletins of verification and the duplicates are transmitted under registered cover. Bulletins of verification, etc.

ARTICLE 160

Renvoi des sacs vides.

1.—Sauf arrangement contraire entre les Administrations correspondantes, les sacs doivent être renvoyés vides, par le prochain courrier, dans une dépêche directe pour le pays auquel ces sacs appartiennent. Le nombre des sacs renvoyés par chaque dépêche doit être inscrit sous la rubrique "Indications de service" de la feuille d'avis.

Le renvoi est effectué entre les bureaux d'échange désignés à cet effet.

Les sacs vides doivent être roulés en paquets convenables; le cas échéant, les planchettes à étiquettes ainsi que les étiquettes

Return of empty sacks Empty sacks.

1. Barring contrary agreement between the corresponding Administrations, sacks shall be returned empty, by the next mail, in a direct dispatch for the country to which such sacks belong. The number of sacks returned by each mail shall be entered under the Service Information heading of the letter bill. Provisions for prompt return.

The return is effected between the exchange offices designated for that purpose.

The empty sacks shall be rolled up in suitable bundles; the label blocks, as well as the labels of cloth, parchment or other strong

Si les sacs vides à renvoyer ne sont pas trop nombreux, ils peuvent être placés dans les sacs contenant la correspondance; dans le cas contraire, ils doivent être placés à part dans des sacs cachetés, étiquetés au nom des bureaux d'échange. Les étiquettes doivent porter la mention "Sacs vides".

Administration to have control of its sacks.

2.—Dans le cas où le contrôle exercé par une Administration sur le renvoi des sacs qui lui appartiennent démontrerait que 10% du nombre total des sacs utilisés pendant une année pour la confection des dépêches n'ont pas été renvoyés avant la fin de cette année, l'Administration qui ne peut établir le renvoi des sacs vides est tenue de rembourser à l'Administration expéditrice la valeur des sacs manquants. Le remboursement doit également avoir lieu si le nombre des sacs manquants n'atteint pas 10% mais excède 50 unités.

Average value.

Chaque Administration fixe, périodiquement et uniformément pour toutes les espèces de sacs qui sont utilisés par ses bureaux d'échange, une valeur moyenne en francs et la communique aux Administrations intéressées par l'intermédiaire du Bureau international.

material, if any, shall be placed inside the sacks. The bundles shall be provided with a label indicating the name of the exchange office from which the sacks were received, whenever they are returned thru the intermediary of another exchange office.

If the empty sacks to be returned are not too numerous, they may be placed inside the sacks containing the correspondence; otherwise, they shall be placed in separate sealed sacks labeled with the names of the exchange offices. The labels shall bear the note Sacs vides (empty sacks).

2. In case that the check made by an Administration on the return of sacks belonging to it shows that 10 per cent of the total number of sacks used during a year for the preparation of dispatches have not been returned before the end of that year, the Administration which can not prove the return of the empty sacks is bound to reimburse the dispatching Administration for the value of the missing sacks. Reimbursement shall also be effected if the number of missing sacks does not reach 10 per cent but exceeds 50 sacks.

Each Administration fixes, periodically, and uniformly for all kinds of sacks which are used by its exchange offices, an average value in francs, and communicates it to the Administrations concerned thru the intermediary of the International Bureau.

TITLE VII

PROVISIONS CONCERNING TRANSIT CHARGES

CHAPTER I

STATISTICAL OPERATIONS

ARTICLE 161

Transit statistics

1. The transit charges collectible under Articles 75 et seq. of the Convention are computed on the basis of statistics taken once tistiques dressées une fois tous les trois ans et alternativement pendant les quatorze ou vingt-huit premiers jours du mois de mai ou pendant les quatorze ou vingt-huit premiers jours qui suivent le 14 octobre.

La statistique est dressée pendant la deuxième année de chaque période triennale.

Les dépêches confectionnées à bord des navires sont comprises dans les statistiques lorsqu'elles sont débarquées pendant la période de statistique.

2.—La statistique d'octobre—novembre 1933 ainsi que les comptes y relatifs, dressés d'après les dispositions de la Convention de Londres, s'appliqueront jusqu'à fin 1934.

La statistique de mai 1936 s'appliquera aux années 1935, 1936 et 1937; celle d'octobre—novembre 1939 aux années 1938, 1939 et 1940.

4.—Lorsqu'il se produit une modification importante dans l'acheminement des correspondances d'un pays pour un autre et si cette modification affecte une période ou des périodes s'élevant à un total d'au moins douze mois, chaque Administration intéressée peut demander une revision des comptes de frais de transit. Dans ce cas, les sommes à payer par les Administrations expéditrices sont déterminées d'après les services intermédiaires réellement employés, mais les poids totaux qui servent de base aux nouveaux comptes doivent normalement être les mêmes que ceux des dépêches expédiées pendant la période de statistique mentionnée au § 1.

The statistics are taken during the second year of each triennial period.

Ship dispatches.

Dispatches made up on board ships are included in the statistics when they are unloaded during the statistical period.

Prescribed periods.

2. The statistics of October–November, 1933, as well as the accounts relating thereto made up in accordance with the provisions of the Convention of London, will apply up to the end of 1934.

The statistics of May, 1936, will apply to the years 1935, 1936 and 1937; those of October–November, 1939, to the years 1938, 1939 and 1940.

Annual payments continued, etc.

3. The annual payments of transit charges to be made on the basis of a set of statistics shall be continued provisionally, until the accounts made up in accordance with the following statistics are approved or considered as automatically accepted (Article 169 hereafter). The adjustment of the payments made provisionally is undertaken at that time.

Post, p. 2864.

Important traffic modifications.

4. When an important modification takes place in the routing of correspondence from one country for another, and if such modification affects a period or periods amounting to a total of at least twelve months, any Administration concerned may request a revision of the transit-charge accounts. In that case, the sums to be paid by the dispatching Administrations are determined in accordance with the intermediate services actually employed, but the total weights which serve as the basis for the new accounts shall normally be the same as those of the dispatches sent during the statistical period mentioned in Section 1. When an agreement as to the manner of Revision of charge accounts.

Lorsqu'une entente sur le mode de répartition ne peut être obtenue, une statistique spéciale doit être dressée pour régler le partage de ces poids entre les divers services empruntés. Aucune modification dans l'acheminement des correspondances pour un pays déterminé n'est considérée comme importante si elle n'affecte pas de plus de 5000 francs par an les comptes entre l'Administration d'origine et l'Administration intermédiaire intéressée. Si la modification dépasse cette somme, elle a sa répercussion sur les décomptes de l'Administration d'origine avec les Administrations qui ont effectué le transit antérieurement et les Administrations qui l'assurent postérieurement à la modification survenue, même lorsque la réduction des comptes n'atteint pas pour certaines Administrations le minimum fixé. La demande d'une revision des comptes et, le cas échéant, d'une statistique spéciale peut être faite lorsque la modification dans l'acheminement des correspondances dont il s'agit a duré au moins neuf mois. Toutefois, les données de cette statistique ne sont prises en considération que si la période de douze mois est réellement accomplie.

division can not be reached, special statistics shall be taken in order to adjust the apportionment of those weights among the various services employed. No modification in the routing of correspondence for a given country is considered as important unless it affects the accounts between the Administration of origin and the intermediate Administration concerned by more than 5000 francs a year. If the modification exceeds that amount it has its effect on the accounts of the Administration of origin with the Administrations which have performed the transit previously and the Administrations which perform it subsequent to the modification brought about, even when the reduction of the accounts does not attain the prescribed minimum for certain Administrations. The request for a revision of the accounts, and, if need be, for special statistics, may be made when the modification in the routing of the correspondence in question has lasted at least nine months. However, the results of those statistics are not taken into consideration unless the period of twelve months is actually completed.

Basis for charges in special cases.

Si, lors d'une statistique spéciale, il est établi que les poids totaux des courriers échangés entre deux Administrations et transportés par une tierce Administration ont augmenté de 100% ou diminué de 50% par rapport aux données de la dernière statistique périodique et que le compte de la tierce Administration subirait de ce chef une modification de plus de 5000 francs par an, les nouveaux poids constatés doivent servir de base pour les frais de transit dus à cette Administration.

If, when special statistics are taken, it is found that the total weights of the mails exchanged between two Administrations and transported by a third Administration have increased by 100 percent or diminished by 50 per cent as compared with the results of the last statistical period, and that the account of the third Administration would undergo, for that reason, a modification of more than 5000 francs a year, the new weights established shall serve as the basis for the transit charges due to that Administration.

Changes following statistical period.

De même, lorsqu'une Administration intermédiaire constate, dans les six mois qui suivent la statistique, qu'il existe entre les expéditions faites par une autre Administration pendant la période de statistique et le trafic normal une différence de 20% au moins sur les poids totaux du transport, l'Administration intéressée peut exiger l'établissement d'une nouvelle statistique si les comptes entre deux Administrations sont affectés d'une modification de plus de 5000 francs par an.

ARTICLE 162

Confection et désignation des dépêches closes pendant la période de statistique.

1.—Pendant chaque période de statistique, l'échange des correspondances en dépêches closes à travers le territoire ou au moyen des services d'une ou de plusieurs Administrations intermédiaires donne lieu à l'utilisation de sacs distincts pour les "lettres et les cartes postales" et pour les "autres objets".

Lorsque le volume des dépêches le permet, les sacs distincts doivent être réunis dans un seul sac collecteur.

2.—Par dérogation aux dispositions des articles 155 et 156, chaque Administration a la faculté, pendant la période de statistique, de comprendre les objets recommandés et les envois exprès, autres que les lettres et les cartes postales, dans un des sacs destinés aux autres objets, en faisant mention de ce fait sur la feuille d'avis; mais si, conformément aux articles 155 et 156, ces objets sont compris dans un sac de lettres, ils sont considérés comme lettres en ce qui concerne la statistique.

3.—Pendant la période de statistique, toutes les dépêches échangées en transit doivent être munies, en dehors des étiquettes ordinaires, d'une étiquette spéciale portant en gros caractères la mention "Statistique", suivie de l'indication "5 kilogrammes", "15 kilogrammes" ou "30 kilogrammes" selon la catégorie de poids (article 163, § 1, ci-après). L'étiquette "Statistique" doit porter en outre la mention "L. C." ou "A. O.", suivant le cas.

ARTICLE 162

Preparation and designation of closed mails during the statistical period

Preparation and designation of closed mails during statistical period.

1. During each statistical period, the exchange of correspondence in closed mails across the territory or by means of the services of one or more intermediate Administrations gives rise to the employment of separate sacks for letters and post cards and for other articles.

When the volume of the mails permits, the separate sacks shall be inclosed in a single collective sack.

Optional inclusions.

Ante, p. 2848.

2. By exception to the provisions of Articles 155 and 156, every Administration has the option, during the statistical period, of including registered and special-delivery articles other than letters and post cards in one of the sacks intended for other articles, mentioning that fact on the letter bill; but if, in accordance with Articles 155 and 156, those articles are included in a sack of letters, they are considered as letters insofar as the statistics are concerned.

Marking transit mails.

3. During the statistical period all dispatches exchanged in transit shall bear, in addition to the ordinary labels, a special label bearing in large letters the note Statistique (statistics), followed by the indication 5 kilograms, 15 kilograms, or 30 kilograms, according to the division of weight (Article 163, Section 1, hereafter). The statistical label shall also bear the note L. C. or A. O., as the case may be.

Sacks exempt.

4.—En ce qui concerne les sacs qui ne contiennent que des sacs vides, des correspondances exemptes de tous frais de transit (article 76 de la Convention) ou une feuille d'avis négative, la mention "Statistique" est suivie du mot "Exempt".

Ante, p. 2783.

Inclosed sacks.

5.—Lorsque des sacs composant la dépêche sont réunis dans un sac collecteur, celui-ci doit être pourvu de l'étiquette spéciale "Statistique", sur laquelle la mention "S.C." est ajoutée. Les indications concernant la statistique qui figurent sur les sacs intérieurs ne sont pas répétées sur le sac collecteur.

ARTICLE 163

Constatation du nombre de sacs et du poids des dépêches closes.

Fixing number of sacks, weight of mails, etc.

1.—En ce qui concerne les dépêches qui donnent lieu au payement de frais de transit, le bureau d'échange expéditeur fait usage d'une feuille d'avis spéciale conforme au modèle C 19 ci-annexé. Il inscrit à cette feuille d'avis le nombre de sacs en les répartissant, le cas échéant, dans les catégories suivantes:

ARTICLE 163

Fixing of the number of sacks and weight of closed mails

1. For dispatches which give rise to the payment of transit charges, the dispatching exchange office makes use of a special letter bill conforming to Model C 19 hereto appended. It enters on that letter bill the number of sacks, dividing them, if occasion arises, into the following classes:

Description of the sacks	Number of sacks whose gross weight

The number of sacks exempt from transit charges shall be the total of those bearing the indication Statistique—Exempt in accordance with the provisions of Article 162, Section 4.

reau constate une erreur dans les nombres inscrits, il rectifie la feuille et signale immédiatement l'erreur au bureau d'échange expéditeur au moyen d'un bulletin de vérification conforme au modèle C 20 ci-annexé. Toutefois, en ce qui concerne le poids d'un sac, l'indication du bureau d'échange expéditeur est tenue pour valable, à moins que le poids réel ne dépasse de plus de 250 grammes le poids maximum de la catégorie dans laquelle ce sac a été inscrit.

However, in regard to the weight of a sack, the statement of the dispatching exchange office is considered as valid unless the actual weight exceeds the maximum weight of the class in which that sack has been entered by more than 250 grams.

ARTICLE 164

Confection des relevés des dépêches closes.

1.—Aussitôt que possible après la clôture des opérations de statistique, les bureaux destinataires dressent en autant d'expéditions qu'il y a d'Administrations intéressées, y compris celle du lieu de départ, des relevés conformes au modèle C 21 ci-annexé et transmettent ces relevés aux bureaux d'échange de l'Administration expéditrice pour être revêtus de leur acceptation. Ces bureaux, après avoir accepté les relevés, les transmettent à leur Administration centrale qui les répartit entre les Administrations intéressées.

2.—Si les relevés C 21 ne sont pas parvenus aux bureaux d'échange de l'Administration expéditrice ou leur sont parvenus en nombre insuffisant dans le délai de trois mois (quatre mois dans les échanges avec les pays éloignés), à compter du jour de l'expédition de la dernière dépêche à comprendre dans la statistique, ces bureaux dressent eux-mêmes lesdits relevés, en nombre suffisant, d'après leurs propres indications et en inscrivant sur chacun d'eux la mention: "Les relevés C 21 du bureau destinataire ne sont pas parvenus dans le délai réglementaire." Ils les transmettent ensuite à leur Administration centrale qui les répartit entre les Administrations en cause.

Preparation of statements for closed mails

1. As soon as possible after the close of statistical operations, the offices of destination make up, in as many copies as there are Administrations concerned, including that of the country of origin, statements conforming to Model C 21 hereto appended, and transmit such statements to the exchange offices of the dispatching Administration to be indorsed with their acceptance. Those offices, after having accepted the statements, transmit them to their central Administration, which distributes them among the Administrations concerned.

Post, p. 2911.

2. If the Forms C 21 have not reached the exchange offices of the Administration of origin, or if they have not arrived there in sufficient numbers, within a period of three months (four months in exchanges with distant countries), counting from the date of dispatch of the last mail to be included in the statistics, those offices themselves make up the said forms in sufficient numbers in accordance with their own records, and enter on each one of them the note: Les relevés C 21 du bureau destinataire ne sont pas parvenus dans le délai réglementaire (The Forms C 21 of the office of destination did not arrive within the prescribed period). They then transmit them to their central Administration, which distributes them among the Administrations concerned.

List of closed mails exchanged in transit.

1.—Aussitôt que possible et, au plus tard, dans un délai de trois mois après chaque période de statistique, sauf le cas où la voie d'acheminement n'a pu être constatée dans ce délai, les Administrations qui ont expédié des dépêches en transit envoient, sur formule conforme au modèle C 22 ci-annexé, la liste de ces dépêches aux différentes Administrations dont elles ont emprunté l'intermédiaire.

Post, p. 2912.

Explanatory notes.

2.—Si cette liste indique des dépêches en transit qui, d'après les dispositions de l'article 162, ne donnent pas lieu à l'établissement d'un relevé C 21, elle doit porter une mention explicative, telle que "Sacs vides", "Correspondances exemptes", "Feuille d'avis négative".

Les dépêches expédiées, pendant la période de statistique, à l'adresse des bâtiments de guerre doivent porter, sur des étiquettes, la date d'expédition.

ARTICLE 165

List of closed mails exchanged in transit

1. As soon as possible, and at the latest within a period of three months after each statistical period, except in cases where the route could not be determined within that period, the Administrations which have sent dispatches in transit send a list of such dispatches on a form agreeing with Model C 22 hereto appended to the various Administrations whose intermediary they have employed.

2. If that list indicates dispatches in transit which, in accordance with the provisions of Article 162, do not give rise to the preparation of a Form C 21, it shall bear an explanatory note, such as: Sacs vides (empty sacks), Correspondances exemptes (correspondence exempt from transit charges), Feuille d'avis négative (negative letter bill).

ARTICLE 166

Closed mails exchanged with warships

It is incumbent upon the Administrations of countries to which warships belong to make up the Forms C 21 relative to the mails dispatched or received by those vessels. Mails dispatched during the statistical period destined for warships shall bear, on labels, the date of dispatch.

In case that such dispatches are forwarded, the forwarding Administration so advises the Administration of the country to which the vessel belongs.

ARTICLE 167

Transit bulletin

1. When the route to be followed and the transportation services to be utilized for mails dispatched during the statistical period are unknown or uncertain, the Adnistration d'origine doit, à la demande de l'Administration destinataire, préparer pour chaque dépêche un bulletin de couleur verte conforme au modèle C 23 ci-annexé. L'Administration d'origine peut également expédier ce bulletin sans une demande formelle de l'Administration destinataire, si les circonstances paraissent l'exiger.

Les feuilles d'avis des dépêches qui donnent lieu à l'établissement dudit bulletin doivent être revêtues, en tête, de l'annotation très apparente "Bulletin de transit". La même mention soulignée au crayon rouge est portée sur les étiquettes spéciales "Statistique" dont il est question à l'article 162.

2.—Le bulletin de transit doit être transmis à découvert, avec les dépêches auxquelles il se rapporte, aux différents services qui participent à leur transport. Dans chaque pays intéressé, les bureaux d'échange d'entrée et de sortie, à l'exclusion de tout autre bureau intermédiaire, consignent sur le bulletin les renseignements concernant le transit effectué par eux. Le dernier bureau d'échange intermédiaire transmet le bulletin C 23 au bureau de destination. Le bulletin est renvoyé ensuite par ce bureau au bureau d'origine à l'appui du relevé C 21. Lorsqu'un bulletin de transit dont l'expédition a été demandée ou est annoncée en tête de la feuille d'avis fait défaut, le bureau de destination est tenu de le réclamer sans aucun retard.

ministration of origin shall, at the request of the Administration of destination, prepare for each dispatch a bulletin, green in color, conforming to Model C 23 hereto appended. The Administration of origin may also send such bulletin without a formal request from the Administration of destination, if circumstances appear to require it.

Post, p. 2913.

Notation.

The letter bills of the dispatches which give rise to the preparation of the said bulletin shall be marked at the head with the conspicuous notation: Bulletin de transit (transit bulletin). The same notation, underlined in red pencil, is entered on the special Statistique (statistical) labels mentioned in Article 162.

Ante, p. 2859.

Bulletin to be sent uninclosed.

2. The transit bulletin shall be sent uninclosed, together with the dispatches to which it relates, to the different services which participate in their transportation. In each country concerned, the exchange offices of entry and departure, to the exclusion of all other intermediate offices, enter on the bulletin the information concerning the transit effected by them. The last intermediate exchange office sends the bulletin C 23 to the office of destination. The bulletin is then returned by that office to the office of origin in support of the Form C 21. When a transit bulletin whose issuance was requested or is announced at the head of the letter bill is missing, the office of destination is bound to make inquiry about it without any delay.

COMPTABILITÉ. RÈGLEMENT DES COMPTES.

ARTICLE 169

Compte des frais de transit.

Transit charges. Calculation of. Ante, p. 2860.

1.—Pour l'établissement des comptes de transit, les sacs légers, moyens ou lourds, tels qu'ils sont définis à l'article 163, sont portés en compte respectivement pour les poids moyens de 3, 12 ou 24 kilogrammes.

2.—Le poids des dépêches closes est multiplié par 26 ou 13, selon le cas, et le produit sert de base à des comptes particuliers établissant en francs les sommes annuelles revenant à chaque Administration.

Dans le cas où le multiplicateur 26 ou 13 ne répond pas au trafic normal, les Administrations intéressées s'entendent pour l'adoption d'un autre multiplicateur qui vaut pendant les années auxquelles s'applique la statistique.

Le soin de dresser les comptes incombe à l'Administration créancière qui les transmet à l'Administration débitrice.

3.—Afin de tenir compte du poids des sacs et de l'emballage ainsi que des catégories de correspondances exemptes de tous frais de transit en conformité des dispositions de l'article 76 de la Convention, le montant total du compte des dépêches closes est réduit de 10%.

Ante, p. 2783.

4.—Les comptes particuliers sont dressés en double expédition. sur formule conforme au modèle C 24 ci-annexé, d'après les relevés C 21. Ils sont transmis à l'Administration expéditrice aussitôt que possible et, au plus tard, dans un délai de dix mois suivant l'expiration de la période de statistique.

Post, p. 2914.

5.—Si l'Administration qui a envoyé le compte particulier n'a reçu aucune observation rectificative dans un intervalle de quatre mois à compter de l'envoi, ce compte est considéré comme admis de plein droit.

CHAPTER II

ACCOUNTING. ADJUSTMENT OF ACCOUNTS

ARTICLE 169

Transit-charge account

1. For the preparation of transit accounts, the light, medium or heavy sacks, as defined by Article 163, are considered as having their average weights of 3, 12 or 24 kilograms respectively.

2. The weight of the closed mails is multiplied by 26 or 13, as the case may be, and the product serves as the basis for individual accounts showing, in francs, the annual payments due to each Administration.

In case that the multiplier 26 or 13 does not correspond to the normal traffic, the Administrations concerned come to an agreement for the adoption of another multiplier which holds good during the years to which the statistics apply.

The duty of making up the accounts is incumbent upon the creditor Administration, which transmits them to the debtor Administration.

3. In order to take account of the weight of the sacks and packing, as well as of the classes of correspondence exempt from all transit charges in accordance with the provisions of Article 76 of the Convention, the total amount of the account for closed mails is reduced by 10 per cent.

4. The individual accounts are made up in duplicate on forms agreeing with Model C 24 hereto appended, on the basis of the statements C 21. They are sent to the dispatching Administration as soon as possible, and at the latest within a period of ten months following the expiration of the statistical period.

5. If the Administration which has sent the individual account has not received any corrective observation within an interval of four months, counting from the date of transmission, that account is considered as automatically accepted.

ARTICLE 170

Décompte général annuel. Intervention du Bureau international.

1.—Sauf entente contraire entre les Administrations intéressées, le décompte général comprenant les frais de transit est établi annuellement par le Bureau international.

2.—Aussitôt que les comptes particuliers entre deux Administrations sont approuvés ou considérés comme admis de plein droit (article 169, § 5), chacune de ces Administrations transmet sans retard, au Bureau international, un relevé conforme au modèle C 25 ci-annexé et indiquant les montants totaux de ces comptes. Lors de la réception d'un relevé émanant d'une Administration, le Bureau international en avertit l'autre Administration intéressée.

Dans le solde, il est fait abandon des centimes.

En cas de différences entre les indications correspondantes fournies par deux Administrations, le Bureau international les invite à se mettre d'accord et à lui indiquer les sommes définitivement arrêtées.

Lorsqu'une Administration seulement a fourni le relevé C 25, les indications de cette Administration font foi, à moins que le relevé correspondant de l'Administration retardataire ne parvienne au Bureau international en temps opportun pour l'établissement du prochain décompte général annuel.

Dans le cas prévu à l'article 169, § 5, les relevés doivent porter la mention "Aucune observation de l'Administration débitrice n'est parvenue dans le délai réglementaire".

Si deux Administrations se mettent d'accord pour faire un règlement spécial, leurs relevés C 25 portent la mention "Compte réglé à part—à titre d'information" et ne sont pas compris dans le décompte général annuel.

ARTICLE 170

General annual account. Intervention of the International Bureau

General annual account.

1. Barring contrary agreement between the Administrations concerned, the general account covering transit charges is made up annually by the International Bureau.

Transmission.

2. As soon as the individual accounts between two Administrations are approved or considered as automatically accepted (Article 169, Section 5), each of those Administrations transmits without delay, to the International Bureau, an account conforming to Model C 25 hereto appended and indicating the total amounts of those accounts. Upon receipt of an account coming from one Administration, the International Bureau so advises the other Administration concerned.

Ante, p. 2864.

Post, p. 2915.

Centimes are ignored in the balances.

Settlement of differences.

In case of difference between the corresponding items furnished by two Administrations, the International Bureau invites them to come to an agreement and to communicate to it the sums definitely arrived at.

When only one statement furnished.

When only one of the Administrations has furnished the Form C 25, the amounts indicated by that Administration hold good, unless the corresponding statement is received by the International Bureau from the Administration in arrears in time for the preparation of the next general annual account.

Post, p. 2915.

Notation.

In the case provided for by Article 169, Section 5, the accounts shall bear the note: Aucune observation de l'Administration débitrice n'est parvenue dans le délai réglementaire (No observation received from the debtor Administration within the prescribed period).

Special settlement between two Powers.

If two Administrations agree to make a special settlement, their Forms C 25 bear the note: Compte réglé à part—à titre d'information (Account settled separately—for purposes of information); and are not included in the general annual account.

Post, p. 2915.

Transit charge accounts.

3.—Le Bureau international établit, à la fin de chaque année, sur la base des relevés qui lui sont parvenus jusque-là et qui sont considérés comme admis de plein droit, un décompte général annuel des frais de transit. Le cas échéant, il se conforme à la règle fixée à l'article 161, § 3, pour les payements annuels.

Ante, p. 2856.

Le décompte indique:

a) le Doit et l'Avoir de chaque Administration;

b) le solde débiteur ou le solde créditeur de chaque Administration;

c) les sommes à payer par les Administrations débitrices;

d) les sommes à recevoir par les Administrations créancières.

Le Bureau international procède par voie de compensation, de manière à restreindre au minimum le nombre des payements à effectuer.

Transmission.

4.—Les décomptes généraux annuels doivent être transmis aux Administrations par le Bureau international, aussitôt que possible et, au plus tard, avant l'expiration du premier trimestre de l'année qui suit celle de leur établissement.

3. The International Bureau makes up, at the end of each year, on the basis of the forms which have reached it up to that time and which are considered as duly accepted, a general account of transit charges. If occasion arises, it complies with the rule laid down by Article 161, Section 3, for annual payments.

The account indicates:

(a) The debit and credit of each Administration;

(b) The debit or credit balance of each Administration;

(c) The sums to be paid by the debtor Administrations;

(d) The sums to be received by the creditor Administrations.

The International Bureau proceeds by way of compensation in such a manner as to restrict to the minimum the number of payments to be made.

4. The general annual accounts shall be transmitted to the Administrations by the International Bureau as soon as possible, and at the latest before the expiration of the first quarter of the year following that of their preparation.

Liquidation des frais de transit.

Settlement of transit charges.

Ante, p. 2856.

a) au choix de l'Administration débitrice, en or ou au moyen de chèques ou de traites répondant aux conditions prévues au § 2 ci-après et payables à vue sur la capitale ou sur une place commerciale du pays créancier, ou

ARTICLE 171

Settlement of transit charges

1. The balance resulting from the general annual account of the International Bureau or from special settlements, including, if occasion arises, the adjustment provided for in Article 161, Section 3, is paid by the debtor Administration to the creditor Administration in one of the following manners:

(a) At the choice of the debtor Administration, in gold or by means of checks or drafts fulfilling the conditions prescribed by Section 2 hereafter and payable at sight in the capital or in a commercial city of the creditor country; or

(b) Following agreement between the two Administrations, thru the intermediary of a bank utilizing the clearing-house of the ments Internationaux à Bâle ou par tout autre moyen.

2.—En cas de payement au moyen de chéques ou traites, ces chèques ou traites sont exprimés en monnaie d'un pays où la banque centrale d'émission ou une autre institution officielle d'émission achète et vend de l'or ou des devises-or contre la monnaie nationale à des taux fixes déterminés par la loi ou en vertu d'un arrangement avec le Gouvernement.

Si les monnaies de plusieurs pays répondent à ces conditions, c'est au pays créancier de désigner la monnaie qui lui convient. La conversion se fait au pair des monnaies d'or.

3.—Lorsque les deux pays se sont mis d'accord à ce sujet, les chèques ou traites peuvent être exprimés aussi en monnaie du pays créancier, même si cette monnaie ne répond pas aux conditions prévues au § 2. Dans ce cas, le solde est converti au pair des monnaies d'or en monnaie d'un pays répondant aux conditions prévues au § 2. Le résultat obtenu est ensuite converti dans la monnaie du pays débiteur et de celle-ci dans la monnaie du pays créancier au cours de la bourse de la capitale ou d'une place commerciale du pays débiteur au jour de la remise de l'ordre d'achat du chèque ou de la traite.

4.—Les frais de payement sont supportés par l'Administration débitrice.

5.—Le payement précité doit être effectué dans le plus bref délai possible et, au plus tard, avant l'expiration d'un délai de quatre mois à partir de la date d'envoi du décompte par le Bureau international ou de l'invitation à payer, adressée par l'Administration créancière à l'Administration débitrice, quand il s'agit d'un compte réglé à part. Ce délai peut être porté à cinq mois dans les relations entre pays éloignés.

Passé ces délais, les sommes dues sont productives d'intérêt à Bank for International Settlements at Basel, or by any other means.

2. In case of payment by means of checks or drafts, such checks or drafts are expressed in money of a country where the central bank of issue or other official issuing institution buys and sells gold or gold currency for national money at fixed rates determined by law or by virtue of an agreement with the Government.

If the moneys of several countries fulfill those conditions, it is incumbent upon the creditor country to designate the money which is convenient for it. The conversion is effected at the gold par rate.

3. When the two countries have come to an agreement on that subject, the checks or drafts may also be expressed in money of the creditor country, even if such money does not fulfill the conditions laid down by Section 2. In that case, the balance is converted at the gold par rate into money of a country fulfilling the conditions prescribed by Section 2. The result obtained is then converted into money of the debtor country and from the latter into money of the creditor country at the rate of exchange prevailing in the capital or in a commercial city of the debtor country on the day of delivery of the order to purchase the check or draft.

Expenses.

4. The expenses of payment are borne by the debtor Administration.

Early payment.

5. The payment above mentioned shall be made as soon as possible, and at the latest before the expiration of a period of four months, counting from the date of transmission of the account by the International Bureau, or of the invitation to pay sent by the creditor Administration to the debtor Administration when it is a question of accounts settled separately. That period may be extended to five months in relations between distant countries.

Interest.

After those periods have expired, the sums due bear interest raison de 5% l'an, à compter du jour d'expiration desdits délais.

Arrearage.

6.—Si le payement n'est pas effectué un an après l'expiration des délais fixés au § 5, il est loisible à l'Administration créancière d'en informer le Bureau international, lequel invite l'Administration débitrice à payer dans un délai qui ne doit pas dépasser quatre mois.

Si le payement n'est pas effectué jusqu'à l'expiration de ce nouveau délai, le Bureau international fait figurer la somme en cause, augmentée des intérêts, dans le décompte général annuel suivant, à l'Avoir de l'Administration créancière.

En cas d'application des dispositions de l'alinéa précédent, le décompte général dont il s'agit et ceux des quatre années qui suivent ne doivent, autant que possible, pas contenir, dans les soldes du Tableau 2, des sommes à payer par l'Administration défaillante à l'Administration créancière intéressée.

Article 172

Reply coupons

1. Reply coupons conform to Model C 26 hereto appended. They are printed, on paper having in the watermark the letters U P U in large characters, under the supervision of the International Bureau, which furnishes them to the Administrations at cost.

2. Each Administration has the option:

(a) Of giving the reply coupons a distinctive perforation which does not interfere with the reading of the text and is not of such a nature as to hinder verification of the coupons;

(b) Of modifying, by hand or by means of a printing process, sion, le prix de vente indiqué sur les coupons.

3.—Dans les décomptes entre Administrations, la valeur des coupons-réponse est calculée à raison de 35 centimes par unité.

4.—Sauf entente contraire, les coupons échangés sont envoyés annuellement, au plus tard dans un délai de trois mois après expiration de l'année, aux Administrations qui les ont émis, avec l'indication globale de leur nombre et de leur valeur.

5.—Aussitôt que deux Administrations se sont mises d'accord sur le nombre des coupons échangés dans leurs relations réciproques, elles dressent chacune et transmettent au Bureau international un relevé conforme au modèle C 27 ci-annexé indiquant le solde débiteur ou créditeur, si ce solde dépasse 25 francs et si un règlement spécial n'a pas été prévu entre les deux pays. A défaut d'accord dans un délai de six mois, l'Administration créancière établit son décompte et l'envoie au Bureau international.

Dans le cas où l'une des Administrations seulement fournit son relevé, les indications de celui-ci font foi.

Le solde est compris par le Bureau international dans un décompte annuel et le payement a lieu dans les conditions prévues à l'article 171.

6.—Lorsque, dans les rapports entre deux Administrations, le solde annuel ne dépasse pas 25 francs, l'Administration débitrice est exonérée de tout payement.

the selling price indicated on the coupons.

3. In accounts between Administrations, the value of reply coupons is calculated at the rate of 35 centimes per unit.

Annual settlement.

4. Barring contrary agreement, exchanged coupons are sent annually, at the latest within a period of three months after the expiration of the year, to the Administrations which have issued them, with an indication of their total number and value.

Procedure.

5. As soon as two Administrations have come to an agreement as to the number of coupons exchanged in their reciprocal relations, they each make up and transmit to the International Bureau a statement conforming to Model C 27 hereto appended, indicating the debit or credit balance, if such balance exceeds 25 francs and if special settlement has not been provided for between the two countries. In the absence of an agreement within a period of six months, the creditor Administration makes up its account and sends it to the International Bureau.

Post, p. 2916.

If only one statement received.

In case that only one of the Administrations furnishes its statement, the indications of the latter are considered as valid.

The balance is included by the International Bureau in an annual account and payment takes place under the conditions prescribed by Article 171.

Ante, p. 2866.

Small balances.

6. When, in the relations between two Administrations, the annual balance does not exceed 25 francs, the debtor Administration is released from all payment.

Article 173

Cartes d'identité.

1.—Chaque Administration désigne les bureaux ou les services qui délivrent les cartes d'identité.

2.—Ces cartes sont établies sur des formules conformes au modèle C 28 ci-annexé. Ces formules sont fournies, au prix coûtant, par le Bureau international.

Article 173

Identity cards

Identity cards.

Issuing offices.

1. Each Administration designates the offices or services which issue identity cards.

Forms.

2. Such cards are made up on forms agreeing with Model C 28 hereto appended. Those forms are furnished at cost by the International Bureau.

Post, p. 2917.

Requirements.

3.—Au moment de la demande, le requérant remet sa photographie et justifie de son identité. Les Administrations édictent les prescriptions nécessaires pour que les cartes ne soient délivrées qu'après examen minutieux de l'identité du requérant.

L'agent inscrit cette demande sur un registre, remplit à l'encre et en caractères latins toutes les indications que comporte la formule de carte d'identité, colle sur celle-ci la photographie à l'endroit désigné, applique mi-partie sur cette photographie et mi-partie sur la carte un timbre-poste représentant la taxe perçue et annule cette figurine au moyen d'une empreinte bien nette du timbre à date.

Il appose ensuite de nouveau l'empreinte de ce timbre ou de son sceau officiel, de manière qu'elle porte à la fois sur la partie supérieure de la photographie et sur la carte, puis reproduit cette empreinte au recto de la carte, signe celle-ci et la remet à l'intéressé après avoir recueilli sa signature.

Renewal of photograph.

4.—Lorsque la physionomie du titulaire s'est modifiée au point qu'elle ne réponde plus à la photographie ou au signalement, la carte doit être renouvelée.

Rights reserved.

5.—Chaque pays conserve la faculté de délivrer les cartes d'identité du service international selon les règles appliquées pour les cartes en usage dans son service intérieur.

Post, p. 2917.

Les Administrations peuvent ajouter un feuillet à la formule C 28, destiné à recevoir des annotations spéciales pour les besoins de leur service interne.

3. At the time of application, the applicant submits his photograph and proves his identity. The Administrations fix the necessary requirements so that cards may not be issued until after careful investigation as to the identity of the applicant.

The employee enters that application in a register; fills in with ink, and in Latin characters, all the information called for by the form of identity card; affixes the photograph to it in the designated place; applies, half on the photograph and half on the card, a postage stamp representing the charge collected; and cancels that stamp by means of a very neat impression of the date stamp.

He then also applies an impression of that stamp or his official seal in such a manner that it appears both on the upper part of the photograph and on the card, then reproduces that impression on the third page of the card, signs the latter, and delivers it to the interested party after obtaining his signature.

4. When the appearance of the holder becomes changed to such an extent that it no longer agrees with the photograph or description, the card shall be renewed.

5. Each country reserves the right to issue identity cards for the international service in accordance with the rules applicable to cards used in its domestic service.

Administrations may attach a leaflet to Form C 28 to receive such special annotations as may be required in the domestic service.

Dispatches considered in transit until delivery to commander.

6.—Les dépêches à destination d'un bâtiment de guerre sont considérées comme étant en transit jusqu'à leur remise au commandant de ce bâtiment, alors même qu'elles auraient été primitivement adressées aux soins d'un bureau de poste ou à un Consul chargé de servir d'agent de transport intermédiaire; elles ne sont donc pas considérées comme étant parvenues à leur adresse tant qu'elles n'ont pas été livrées au bâtiment de guerre destinataire.

4. If the ships are not found at the place of destination when the dispatches addressed to them arrive there, such dispatches are held at the post office until they are withdrawn by the addressee or forwarded to another point. Redirection may be requested either by the Postal Administration of origin or by the commanding officer of the naval division or vessel of destination; or, finally, by a Consul of the same nationality.

5. Those of the dispatches in question which bear the note: Aux soins du Consul d _____ (in care of the Consul of _____) are delivered to the Consulate indicated. Later on, they may, at the request of the Consul, be turned back to the postal service and returned to the place of origin or forwarded to another destination.

6. Dispatches addressed to a warship are considered as being in transit up to their delivery to the commanding officer of that ship, even if they were originally addressed in care of a post office or to a Consul charged with serving as intermediate forwarding agent; they are not, therefore, considered as having arrived at their address as long as they have not been delivered to the warship of destination.

General accounts.

Barring contrary agreement, an Administration which desires, for its own accounting purposes, to have general accounts, shall make them up itself, and submit them to the corresponding Administration for acceptance.

Detailed tables.

Ce tableau doit parvenir au Bureau international le 19 de chaque mois ou du premier mois de chaque trimestre au plus tard. A défaut, il n'est compris que dans la liquidation du mois ou du trimestre suivant.

Examination by Bureau.

3.—Le Bureau international examine, en rapprochant les reconnaissances, si les tableaux sont exacts. Toute rectification nécessaire est notifiée aux Administrations intéressées.

Le Doit de chaque Administration envers une autre est reporté dans un tableau récapitulatif; l'addition des sommes portées dans les diverses colonnes de ce tableau forme le solde débiteur global de chaque Administration.

Each Administration addresses to the International Bureau monthly, or quarterly, if special circumstances render it desirable, a table indicating its credit resulting from the detailed accounts, as well as the total of the sums due to it by each of the contracting Administrations; each credit figuring in that table shall be justified by an acknowledgment from the debtor Administration.

That table shall reach the International Bureau by the 19th of each month or of the first month of each quarter at the latest. Otherwise, it is carried over for settlement to the account for the following month or quarter.

3. The International Bureau examines, by comparing the acknowledgments, whether the tables are correct. Notice of any necessary correction is given to the Administrations concerned.

Ces acomptes sont inscrits, tant par l'Administration créancière que par l'Administration débitrice, au bas des tableaux à adresser au Bureau international.

2.—Les reconnaissances transmises au Bureau international avec les tableaux sont classées par Administration.

Elles servent de base pour l'établissement de la liquidation des comptes de chacune des Administrations intéressées. Dans cette liquidation doivent figurer:

a) les sommes afférentes aux comptes spéciaux portant sur les divers échanges;

b) le total des sommes résultant de tous les comptes spéciaux par rapport à chacune des Administrations intéressées;

c) les totaux des sommes dues à toutes les Administrations créancières pour chaque branche du service ainsi que leur total général.

Ce total doit être égal au total du Doit qui figure dans la récapitulation.

Au bas du bordereau de liquidation, la balance est établie entre le Doit et l'Avoir résultant des tableaux adressés par les Administrations au Bureau international. Le montant net du Doit ou de l'Avoir doit être égal au solde débiteur ou au solde créditeur porté dans la balance générale. En outre, le bordereau indique les Administrations en faveur desquelles le payement doit être effectué par l'Administration débitrice.

Les bordereaux de liquidation doivent être transmis aux Administrations intéressées, par le Bureau international, au plus tard le 22 de chaque mois.

Such remittances are entered, by both the creditor and the debtor Administrations, at the bottom of the tables which they address to the International Bureau.

Classifying acknowledgments.

2. The acknowledgments transmitted to the International Bureau with the tables are classified according to Administrations.

They serve as the basis for settlement of the accounts of each of the Administrations concerned. In the balance-sheet shall appear:

(a) The sums relative to the special accounts concerning the various exchanges;

(b) The total of the sums resulting from all the special accounts relating to each of the Administrations concerned;

(c) The totals of the sums due to all the creditor Administrations for each branch of the service, as well as their grand total.

That total must be equal to the debit appearing in the recapitulation.

At the bottom of the balance-sheet, the balance is struck between the debit and the credit resulting from the tables addressed by the Administrations to the International Bureau. The net amount of the debit or credit must be equal to the debit or credit balance carried into the general balance sheet. Moreover, the sheet indicates the Administrations in favor of which the payment is to be effected by the debtor Administration.

The balance sheets shall be sent to the Administrations concerned by the International Bureau by the 22d of each month at the latest.

En ce qui concerne l'Administration de destination, cette bonification doit être uniforme pour tous les parcours effectués sur son réseau intérieur.

3.—Si deux pays sont reliés par plusieurs lignes aériennes, les frais de transport sont calculés d'après la distance moyenne de ces parcours et leur importance pour le trafic international. Il en est de même de la bonification due pour le transport dans l'intérieur du pays de destination.

4.—Les frais de transport afférents à un même parcours aérien sont uniformes pour toutes les Administrations qui font emploi de ce service sans participer aux frais d'exploitation.

6. An Administration which delivers to an air-transport enterprise mails intended for conveyance by several separate air services in succession may, if it has agreed with the intermediate Administrations, settle directly with that enterprise for the transportation charges for the whole route. The intermediate Administrations, for their part, have the right to request the application pure and simple of the provisions of Section 5.

7. By exception to the provisions of Sections 5 and 6, every Administration maintaining an air service reserves the right to collect directly from each Administration utilizing that service the transportation charges for the whole route.

8. The air-transportation charges for air-mail correspondence sent in closed mails are chargeable to the Administration of the country of origin.

9. Barring contrary agreement between the Postal Administrations concerned, the transfer en route, in one and the same airport, of mails which employ several separate air services in succession, must be effected thru the intermediary of the Postal Administration of the country where the transshipment takes place. This rule does not apply when the transfer is made between machines performing successive sections of one and the same service.

10. SETTLEMENTS OF ACCOUNTS

Article 15

Accounting statistics

1. The general accounting for aerial transportation charges is effected in accordance with staétablis dans les sept jours qui suivent le 14 juin et le 14 novembre de chaque année. Les données de la statistique de juin forment la base des bonifications dues pour le service d'été; celles de novembre comptent pour le service d'hiver.

2.—Les statistiques concernant des services qui ne fonctionnent pas pendant les périodes de statistique régulières sont établies après entente entre les Administrations intéressées.

3.—Par mesure transitoire, l'Administration chargée du transport par voie aérienne a la faculté de demander que les règlements de compte aient lieu, trimestriellement ou semestriellement, sur la base du poids brut des dépêches ou du poids net majoré de 10% des envois à découvert transportés réellement pendant la période envisagée. Dans ce cas, les dispositions des articles 17, 19 et 20 ci-après sont appliquées à la constatation du poids et à l'établissement des comptes, étant entendu que les relevés A V 3 et A V 4 doivent être établis mensuellement pour tous les transports aériens effectués.

tistical tables made up during the seven days following the 14th of June and the 14th of November of each year. The results of the June statistics form the basis for the payments due for the summer service; those of November are used for the winter service.

2. Statistics concerning services which do not operate during the regular statistical periods are made up after agreement between the Administrations concerned. Special cases.

3. As a temporary measure, the Administration charged with the transportation by air has the option of requesting that the settlement of accounts be made, quarterly or semiannually, on the basis of the gross weight of the dispatches, or the net weight increased by 10 percent of the articles in open mail, actually transported during the period involved. In such a case, the provisions of Articles 17, 19 and 20 hereafter are applied to the ascertainment of weight and preparation of accounts, with the understanding that the statements A V 3 and A V 4 are to be made up monthly for all air transportation effected. Quarterly settlements optional.

ARTICLE 16

Confection des dépêches ordinaires ou des dépêches-avion pendant les périodes de statistique des frais de transport aérien.

Les dispositions de l'article 162 du Règlement d'exécution de la Convention ne s'appliquent pas aux statistiques biannuelles pour l'évaluation des frais du transport aérien. Toutefois, pendant la période de ces statistiques, les étiquettes ou suscriptions de dépêches qui contiennent des correspondances-avion doivent porter, d'une manière apparente, la mention "Statistique-avion".

ARTICLE 16

Preparation of ordinary or aerial dispatches during the statistical periods for air-mail transportation charges

The provisions of Article 162 of the Regulations of Execution of the Convention do not apply to the semiannual statistics for the fixing of aerial transportation charges. However, during such statistical periods, the labels or addresses of dispatches containing air-mail correspondence shall bear the conspicuous notation Statistique-avion (air-mail statistics). Preparing dispatches during statistical periods.

ARTICLE 17

Fixing weight of air-mail correspondence.

Constatation du poids des correspondances-avion.

Date and weight to be indicated.

1.—Pendant les périodes de statistique, la date d'expédition et le poids brut de la dépêche sont indiqués sur l'étiquette ou sur la suscription extérieure de la dépêche. L'insertion de dépêches-avion entrantes dans une autre dépêche de même nature est interdite.

Redispatched mail.

2.—Dans le cas où des correspondances à découvert, destinées à être réacheminées par voie aérienne, sont comprises dans une dépêche ordinaire ou dans une dépêche-avion, ces correspondances, réunies en une liasse spéciale étiquetée "Par avion", sont accompagnées d'un bordereau conforme au modèle A V 2 ci-annexé. Le poids des correspondances en transit à découvert est indiqué séparément pour chaque pays de destination. La feuille d'avis est revêtue de la mention "Bordereau A V 2".

Post, p. 2954.

Verification.

3.—Ces indications sont vérifiées par le bureau d'échange destinataire. Si ce bureau constate que le poids réel diffère de plus de 20 grammes du poids annoncé, il rectifie l'étiquette ou le bordereau A V 2 et signale immédiatement l'erreur au bureau d'échange expéditeur par bulletin de vérification. Lorsqu'il s'agit de dépêches closes, une copie de ce bulletin est adressée à chaque Administration intermédiaire. Si les différences de poids constatées restent dans les limites précitées, les indications du bureau expéditeur sont tenues pour valables.

ARTICLE 17

Fixing the weight of air-mail correspondence

1. During the statistical periods, the date of dispatch and the gross weight of the mail are indicated on the label or outside address of the dispatch. The inclusion of air-mail dispatches in another dispatch of the same kind is prohibited.

2. In case that open-mail correspondence intended to be redispatched by the air route is included in an ordinary or air-mail dispatch, such correspondence, made up into a special bundle labeled Par avion (by air mail), is accompanied by a list conforming to Model A V 2 hereto appended. The weight of the correspondence in transit in open mail is indicated separately for each country of destination. The letter bill is provided with the note Bordereau A V 2 (List A V 2).

3. Those entries are verified by the exchange office of destination. If that office finds that the actual weight differs by more than 20 grams from the weight announced, it corrects the label or the list A V 2 and immediately reports the error to the dispatching exchange office by bulletin of verification. When it is a question of closed mails, a copy of that bulletin is addressed to each intermediate Administration. If the differences in weight detected remain within the limits above mentioned, the entries of the dispatching office are considered as valid.

ARTICLE 18

List of closed air mails

As soon as possible, and in any case within a period of fifteen days after each statistical period, the Administrations which have dispatched closed air mails send a list of such dispatches to the different Administrations whose air services they have used, in-

ARTICLE 19

Compte des frais de transport aérien réglés sur la base des statistiques.

1.—Pendant les périodes de statistique, les Administrations intermédiaires prennent note, dans un relevé conforme au modèle A V 3 ci-annexé, des poids indiqués sur les étiquettes ou suscriptions extérieures des dépêches-avion qu'elles ont réacheminées par la voie aérienne, soit dans leur réseau interne, soit au delà des frontières de leur pays. Il est dressé un relevé pour chaque bureau d'échange expéditeur de dépêches-avion.

2.—Les Administrations de réception des dépêches-avion, qui assurent par la voie aérienne le réacheminement des correspondances-avion qu'elles contiennent, soit dans leur réseau interne, soit au delà des frontières de leur pays, dressent un relevé conforme au modèle A V 4 ci-annexé d'après les indications figurant sur les bordereaux A V 2. Il est procédé de la même manière en ce qui concerne les correspondances-avion contenues dans les dépêches ordinaires.

3.—Aussitôt que possible et, au plus tard, six semaines après la clôture de opérations de statistique, les relevés A V 3 et A V 4 sont transmis aux bureaux d'échange expéditeurs pour être revêtus de leur acceptation. Ces bureaux, après avoir accepté les relevés, les transmettent à leur tour à leur Administration centrale qui les fait parvenir à l'Administration centrale créancière.

4.—Si l'Administration créancière n'a reçu aucune observation rectificative dans un intervalle de trois mois à compter de l'envoi, les relevés sont considérés comme admis de plein droit. Dans les relations entre pays éloignés, ce délai est porté à quatre mois.

A statement is made up for each exchange office of origin of air mails.

Post, p. 2955.

2. Administrations receiving air mails, which assure the reforwarding of the air-mail correspondence which they contain by the air route, either in their domestic services or beyond the frontiers of their countries, prepare a statement conforming to Model A V 4 hereto appended, in accordance with the entries appearing in the lists A V 2. The same procedure is followed in regard to air-mail correspondence contained in ordinary dispatches.

Post, pp. 2956, 2954.

3. As soon as possible, and at the latest six weeks after the close of statistical operations, the forms A V 3 and A V 4 are sent to the dispatching exchange offices for acceptance. Those offices, after accepting the statements, send them in turn to their central Administration, which forwards them to the central Administration of the creditor country.

4. If the creditor Administration has not received any statement of differences within an interval of three months, counting from the date of transmittal, the statements are considered as automatically accepted. In relations between distant countries, that period is extended to four months.

Aerial transportation account

1. The gross weights of the dispatches, and the net weights increased by 10 per cent of the articles in open mail, shown in the statements A V 3 or A V 4, are multiplied by a figure determined by the frequency of the summer and winter services; the products thus obtained serve as the basis for individual accounts showing, in francs, the transportation charges due to each Administration for the current six-month period.

2. The duty of preparing those accounts is incumbent upon the creditor Administration, which transmits them to the debtor Administration.

3. The individual accounts are made up in duplicate and transmitted as soon as possible to the debtor Administration. If the creditor Administration has not received any statement of differences within an interval of three months, counting from the date of transmittal, such accounts are considered as automatically accepted.

ARTICLE 21

General account

In the absence of contrary agreement between the Administrations concerned, the general account of air-transportation charges is made up twice a year by the International Bureau, in accordance with the rules fixed for the transit-charge account.

FINAL PROTOCOL OF THE PROVISIONS CONCERNING THE TRANSPORTATION OF REGULAR MAILS BY AIR

I

Aerial transportation charges for closed mails

The Administrations of British India and the Union of Socialistic Soviet Republics have the option of collecting, for each section of their domestic air systems, the transportation charges provided for in Article 12.

II

Option of reducing the weight-unit for air-mail correspondence

III

Exceptional surcharges in favor of certain European countries

Administrations of Europe which, due to the geographic situation of their countries, find it difficult to adopt a uniform surcharge for all Europe, are authorized to collect surcharges in proportion to the distances, in accordance with the provisions of Article 4, Section 2.

That option is also granted to other European countries in their relations with the countries mentioned in the preceding paragraph.

ARTICLE 2.

PREPARATION OF PARCELS.

1. The name and address of the sender and of the addressee must be legibly and correctly written in every case when possible on the parcel itself or on a label or tag firmly attached thereto. It is not allowed to write with initials the name and address of the sender or addressee, unless the initials are the adopted trade name of the senders or addressees which is generally understood. Addresses in pencil are also not allowed, except those written with copying ink on a surface previously dampened.

A slip bearing the name and address of the sender and addressee must be enclosed in the parcel when the address is written on a label or tag which is not gummed to the parcel. It is advisable that such slips be enclosed in all parcels.

2. Every parcel must be packed in a manner adequate for the length of the journey and the character of the contents, and in such a way as to prevent the contents from damaging other parcels or objects or injuring the postal agents. The packing must protect the contents sufficiently that, in case of rifling, the traces thereof may be easily discovered.

Every insured parcel containing coin, bank notes, currency notes, cheques, bonds and similar documents, platinum, gold or silver (whether manufactured or not), precious stones, jewelry or other precious articles, must be packed in a metal box or in a wooden box of which the boards are at least one centimetre thick.

ARTIKEL 2.

WIJZE VAN VERPAKKING VAN PAKKETTEN.

Preparation of parcels.

1. De naam en het adres van den afzender en van den geadresseerde moeten leesbaar en nauwkeurig worden geschreven zooveel mogelijk op het pakket zelf of anders op een stevig daaraan bevestigde label. Het is niet geoorloofd den naam en het adres van den afzender of geadresseerde alleen met initialen te schrijven, tenzij de initialen den aangenomen handelsnaam van de afzenders of geadresseerden zijn, welke algemeen bekend is. Adressen in potlood, zijn evenmin toegelaten behalve die, welke met inktpotlood zijn geschreven op een vooraf bevochtigde plaats.

Een strook met vermelding van naam en adres van den afzender en van den geadresseerde moet in het pakket worden gesloten, wanneer het adres op een label is geschreven, dat niet op het pakket is geplakt. Het verdient aanbeveling, dat een dergelijk afschrift in alle pakketten wordt gesloten.

2. Elk pakket moet worden verpakt op een wijze, waarbij rekening gehouden is met den duur van het vervoer en den aard van den inhoud en wel zoodanig, dat voorkomen wordt, dat de inhoud andere pakketten of voorwerpen beschadigt of de postambtenaren verwondt. De verpakking moet den inhoud afdoende beveiligen en zoodanig zijn, dat, ingeval van berooving, de sporen daarvan gemakkelijk opvallen.

Elk pakket met aangegeven waarde, dat muntstukken, bankbiljetten, muntbiljetten, chèques, obligaties en soortgelijke documenten, platina, goud of zilver (al dan niet bewerkt), edelgesteenten, juweelen of andere kostbaarheden bevat, moet worden verpakt in een metalen doos of in een houten kistje waarvan de wanden ten minste een centimeter dik zijn.

Any liquid or any substance which easily liquefies must be packed in a double receptacle. Between the first receptacle (bottle, flask, pot, box, etc.) and the second (box of metal, of strong wood, of strong corrugated cardboard or of strong fibreboard or receptacle of equal strength) shall be left a space which shall be filled with sawdust, bran or some other absorbent material, in sufficient quantity to absorb all the liquid contents in the case of breakage.

Powders and dyes in powder form must be packed in lead-sealed metal containers which must be enclosed in substantial outer covers, so as to obviate all damage to the accompanying mail matter.

3. Insured parcels must be sealed by means of wax, by lead or other seals. Ordinary parcels may be sealed at the option of the sender, or careful tying is sufficient as a mode of closing. Either Administration may require a special design or mark of the sender in the sealing of insured parcels mailed in its service as a means of protection.

The customs of the country of destination, for the purpose of customs examination, shall have the right to break the seals. After customs examination is concluded, the parcels shall be officially resealed.

4. On the address side, each insured parcel and customs declaration must bear a label with the words "Insured" or "Valeur déclarée", or be stamped or marked with the same words in close proximity to the number given the parcel.

Each insured parcel and customs declaration must also bear

Vloeistoffen of zelfstandigheden, welke gemakkelijk vloeibaar worden, moeten in een dubbel omhulsel worden verpakt. Tusschen het eerste omhulsel (flesch, flacon, pot, doos, enz.) en het tweede (doos van metaal of stevig hout, van sterk gegolfd carton of soortgelijke stof, of omhulsel van gelijke stevigheid) moet ruimte worden gelaten, welke wordt opgevuld met zaagsel, zemelen of een andere opslorpende stof in voldoende hoeveelheid om den vloeibaren inhoud ingeval van breken te kunnen opnemen.

Poeders en verfstoffen in poedervorm moeten in dichtgesoldeerde, metalen doozen worden verpakt, welke in degelijke buitenomhulsels moeten worden gesloten, zoodanig dat elke beschadiging van de medegezonden post wordt voorkomen.

3. Pakketten met aangegeven waarde moeten verzegeld worden door middel van lak, lood of andere zegels. Gewone pakketten kunnen naar verkiezing van den afzender worden verzegeld; voor de sluiting kan echter reeds met een behoorlijk vastgeknoopt touw worden volstaan. Elke Administratie kan als voorzorgsmaatregel eischen, dat de lakken van de pakketten met aangegeven waarde, welke in haar dienst zijn terpostbezorgd, van een bijzonder kenteeken of merk van den afzender zijn voorzien.

De douane van het land van bestemming heeft, ten behoeve van het douane-onderzoek, het recht de zegels te verbreken. Nadat het douane-onderzoek heeft plaats gehad worden de pakketten ambtshalve opnieuw verzegeld.

4. Elk pakket met aangegeven waarde en de douaneverklaring moet op de adreszijde voorzien zijn van een etiket met de woorden "Insured" of "Valeur déclarée", of gestempeld of gemerkt zijn met deze woorden in de onmiddellijke nabijheid van het aan het pakket gegeven nummer.

Elk pakket met aangegeven waarde en de douaneverklaring an indication of the amount of the insured value, mentioned fully and legibly in the currency of the country of origin and in Roman letters. This amount must be converted into gold francs by the sender or by the office of origin and the result of conversion is added below the original description. The amount of the insured value must also be indicated on the customs declaration.

5. The seals, as well as any kind of labels or stamps, affixed to insured parcels, must be so placed as not to hide injuries to the package. Moreover, the labels or stamps must not be folded over two sides of the package so as to cover the edge.

Dit bedrag moet door den afzender of door het kantoor van oorsprong in goudfranken worden herleid; het herleide bedrag wordt onder de oorspronkelijke omschrijving bijgeschreven. Het bedrag van de aangegeven waarde moet ook op de douaneverklaring worden aangegeven.

5. De zegels zoowel als de etiketten of frankeerzegels welke op pakketten met aangegeven waarde zijn geplakt, moeten zoo geplaatst worden, dat zij beschadigingen van de verpakking niet kunnen verbergen. Evenmin mogen de etiketten of frankeerzegels over twee zijden van het pakket worden gevouwen, zoodat zij den rand bedekken.

Article 3.

CUSTOMS DECLARATIONS.

1. The sender shall prepare one customs declaration for each parcel sent from Netherlands India and two customs declarations for each parcel sent from the United States of America, upon a special form provided for the purpose by the country of origin.

The customs declaration shall give a general description of the parcel, an accurate statement in detail of its contents and value, date of mailing, actual weight, the sender's name and address, and the name and address of the addressee, and shall be securely attached to the parcel.

As an exception to the foregoing, for each shipment of not more than three uninsured parcels mailed simultaneously by the same sender in one country to the same addressee at the same address in the other country, the sender need prepare only one customs declaration in the case of

In afwijking van het voorgaande, behoeft de afzender voor elke zending van niet meer dan drie pakketten zonder aangegeven waarde, tegelijk terpostbezorgd door denzelfden afzender in het eene land bestemd voor denzelfden geadresseerde aan hetzelfde adres in het andere

2. De Administratiën nemen ten aanzien van de juistheid van de douaneverklaringen geenerlei verantwoordelijkheid op zich.

Evenals zulks met betrekking tot de gewone pakketten het geval is, moet op de adviezen van de pakketten met aangegeven waarde een specificatie naar de gewichtscoupures voorkomen.

(d) Transit pakketten welke "à découvert" worden verzonden moeten afzonderlijk op de pakketpostadviezen worden ingeschreven.

(e) Terug- of nagezonden pakketten moeten stuksgewijze op de pakketpostadviezen worden ingeschreven met vermelding achter de inschrijving naar gelang van omstandigheden van het woord "Returned" of "Redirected". In de kolom "Observations" moet een opgave voorkomen van de kosten, waarmee deze pakketten zijn belast.

2. De Nederlandsch-Indische dienst past de volgende werkwijze toe:

(a) De pakketten met aangegeven waarde en de gewone pakketten worden op afzonderlijke pakketpostadviezen ingeschreven.

(b) The ordinary parcels shall be entered on the parcel bills to show their total number.

(c) The insured parcels shall be entered individually on the parcel bills. The entries concerning each insured parcel shall show the number, the names of the offices of origin and of destination and the amount of declared value.

(d) The total number and the total weights of all parcels—except those mentioned under (e)—must also be entered on the parcel bills.

(e) Returned or redirected parcels and transit parcels sent à découvert must be entered on separate parcel bills in the way mentioned under (c). The charges on these parcels shall be entered individually in a separate column.

3. The United States of America Service as well as the Netherlands Indian Service prepares the parcel bills in duplicate. The original is sent in the regular mails, while the duplicate is inserted in one of the sacks. The sack containing the parcel bill is designated by the letter "F", traced in a conspicuous manner on the label.

4. The total number of sacks comprising each dispatch must also be shown on the parcel bills as well as the total amount to be credited to the Administration of destination.

5. Each dispatching office of exchange shall number the parcel bills in the upper left-hand corner, commencing each year a fresh series for each office of exchange of destination. The last number of the year shall be shown on the parcel bill of the first dispatch of the following year.

(b) Van de gewone pakketten wordt het totaal aantal op de pakketpostadviezen vermeld.

(c) De pakketten met aangegeven waarde worden stuksgewijze op de pakketpostadviezen ingeschreven. De inschrijvingen betreffende elk pakket met aangegeven waarde bestaan uit het nummer, de namen van de kantoren van oorsprong en van bestemming en het bedrag der aangegeven waarde.

(d) Het totaal aantal en het totaal gewicht van alle pakketten—uitgezonderd die bedoeld onder (e)—worden eveneens op de pakketpostadviezen vermeld.

(e) Terug- of nagezonden pakketten en "à découvert" verzonden transitpakketten worden op afzonderlijke pakketpostadviezen ingeschreven op de wijze bedoeld onder (c). De op deze pakketten vallende kosten worden pakket voor pakket in een afzonderlijke kolom vermeld.

3. De diensten van de Vereenigde Staten van Amerika en van Nederlandsch-Indië maken de pakketpostadviezen in tweevoud op. Het origineel wordt met de brievenpost verzonden, terwijl het duplicaat in een van de zakken wordt gesloten. De zak, welke het pakketpostadvies inhoudt, wordt aangeduid met de letter "F", welke op duidelijk zichtbare wijze op de label wordt aangebracht.

4. Het totaal aantal zakken, waaruit elke zending bestaat, moet ook op de pakketpostadviezen worden aangegeven, evenals het aan de Administratie van bestemming uit te keeren totaal bedrag.

5. Elk uitwisselingskantoor van afzending nummert de pakketpostadviezen in den linkerbovenhoek, waarbij elk jaar voor elk uitwisselingskantoor van bestemming met een nieuwe reeks wordt begonnen. Het laatste nummer van het jaar wordt op het pakketpostadvies van de eerste zending van het volgende jaar vermeld.

6. The exact method of advising parcels or the receptacles containing them sent by one Administration in transit through the other together with any details of procedure in connection with the advice of such parcels or receptacles for which provision is not made in this Agreement, shall be settled by mutual agreement through correspondence between the two Administrations.

6. De wijze van inschrijving van de pakketten of van de verzendingsmiddelen, die ze bevatten, welke door de eene Administratie in doorvoer door de andere worden verzonden, zoomede alle bijzonderheden inzake de werkwijze met betrekking tot de inschrijving van dergelijke pakketten of verzendingsmiddelen, waarvoor in deze Overeenkomst geen voorzieningen zijn getroffen, worden onderling bij schriftelijk overleg tusschen de beide Administratiën geregeld.

(2) Est qualifié „transport international", au sens de la présente Convention, tout transport dans lequel, d'après les stipulations des parties, le point de départ et le point de destination, qu'il y ait ou non interruption de transport ou transbordement, sont situés soit sur le territoire de deux Hautes Parties Contractantes, soit sur le territoire d'une seule Haute Partie Contractante, si une escale est prévue dans un territoire soumis à la souveraineté, à la suzeraineté, au mandat ou à l'autorité d'une autre Puissance même non Contractante. Le transport sans une telle escale entre les territoires soumis à la souveraineté, à la suzeraineté, au mandat ou à l'autorité de la même Haute Partie Contractante n'est pas considéré comme international au sens de la présente Convention.

(3) Le transport à exécuter par plusieurs transporteurs par air successifs est censé constituer pour l'application de cette Convention un transport unique lorsqu'il a été envisagé par les parties comme une seule opération, qu'il ait été conclu sous la forme d'un seul contrat ou d'une série de contrats et il ne perd pas son caractère international par le fait qu'un seul contrat ou une série de contrats doivent être exécutés intégralement dans un territoire soumis à la souveraineté, à la suzeraineté, au mandat ou à l'autorité d'une même Haute Partie Contractante.

Article 2.

(1) La Convention s'applique aux transports effectués par l'État ou les autres personnes juridiques de droit public, dans les conditions prévues à l'article 1er.

Article 11.

(1) La lettre de transport aérien fait foi, jusqu'à preuve contraire, de la conclusion du contrat, de la réception de la marchandise et des conditions du transport.

(2) Les énonciations de la lettre de transport aérien, relatives au poids, aux dimensions et à l'emballage de la marchandise ainsi qu'au nombre des colis font foi jusqu'à preuve contraire; celles relatives à la quantité, au volume et à l'état de la marchandise ne font preuve contre le transporteur qu'autant que la vérification en a été faite par lui en présence de l'expéditeur, et constatée sur la lettre de transport aérien, ou qu'il s'agit d'énonciations relatives à l'état apparent de la marchandise.

Article 12.

(1) L'expéditeur a le droit sous la condition d'exécuter toutes les obligations résultant du contrat de transport, de disposer de la marchandise, soit en la retirant à l'aérodrome de départ ou de destination, soit en l'arrêtant en cours de route lors d'un atterrissage, soit en la faisant délivrer au lieu de destination ou en cours de route à une personne autre que le destinataire indiqué sur la lettre de transport aérien, soit en demandant son retour à l'aérodrome de départ, pour autant que l'exercice de ce droit ne porte préjudice ni au transporteur, ni aux autres expéditeurs et avec l'obligation de rembourser les frais qui en résultent.

(2) Dans le cas ou l'exécution des ordres de l'expéditeur est impossible, le transporteur doit l'en aviser immédiatement.

(3) Si le transporteur se conforme aux ordres de disposition de l'expéditeur, sans exiger la production de l'exemplaire de la lettre de transport aérien délivré à celui-ci, il sera responsable, sauf son recours contre l'expéditeur, du préjudice qui pourrait être causé par ce fait à celui qui est régulièrement en possession de la lettre de transport aérien.

(4) Le droit de l'expéditeur cesse au moment où celui du destinataire commence, conformément à l'article 13 ci-dessous. Toutefois, si le destinataire refuse la lettre de transport ou la marchandise, ou s'il ne peut être atteint, l'expéditeur reprend son droit de disposition.

Article 13.

(1) Sauf dans les cas indiqués à l'article précédent, le destinataire a le droit, dès l'arrivée de la marchandise au point de destination, de demander au transporteur de lui remettre la lettre de transport aérien et de lui livrer la marchandise contre le paiement du montant des créances et contre l'exécution des conditions de transport indiquées dans la lettre de transport aérien.

(2) Sauf stipulation contraire, le transporteur doit aviser le destinataire dès l'arrivée de la marchandise.

(3) Si la perte de la marchandise est reconnue par le transporteur ou si, à l'expiration d'un délai de sept jours après qu'elle aurait dû arriver, la marchandise n'est pas arrivée, le destinataire est autorisé à faire valoir vis-à-vis du transporteur les droits résultant du contrat de transport.

Article 14.

L'expéditeur et le destinataire peuvent faire valoir tous les droits qui leur sont respectivement conférés par les articles 12 et 13, chacun en son propre nom, qu'il agisse dans son propre intérêt ou dans l'intérêt d'autrui, à condition d'exécuter les obligations que le contrat impose.

Article 15.

(1) Les articles 12, 13 et 14 ne portent aucun préjudice ni aux rapports de l'expéditeur et du destinataire entre eux, ni aux rapports des tiers dont les droits proviennent, soit de l'expéditeur, soit du destinataire.

(2) Toute clause dérogeant aux stipulations des articles 12, 13 et 14 doit être inscrite dans la lettre de transport aérien.

Article 16.

(2) Le transporteur n'est pas tenu d'examiner si ces renseignements et documents sont exacts ou suffisants.

Chapitre III. Responsabilité du Transporteur.

Article 17.

Le transporteur est responsable du dommage survenu en cas de mort, de blessure ou de toute autre lésion corporelle subie par un voyageur lorsque l'accident qui a causé le dommage s'est produit à bord de l'aéronef ou au cours de toutes opérations d'embarquement et de débarquement.

Article 18.

(1) Le transporteur est responsable du dommage survenu en cas de destruction, perte ou avarie de bagages enregistrés ou de marchandises lorsque l'événement qui a causé le dommage s'est produit pendant le transport aérien.

(2) Le transport aérien, au sens de l'alinéa précédent, comprend la période pendant laquelle les bagages ou marchandises se trouvent sous la garde du transporteur, que ce soit dans un aérodrome ou à bord d'un aéronef ou dans un lieu quelconque en cas d'atterrissage en dehors d'un aérodrome.

(3) La période du transport aérien ne couvre aucun transport terrestre, maritime ou fluvial effectué en dehors d'un aérodrome. Toutefois lorsqu'un tel transport est effectué dans l'exécution du contrat de transport aérien en vue du chargement, de la livraison ou du transbordement, tout dommage est présumé, sauf preuve contraire, résulter d'un événement survenu pendant le transport aérien.

Article 19.

Le transporteur est responsable du dommage résultant d'un retard dans le transport aérien de voyageurs, bagages ou marchandises.

Article 20.

(1) Le transporteur n'est pas responsable s'il prouve que lui et ses préposés ont pris toutes les mesures nécessaires pour éviter le dommage ou qu'il leur était impossible de les prendre.

(2) Dans les transports de marchandises et de bagages, le transporteur n'est pas responsable, s'il prouve que le dommage provient d'une faute de pilotage, de conduite de l'aéronef ou de navigation, et que, à tous autres égards, lui et ses préposés ont pris toutes les mesures nécessaires pour éviter le dommage.

Article 21.

(1) Dans le cas où le transporteur fait la preuve que la faute de la personne lésée a causé le dommage ou y a contribué, le tribunal pourra, conformément aux dispositions de sa propre loi, écarter ou atténuer la responsabilité du transporteur.

Article 22.

(1) Dans le transport des personnes, la responsabilité du transporteur envers chaque voyageur est limitée à la somme de cent vingt cinq mille francs. Dans le cas où, d'après la loi du tribunal saisi, l'indemnité peut être fixée sous forme de rente, le capital de la rente ne peut dépasser cette limite. Toutefois par une convention spéciale avec le transporteur, le voyageur pourra fixer une limite de responsabilité plus élevée.

(2) Dans le transport de bagages enregistrés et de marchandises, la responsabilité du transporteur est limitée à la somme de deux cent cinquante francs par kilogramme, sauf déclaration spéciale d'intérêt à la livraison faite par l'expéditeur au moment de la remise du colis au transporteur et moyennant le paiement d'une taxe supplémentaire éventuelle. Dans ce cas, le transporteur sera tenu de payer jusqu'à concurrence de la somme déclarée, à moins qu'il ne prouve qu'elle est supérieure à l'intérêt réel de l'expéditeur à la livraison.

(3) En ce qui concerne les objets dont le voyageur conserve la garde, la responsabilité du transporteur est limitée à cinq mille francs par voyageur.

(4) Les sommes indiquées ci-dessus sont considérées comme se rapportant au franc français constitué par soixante-cinq et demie milligrammes d'or au titre de neuf cents millièmes de fin. Elles pourront être converties dans chaque monnaie nationale en chiffres ronds.

Article 23.

Toute clause tendant à exonérer le transporteur de sa responsabilité ou à établir une limite inférieure à celle qui est fixée dans la présente Convention est nulle et de nul effet, mais la nullité de cette clause n'entraîne pas la nullité du contrat qui reste soumis aux dispositions de la présente Convention.

Article 24.

(1) Dans les cas prévus aux articles 18 et 19 toute action en responsabilité, à quelque titre que ce soit, ne peut être exercée que dans les conditions et limites prévues par la présente Convention.

(2) Dans les cas prévus à l'article 17, s'appliquent également les dispositions de l'alinéa précédent, sans préjudice de la détermination des personnes qui ont le droit d'agir et de leurs droits respectifs.

Article 25.

(1) Le transporteur n'aura pas le droit de se prévaloir des dispositions de la présente Convention qui excluent ou limitent sa responsabilité, si le dommage provient de son dol ou d'une faute qui, d'après la loi du tribunal saisi, est considérée comme équivalente au dol.

(2) Ce droit lui sera également refusé si le dommage a été causé dans les mêmes conditions par un de ses préposés agissant dans l'exercice de ses fonctions.

Article 26.

(1) La réception des bagages et marchandises sans protestation par le destinataire constituera présomption, sauf preuve contraire, que les marchandises ont été livrées en bon état et conformément au titre de transport.

(2) En cas d'avarie le destinataire doit adresser au transporteur une protestation immédiatement après la découverte de l'avarie et, au plus tard, dans un délai de trois jours pour les bagages et de sept jours pour les marchandises à dater de leur réception. En cas de retard, la protestation devra être faite au plus tard dans les quatorze jours à dater du jour où le bagage ou la marchandise auront été mis à sa disposition.

(3) Toute protestation doit être faite par réserve inscrite sur le titre de transport ou par un autre écrit expédié dans le délai prévu pour cette protestation.

(4) À défaut de protestation dans les délais prévus, toutes actions contre le transporteur sont irrecevables, sauf le cas de fraude de celui-ci.

Article 27.

En cas de décès du débiteur, l'action en responsabilité, dans les limites prévues par la présente Convention, s'exerce contre ses ayants droit.

Article 28.

(1) L'action en responsabilité devra être portée, au choix du demandeur, dans le territoire d'une des Hautes Parties Contractantes, soit devant le tribunal du domicile du transporteur, du siège principal de son exploitation ou du lieu où il possède un établissement par le soin duquel le contrat a été conclu, soit devant le tribunal du lieu de destination.

(2) La procédure sera réglée par la loi du tribunal saisi.

Article 29.

(1) L'action en responsabilité doit être intentée, sous peine de déchéance, dans le délai de deux ans à compter de l'arrivée à destination ou du jour où l'aéronef aurait dû arriver, ou de l'arrêt du transport.

(2) Le mode du calcul du délai est déterminé par la loi du tribunal saisi.

Article 30.

(1) Dans les cas de transport régis par la définition du troisième alinéa de l'article premier, à exécuter par divers transporteurs successifs, chaque transporteur acceptant des voyageurs, des bagages ou des marchandises est soumis aux règles établies par cette Convention, et est censé être une des parties contractantes du contrat de transport, pour autant que ce contrat ait trait à la partie du transport effectuée sous son contrôle.

(2) Au cas d'un tel transport, le voyageur ou ses ayants droit ne pourront recourir que contre le transporteur ayant effectué le transport au cours duquel l'accident ou le retard s'est produit, sauf dans le cas où, par stipulation expresse, le premier transporteur aura assuré la responsabilité pour tout le voyage.

(3) S'il s'agit de bagages ou de marchandises, l'expéditeur aura recours contre le premier transporteur et le destinataire qui a le droit à la délivrance contre le dernier, et l'un et l'autre pourront, en outre, agir contre le transporteur ayant effectué le transport au cours duquel la destruction, la perte, l'avarie ou le retard se sont produits. Ces transporteurs seront solidairement responsables envers l'expéditeur et le destinataire.

CHAPITRE IV. DISPOSITIONS RELATIVES AUX TRANSPORTS COMBINÉS.

Article 31.

(1) Dans le cas de transports combinés effectués en partie par air et en partie par tout autre moyen de transport, les stipulations de la présente Convention ne s'appliquent qu'au transport aérien et si celui-ci répond aux conditions de l'article premier.

(2) Rien dans la présente Convention n'empêche les parties, dans le cas de transports combinés, d'insérer dans le titre de transport aérien des conditions relatives à d'autres modes de transport, à condition que les stipulations de la présente Convention soient respectées en ce qui concerne le transport par air.

CHAPITRE V. DISPOSITIONS GÉNÉRALES ET FINALES.

Article 32.

(1) Sont nulles toutes clauses du contrat de transport et toutes conventions particulières antérieures au dommage par lesquelles les parties dérogeraient aux règles de la présente Convention soit par une détermination de la loi applicable, soit par une modification des règles de compétence. Toutefois, dans le transport des marchandises, les clauses d'arbitrage sont admises, dans les limites de la présente Convention, lorsque l'arbitrage doit s'effectuer dans les lieux de compétence des tribunaux prévus à l'article 28 alinéa 1.

Article 33.

Rien dans la présente Convention ne peut empêcher un transporteur de refuser la conclusion d'un contrat de transport ou de formuler des règlements qui ne sont pas en contradiction avec les dispositions de la présente Convention.

Article 34.

La présente Convention n'est applicable ni aux transports aériens internationaux exécutés à titre de premiers essais par des entreprises de navigation aérienne en vue de l'établissement de lignes régulières de navigation aérienne ni aux transports effectués dans des circonstances extraordinaires en dehors de toute opération normale de l'exploitation aérienne.

Article 35.

Lorsque dans la présente Convention il est question de jours, il s'agit de jours courants et non de jours ouvrables.

Article 36.

La présente Convention est rédigée en français en un seul exemplaire qui restera déposé aux archives du Ministère des Affaires Étrangères de Pologne, et dont une copie certifiée conforme sera transmise par les soins du Gouvernement Polonais au Gouvernement de chacune des Hautes Parties Contractantes.

Article 37.

(1) La présente Convention sera ratifiée. Les instruments de ratification seront déposés aux archives du Ministère des Affaires Étrangères de Pologne, qui en notifiera le dépôt au Gouvernement de chacune des Hautes Parties Contractantes.

(2) Dès que la présente Convention aura été ratifiée par cinq des Hautes Parties Contractantes, elle entrera en vigueur entre Elles le quatre-vingt-dixième jour après le dépôt de la cinquième ratification. Ultérieurement elle entrera en vigueur entre les Hautes Parties

Contractantes qui l'auront ratifiée et la Haute Partie Contractante qui déposera son instrument de ratification le quatre-vingt dixième jour après son dépôt.

(3) Il appartiendra au Gouvernement de la République de Pologne de notifier au Gouvernement de chacune des Hautes Parties Contractantes la date de l'entrée en vigueur de la présente Convention ainsi que la date du dépôt de chaque ratification.

Article 38.

(1) La présente Convention, après son entrée en vigueur, restera ouverte à l'adhésion de tous les États.

(2) L'adhésion sera effectuée par une notification adressée au Gouvernement de la République de Pologne, qui en fera part au Gouvernement de chacune des Hautes Parties Contractantes.

(3) L'adhésion produira ses effets à partir du quatre-vingt-dixième jour après la notification faite au Gouvernement de la République de Pologne.

Article 39.

(1) Chacune des Hautes Parties Contractantes pourra dénoncer la présente Convention par une notification faite au Gouvernement de la République de Pologne, qui en avisera immédiatement le Gouvernement de chacune des Hautes Parties Contractantes.

(2) La dénonciation produira ses effets six mois après la notification de la dénonciation et seulement à l'égard de la Partie qui y aura procédé.

Article 40.

(1) Les Hautes Parties Contractantes pourront, au moment de la signature, du dépôt des ratifications, ou de leur adhésion, déclarer que l'acceptation qu'Elles donnent à la présente Convention ne s'applique pas à tout ou partie de leurs colonies, protectorats, territoires sous mandat, ou tout autre territoire soumis à leur souveraineté ou à leur autorité, ou à tout autre territoire sous suzeraineté.

(2) En conséquence Elles pourront ultérieurement adhérer séparément au nom de tout ou partie de leurs colonies, protectorats, territoire sous mandat, ou tout autre territoire soumis à leur souveraineté ou à leur autorité, ou tout territoire sous suzeraineté ainsi exclus de leur déclaration originelle.

(3) Elles pourront aussi, en se conformant à ses dispositions, dénoncer la présente Convention séparément ou pour tout ou partie de leurs colonies, protectorats, territoires sous mandat, ou tout autre territoire soumis à leur souveraineté ou à leur autorité, ou tout autre territoire sous suzeraineté.

Article 41.

Chacune des Hautes Parties Contractantes aura la faculté au plus tôt deux ans après la mise en vigueur de la présente Convention de provoquer la réunion d'une nouvelle Conférence Internationale dans le but de rechercher les améliorations qui pourraient être apportées à la présente Convention. Elle s'adressera dans ce but au Gouvernement de la République Française qui prendra les mesures nécessaires pour préparer cette Conférence.

La présente Convention, faite à Varsovie le 12 octobre 1929 restera ouverte à la signature jusqu'au 31 janvier 1930.

Multilateral Convention relating to international air transportation.

CONVENTION FOR THE UNIFICATION OF CERTAIN RULES RELATING TO INTERNATIONAL TRANSPORTATION BY AIR

Contracting Powers.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE GERMAN REICH, THE FEDERAL PRESIDENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF AUSTRIA, HIS MAJESTY THE KING OF THE BELGIANS, THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF BRAZIL, HIS MAJESTY THE KING OF THE BULGARIANS, THE PRESIDENT OF THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT OF CHINA, HIS MAJESTY THE KING OF DENMARK AND ICELAND, HIS MAJESTY THE KING OF EGYPT, HIS MAJESTY THE KING OF SPAIN, THE CHIEF OF STATE OF THE REPUBLIC OF ESTONIA, THE PRESIDENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF FINLAND, THE PRESIDENT OF THE FRENCH REPUBLIC, HIS MAJESTY THE KING OF GREAT BRITAIN, IRELAND, AND THE BRITISH DOMINIONS BEYOND THE SEAS, EMPEROR OF INDIA, THE PRESIDENT OF THE HELLENIC REPUBLIC, HIS MOST SERENE HIGHNESS THE REGENT OF THE KINGDOM OF HUNGARY, HIS MAJESTY THE KING OF ITALY, HIS MAJESTY THE EMPEROR OF JAPAN, THE PRESIDENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF LATVIA, HER ROYAL HIGHNESS THE GRAND DUCHESS OF LUXEMBURG, THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED MEXICAN STATES, HIS MAJESTY THE KING OF NORWAY, HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN OF THE NETHERLANDS, THE PRESIDENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF POLAND, HIS MAJESTY THE KING OF RUMANIA, HIS MAJESTY THE KING OF SWEDEN, THE SWISS FEDERAL COUNCIL, THE PRESIDENT OF THE CZECHOSLOVAK REPUBLIC, THE CENTRAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE UNION OF SOVIET SOCIALIST REPUBLICS, THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF VENEZUELA, HIS MAJESTY THE KING OF YUGOSLAVIA:

Having recognized the advantage of regulating in a uniform manner the conditions of international transportation by air in respect of the documents used for such transportation and of the liability of the carrier,

Have nominated to this end their respective Plenipotentiaries, who, being thereto duly authorized, have concluded and signed the following convention:

CHAPTER I. SCOPE—DEFINITIONS

Article 1

Scope.

(1) This convention shall apply to all international transportation of persons, baggage, or goods performed by aircraft for hire. It shall apply equally to gratuitous transportation by aircraft performed by an air transportation enterprise.

Definitions.

(2) For the purposes of this convention the expression "international transportation" shall mean any transportation in which, according to the contract made by the parties, the place of departure and the place of destination, whether or not there be a break in the transportation or a transshipment, are situated either within the territories of two High Contracting Parties, or within the territory of a single High Contracting Party, if there is an agreed stopping place within a territory subject to the sovereignty, suzerainty, mandate or authority of another power, even though that power is not a party to this convention. Transportation without such an agreed stopping place between territories subject to the sovereignty, suzerainty, mandate, or authority of the same High Contracting Party shall not be deemed to be international for the purposes of this convention.

(3) Transportation to be performed by several successive air carriers shall be deemed, for the purposes of this convention, to be one undivided transportation, if it has been regarded by the parties as a single operation, whether it has been agreed upon under the form of a single contract or of a series of contracts, and it shall not lose its international character merely because one contract or a series of contracts is to be performed entirely within a territory subject to the sovereignty, suzerainty, mandate, or authority of the same High Contracting Party.

Article 2

Application of convention.

(1) This convention shall apply to transportation performed by the state or by legal entities constituted under public law provided it falls within the conditions laid down in article 1.

(2) This convention shall not apply to transportation performed under the terms of any international postal convention.

CHAPTER II. TRANSPORTATION DOCUMENTS

Transportation documents.

SECTION I—PASSENGER TICKET

Article 3

Passenger ticket.

(1) For the transportation of passengers the carrier must deliver a passenger ticket which shall contain the following particulars:

(a) The place and date of issue;

(b) The place of departure and of destination;

(c) The agreed stopping places, provided that the carrier may reserve the right to alter the stopping places in case of necessity, and that if he exercises that right, the alteration shall not have the effect of depriving the transportation of its international character;

(d) The name and address of the carrier or carriers;

(e) A statement that the transportation is subject to the rules relating to liability established by this convention.

(2) The absence, irregularity, or loss of the passenger ticket shall not affect the existence or the validity of the contract of transportation, which shall none the less be subject to the rules of this convention. Nevertheless, if the carrier accepts a passenger without a passenger ticket having been delivered he shall not be entitled to avail himself of those provisions of this convention which exclude or limit his liability.

SECTION II.—BAGGAGE CHECK

Article 4

Baggage check.

(1) For the transportation of baggage, other than small personal objects of which the passenger takes charge himself, the carrier must deliver a baggage check.

(2) The baggage check shall be made out in duplicate, one part for the passenger and the other part for the carrier.

(3) The baggage check shall contain the following particulars:

(a) The place and date of issue;

(b) The place of departure and of destination;

(c) The name and address of the carrier or carriers;

(d) The number of the passenger ticket;

(e) A statement that delivery of the baggage will be made to the bearer of the baggage check;

(f) The number and weight of the packages;

(g) The amount of the value declared in accordance with article 22 (2);

(h) A statement that the transportation is subject to the rules relating to liability established by this convention.

(4) The absence, irregularity, or loss of the baggage check shall not affect the existence or the validity of the contract of transportation which shall none the less be subject to the rules of this convention. Nevertheless, if the carrier accepts baggage without a baggage check having been delivered, or if the baggage check does not contain the particulars set out at (d), (f), and (h) above, the carrier shall not be entitled to avail himself of those provisions of the convention which exclude or limit his liability.

SECTION III.—AIR WAYBILL

Article 5

Air waybill.

(1) Every carrier of goods has the right to require the consignor to make out and hand over to him a document called an "air waybill": every consignor has the right to require the carrier to accept this document.

(2) The absence, irregularity, or loss of this document shall not affect the existence or the validity of the contract of transportation which shall, subject to the provisions of article 9, be none the less governed by the rules of this convention.

Article 6

Requirements.

(1) The air waybill shall be made out by the consignor in three original parts and be handed over with the goods.

(2) The first part shall be marked "for the carrier", and shall be signed by the consignor. The second part shall be marked "for the consignee"; it shall be signed by the consignor and by the carrier and shall accompany the goods. The third part shall be signed by the carrier and handed by him to the consignor after the goods have been accepted.

(3) The carrier shall sign on acceptance of the goods.

(4) The signature of the carrier may be stamped; that of the consignor may be printed or stamped.

(5) If, at the request of the consignor, the carrier makes out the air waybill, he shall be deemed, subject to proof to the contrary, to have done so on behalf of the consignor.

Article 7

The carrier of goods has the right to require the consignor to make out separate waybills when there is more than one package.

Article 8

Contents.

The air waybill shall contain the following particulars:

(a) The place and date of its execution;

(b) The place of departure and of destination;

(c) The agreed stopping places, provided that the carrier may reserve the right to alter the stopping places in case of necessity, and that if he exercises that right the alteration shall not have the effect of depriving the transportation of its international character;

(d) The name and address of the consignor;

(e) The name and address of the first carrier;

(f) The name and address of the consignee, if the case so requires;

(g) The nature of the goods;

(h) The number of packages, the method of packing, and the particular marks or numbers upon them;

(i) The weight, the quantity, the volume, or dimensions of the goods;

(j) The apparent condition of the goods and of the packing;
(k) The freight, if it has been agreed upon, the date and place of payment, and the person who is to pay it;
(l) If the goods are sent for payment on delivery, the price of the goods, and, if the case so requires, the amount of the expenses incurred;
(m) The amount of the value declared in accordance with article 22 (2);
(n) The number of parts of the air waybill;
(o) The documents handed to the carrier to accompany the air waybill;
(p) The time fixed for the completion of the transportation and a brief note of the route to be followed, if these matters have been agreed upon;
(q) A statement that the transportation is subject to the rules relating to liability established by this convention

Article 9

Liabilities.

If the carrier accepts goods without an air waybill having been made out, or if the air waybill does not contain all the particulars set out in article 8 (a) to (i), inclusive, and (q), the carrier shall not be entitled to avail himself of the provisions of this convention which exclude or limit his liability.

Article 10

Responsibility for correctness.

(1) The consignor shall be responsible for the correctness of the particulars and statements relating to the goods which he inserts in the air waybill.
(2) The consignor shall be liable for all damages suffered by the carrier or any other person by reason of the irregularity, incorrectness or incompleteness of the said particulars and statements.

Article 11

Prima facie evidence of contract.

(1) The air waybill shall be prima facie evidence of the conclusion of the contract, of the receipt of the goods and of the conditions of transportation.
(2) The statements in the air waybill relating to the weight, dimensions, and packing of the goods, as well as those relating to the number of packages, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts stated; those relating to the quantity, volume, and condition of the goods shall not constitute evidence against the carrier except so far as they both have been, and are stated in the air waybill to have been, checked by him in the presence of the consignor, or relate to the apparent condition of the goods.

Article 12

Consignor's right to dispose of goods.

(1) Subject to his liability to carry out all his obligations under the contract of transportation, the consignor shall have the right to dispose of the goods by withdrawing them at the airport of departure or destination, or by stopping them in the course of the journey on any landing, or by calling for them to be delivered at the place of destination, or in the course of the journey to a person other than the consignee named in the air waybill, or by requiring them to be returned to the airport of departure. He must not exercise this right of disposition in such a way as to prejudice the carrier or other consignors, and he must repay any expenses occasioned by the exercise of this right.
(2) If it is impossible to carry out the orders of the consignor the carrier must so inform him forthwith.

(3) If the carrier obeys the orders of the consignor for the disposition of the goods without requiring the production of the part of the air waybill delivered to the latter, he will be liable, without prejudice to his right of recovery from the consignor, for any damage which may be caused thereby to any person who is lawfully in possession of that part of the air waybill.

(4) The right conferred on the consignor shall cease at the moment when that of the consignee begins in accordance with article 13, below. Nevertheless, if the consignee declines to accept the waybill or the goods, or if he cannot be communicated with, the consignor shall resume his right of disposition.

Article 13

Delivery of goods and waybill.

(1) Except in the circumstances set out in the preceding article, the consignee shall be entitled, on arrival of the goods at the place of destination, to require the carrier to hand over to him the air waybill and to deliver the goods to him, on payment of the charges due and on complying with the conditions of transportation set out in the air waybill.

(2) Unless it is otherwise agreed, it shall be the duty of the carrier to give notice to the consignee as soon as the goods arrive.

(3) If the carrier admits the loss of the goods, or if the goods have not arrived at the expiration of seven days after the date on which they ought to have arrived, the consignee shall be entitled to put into force against the carrier the rights which flow from the contract of transportation.

Article 14

Enforcement of respective rights.

The consignor and the consignee can respectively enforce all the rights given them by articles 12 and 13, each in his own name, whether he is acting in his own interest or in the interest of another, provided that he carries out the obligations imposed by the contract.

Article 15

Respective relationship.

(1) Articles 12, 13, and 14 shall not affect either the relations of the consignor and the consignee with each other or the relations of third parties whose rights are derived either from the consignor or from the consignee.

Variations in waybill.

(2) The provisions of articles 12, 13, and 14 can only be varied by express provision in the air waybill.

Article 16

Customs, etc., formalities.

(1) The consignor must furnish such information and attach to the air waybill such documents as are necessary to meet the formalities of customs, octroi, or police before the goods can be delivered to the consignee. The consignor shall be liable to the carrier for any damage occasioned by the absence, insufficiency, or irregularity of any such information or documents, unless the damage is due to the fault of the carrier or his agents.

(2) The carrier is under no obligation to enquire into the correctness or sufficiency of such information or documents.

Liability of carrier.

CHAPTER III. LIABILITY OF THE CARRIER

Article 17

Personal injuries, etc.

The carrier shall be liable for damage sustained in the event of the death or wounding of a passenger or any other bodily injury suffered by a passenger, if the accident which caused the damage so sustained took place on board the aircraft or in the course of any of the operations of embarking or disembarking.

Article 18

Checked baggage, etc.

(1) The carrier shall be liable for damage sustained in the event of the destruction or loss of, or of damage to, any checked baggage or any goods, if the occurrence which caused the damage so sustained took place during the transportation by air.

(2) The transportation by air within the meaning of the preceding paragraph shall comprise the period during which the baggage or goods are in charge of the carrier, whether in an airport or on board an aircraft, or, in the case of a landing outside an airport, in any place whatsoever.

(3) The period of the transportation by air shall not extend to any transportation by land, by sea, or by river performed outside an airport. If, however, such transportation takes place in the performance of a contract for transportation by air, for the purpose of loading, delivery or transshipment, any damage is presumed, subject to proof to the contrary, to have been the result of an event which took place during the transportation by air.

Article 19

Transportation delay.

The carrier shall be liable for damage occasioned by delay in the transportation by air of passengers, baggage, or goods.

Article 20

Exemptions.

(1) The carrier shall not be liable if he proves that he and his agents have taken all necessary measures to avoid the damage or that it was impossible for him or them to take such measures.

(2) In the transportation of goods and baggage the carrier shall not be liable if he proves that the damage was occasioned by an error in piloting, in the handling of the aircraft, or in navigation and that, in all other respects, he and his agents have taken all necessary measures to avoid the damage.

Article 21

Contributory negligence.

If the carrier proves that the damage was caused by or contributed to by the negligence of the injured person the court may, in accordance with the provisions of its own law, exonerate the carrier wholly or partly from his liability.

Article 22

Maximum liability.

(1) In the transportation of passengers the liability of the carrier for each passenger shall be limited to the sum of 125,000 francs. Where, in accordance with the law of the court to which the case is submitted, damages may be awarded in the form of periodical payments, the equivalent capital value of the said payments shall not exceed 125,000 francs. Nevertheless, by special contract, the carrier and the passenger may agree to a higher limit of liability.

(2) In the transportation of checked baggage and of goods, the liability of the carrier shall be limited to a sum of 250 francs per kilogram, unless the consignor has made, at the time when the package was handed over to the carrier, a special declaration of the value at delivery and has paid a supplementary sum if the case so requires. In that case the carrier will be liable to pay a sum not exceeding the declared sum, unless he proves that that sum is greater than the actual value to the consignor at delivery.

(3) As regards objects of which the passenger takes charge himself the liability of the carrier shall be limited to 5,000 francs per passenger.

(4) The sums mentioned above shall be deemed to refer to the French franc consisting of 65½ milligrams of gold at the standard of fineness of nine hundred thousandths. These sums may be converted into any national currency in round figures.

104019°—36—PT II——62

Article 23

Provision for relieving, etc., liability void.

Any provision tending to relieve the carrier of liability or to fix a lower limit than that which is laid down in this convention shall be null and void, but the nullity of any such provision shall not involve the nullity of the whole contract, which shall remain subject to the provisions of this convention.

Article 24

Actions for certain damages.

(1) In the cases covered by articles 18 and 19 any action for damages, however founded, can only be brought subject to the conditions and limits set out in this convention.

(2) In the cases covered by article 17 the provisions of the preceding paragraph shall also apply, without prejudice to the questions as to who are the persons who have the right to bring suit and what are their respective rights.

Article 25

Carrier's wilful misconduct.

(1) The carrier shall not be entitled to avail himself of the provisions of this convention which exclude or limit his liability, if the damage is caused by his wilful misconduct or by such default on his part as, in accordance with the law of the court to which the case is submitted, is considered to be equivalent to wilful misconduct.

(2) Similarly the carrier shall not be entitled to avail himself of the said provisions, if the damage is caused under the same circumstances by any agent of the carrier acting within the scope of his employment.

Article 26

Evidence of delivery in good condition.

(1) Receipt by the person entitled to the delivery of baggage or goods without complaint shall be prima facie evidence that the same have been delivered in good condition and in accordance with the document of transportation.

In case of damage.

(2) In case of damage, the person entitled to delivery must complain to the carrier forthwith after the discovery of the damage, and, at the latest, within 3 days from the date of receipt in the case of baggage and 7 days from the date of receipt in the case of goods. In case of delay the complaint must be made at the latest within 14 days from the date on which the baggage or goods have been placed at his disposal.

Complaints in writing.

(3) Every complaint must be made in writing upon the document of transportation or by separate notice in writing dispatched within the times aforesaid.

(4) Failing complaint within the times aforesaid, no action shall lie against the carrier, save in the case of fraud on his part.

Article 27

Liability of estate of deceased person.

In the case of the death of the person liable, an action for damages lies in accordance with the terms of this convention against those legally representing his estate.

Article 28

Venue of action.

(1) An action for damages must be brought, at the option of the plaintiff, in the territory of one of the High Contracting Parties, either before the court of the domicile of the carrier or of his principal place of business, or where he has a place of business through which the contract has been made, or before the court at the place of destination.

(2) Questions of procedure shall be governed by the law of the court to which the case is submitted. Procedure.

Article 29

(1) The right to damages shall be extinguished if an action is not brought within 2 years, reckoned from the date of arrival at the destination, or from the date on which the aircraft ought to have arrived, or from the date on which the transportation stopped. Time limitation.

(2) The method of calculating the period of limitation shall be determined by the law of the court to which the case is submitted.

Article 30

(1) In the case of transportation to be performed by various successive carriers and falling within the definition set out in the third paragraph of article 1, each carrier who accepts passengers, baggage or goods shall be subject to the rules set out in this convention, and shall be deemed to be one of the contracting parties to the contract of transportation insofar as the contract deals with that part of the transportation which is performed under his supervision. Transportation by successive carriers.

(2) In the case of transportation of this nature, the passenger or his representative can take action only against the carrier who performed the transportation during which the accident or the delay occurred, save in the case where, by express agreement, the first carrier has assumed liability for the whole journey.

(3) As regards baggage or goods, the passenger or consignor shall have a right of action against the first carrier, and the passenger or consignee who is entitled to delivery shall have a right of action against the last carrier, and further, each may take action against the carrier who performed the transportation during which the destruction, loss, damage, or delay took place. These carriers shall be jointly and severally liable to the passenger or to the consignor or consignee.

Chapter IV. Provisions Relating to Combined Transportation

Combined transportation.

(2) Nothing in this convention shall prevent the parties in the case of combined transportation from inserting in the document of air transportation conditions relating to other modes of transportation, provided that the provisions of this convention are observed as regards the transportation by air.

Chapter V. General and Final Provisions

Article 32

Any clause contained in the contract and all special agreements entered into before the damage occurred by which the parties purport to infringe the rules laid down by this convention, whether by deciding the law to be applied, or by altering the rules as to jurisdiction, shall be null and void. Nevertheless for the transportation of goods arbitration clauses shall be allowed, subject to this convention, if the arbitration is to take place within one of the jurisdictions referred to in the first paragraph of article 28. Article 34

Transportation excluded from application of convention.

This convention shall not apply to international transportation by air performed by way of experimental trial by air navigation enterprises with the view to the establishment of regular lines of air navigation, nor shall it apply to transportation performed in extraordinary circumstances outside the normal scope of an air carrier's business.

ARTICLE 1er.

Les Puissances signataires s'engagent à maintenir entre leurs ressortissants respectifs et ceux des Etats, Membres de la Société des Nations, qui adhéreront à la présente Convention, une complète égalité commerciale dans les territoires placés sous leur autorité dans les limites à l'article 1er de l'Acte Général de Berlin du 26 février 1885, avec la réserve prévue au dernier alinéa de cet article, rapporté dans l'Annexe ci-jointe.

ANNEXE.

ARTICLE 1er DE L'ACTE GÉNÉRAL DE BERLIN DU 26 FÉVRIER 1885.

Le commerce de toutes les nations jouira d'une complète liberté:

1. Dans tous les territoires constituant le Bassin du Congo et de ses affluents. Ce bassin est délimité par les crêtes des bassins contigus, à savoir: notamment les bassins du Niari, de l'Ogowé, du Schari et du Nil, au nord; par la ligne de faîte orientale des affluents du lac Tanganyka à l'est; par les crêtes des Bassins du Zambèze et de la Logé au sud. Il embrasse, en conséquence, tous les territoires drainés par le Congo et ses affluents, y compris le lac Tanganyka et ses tributaires orientaux.

2. Dans la zone maritime s'étendant sur l'Océan Atlantique depuis le parallèle situé par 2°30 de latitude sud jusqu'à l'embouchure de la Logé.

La limite septentrionale suivra le parallèle situé par 2°30, depuis la côte jusqu'au point où il rencontre le bassin géographique du Congo, en évitant le bassin de l'Ogowé, auquel ne s'appliquent pas les stipulations du présent Acte.

La limite méridionale suivra le cours de la Logé jusqu'à la source de cette rivière et se dirigera de là vers l'est jusqu'à la jonction avec le bassin géographique du Congo.

3. Dans la zone se prolongeant à l'est du bassin du Congo, tel qu'il est délimité ci-dessus, jusqu'à l'Océan Indien, depuis le cinquième degré de latitude Nord jusqu'à l'embouchure du Zambèze au Sud; de ce point la ligne de démarcation suivra le Zambèze jusqu'à 5 milles en amont du confluent du Shiré et continuera par la ligne de faîte séparant les eaux qui coulent vers le lac Nyassa des eaux tributaires du Zambèze pour rejoindre enfin la ligne de partage des eaux du Zambèze et du Congo.

Il est expressément entendu qu'en étendant à cette zone orientale le principe de la liberté commerciale, les Puissances représentées à la Conférence ne s'engagent que pour elles-mêmes et que ce principe ne s'appliquera aux territoires appartenant actuellement à quelque État indépendant et souverain, qu'autant que celui-ci y donnera son consentement. Les Puissances conviennent d'employer leurs bons offices auprès des Gouvernements établis sur le littoral africain de la mer des Indes afin d'obtenir ledit consentement et, en tout cas, d'assurer au transit de toutes les nations les conditions les plus favorables.

ARTICLE 2.

Les marchandises appartenant aux ressortissants des Puissances signataires et des États, Membres de la Société des Nations, qui adhéreront à la présente Convention, auront libre accès à l'intérieur des régions visées à l'article 1er. Aucun traitement différentiel ne pourra être imposé à ces marchandises, à l'entrée ou à la sortie, le transit demeurant exempt de tous droits, taxes ou redevances autres que ceux perçus pour services rendus.

Les navires battant pavillon d'une desdites Puissances auront également accès à tout le littoral et à tous les ports maritimes des territoires énumérés à l'article 1er; aucun traitement différentiel ne pourra leur être imposé.

Sous réserve de ces dispositions, les États intéressés conservent le droit de fixer librement les règles et les tarifs de douane ou de navigation applicables sur leurs territoires.

ARTICLE 3.

Sur les territoires visés à l'article 1er et soumis à l'autorité de l'une des Puissances signataires, les ressortissants de ces Puissances ou des États, Membres de la Société des Nations, qui adhéreront à la présente Convention, jouiront indistinctement et sous la seule réserve des restrictions nécessaires au maintien de la sécurité et de l'ordre publics, tant pour la protection de leurs personnes et de leurs biens que pour l'acquisition et la transmission de leurs propriétés mobilières et immobilières et pour l'exercice de leur profession, du même traitement et des mêmes droits que les ressortissants de la Puissance exerçant son autorité sur le territoire.

ARTICLE 4.

Chaque Etat conserve le droit de disposer librement de ses biens et d'accorder des concessions pour l'exploitation des richesses naturelles du territoire, mais toute réglementation relative à ces objets ne pourra comporter aucun traitement différentiel entre les ressortissants des Puissances signataires et des États, Membres de la Société des Nations, qui adhéreront à la présente Convention.

ARTICLE 5.

La navigation du Niger, de ses embranchements et issues, et de tous les fleuves, de leurs embranchements et issues coulant sur les territoires visés à l'article 1, ainsi que la navigation des lacs situés sur ces territoires, sera, sous réserve des dispositions du présent chapitre, entièrement libre aussi bien pour les navires de commerce que pour le transport des marchandises et des voyageurs.

Les bateaux de toute nature appartenant aux ressortissants des Puissances signataires et des Etats, Membres de la Société des Nations, qui adhéreront à la présente Convention, seront traités, sous tous les rapports, sur le pied d'une parfaite égalité.

ARTICLE 6.

La navigation ne pourra être assujettie à aucune entrave ni redevance basée sur le seul fait de la navigation.

Elle ne subira aucune obligation d'échelle, d'étape, de dépôt, de rupture de charge ou de relâche forcée.

Il ne sera établi sur les navires aucun péage maritime ni fluvial, basé sur le seul fait de la navigation, ni aucun droit de transit sur les marchandises qui se trouvent à bord. Pourront seuls être perçus des taxes ou droits qui auront le caractère de rétribution pour services rendus à la navigation même. Les tarifs de ces taxes ou droits ne comporteront aucun traitement différentiel.

ARTICLE 7.

Les affluents des fleuves et des lacs visés à l'article 5 seront soumis, à tous égards, au même régime que les fleuves ou les lacs, dont ils sont tributaires.

Les routes, chemins de fer ou canaux latéraux, qui pourront être établis dans le but spécial de suppléer à l'innavigabilité ou aux imperfections de la voie fluviale sur certaines sections des fleuves et des lacs visés à l'article 5, de leurs affluents, de leurs embranchements et issues, seront considérés, en tant que moyens de communication, comme des dépendances de ces fleuves et lacs, et seront également ouverts au trafic des ressortissants des Puissances signataires et des États, Membres de la Société des Nations, qui adhéreront à la présente Convention.

Il ne pourra être perçu sur ces routes, chemins de fer et canaux que des péages qui devront être calculés en tenant compte des dépenses de construction, d'entretien et d'administration, ainsi que du bénéfice équitable dû à l'entreprise. Le taux en devra être maintenu rigoureusement égal pour tous les ressortissants des Puissances signataires et pour ceux des États, Membres de la Société des Nations, qui adhéreront à la présente Convention.

ARTICLE 8.

Chacune des Parties signataires demeurera libre d'établir les règlements qu'elle jugera utiles pour assurer la sécurité et le contrôle de la navigation, étant entendu que ces règlements devront tendre à faciliter autant que possible la circulation des navires de commerce.

ARTICLE 9.

Dans les sections des fleuves et de leurs affluents ainsi que sur les lacs, dont l'utilisation n'est pas nécessaire à plusieurs États riverains, les Gouvernements exerçant l'autorité resteront libres, pour le maintien de la sécurité et de l'ordre publics, et pour les autres nécessités de l'œuvre civilisatrice et coloniale, d'établir tel régime que de besoin; mais la réglementation ne pourra comporter aucun traitement différentiel entre les navires ou entre les ressortissants des Puissances signataires et des États, Membres de la Société des Nations, qui adhéreront à la présente Convention

ARTICLE 10.

Les Puissances signataires reconnaissent l'obligation de maintenir, dans les régions relevant de leur autorité, l'existence d'un pouvoir et de moyens de police suffisants pour assurer la protection des personnes et des biens et, le cas échéant, la liberté du commerce et du transit.

ARTICLE 11.

Les Puissances signataires, exerçant des droits de souveraineté ou une autorité dans les territoires africains, continueront à veiller à la conservation des populations indigènes ainsi qu'à l'amélioration de leurs conditions morales et matérielles; elles s'efforceront, en particulier, d'assurer la suppression complète de l'esclavage sous toutes ses formes et de la traite des noirs, sur terre et sur mer.

Elles protégeront et favoriseront, sans distinction de nationalité ni de culte, les institutions et les entreprises religieuses, scientifiques ou charitables, créées et organisées par les ressortissants des autres Puissances signataires et des États, Membres de la Société des Nations, qui adhéreront à la présente Convention, qui tendront à conduire les indigènes dans la voie du progrès et de la civilisation. Les missions scientifiques, leur matériel et leurs collections seront également l'objet d'une sollicitude spéciale.

La liberté de conscience et le libre exercice de tous les cultes sont expressément garantis à tous les ressortissants des Puissances signataires et à ceux des États, Membres de la Société des Nations, qui deviendront parties à la présente Convention. Dans cet esprit, les missionnaires auront le droit d'entrer, de circuler et de résider sur le territoire africain, avec faculté de s'y établir pour poursuivre leur œuvre religieuse.

L'application des dispositions prévues aux deux alinéas précédents ne comportera pas d'autres restrictions que celles qui seront nécessaires au maintien de la sécurité et de l'ordre publics ou qui résulteront de l'application du droit constitutionnel de chacune des Puissances exerçant l'autorité dans les territoires africains.

ARTICLE 12.

Les Puissances signataires conviennent que, s'il venait à s'élever entre elles un différend quelconque touchant l'application de la présente Convention et ne pouvant être réglé par voie de négociation, ce différend devra être soumis à un Tribunal d'arbitrage conformément aux dispositions du Pacte de la Société des Nations.

ARTICLE 13.

Sauf les stipulations visées à l'article 1er de la présente Convention, l'Acte général de Berlin du 26 février 1885, et l'Acte général de Bruxelles du 2 juillet 1890, ainsi que la Déclaration en date du même jour, seront considérés comme abrogés, en tant qu'ils lient entre elles les Puissances qui sont parties à la présente Convention

ARTICLE 14.

Pourront adhérer à la présente Convention les États qui exercent l'autorité sur des territoires africains et les autres États, Membres de la Société des Nations, qui étaient parties soit à l'Acte de Berlin, soit à l'Acte de Bruxelles ou à la Déclaration y annexée. Les Puissances signataires feront tous leurs efforts pour obtenir l'adhésion de ces Etats.

Cette adhésion sera signifiée, par la voie diplomatique, au Gouvernement de la République Française et par celui-ci à tous les États signataires ou adhérents. Elle portera effet à dater du jour de sasignification au Gouvernement français.

ARTICLE 15.

Les Puissances signataires se réuniront à l'expiration d'une période de dix ans, à dater de la mise en vigueur de la présente Convention, pour apporter à celle-ci les modifications que l'expérience aura rendues nécessaires.

La présente Convention sera ratifiée le plus tôt possible.

Chaque Puissance adressera sa ratification au Gouvernement français, par les soins duquel il en sera donné avis à toutes les autres Puissances signataires.

Les ratifications resteront déposées dans les archives du Gouvernement français.

La présente Convention entrera en vigueur, pour chaque Puissance signataire, à dater du dépôt de sa ratification et, dès ce moment, cette Puissance sera liée vis-à-vis des autres Puissances ayant déjà procédé au dépôt de leurs ratifications.

Dès la mise en vigueur de la présente Convention, le Gouvernement français adressera une copie certifiée de celle-ci aux Puissances qui, en vertu des Traités de paix, se sont engagées à reconnaître et agréer ladite Convention et dont le nom sera notifié aux États adhérents.

En foi de quoi, les Plénipotentiaires susnommés ont signé la présente Convention.

Fait à Saint-Germain-en-Laye, le dix septembre mil neuf cent dix-neuf, en un seul exemplaire qui restera déposé dans les archives du Gouvernement de la République française et dont les expéditions authentiques seront remises à chacune des Puissances signataires.

Whereas the territories in question are now under the control of recognized authorities, are provided with administrative institutions suitable to the local conditions, and the evolution of the native populations continues to make progress;

Commercial equality.

The Signatory Powers undertake to maintain between their respective nationals and those of States, Members of the League of Nations, which may adhere to the present Convention a complete commercial equality in the territories under their authority within the area defined by Article 1 of the General Act of Berlin of February 26, 1885, set out in the Annex hereto, but subject to the reservation specified in the final paragraph of that article.

ANNEX

Annex.

ARTICLE 1 OF THE GENERAL ACT OF BERLIN OF FEBRUARY 26, 1885.

Art. 1, General Act of Feb. 26, 1885.

The trade of all nations shall enjoy complete freedom:

1. In all the regions forming the basin of the Congo and its affluents. This basin is bounded by the watersheds (or mountain ridges) of the adjacent basins, namely, in particular, those of the Niari, the Ogowé, the Shari, and the Nile, on the north; by the eastern watershed line of the affluents of Lake Tanganyika on the east; and by the watersheds of the basins of the Zambesi and the Logé on the south. It therefore comprises all the regions watered by the Congo and its affluents, including Lake Tanganyika, with its eastern tributaries.

2. In the maritime zone extending along the Atlantic Ocean from the parallel situated in 2° 30′ of south latitude to the mouth of the Logé.

The northern boundary will follow the parallel situated in 2° 30′ from the coast to the point where it meets the geographical basin of the Congo, avoiding the basin of the Ogowé, to which the provisions of the present Act do not apply.

The southern boundary will follow the course of the Logé to its source, and thence pass eastward till it joins the geographical basin of the Congo.

3. In the zone stretching eastward from the Congo Basin as above defined, to the Indian Ocean from 5° of north latitude to the mouth of the Zambesi in the south, from which point the line of demarcation will ascend the Zambesi to 5 miles above its confluence with the Shiré, and then follow the watershed between the affluents of Lake Nyassa and those of the Zambesi, till at last it reaches the watershed between the waters of the Zambesi and the Congo.

It is expressly recognized that in extending the principle of free trade to this eastern zone, the Conference Powers only undertake engagements for themselves, and that in the territories belonging to an independent Sovereign State this principle shall only be applicable in so far as it is approved by such State. But the Powers agree to use their good offices with the Governments established on the African shore of the Indian Ocean for the purpose of obtaining such approval, and in any case of securing the most favorable conditions to the transit of all nations.

ARTICLE 2

Transit of merchandise.

Merchandise belonging to the nationals of the Signatory Powers, and to those of States, Members of the League of Nations, which may adhere to the present Convention, shall have free access to the interior of the regions specified in Article 1. No differential treatment shall be imposed upon the said merchandise on importation or exportation, the transit remaining free from all duties, taxes or dues, other than those collected for services rendered.

Access to all maritime ports.

Vessels flying the flag of any of the said Powers shall also have access to all the coast and to all maritime ports in the territories specified in Article 1; they shall be subject to no differential treatment.

Customs and navigation regulations.

Subject to these provisions, the States concerned reserve to themselves complete liberty of action as to the customs and navigation regulations and tariffs to be applied in their territories.

ARTICLE 3

Personal and property protection.

In the territories specified in Article 1 and placed under the authority of one of the Signatory Powers, the nationals of those Powers, or of States, Members of the League of Nations, which may adhere to the present Convention shall, subject only to the limitations necessary for the maintenance of public security and order, enjoy without distinction the same treatment and the same rights as the nationals of the Power exercising authority in the territory, with regard to the protection of their persons and effects, with regard to the acquisition and transmission of their movable and real property, and with regard to the exercise of their occupations.

ARTICLE 4

Rights reserved by State.

Each State reserves the right to dispose freely of its property and to grant concessions for the development of the natural resources of the territory, but no regulations on these matters shall admit of any differential treatment between the nationals of the Signatory Powers and of States, Members of the League of Nations, which may adhere to the present Convention.

No differential treatment between nationals, etc.

ARTICLE 5

Navigation of the Niger.

Subject to the provisions of the present chapter, the navigation of the Niger, of its branches and outlets, and of all the rivers, and of their branches and outlets, within the territories specified in Article 1, as well as of the lakes situated within those territories, shall be entirely free for merchant vessels and for the transport of goods and passengers.

Equality of treatment.

Craft of every kind belonging to the nationals of the Signatory Powers and of States, Members of the League of Nations, which may adhere to the present Convention shall be treated in all respects on a footing of perfect equality.

ARTICLE 6

Navigation to be unrestricted, etc.

The navigation shall not be subject to any restriction or dues based on the mere fact of navigation.

It shall not be held to any obligation in regard to landing, stopping, warehousing, bulk breaking or enforced lay over.

No maritime or river toll, based on the mere fact of navigation, shall be levied on vessels, nor shall any transit duty be levied on goods on board. Only such taxes or duties shall be collected as may be in compensation for services rendered to navigation itself. The tariff of these taxes or duties shall not admit of any differential treatment.

ARTICLE 7

Affluents of rivers, etc.

The affluents of the rivers and lakes specified in Article 5 shall in all respects be subject to the same rules as the rivers or lakes of which they are tributaries.

Traffic on roads, canals, etc.

The roads, railways or lateral canals which may be constructed with the special object of obviating the innavigability or correcting the imperfections of the water route on certain sections of the rivers and lakes specified in Article 5, their affluents, branches and outlets, shall be considered, in their quality of means of communication, as dependencies of these rivers and lakes, and shall be equally open to the traffic of the nationals of the Signatory Powers and of the States, Members of the League of Nations, which may adhere to the present Convention.

Toll limitations, equality, etc.

On these roads, railways and canals only such tolls shall be collected as are calculated on the cost of construction, maintenance and management, and on the profits reasonably accruing to the undertaking. As regards the tariff of these tolls, the nationals of the Signatory Powers and of States, Members of the League of Nations, which may adhere to the present Convention, shall be treated on a footing of perfect equality.

ARTICLE 8

Navigation rules.

Each of the Signatory Powers shall remain free to establish the rules which it may consider expedient for the purpose of ensuring the safety and supervision of navigation, on the understanding that these rules shall facilitate, as far as possible, the circulation of merchant vessels.

ARTICLE 9

Maintenance of public safety, etc.

In such sections of the rivers and of their affluents, as well as on such lakes, as are not necessarily utilized by more than one riparian State, the Governments exercising authority shall remain free to establish such systems as may be required for the maintenance of public safety and order, and for other necessities of the work of civilization and colonization; but the regulations shall not admit of any differential treatment between vessels or between nationals of the Signatory Powers and of States, Members of the League of Nations, which may adhere to the present Convention.

No differential treatment.

ARTICLE 10

Forces for safeguarding persons and property to be maintained.

The Signatory Powers acknowledge their obligation to maintain in the regions under their control actual authority and police forces sufficient to insure protection for persons and property and, if the case should arise, freedom for commerce and transit.

ARTICLE 11

Religious, etc., institutions.

They will protect and favor, without distinction of nationality or of religion, the religious, scientific or charitable institutions and undertakings created and organized by the nationals of the other Signatory Powers and of States, Members of the League of Nations, which may adhere to the present Convention, which aim at leading the natives in the path of progress and civilization. Scientific missions, their outfits and their collections, shall likewise be the objects of special solicitude.

Scientific missions.

Freedom of conscience, etc., guaranteed.

Freedom of conscience and the free exercise of all forms of religion are expressly guaranteed to all nationals of the Signatory Powers and to those of the States, Members of the League of Nations, which may become parties to the present Convention. Accordingly, missionaries shall have the right to enter into, and to travel and reside in, African territory with a view to pursuing their religious work.

Rights of missionaries.

Foregoing, subject to public order provisions.

The application of the provisions of the two preceding paragraphs shall be subject only to such restrictions as may be necessary for the maintenance of public security and order, or as may result from the enforcement of the constitutional law of any of the Powers exercising authority in African territories.

ARTICLE 12

Settlement of disputes.

The Signatory Powers agree that if any dispute whatever should arise between them relating to the application of the present Convention which cannot be settled by negotiation, this dispute shall be submitted to an arbitral tribunal in conformity with the provisions of the Covenant of the League of Nations.

ARTICLE 13

Designated Acts, etc., abrogated.

Except in so far as the stipulations contained in Article 1 of the present Convention are concerned, the General Act of Berlin of 26th February, 1885, and the General Act of Brussels of 2nd July, 1890, with the accompanying Declaration of equal date, shall be considered as abrogated, in so far as they are binding between the Powers which are Parties to the present Convention.

Vol. 27, p. 886.

ARTICLE 14

Adhesion of States exercising authority over African territory.

States exercising authority over African territories, and other States, Members of the League of Nations, which were parties either to the Act of Berlin or to the Act of Brussels or the Declaration annexed thereto, may adhere to the present Convention. The Signatory Powers will use their best endeavors to obtain the adhesion of these States.

This adhesion shall be notified through the diplomatic channel to the Government of the French Republic, and by it to all the Signatory or adhering States. The adhesion will come into force from the date of its notification to the French Government.

ARTICLE 15

Når en verdipakke er gått tapt, blitt plyndret eller skadet, skal utgangspostverket betale erstatning til rettighetshaveren så snart som mulig og senest innen et tidsrum av ett år regnet fra dagen efter den dag kravet er fremsatt; erstatningen skal utbetales for regning av adresselandets postverk, såfremt dette postverk er ansvarlig for tapet, plyndringen eller skaden og er blitt tilbørlig underrettet.

Deferred payment.

11. However, the Administration of origin may, in the cases indicated in the foregoing section, exceptionally defer payment of indemnity for a longer period than that stipulated if, at the expiration of that period, it has not been able to determine the disposition made of the article in question or the responsibility incurred.

11. I de tilfelle som er anført i foregående paragraf kan dog utgangslandets postverk undtagelsesvis utsette med betalingen av erstatning i et lengere tidsrum enn fastsatt, såfremt det ved utløpet av fristen ikke har vært mulig å fastslå vedkommende sendings skjebne eller å avgjøre ansvarsspørsmålet.

Country of origin may pay if country of destination delays nine months.

12. Except in cases where payment is exceptionally deferred as provided in the foregoing section, the country of origin is authorised to pay indemnity on behalf of the country of destination if that country has, after being duly informed of the application for indemnity, let nine months pass without settling the matter.

12. Undtagen i tilfelle hvor betalingen undtagelsesvis er utsatt, således som omhandlet i foregående paragraf, har utgangslandet rett til å utbetale erstatning på vegne av adresselandet, hvis dette land, efter å være tilbørlig underrettet om erstatningskravet, har latt gå hen ni måneder uten å ordne saken.

Country responsible.

13. The obligation of paying the indemnity shall rest with the country to which the mailing office is subordinate. That country can make a claim on the country responsible, that is to say, against the Administration on the territory or in the service of which the loss, rifling, or damage took place.

13. Forpliktelsen til å betale erstatningen påhviler det land hvorunder utgangspoststedet hører. Dette land kan fremsette krav overfor det ansvarlige land, det vil si, mot det postverk på hvis territorium eller i hvis tjeneste tapet, plyndringen eller skaden har funnet sted.

Repayment to country paying.

14. The country responsible for the loss, rifling, or damage and on whose account payment is made is bound to repay to the country making payment on its

Means to be used.

16. Repayments are to be made free of cost to the creditor country by means of either a money order or a draft or in money valid in the creditor country, or by such other means as may be mutually agreed upon by correspondence.

Responsibility of receiving country unable to show proper disposition.

17. Until the contrary is proved, responsibility for an insured parcel rests with the country which, having received the parcel without making any observation and being furnished all necessary particulars for inquiry, is unable to show its proper disposition.

If lost in transit.

If the loss, abstraction, or damage has occurred in the course of conveyance without its being possible to ascertain in which service the irregularity took place, the Postal Administrations concerned bear the loss in equal shares.

Dispatching office responsible if loss discovered by receiving office.

18. Responsibility for loss, rifling, or damage of an insured parcel discovered by the receiving office of exchange at the time of opening the receptacles and duly notified to the dispatching office of exchange by bulletin of verification, shall fall upon the Administration to which the dispatching office of exchange is subordinate unless it be proved that the loss, rifling, or damage occurred in the service of the receiving Administration.

Responsibility for proper packing, etc.

19. The responsibility of properly enclosing, packing, and sealing insured parcels rests upon the sender, and the postal service of neither country will assume liability for loss, rifling, or damage arising from defects which may not be observed at the time of posting.

15. Refusjoner av erstatningsbeløp fra det ene land til det annet skal skje på gull-basis.

16. Tilbakebetalinger skal skje utgiftsfritt for det tilgodehavende land enten ved postanvisning, veksel eller ved mynt som er gangbar i det tilgodehavende land, eller på den måte som det måtte bli truffet gjensidig avtale om gjennem korrespondanse.

17. Inntil det motsatte bevises påhviler ansvaret for en verdipakke det land som har mottatt pakken uten nogen bemerkning, og som efter å være blitt meddelt alle nødvendige oplysninger til hjelp for undersøkelsen, ikke er i stand til å eftervise pakken.

Dersom tapet, plyndringen eller skaden er opstått under postføringen uten at det har vært mulig å fastslå i hvilket postverk dette er skjedd, deler vedkommende poststyrer tapet likt.

18. Ansvaret for tap, plyndring eller skade på en verdipakke som opdages av mottagerutvekslingskontoret ved åpningen av posene skal — når underretning riktig er sendt avsenderutvekslingskontoret ved en tilbakemelding — falle på det postverk hvorunder avsenderutvekslingskontoret hører, medmindre det bevises at tapet, plyndringen eller skaden er opstått på mottagerpostverkets område.

19. Ansvaret for riktig innhold i og for tilstrekkelig innpakning og forsegling av verdipakker påhviler avsenderen; de to postverk overtar intet ansvar for tap, plyndring eller skade som er forårsaket ved mangler som ikke måtte opdages ved innleveringen.

Avsenderen av en pakke kan ved innleveringen forlange at pakken i tilfelle den ikke kan utleveres efter adressen skal enten a) behandles som abandonnert, eller b) søkes utlevert efter en annen adresse i adresselandet. Grunnen til denne endring skal meddeles vedkommende utvekslingskontor ved en tilbakemelding.

When a parcel has been wrongly allowed to be dispatched in consequence of an error on the part of the postal service and has for this reason to be returned to the country of origin, the procedure followed shall be the same as if the parcel had to be sent back to the dispatching office in consequence of missending.

When the return is the consequence of an error on the part of the sender or is the consequence of one of the prohibitions laid down in Article 4 of the Arrangement, the charges due for the return of the parcel are collected

3. Når en pakke er blitt feilaktig mottatt til postsending som følge av feil fra postverkets side og av den grunn må sendes tilbake til utgangslandet, skal der gåes frem på samme måte som om pakken skulde ha vært sendt tilbake til avsenderpoststedet som følge av feilsending.

4. En omekspedert pakke skal ledsages av den originale tollangivelse. Dersom pakken av en eller annen grunn må ompakkes eller dersom den originale tollangivelse må erstattes med en nødtollangivelse, er det nødvendig at utgangspoststedets navn og det oprinnelige registernummer settes på pakken og at utgangspoststedets navn settes på tollangivelsen.

The United States of America and the United Mexican States, desiring to settle and adjust amicably the claims comprehended by the terms of the Special Claims Convention concluded by the two Governments on the 10th day of September, 1923, without resort to the method of international adjudication provided by the said agreement, have decided to enter into a Convention for that purpose, and to this end have nominated as their Plenipotentiaries:

El Presidente de los Estados Unidos Mexicanos:

Al Honorable José Manuel Puig Casauranc, Secretario de Relaciones Exteriores, Quienes, después de haberse comunicado mutuamente sus respectivos plenos poderes y encontrándolos en buena y debida forma, han convenido en los Artículos siguientes:

ARTICLE I

Settlement of designated United States claims.

Vol. 42, p. 1722.

The claims of the United States of America covered by the Special Claims Convention of September 10, 1923, shall be adjusted, settled and forever thereafter barred from further consideration, by the payment by the Government of Mexico to the Government of the United States of a sum of money which shall equal the same proportion of the total amount claimed by the United States in all such cases (after the deductions provided for in Article IV hereof), as the proportion represented—in respect to the total sum claimed by the Governments of Belgium, France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy and Spain—by the total amount found to be due from the Mexican Government in the settlement of similar claims and under the conventions concluded with those Governments by the Government of Mexico during the years from September 25, 1924 to December 5, 1930.

Determining general average percentage.

To determine said general average percentage resulting from the settlements with said countries for similar claims, the classic arithmetical procedure shall be used, that is to say, the total amount awarded to Belgium, France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy and Spain shall be multiplied by one hundred and the product shall be divided by the total amount claimed by said countries.

Ascertaining amount payable to United States.

Having thus determined the general average percentage, in order to ascertain the amount that

ARTICULO I.

Las reclamaciones de los Estados Unidos de América comprendidas en la Convención Especial de 10 de septiembre de 1923, quedarán ajustadas, arregladas y para siempre excluidas de toda consideración ulterior, mediante el pago por el Gobierno de México al Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de una suma de dinero que representará la misma proporción de la suma total reclamada por los Estados Unidos en todos los casos (después de las deducciones que establece el Artículo IV de esta Convención), que la proporción que significa—respecto de la suma total reclamada por los Gobiernos de Bélgica, Francia, Alemania, Gran Bretaña, Italia y España—el monto total que se halló debe el Gobierno de México en el arreglo de esas reclamaciones similares y de acuerdo con los términos de las convenciones concluidas con esos Gobiernos por el de México durante el período de tiempo comprendido entre el 25 de septiembre de 1924 y el 5 de diciembre de 1930.

Para hallar ese porcentaje promedio general que resulte de los arreglos con dichos países en reclamaciones similares, se usará el procedimiento aritmético clasico, es decir, se multiplicará el monto total de las cantidades concedidas a Bélgica, Francia, Alemania, Gran Bretaña, Italia y España, por cien y el producto se dividirá entre el monto total de las cantidades reclamadas por esos países.

Encontrado así el porcentaje promedio general, para determinar la cantidad que deberá pagar

Mexico should pay to the United States, said percentage shall be multiplied by the total amount claimed by the United States (after the deductions provided for in Article IV of this Convention) and the resulting products shall be divided by one hundred.

ARTICLE II

The amount provided for in Article I above shall be paid at Washington, in dollars of the United States, at the rate of 500,000.00 (five hundred thousand dollars) per annum, beginning January 1, 1935, and continuing until the whole amount thereof shall have been paid.

ARTICLE III

Deferred payments, by which term is meant all payments made after January 2, 1935, shall bear interest at the rate of one-fourth of one percent per annum for the first year counting from January 1, 1935, and an additional one-fourth of one percent for each additional year until the maximum of one percent is reached which shall be applied beginning January 1, 1939. In the event of failure to make annual payments when due, however, this rate shall be increased at the rate of one-fourth of one percent per annum on the amount of deferred payments during the period of any such delay until a maximum additional rate of three percent on such overdue amounts is reached.

ARTICLE IV

In computing the total amount of claims mentioned in Article I above, there shall be deducted from the total amount of all special claims filed by the United States under the terms of the Special Claims Convention of September 10, 1923, the following items:

México a los Estados Unidos, se multiplicará este porcentaje por la cantidad total reclamada por los Estados Unidos (después de las deducciones que establece el artículo IV de esta Convención) y el producto así encontrado se dividirá entre cien.

ARTICULO II

Payments.

La cantidad de que habla el Artículo I que precede será pagada en Washington, en dólares de los Estados Unidos, a razón de 500.000.00 (quinientos Mil) dólares por año, comenzando el primero de enero de 1935, y continuando hasta que aquella cantidad haya sido pagada totalmente.

ARTICULO III

Interest on deferred payments.

Los pagos a plazo, expresión que significa todos los pagos que se efectúen después del 2 de enero de 1935, causarán interés a razón de un cuarto de uno por ciento por año, para el primer año contado a partir del primero de enero de 1935, y un cuarto de uno por ciento adicional para cada año subsiguiente, hasta llegar a uno por ciento, rédito máximo que se aplicará a partir del 1º de enero de 1939, Sin embargo, en caso de que no se efectuaren los pagos anuales a su vencimiento, dicho rédito será aumentado a razón de un cuarto de uno por ciento por año sobre la cantidad de pagos diferidos durante el período de cualesquiera de esas demoras, hasta llegar a un máximo de rédito adicional de tres por ciento sobre tales pagos retrasados.

ARTICULO IV

Items to be deducted.

Al computar el importe total de las reclamaciones a que se refiere el Artículo I anterior, se deducirán del importe total de todas las reclamaciones registradas en la Comisión Especial por los Estados Unidos de conformidad con lo dispuesto por la Convención Especial de Reclamaciones de 10 de septiembre de 1923, las siguientes partidas:

First: Claims decided.

Second: One-half of the amount represented by the total claimed in all cases in which the same claim has been filed twice, either for the same or for different amounts, with the Special Claims Commission.

Third: From the claims registered for the same reason with both Commissions, there shall be deducted the total amount of all claims that in fact or apparently should have registered only with the General Claims Commission established by the Convention of September 8, 1923.

The determination, by the representatives of both Governments referred to in Article V of this Convention, of claims that ought to be withdrawn from the Special Commission because in fact or apparently they should have been registered only with the General Commission for presentation and adjudication, does not prejudge the jurisdiction in and validity of said claims, which shall be determined in each case when examined and adjudicated by the Commissioners or Umpire in accordance with the provisions of the General Claims Convention of September 8, 1923 and the Protocol of April 24, 1934, or the Special Claims Convention of September 10, 1923, and the Protocol of June 18, 1932,[1] in the event it shall be found by the Commissioners or Umpire to have been improperly eliminated from the Special Claims settlement. In the latter event, the claims improperly eliminated in the opinion of the Commissioners or Umpire, shall be settled and adjusted by the same en bloc procedure prescribed by this Convention for all claims registered with the Special Commission.

Vol. 42, p. 1730; Vol. 48, p. 1844; Vol. 42, p. 1722.

[1] Not in force.

Primero: Las reclamaciones falladas:

Segundo: La mitad de la cantidad correspondiente al importe total reclamado en todos los casos en los que una misma reclamación ha sido registrada dos veces, ya sea por la misma cantidad o por sumas distintas, ante la Comisión Especial de Reclamaciones.

Tercero: De las reclamaciones registradas en ambas Comisiones por el mismo concepto, se deducirá el importe total de todas las reclamaciones que debida o aparentemente debieron registrarse sólo en la Comisión General de Reclamaciones creada por la Convención de 8 de septiembre de 1923.

La determinación por los Representantes de ambos Gobiernos a que se refiere el Artículo V de esta Convención, de las reclamaciones que deben retirarse de la Comisión Especial, porque debida o aparentemente sólo debieron haberse registrado ante la Comisión General para su tramitación y fallo, no prejuzga de la competencia en dichas reclamaciones ni de su validez, lo cual se determinará en cada una de ellas al ser consideradas y falladas por los Comisionados o el Arbitro de acuerdo con lo establecido en la Convención General de Reclamaciones de 8 de septiembre de 1923 y en el Protocolo de abril 24 de 1934, o en la Convención Especial de Reclamaciones de 10 de septiembre de 1923 y el Protocolo de 18 de junio de 1932, si es que los Comisionados o el Arbitro encontraren que las referidas reclamaciones fueron indebidamente eliminadas del arreglo global de las reclamaciones presentadas ante la Comisión Especial. En este último caso, las reclamaciones indebidamente eliminadas a juicio de los Comisionados o del Arbitro, se arreglarán y ajustarán mediante el mismo procedimiento de arreglo global que para todas las reclamaciones registradas ante la Comisión Especial establece esta Convención.

ARTICLE V

The total amount of the special claims of the United States, as well as the deductions to be made therefrom, in accordance with Article IV above, and the proportionate amount thereof to be paid in accordance with Article I above, shall be determined by a Joint Commitee consisting of two members, one to be appointed by each Government, whose joint report, after due conference and consideration, shall be accepted as final.

ARTICULO V

El importe total de las reclamaciones presentadas por los Estados Unidos ante la Comisión Especial, así como las deducciones que deben hacerse de dicha cantidad de acuerdo con el Artículo IV anterior y la cantidad proporcional de dicha suma que deberá pagarse según el Artículo I de esta Convención, serán determinadas por un Comité Unido compuesto de dos miembros, cada uno nombrado por su respectivo Gobierno, cuyo dictamen, que se emitirá conjuntamente, después de discutido y considerado debidamente, será aceptado como definitivo.

ARTICLE VI

ARTICULO VI.

Se conviene en que, con objeto de facilitar la debida distribución por los Estados Unidos entre los reclamantes respectivos de la cantidad que deberá pagarse de acuerdo con esta Convención, el Gobierno Mexicano entregará al de los Estados Unidos, a solicitud de este último, todas las pruebas que obren en su poder relativas a los fundamentos de determinadas reclamaciones en particular y recabar, a costa de los Estados Unidos, todas aquellas pruebas adicionales que puedan obtenerse en México y que manifieste el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos ser necesarias para la debida adjudicación de determinados casos, quedando a juicio del Gobierno Mexicano proporcionar los originales o copias certificadas de ellos y con la salvedad expresa de que no se entregarán documentos que por su propia naturaleza no puedan ser suministrados por este Gobierno.

The present Convention does not apply to aborigines dwelling on the coasts of the territories of the High Contracting Parties provided that:

Conditions.

The fullest possible use shall be made of the carcases of whales taken. In particular:

1. There shall be extracted by boiling or otherwise the oil from all blubber and from the head and the tongue and, in addition, from the tail as far forward as the outer opening of the lower intestine.

2° Toute usine, flottante ou non, servant à traiter les carcasses de baleine, devra être munie de l'outillage nécessaire pour extraire l'huile du blanc, de la chair et des os.

Article 8.

Aucun navire des Hautes Parties contractantes ne pourra se livrer à la capture ou au traitement des baleines sans qu'une licence spéciale ait été concédée à ce navire par la Haute Partie contractante dont il porte le pavillon, ou sans que son propriétaire ou affréteur ait notifié au gouvernement de cette Haute Partie contractante son intention d'utiliser ce navire pour la chasse à la baleine et qu'il ait reçu dudit gouvernement une attestation de cette notification.

Le présent article ne porte nullement atteinte au droit, pour l'une quelconque des Hautes Parties contractantes, d'exiger, en outre, une licence émanant de ses propres autorités, pour tout navire désireux d'utiliser son territoire ou ses eaux territoriales en vue de capturer, d'amener à terre ou de traiter des baleines. La délivrance de cette licence pourra être, soit refusée, soit subordonnée aux conditions que la Haute Partie contractante intéressée estimera nécessaires ou opportunes, quelle que soit la nationalité du navire.

Article 9.

La zone géographique d'application des articles de la présente Convention s'étendra à toutes les eaux du monde entier, y compris à la fois la haute mer et les eaux territoriales et nationales.

Article 10.

g) Renseignements sur le contenu de l'estomac, lorsque cela est possible.

2. Every factory, whether on shore or afloat, used for treating the carcases of whales shall be equipped with adequate apparatus for the extraction of oil from the blubber, flesh and bones.

3. In the case of whales brought on shore, adequate arrangements shall be made for utilising the residues after the oil has been extracted.

Article 7.

Vessel gunners and crews; remuneration.

Gunners and crews of whaling vessels shall be engaged on terms such that their remuneration shall depend to a considerable extent upon such factors as the size, species, value and yield of oil of whales taken, and not merely upon the number of whales taken, in so far as payment is made dependent on results.

Article 8.

Licenses, etc.

No vessel of any of the High Contracting Parties shall engage in taking or treating whales unless a licence authorising such vessel to engage therein shall have been granted in respect of such vessel by the High Contracting Party, whose flag she flies, or unless her owner or charterer has notified the Government of the said High Contracting Party of his intention to employ her in whaling and has received a certificate of notification from the said Government.

Nothing in this article shall prejudice the right of any High Contracting Party to require that, in addition, a licence shall be required from his own authorities by every vessel desirous of using his territory or territorial waters for the purposes of taking, landing or treating whales, and such licence may be refused or may be made subject to such conditions as may be deemed by such High Contracting Party to be necessary or desirable, whatever the nationality of the vessel may be.

Article 9.

(f) When fœtus is present, length and sex if ascertainable;
(g) When practicable, information as to stomach contents.

2. La longueur mentionnée aux paragraphes e) et f) du présent article sera celle de la ligne droite depuis l'extrémité du museau jusqu'à l'intersection des nageoires caudales.

Article 11.

Chacune des Hautes Parties contractantes se fera adresser par toutes les usines, flottantes ou établies sur la terre ferme, soumises à sa juridiction, des relevés indiquant le nombre des baleines de chaque espèce traitées dans chacune des usines et les quantités d'huile de chaque qualité, poudre, guano et autres sous-produits tirés de ces baleines.

Article 12.

Chacune des Hautes Parties contractantes communiquera les renseignements statistiques relatifs aux opérations, concernant les baleines, qui ont eu lieu dans le ressort de leur juridiction, au Bureau international de Statistiques baleinières, à Oslo. Les renseignements fournis devront comprendre au moins les détails mentionnés à l'article 10 et: 1° le nom et le tonnage de chaque usine flottante; 2° le nombre et le tonnage global des navires baleiniers; 3° une liste des stations terrestres ayant fonctionné au cours de la période envisagée. Ces renseignements seront fournis à des intervalles appropriés ne dépassant pas une année.

Article 13.

Who, after having exhibited their Full Powers, which were found to be in good and due order, have agreed upon the following:

ARTICLE 1

Qualifications of a State.

The state as a person of international law should possess the following qualifications: a) a permanent population; b) a defined territory; c) government; and d) capacity to enter into relations with the other states.

ARTICLE 2

To constitute a sole person.

The federal state shall constitute a sole person in the eyes of international law.

ARTICLE 3

Independent of recognition.

The political existence of the state is independent of recognition by the other states. Even before recognition the state has the right to defend its integrity and independence, to provide for its conservation and prosperity, and consequently to organize itself as it sees fit, to legislate upon its interests, administer its services, and to define the jurisdiction and competence of its courts.

The exercise of these rights has no other limitation than the exercise of the rights of other states according to international law.

ARTICLE 4

Juridically equal, etc.

States are juridically equal, enjoy the same rights, and have equal capacity in their exercise. The rights of each one do not depend upon the power which it possesses to assure its exercise, but upon the simple fact of its existence as a person under international law.

ARTICLE 5

Fundamental rights.

The fundamental rights of states are not susceptible of being affected in any manner whatsoever.

ARTICLE 6

Recognition; significance of.

The recognition of a state merely signifies that the state which recognizes it accepts the personality of the other with all the rights and duties determined by international law. Recognition is unconditional and irrevocable.

ARTICLE 7

May be express or tacit.

The recognition of a state may be express or tacit. The latter results from any act which implies the intention of recognizing the new state.

ARTICLE 8

Intervention in affairs of another.

No state has the right to intervene in the internal or external affairs of another.

ARTICLE 9

Jurisdiction.

The jurisdiction of states within the limits of national territory applies to all the inhabitants.

Nationals and foreigners are under the same protection of the law and the national authorities and the foreigners may not claim rights other or more extensive than those of the nationals.

ARTICLE 10

Peace deemed of primary interest.

The primary interest of states is the conservation of peace. Differences of any nature which arise between them should be settled by recognized pacific methods.

ARTICLE 11

Acquisitions or advantages obtained by force.

The contracting states definitely establish as the rule of their conduct the precise obligation not to recognize territorial acquisitions or special advantages which have been obtained by force whether this consists in the employment of arms, in threatening diplomatic representations, or in any other effective coercive measure. The territory of a state is inviolable and may not be the object of military occupation nor of other measures of force imposed by another state directly or indirectly or for any motive whatever even temporarily.

Inviolability of territory.

ARTICLE 12

Prior conventions not affected.

The present Convention shall not affect obligations previously entered into by the High Contracting Parties by virtue of international agreements.

ARTICLE 13

Ratification and deposit.

The present Convention shall be ratified by the High Contracting Parties in conformity with their respective constitutional procedures. The Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Uruguay shall transmit authentic certified copies to the governments for the aforementioned purpose of ratification. The instrument of ratification shall be deposited in the archives of the Pan American Union in Washington, which shall notify the signatory governments of said deposit. Such notification shall be considered as an exchange of ratifications.

ARTICLE 14

Effective date.

The present Convention will enter into force between the High Contracting Parties in the order in which they deposit their respective ratifications.

ARTICLE 15

Duration.

The present Convention shall remain in force indefinitely but may be denounced by means of one year's notice given to the Pan American Union, which shall transmit it to the other signatory governments. After the expiration of this period the Convention shall cease in its effects as regards the party which denounces but shall remain in effect for the remaining High Contracting Parties.

ARTICLE 16

Adhesions.

The present Convention shall be open for the adherence and accession of the States which are not signatories. The corresponding instruments shall be deposited in the archives of the Pan American Union which shall communicate them to the other High Contracting Parties.

Signatures.

In witness whereof, the following Plenipotentiaries have signed this Convention in Spanish, English, Portuguese and French and hereunto affix their respective seals in the city of Montevideo, Republic of Uruguay, this 26th day of December, 1933.

Reservations.

United States.

RESERVATIONS

The Delegation of the United States of America, in signing the Convention on the Rights and Duties of States, does so with the express reservation presented to the Plenary Session of the Conference on December 22, 1933, which reservation reads as follows:

The Delegation of the United States, in voting "yes" on the final vote on this committee recommendation and proposal, makes the same reservation to the eleven articles of the project or proposal that the United States Delegation made to the first ten articles during the final vote in the full Commission, which reservation is in words as follows:

"The policy and attitude of the United States Government toward every important phase of international relationships in this hemisphere could scarcely be made more clear and definite than they have been made by both word and action especially since March 4. I have no disposition therefore to indulge in any repetition or rehearsal of these acts and utterances and shall not do so. Every observing person must by this time thoroughly understand that under the Roosevelt Administration the United States Government is as much opposed as any other government to interference with the freedom, the sovereignty, or other internal affairs or processes of the governments of other nations.

"In addition to numerous acts and utterances in connection with the carrying out of these doctrines and policies, President Roosevelt, during recent weeks, gave out a public statement expressing his disposition to open negotiations with the Cuban Government for the purpose of dealing with the treaty which has existed since 1903. I feel safe in undertaking to say that under our support of the general principle of non-intervention as has been suggested, no government need fear any intervention on the part of the United States under the Roosevelt Administration. I think it unfortunate that during the brief period of this Conference there is apparently not time within which to prepare interpretations and definitions of these fundamental terms that are embraced in the report. Such definitions and interpretations would enable every government to proceed in a uniform way without any difference of opinion or of interpretations. I hope that at the earliest possible date such very important work will be done. In the meantime in case of differences of interpretations and also until they (the proposed doctrines and principles) can be worked out and codified for the common use of every government, I desire to say that the United States Government in all of its international associations and relationships and conduct will follow scrupulously the doctrines and policies which it has pursued since March 4 which are embodied in the different addresses of President Roosevelt since that time and in the recent peace address of myself on the 15th day of December before this Conference and in the law of nations as generally recognized and accepted".

Brazil and Peru.

Ante, p. 3101.

The delegates of Brazil and Peru recorded the following private vote with regard to article 11: "That they accept the doctrine in principle but that they do not consider it codifiable because there are some countries which have not yet signed the Anti-War Pact of Rio de Janeiro of which this doctrine is a part and therefore it does not yet constitute positive international law suitable for codification".

Quienes, después de haber exhibido sus Plenos Poderes, que fueron hallados en buena y debida forma, han convenido en lo siguiente:

ARTÍCULO 1

El Estado como persona de Derecho Internacional debe reunir los siguientes requisitos:

I. Población permanente.
II. Territorio determinado.
III. Gobierno.
IV. Capacidad de entrar en relaciones con los demás Estados.

ARTÍCULO 2

El Estado federal constituye una sola persona ante el Derecho Internacional.

ARTÍCULO 3

La existencia política del Estado es independiente de su reconocimiento por los demás Estados. Aun antes de reconocido el Estado tiene el derecho de defender su integridad e independencia, proveer a su conservación y prosperidad y, por consiguiente, de organizarse como mejor lo entendiere, legislar sobre sus intereses, administrar sus servicios y determinar la jurisdicción y competencia de sus tribunales.

El ejercicio de estos derechos no tiene otros límites que el ejercicio de los derechos de otros Estados conforme al Derecho Internacional.

ARTÍCULO 4

Los Estados son jurídicamente iguales, disfrutan de iguales derechos y tienen igual capacidad para ejercitarlos. Los derechos de cada uno no dependen del poder de que disponga para asegurar su ejercicio, sino del simple hecho de su existencia como persona de Derecho Internacional.

ARTÍCULO 5

Los derechos fundamentales de los Estados no son susceptibles de ser afectados en forma alguna.

ARTÍCULO 6

El reconocimiento de un Estado meramente significa que el que lo reconoce acepta la personalidad del otro con todos los derechos y deberes determinados por el Derecho Internacional. El reconocimiento es incondicional e irrevocable.

ARTÍCULO 7

El reconocimiento del Estado podrá ser expreso o tácito. Este último resulta de todo acto que implique la intención de reconocer al nuevo Estado.

ARTÍCULO 8

Ningún Estado tiene derecho de intervenir en los asuntos internos ni en los externos de otro.

ARTÍCULO 9

La jurisdicción de los Estados en los límites del territorio nacional se aplica a todos los habitantes. Los nacionales y los extranjeros se hallan bajo la misma protección de la legislación y de las autoridades nacionales y los extranjeros no podrán pretender derechos diferentes, ni más extensos que los de los nacionales.

ARTÍCULO 10

Es interés primordial de los Estados la conservación de la paz. Las divergencias de cualquier clase que entre ellos se susciten deben arreglarse por los medios pacíficos reconocidos.

ARTÍCULO 11

Los Estados contratantes consagran en definitiva como norma de su conducta, la obligación precisa de no reconocer las adquisiciones territoriales o de ventajas especiales que se realicen por la fuerza, ya sea que ésta consista en el uso de armas, en representaciones diplomáticas conminatorias o en cualquier otro medio de coacción efectiva. El territorio de los Estados es inviolable y no puede ser objeto de ocupaciones militares ni de otras medidas de fuerza impuestas por otro Estado, ni directa ni indirectamente, ni por motivo alguno, ni aún de manera temporal.

ARTÍCULO 12

La presente Convención no afecta los compromisos contraídos anteriormente por las Altas Partes Contratantes en virtud de acuerdos internacionales.

ARTÍCULO 13

La presente Convención será ratificada por las Altas Partes Contratantes, de acuerdo con sus procedimientos constitucionales. El Ministerio de Relaciones Exteriores de la República Oriental del Uruguay queda encargado de enviar copias certificadas auténticas a los Gobiernos para el referido fin. Los instrumentos de ratificación serán depositados en los archivos de la Unión Panamericana, en Wáshington, que notificará dicho depósito a los Gobiernos signatarios; tal notificación valdrá como canje de ratificaciones.

ARTÍCULO 14

La presente Convención entrará en vigor entre las Altas Partes Contratantes en el orden en que vayan depositando sus respectivas ratificaciones.

ARTÍCULO 15

La presente Convención regirá indefinidamente, pero podrá ser denunciada mediante aviso anticipado de un año a la Unión Panamericana, que la transmitirá a los demás Gobiernos signatarios. Transcurrido este plazo, la convención cesará en sus efectos para el denunciante, quedando subsistente para las demás Altas Partes Contratantes.

ARTÍCULO 16

La presente Convención quedará abierta a la adhesión y accesión de los Estados no signatarios. Los instrumentos correspondientes serán depositados en los Archivos de la Unión Panamericana que los comunicará a las otras Altas Partes Contratantes.

En fé de lo cual, los Plenipotenciarios que a continuación se indican, firman y sellan la presente Convención en español, inglés, portugués y francés, en la ciudad de Montevideo, República Oriental del Uruguay, este vigésimosexto día del mes de diciembre del año de mil novecientos treinta y tres.

RESERVAS

La Delegación de los Estados Unidos de América, al firmar la Convención sobre Derechos y Deberes de los Estados, lo hace con la reserva expresa presentada ante la Sesión Plenaria de la Conferencia, el 22 de diciembre de 1933, reserva que reza como sigue:

La Delegación de los Estados Unidos, al pronunciarse afirmativamente en la votación final sobre esta recomendación y proposición de la Comisión, hace las mismas reservas a los once artículos del proyecto o propuesta que la Delegación Estadounidense hizo a los primeros diez artículos durante la votación final de la comisión en pleno, reserva que tiene el tenor siguiente:

"La política y actitud del gobierno de los Estados Unidos en todas y cada una de las faces importantes de las relaciones internacionales en este hemisferio difícilmente podrían hacerse más claras y definidas de lo que ya lo han sido, tanto de palabra como de hecho, especalmente desde el 4 de Marzo. Por lo tanto no es mi ánimo hacer una repetición o reseña de tales actos y manifestaciones, y no la haré. Cualquier observador debe a estas horas comprender perfectamente que bajo el régimen del Presidente Roosevelt el gobierno de los Estados Unidos se opone, tanto como cualquier otro gobierno, a toda ingerencia en la libertad, la soberanía u en otros asuntos internos o procedimientos de los gobienos de otras naciones.

Además de sus muchos actos y declaraciones relacionadas con la aplicación de estas doctrinas y políticas, el Presidente Roosevelt, durante las últimas semanas, manifestó públicamente su voluntad de entrar en negociaciones con el Gobierno Cubano a fin de considerar el tratado que ha estado en vigor desde 1903. Creo, pues, estar en lo cierto al decir que con nuestro apoyo al principio general de la no intervención, conforme ha sido propuesto, ningún gobierno necesita abrigar temores de una intervención de los Estados Unidos durante el Gobierno del Presidente Roosevelt. Estimo infortunado el que, durante la breve duración de esta Conferencia, al parecer no se dispone de tiempo suficiente para elaborar interpretaciones y definiciones de aquellos términos fundamentales consignados en la ponencia. Tales definiciones e interpretaciones permitirían que cada gobierno procediera de manera uniforme, sin ninguna diferencia de opiniones o de interpretaciones. Espero que, a la mayor brevedad posible, se realizará tan importantísimo trabajo. Entretanto, y en el caso de que haya diferencias de interpretación y, asimismo, mientras es posible elaborar y codificar las doctrinas y principios propuestos, para uso común de todos los gobiernos, deseo manifestar que en todos sus contactos, relaciones y conducta internacionales, el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos seguirá escrupulosamente las doctrinas y políticas que ha perseguido desde el 4 de marzo, consignados en los diversos discursos pronunciados por el presidente Roosevelt desde entonces, en el reciente discurso pacifista que pronuncié el 15 de diciembre ante esta Conferencia y en el Derecho de Gentes, tal como se le reconoce y acepta generalmente".

Los señores Delegados del Brasil y del Perú hicieron constar el siguiente voto particular respecto al artículo 11 de la presente convención: "Que aceptan la doctrina en principio; pero no la estiman codificable porque hay países que aún no han firmado el pacto antibélico de Río de Janeiro, del cual ella forma parte, y por tanto no constituye todavía derecho internacional positivo apto para la codificación."

Ratification.

AND WHEREAS the said convention, as signed, was duly ratified by the United States of America, and the instrument of ratification of the United States of America embracing the aforesaid reservation made by its delegation at the conference, as follows:

Reservation by United States.

"The delegation of the United States, in voting 'yes' on the final vote on this committee recommendation and proposal, makes the same reservation to the eleven articles of the project or proposal that the United States delegation made to the first ten articles during the final vote in the full Commission, which reservation is in words as follows:

"The policy and attitude of the United States Government toward every important phase of international relationships in this hemisphere could scarcely be made more clear and definite than they have been made by both word and action especially since March 4. I have no disposition therefore to indulge in any repetition or rehearsal of these acts and utterances and shall not do so. Every observing person must by this time thoroughly understand that under the Roosevelt administration the United States Government is as much opposed as any other government to interference with the freedom, the sovereignty, or other internal affairs or processes of the governments of other nations.

"In addition to numerous acts and utterances in connection with the carrying out of these doctrines and policies, President Roosevelt, during recent weeks, gave out a public statement expressing his disposition to open negotiations with the Cuban Government for the purpose of dealing with the treaty which has existed since 1903. I feel safe in undertaking to say that under our support of the general principle of nonintervention as has been suggested, no government need fear any intervention on the part of the United States under the Roosevelt administration. I think it unfortunate that during the brief period of this conference there is apparently not time within which to prepare interpretations and definitions of these fundamental terms that are embraced in the report. Such definitions and interpretations would enable every government to proceed in a uniform way without any difference of opinion or of interpretations. I hope that at the earliest possible date such very important work will be done. In the meantime in case of differences of interpretations and also until they (the proposed doctrines and principles) can be worked out and codified for the common use of every government, I desire to say that the United States Government in all of its international associations and relationships and conduct will follow scrupulously the doctrines and policies which it has pursued since March 4, which are embodied in the different addresses of President Roosevelt since that time and in the recent peace address of myself on the 15th day of December before this conference and in the law of nations as generally recognized and accepted.",

Ratification by Dominican Republic.

AND WHEREAS, the said convention has been duly ratified also by the Dominican Republic, whose ratification thereof was deposited with the Pan American Union on December 26, 1934, on which day the convention, pursuant to a provision in Article 14 thereof, entered into force between the United States of America and the Dominican Republic;

Proclamation.

NOW, THEREFORE, be it known that I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, have caused the said convention to be made public to the end that the same and every article and clause thereof may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States of America and the citizens thereof subject to the reservation aforesaid.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the city of Washington this eighteenth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and fifty-ninth.

Who, after having exhibited their Full Powers, which were found in good and due form, have agreed upon the following:

ARTICLE 1

Reciprocal surrender of accused persons under certain circumstances.

Each one of the signatory States in harmony with the stipulations of the present Convention assumes the obligation of surrendering to any one of the States which may make the requisition, the persons who may be in their territory and who are accused or under sentence. This right shall be claimed only under the following circumstances:

Jurisdiction of demanding State.

a) That the demanding State have the jurisdiction to try and to punish the delinquency which is attributed to the individual whom it desires to extradite.

That the act constitutes a crime, etc.

b) That the act for which extradition is sought constitutes a crime and is punishable under the laws of the demanding and surrendering States with a minimum penalty of imprisonment for one year.

ARTICLE 2

Discretionary delivery of country's citizens.

When the person whose extradition is sought is a citizen of the country to which the requisition is addressed, his delivery may or may not be made, as the legislation or circumstances of the case may, in the judgment of the surrendering State, determine. If the accused is not surrendered, the latter State is obliged to bring action against him for the crime with which he is accused, if such crime meets the conditions established in sub-article (b) of the previous article. The sentence pronounced shall be communicated to the demanding State.[1]

ARTICLE 3

Subjects not extraditable.

Extradition will not be granted:

a) When, previous to the arrest of the accused person, the penal action or sentence has expired according to the laws of the demanding or the surrendering State.

b) When the accused has served his sentence in the country where the crime was committed or when he may have been pardoned or granted an amnesty.

c) When the accused has been or is being tried by the State to which the requisition was directed for the act with which he is charged and on which the petition of extradition is based.

d) When the accused must appear before any extraordinary tribunal or court of the demanding State (tribunal o juzgado de excepción del Estado requiriente). Military courts will not be considered as such tribunals.[2]

e) When the offense is of a political nature or of a character related thereto. An attempt against the life or person of the Chief of State or members of his family, shall not be deemed to be a political offense.

f) When the offense is purely military or directed against religion.

ARTICLE 4

Determination of applicability.

The determination of whether or not the exceptions referred to in the previous article are applicable shall belong exclusively to the State to which the request for extradition is addressed.

ARTICLE 5

Requisitions.

A request for extradition should be formulated by the respective diplomatic representative. When no such representative is available, consular agents may serve, or the governments may communicate directly with one another. The following documents in the language of the country to which the request for extradition is directed, shall accompany every such request:

Information to accompany.

[1] Art. 2 was not accepted by the United States of America.
[2] Par. d of art. 3 was not accepted by the United States of America.

a) An authentic copy of the sentence, when the accused has been tried and condemned by the courts of the demanding State.

b) When the person is only under accusation, an authentic copy of the order of detention issued by the competent judge, with a precise description of the imputed offense, a copy of the penal laws applicable thereto, and a copy of the laws referring to the prescription of the action or the penalty.

c) In the case of an individual under accusation as also of an individual already condemned, there shall be furnished all possible information of a personal character which may help to identify the individual whose extradition is sought.

ARTICLE 6

Prior, etc., offenses.

When a person whose extradition is sought shall be under trial or shall be already condemned in the State from which it is sought to extradite him, for an offense committed prior to the request for extradition, said extradition shall be granted at once, but the surrender of the accused to the demanding State shall be deferred until his trial ends or his sentence is served.

ARTICLE 7

Persons claimed by other Powers.

When the extradition of a person is sought by several States for the same offense, preference will be given to the State in whose territory said offense was committed. If he is sought for several offenses, preference will be given to the State within whose bounds shall have been committed the offense which has the greatest penalty according to the law of the surrendering State.

If the case is one of different acts which the State from which extradition is sought esteems of equal gravity, the preference will be determined by the priority of the request.

ARTICLE 8

Jurisdiction of surrendering State.

The request for extradition shall be determined in accordance with the domestic legislation of the surrendering State and the individual whose extradition is sought shall have the right to use all the remedies and resources authorized by such legislation, either before the judiciary or the administrative authorities as may be provided for by the aforesaid legislation.

ARTICLE 9

Apprehending fugitive.

Once a request for extradition in the form indicated in Article 5 has been received, the State from which the extradition is sought will exhaust all necessary measures for the capture of the person whose extradition is requested.

ARTICLE 10

Provisional detention.

The requesting State may ask, by any means of communication, the provisional or preventive detention of a person, if there is, at least, an order by some court for his detention and if the State at the same time offers to request extradition in due course. The State from which the extradition is sought will order the immediate arrest of the accused. If within a maximum period of two months after the requesting State has been notified of the arrest of the person, said State has not formally applied for extradition, the detained person will be set at liberty and his extradition may not again be requested except in the way established by Article 5.

Liability to rest with demanding State.

The demanding State is exclusively liable for any damages which might arise from the provisional or preventive detention of a person.

ARTICLE 11

Time limitation for holding fugitive.

Extradition having been granted and the person requested put at the disposition of the diplomatic agent of the demanding State, then, if, within two months from the time when said agent is notified of same, the person has not been sent to his destination, he will be set at liberty, and he cannot again be detained for the same cause.

The period of two months will be reduced to forty days when the countries concerned are conterminous.

ARTICLE 12

If extradition refused, no further application permitted.

Once extradition of a person has been refused, application may not again be made for the same alleged act.[3]

ARTICLE 13

Guards.

The State requesting the extradition may designate one or more guards for the purpose of taking charge of the person extradited, but said guards will be subject to the orders of the police or other authorities of the State granting the extradition or of the States in transit.

ARTICLE 14

Place of surrender.

The surrender of the person extradited to the requesting State will be done at the most appropriate point on the frontier or in the most accessible port, if the transfer is to be made by water.

ARTICLE 15

Articles seized with fugitive.

The objects found in the possession of the person extradited, obtained by the perpetration of the illegal act for which extradition is requested, or which might be useful as evidence of same, will be confiscated and handed over to the demanding country, notwithstanding it might not be possible to surrender the accused because of some unusual situation such as his escape or death.[4]

ARTICLE 16

Costs of arrest, etc.

The costs of arrest, custody, maintenance, and transportation of the person, as well as of the objects referred to in the preceding article, will be borne by the State granting the extradition up to the moment of surrender and from thereon they will be borne by the demanding State.[5]

ARTICLE 17

Undertaking, if extradition granted.

Once the extradition is granted, the demanding State undertakes:

a) Not to try nor to punish the person for a common offense which was committed previous to the request for extradition and which has not been included in said request, except only if the interested party expressly consents.

b) Not to try nor to punish the person for a political offense, or for an offense connected with a political offense, committed previous to the request for extradition.

c) To apply to the accused the punishment of next lesser degree than death if according to the legislation of the country of refuge the death penalty would not be applicable.

d) To furnish to the State granting the extradition an authentic copy of the sentence pronounced.

[3] Art. 12 was not accepted by the United States of America.
[4] Art. 15 was not accepted by the United States of America.
[5] Art. 16 was not accepted by the United States of America.

ARTICLE 18

Transit via third country.

The signatory States undertake to permit the transit through their respective territories of any person whose extradition has been granted by another State in favor of a third, requiring only the original or an authentic copy of the agreement by which the country of refuge granted the extradition.[6]

ARTICLE 19

Prior offenses, extradition of.

No request for extradition may be based upon the stipulations of this Convention if the offense in question has been committed before the ratification of the Convention is deposited.

ARTICLE 20

Ratification.

The present Convention will be ratified by means of the legal forms in common use in each of the signatory States, and will come into force, for each of them, thirty days after the deposit of the respective ratification.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Uruguay shall transmit authentic certified copies to the governments for the aforementioned purpose of ratification. The instrument of ratification shall be deposited in the archives of the Pan-American Union in Washington, which shall notify the signatory governments of said deposit. Such notification shall be considered as an exchange of ratifications.

ARTICLE 21

Existing treaties not abrogated hereby.

The present Convention does not abrogate or modify the bilateral or collective treaties, which at the present date are in force between the signatory States. Nevertheless, if any of said treaties lapse, the present Convention will take effect and become applicable immediately among the respective States, if each of them has fulfilled the stipulations of the preceding article.

ARTICLE 22

Duration.

The present Convention shall remain in force indefinitely but may be denounced by means of one year's notice given to the Pan-American Union, which shall transmit it to the other signatory governments. After the expiration of this period the Convention shall cease in its effects as regards the party which denounces but shall remain in effect for the remaining High Contracting Parties.

Denunciation.

ARTICLE 23

Adherence.

The present Convention shall be open for the adherence and accession of the States which are not signatories. The corresponding instruments shall be deposited in the archives of the Pan-American Union, which shall communicate them to the other High Contracting Parties.

Signatures.

In witness whereof, the following Plenitotentiaries have signed this convention in Spanish, English, Portuguese and French and hereunto affix their respective seals in the city of Montevideo, Republic of Uruguay, this 26th day of December, 1933.

Quienes, después de haber exhibido sus Plenos Poderes, que fueron hallados en buena y debida forma, han convenido en lo siguiente:

ARTÍCULO 1

Cada uno de los Estados signatarios se obliga a entregar, de acuerdo con las estipulaciones de la presente Convención, a cualquiera de los otros Estados que los requiera, a los individuos que se hallen en su territorio y estén acusados o hayan sido sentenciados, siempre que concurran las circunstancias siguientes:

a) Que el Estado requiriente tenga jurisdicción para juzgar el hecho delictuoso que se imputa al individuo reclamado.

b) Que el hecho por el cual se reclama la extradición tenga el carácter de delito y sea punible por las leyes del Estado requiriente y por las del Estado requerido con la pena mínima de un año de privación de la libertad.

ARTÍCULO 2

Cuando el individuo fuese nacional del Estado requerido, por lo que respecta a su entrega ésta podrá o no ser acordada según lo que determine la legislación o las circunstancias del caso a juicio del Estado requerido. Si no entregare al individuo, el Estado requerido queda obligado a juzgarlo por el hecho que se le imputa, si en él concurren las condiciones establecidas por el inciso b) del artículo anterior, y a comunicar al Estado requiriente la sentencia que recaiga.[7]

[7] El art.º 2 no fué aceptado por los Estados Unidos de América.

ARTÍCULO 3

El Estado requerido no estará obligado a conceder la extradición:

a) Cuando estén prescriptas la acción penal o la pena, según las leyes del Estado requiriente y del requerido con anterioridad a la detención del individuo inculpado.

b) Cuando el individuo inculpado haya cumplido su condena en el país del delito o cuando haya sido amnistiado o indultado.

c) Cuando el individuo inculpado haya sido o esté siendo juzgado en el Estado requerido por el hecho que se le imputa y en el cual se funda el pedido de extradición.

d) Cuando el individuo inculpado hubiera de comparecer ante tribunal o juzgado de excepción del Estado requiriente, no considerándose así a los tribunales del fuero militar.[8]

e) Cuando se trate de delito político o de los que le son conexos. No se reputará delito político el atentado contra la persona del Jefe de Estado o de sus familiares.

f) Cuando se trate de delitos puramente militares o contra la religión.

ARTÍCULO 4

La apreciación del carácter de las excepciones a que se refiere el artículo anterior corresponde exclusivamente al Estado requerido.

ARTÍCULO 5

El pedido de extradición debe formularse por el respectivo representante diplomático, y a falta de éste por los agentes consulares o directamente de gobierno a gobierno, y debe acompañarse de los siguientes documentos, en el idioma del país requerido:

a) Cuando el individuo ha sido juzgado y condenado por los tribunales del Estado requiriente, una copia auténtica de la sentencia ejecutoriada.

b) Cuando el individuo es solamente un acusado, una copia auténtica de la orden de detención, emanada de juez competente; una relación precisa del hecho imputado, una copia de las leyes penales aplicables a ésta, así como de las leyes referentes a la prescripción de la acción o de la pena.

c) Ya se trate de condenado o de acusado, y siempre que fuera posible, se remitirá la filiación y demás datos personales que permitan identificar al individuo reclamado.

ARTÍCULO 6

Cuando el individuo reclamado se hallare procesado o condenado en el Estado requerido, por delito cometido con anterioridad al pedido de extradición, la extradición podrá ser desde luego concedida; pero la entrega al Estado requiriente deberá ser diferida hasta que se termine el proceso o se extinga la pena.

ARTÍCULO 7

Cuando la extradición de un individuo fuere pedida por diversos Estados con referencia al mismo delito, se dará preferencia al Estado en cuyo territorio éste se haya cometido.

Si se solicita por hechos diferentes, se dará preferencia al Estado en cuyo territorio se hubiere cometido el delito que tenga pena mayor, según la ley del Estado requerido.

[8] El inciso d del art.° 3 no fué aceptado por los Estados Unidos de América.

Si se tratare de hechos diferentes que el Estado requerido reputa de igual gravedad, la preferencia será determinada por la prioridad del pedido.

ARTÍCULO 8

El pedido de extradición será resuelto de acuerdo con la legislación interior del Estado requerido; y, ya corresponda, según ésta, al poder judicial o al poder administrativo. El individuo cuya extradición se solicite podrá usar todas las instancias y recursos que aquella legislación autorice.

ARTÍCULO 9

Recibido el pedido de extradición en la forma determinada por el artículo 5.°, el Estado requerido agotará todas las medidas necesarias para proceder a la captura del individuo reclamado.

ARTÍCULO 10

El Estado requiriente podrá solicitar, por cualquier medio de comunicación, la detención provisional o preventiva de un individuo siempre que exista a lo menos, una orden de detención dictada en su contra y ofrezca pedir oportunamente la extradición. El Estado requerido ordenará la inmediata detención del inculpado. Si dentro de un plazo máximo de dos meses, contados desde la fecha en que se notificó al Estado requiriente el arresto del individuo, no formalizara aquél su pedido de extradición, el detenido será puesto en libertad y no podrá solicitarse de nuevo su extradición sino en la forma establecida por el artículo 5.°.

Las responsabilidades que pudieran originarse de la detención provisional o preventiva corresponden exclusivamente al Estado requiriente.

ARTÍCULO 11

Concedida la extradición y puesta la persona reclamada a disposición del agente diplomático del Estado requiriente, si dentro de dos meses contados desde la comunicación en ese sentido no hubiera sido aquella enviada a su destino será puesta en libertad, no pudiendo ser de nuevo detenida por el mismo motivo.

El plazo de dos meses se reducirá a cuarenta días si se tratare de países limítrofes.

ARTÍCULO 12

Negada la extradición de un individuo no podrá solicitarse de nuevo por el mismo hecho imputado.[9]

ARTÍCULO 13

El Estado requiriente podrá nombrar agentes de seguridad para hacerse cargo del individuo extradido; pero la intervención de aquéllos estará subordinada a los agentes o autoridades con jurisdicción en el Estado requerido o en los de tránsito.

ARTÍCULO 14

La entrega del individuo extradido al Estado requiriente se efectuará en el punto más apropiado de la frontera o en el puerto más adecuado si su traslación hubiera de hacerse por la vía marítima o fluvial.

[9] El art.° 12 no fué aceptado por los Estados Unidos de América.

ARTÍCULO 15

Los objetos que se encontraren en poder del individuo requerido, obtenidos por la perpetración del delito que motiva el pedido de extradición, o que pudieran servir de prueba para el mismo, serán secuestrados y entregados al país requiriente aun cuando no pudiera verificarse la entrega del individuo por causas extrañas al procedimiento, como fuga o fallecimiento de dicha persona.[10]

ARTÍCULO 16

Los gastos de prisión, custodia, manutención y transporte de la persona, así como de los objetos a que se refiere el artículo anterior, serán por cuenta del Estado requerido, hasta el momento de su entrega, y desde entonces quedarán a cargo del Estado requiriente.[11]

ARTÍCULO 17

Concedida la extradición, el Estado requiriente se obliga:

a) A no procesar ni a castigar al individuo por un delito común cometido con anterioridad al pedido de extradición y que no haya sido incluído en él, a menos que el interesado manifieste expresamente su conformidad.

b) A no procesar ni a castigar al individuo por delito político, o por delito conexo con delito político, cometido con anterioridad al pedido de extradición.

c) A aplicar al individuo la pena inmediata inferior a la pena de muerte, si, según la legislación del país de refugio, no correspondiera aplicarle pena de muerte.

d) A proporcionar al Estado requerido una copia auténtica de la sentencia que se dicte.

ARTÍCULO 18

Los Estados signatarios se obligan a permitir el tránsito por su territorio de todo individuo cuya extradición haya sida acordada por otro Estado a favor de un tercero, sin más requisito que la presentación, en original o en copia auténtica del acuerdo por el cual el país de refugio concedió la extradición.[12]

[11] El art.° 16 no fué aceptado por los Estados Unidos de América.
[12] El art.° 18 no fué aceptado por los Estados Unidos de América.

M. André TARDIEU, Député, Président du Conseil, Ministre des Affaires Etrangères, Officier de la Légion d'Honneur, who, having communicated to one another their full powers found in good and due form, have agreed upon the following articles:

lesquels, après avoir échangé leurs pleins pouvoirs reconnus en bonne et due forme, sont convenus récipro quement des dispositions suivantes:

ARTICLE I

Industrial profits nontaxable except allocations to capital, etc.

Enterprises of one of the contracting States are not subject to taxation by the other contracting

ARTICLE I

Les entreprises de l'un des Etats contractants ne sont soumises à l'impôt de l'autre Etat

State in respect of their industrial and commercial profits except in respect of such profits allocable to their permanent establishments in the latter State.

Purchases of merchandise.

No account shall be taken, in determining the tax in one of the contracting States, of the purchase of merchandise effected therein by an enterprise of the other State for the purpose of supplying establishments maintained by such enterprise in the latter State.

ARTICLE II

Statements of American enterprises to be submitted to French fiscal administration.

American enterprises having permanent establishments in France are required to submit to the French fiscal administration the same declarations and the same justifications, with respect to such establishments, as French enterprises.

The French fiscal administration has the right, within the provisions of its national legislation and subject to the measures of appeal provided in such legislation, to make such corrections in the declaration of profits realized in France as may be necessary to show the exact amount of such profits.

Same application to French enterprises in United States.

The same principle applies mutatis mutandis to French enterprises having permanent establishments in the United States.

ARTICLE III

Income from aircraft.

Income which an enterprise of one of the contracting States derives from the operation of aircraft registered in such State and engaged in transportation between the two States is taxable only in the former State.

ARTICLE IV

Profits diverted from French enterprise by an American enterprise.

When an American enterprise, by reason of its participation in the management or capital of a French enterprise, makes or imposes on the latter, in their commercial or financial relations, contractant, en ce qui concerne les bénéfices industriels et commerciaux, qu'en raison des bénéfices provenant des établissements stables qu'elles exploitent dans ce dernier Etat.

N'entrent pas en compte pour l'assiette de l'impôt dans l'un des Etats contractants les achats de marchandises qui y sont effectués par une entreprise de l'autre Etat pour l'approvisionnement des établissements que ladite entreprise exploite dans ce dernier Etat.

ARTICLE II

Les entreprises américaines qui possèdent des établissements stables en France sont tenues de fournir à l'administration fiscale française les mêmes déclarations et les mêmes justifications, en ce qui concerne les dits établissements, que les entreprises françaises.

L'administration fiscale française a le droit, dans la limite des dispositions de sa législation nationale et sous réserve des recours prévus par cette législation, d'apporter à la déclaration des bénéfices réalisés en France, les redressements nécessaires pour dégager le chiffre exact de ces bénéfices.

Le même principe s'applique, mutatis mutandis, aux entreprises françaises ayant des établissements stables aux Etats-Unis.

ARTICLE III

Les revenus qu'une entreprise de l'un des Etats contractants tire de l'exploitation d'aéronefs immatriculés dans cet Etat et effectuant le transport entre les deux pays ne sont imposables que dans le premier Etat.

ARTICLE IV

Lorsqu'une entreprise américaine, du fait de sa participation à la gestion ou au capital d'une entreprise française, fait ou impose à cette dernière, dans leurs relations commerciales ou financières, conditions different from those which would be made with a third enterprise, any profits which should normally have appeared in the balance sheet of the French enterprise, but which have been, in this manner, diverted to the American enterprise, are, subject to the measures of appeal applicable in the case of the tax on industrial and commercial profits, incorporated in the taxable profits of the French enterprise.

The same principle applies mutatis mutandis, in the event that profits are diverted from an American enterprise to a French enterprise des conditions différentes de celles qui seraient faites à une tierce entreprise, tous bénéfices qui auraient dû normalement apparaître au bilan de l'entreprise française, mais qui ont été, de la sorte, transférés à l'entreprise américaine, sont, sous réserve des recours applicables en matière d'impôt sur les bénéfices industriels et commerciaux, incorporés aux bénéfices imposables de l'entreprise française.

American enterprise by a French enterprise.

Le même principe s'applique, mutatis mutandis, lorsque des bénéfices sont transférés d'une entreprise américaine à une entreprise française.

ARTICLE V.

American corporations which maintain in France permanent establishments may, in derogation of Article 3 of the Decree of December 6, 1872, elect to pay the tax on income from securities on three-fourths of the profits actually derived from such establishments, the industrial and commercial profits being determined in accordance with Article I.

An American corporation which wishes to place itself under the regime of the preceding paragraph must make a declaration to that effect at the Bureau of Registration within six months after the date upon which this Agreement becomes effective or within six months after the creation of its establishment in France. The election made for one establishment applies to all the establishments of such corporation. Any such election is irrevocable.

ARTICLE V

Tax on income from securities.

Les sociétés américaines qui possèdent en France des établissements stables ont, par dérogation à l'article 3 du décret du 6 décembre 1872, la faculté d'acquitter l'impôt sur le revenu des valeurs mobilières sur les trois quarts des bénéfices effectivement retirés de ces établissements, les bénéfices industriels et commerciaux étant déterminés en conformité des dispositions de l'article Ier.

Une société américaine qui veut se placer sous le régime prévu à l'alinéa qui précède doit en faire la déclaration au bureau de l'enregistrement dans les six mois de l'entrée en vigueur du présent accord ou dans les six mois qui suivent la création par elle d'un établissement en France. L'option faite pour un établissement vaut pour tous les établissements de la même société; elle est irrévocable.

ARTICLE VI

An American corporation shall not be subject to the obligations prescribed by Article 3 of the Decree of December 6, 1872, by reason of any participation in the management or in the capital of, or any other relations with, a French corporation, if such American corporation and French corporation conform to the require-

ARTICLE VI

Obligations waived if conforming to present requirements.

Une société américaine ne sera pas assujettie aux prescriptions de l'article 3 du décret du 6 décembre 1872 en raison d'une participation dans la gestion ou dans le capital ou à cause de toute autre relation avec une société française, si lesdites société américaine et société française se conforment aux dispositions du pré-

Tax on dividends, etc., of securities distributed by French enterprise.

ments of the present article. In such case, the tax on income from securities continues to be levied, in conformity with French legislation, on the dividends, interest and all other products distributed by the French enterprise; but it is moreover exigible, if the occasion arises, and subject to the measures of appeal applicable in the case of the tax on income from securities, on the profits which the American corporation derives from the French corporation under the conditions prescribed in Article IV.

Profits American corporation derives from French corporation.

Joint declarations to be made under such regime.

An American corporation which wishes to place itself under the regime of the preceding paragraph must make a declaration to that effect at the Bureau of Registration jointly with the interested French corporation, within six months after the date upon which this Agreement becomes effective or within six months after the acquisition of the participation or the commencement of the relations of a nature to entail the application of Article 3 of the Decree of December 6, 1872. Any such election is irrevocable.

Benefits enjoyed by American corporations not so subjected.

American corporations which have not made the declaration and which are subjected to the provisions of Article 3 of the Decree of December 6, 1872, shall enjoy the benefits of Articles 27, 28 and 29 of the French law of July 31, 1920, and Article 25 of the French law of March 19, 1928, under the same conditions as French corporations.

Tax exemptions.

Pay of its citizens residing in other State.

ARTICLE VII

Compensation paid by one of the contracting States to its citizens for labor or personal services performed in the other State is exempt from tax in the latter State.

ARTICLE VIII

War pensions.

War pensions paid by one of the contracting States to persons residing in the territory of the other State are exempt from tax in the latter State.

sent article. Dans ce cas, l'impôt sur le revenu des valeurs mobilières continue à être perçu conformément à la législation française sur les dividendes, intérêts et tous autres produits distribués par l'entreprise française, mais il est, en outre, exigible, le cas échéant, et sous réserve des recours applicables en matière d'impôt sur le revenu des valeurs mobilières, sur les bénéfices que l'entreprise américaine retire de l'entreprise française dans les conditions prévues par l'article IV.

Une société américaine qui veut bénéficier de la faculté prévue à l'alinéa précédent doit en faire la déclaration au bureau de l'enregistrement, conjointement avec la société française intéressée, dans les six mois de l'entrée en vigueur du présent accord, ou dans les six mois de la prise de participation ou du commencement des relations de nature à entraîner l'application de l'article 3 du décret du 6 décembre 1872. L'option exercée est irrévocable.

Les sociétés américaines qui n'ont pas fait la déclaration et qui sont assujetties aux dispositions de l'article 3 du décret du 6 décembre 1872, bénéficient des articles 27, 28 et 29 de la loi du 31 juillet 1920 et de l'article 25 de la loi du 19 mars 1928, dans les mêmes conditions que les sociétés françaises.

ARTICLE VII

Les rémunérations payées par l'un des Etats contractants à ses citoyens pour travaux ou services personnels accomplis dans l'autre Etat sont exemptés d'impôt dans ce dernier Etat.

ARTICLE VIII

Les pensions pour faits de guer re payées par l'un des Etats contractants à des personnes résidant sur le territoire de l'autre Etat sont exemptes d'impôt dans ce dernier Etat.

ARTICLE IX

(a) amounts paid as consideration for the right to use patents, secret processes and formulas, trade marks and other analogous rights;

(b) income received as copyright royalties;

(c) private pensions and life annuities.

ARTICLE X

This Agreement shall be ratified and the instruments of ratification exchanged at Paris as soon as possible.

The Agreement shall become effective on the first day of January following the exchange of ratifications and shall remain effective for a period of five years, and thereafter until twelve months from the date on which either Contracting Party gives notice of its termination.

American corporations which prior to May 1, 1930, have not had their liability to tax under Article 3 of the Decree of December 6, 1872, finally determined, and which make the declaration prescribed in Article VI of the present convention, shall not be subject to the application of Article 3 of the Decree of December 6, 1872, for any years preceding the coming into force of the Agreement.

In witness whereof, the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the above articles, both in the English and French languages, and have hereunto affixed their seals.

Done in duplicate at Paris, on the 27th of April, 1932.

ARTICLE IX

Les revenus des catégories ci-après payés dans l'un des Etats contractants à une société de l'autre Etat ou à un citoyen de ce dernier Etat y résidant sont exempts d'impôt dans le premier Etat. Certain payments made to parties in the other State.

b) Revenus perçus comme droits d'auteur;

c) Pensions privées et rentes viagères.

Le présent accord sera ratifié et les instruments de ratification échangés à Paris dans le plus bref délai. Ratification.

L'accord entrera en vigueur le Ier janvier de l'année qui suivra celle de la ratification et restera en vigueur pour une période de cinq ans, et ensuite, jusqu'à l'expiration des douze mois à partir de la date où l'une des Parties contractantes aura notifié son intention d'y mettre fin. Effective date. Duration.

Provisional exemption. Ante, p. 3147.

En foi de quoi, les Plénipotentiaires ont signé la présente Convention et y ont apposé leur sceau. Signatures.

PROTOCOL

PROTOCOLE

Construction of terms.

At the moment of signing the Convention on Double Taxation between the United States of America and the Republic of France, the undersigned Plenipotentiaries, duly authorized by their respective Governments, have agreed, as follows:

Au moment de procéder à la signature de la présente Convention, les Plénipotentiaires soussignés, dûment autorisés par leurs Gouvernements respectifs, ont fait les déclarations concordantes suivantes qui forment partie intégrante de la Convention.

Taxes.

(1) The taxes referred to in this Agreement are:

(a) for the United States:

the Federal income tax—but it is understood that Article 1 does not exempt from tax (1) compensation for labor or personal services performed in the United States; (2) income derived from real property located in the United States, or from any interest in such property, including rentals and royalties therefrom, and gains from the sale or the disposition thereof; (3) dividends; (4) interest.

I°) Les impôts visés dans le présent accord sont:

(a) pour les Etats-Unis: l'impôt fédéral sur le revenu (Federal income tax), mais il est entendu que l'article Ier n'exempte pas:

1/ les rémunérations pour travaux ou services personnels accomplis aux Etats-Unis;

2/ les revenus provenant des immeubles situés aux Etats-Unis ou de quelque droit que ce soit sur de telles propriétés, y compris les loyers et redevances et tous bénéfices provenant de la vente ou de toute autre disposition de ces propriétés;

3/ les dividendes;

4/ les intérêts;

(b) For France:

—in articles I, II, III and IV, the tax on industrial and commercial profits (impôt sur les bénéfices industriels et commerciaux);

—in articles III, V and VI, the tax on income from securities (impôt sur les revenus des valeurs mobilières);

—in articles VII, VIII and IX, the tax on wages and salaries, pensions and life annuities (impôt sur les traitements et salaires, pensions et rentes viagères), and other schedular taxes (impôts cédulaires) appropriate to the type of income specified in said articles;

(b) pour la France:

Dans les articles I, II, III et IV, l'impôt sur les bénéfices industriels et commerciaux;

Dans les articles III, V et VI, l'impôt sur le revenu des valeurs mobilières;

Dans les articles VII, VIII et IX, l'impôt sur les traitements et salaires, pensions et rentes viagères et autres impôts cédulaires appro priés aux revenus visés dans ces articles.

(2) The provisions of this Agreement shall not be construed to affect in any manner any exemption, deduction, credit or other allowance accorded by the laws of one of the contracting States in the determination of the tax imposed by such State.

2°) Les dispositions de l'accord ne restreignent pas les exemptions, déduc tions, réductions ou abattements ou autres avantages accordés par la législation de l'un des Etats contractants, dans la détermination de la taxe imposée par cet Etat.

(3) As used in this Agreement:

(a) The term "permanent establishment" includes branches, mines and oil wells, factories, workshops, warehouses, offices, agencies, and other fixed places of business, but does not include a subsidiary corporation.

When an enterprise of one of the States carries on businnes in the other State through an agent established there who is authorised to contract for its account, it is considered as having a permanent establishment in the latter State.

But the fact that an enterprise of one of the contracting States has business dealings in the other State through a bona fide commission agent or broker shall not be held to mean that such enterprise has a permanent establishment in the latter State.

(b) The term "enterprise" includes every form of undertaking whether carried on by an individual, partnership (société en nom collectif), corporation (société anonyme), or any other entity.

(c) The term "enterprise of one of the contracting States" means, as the case may be, "American enterprise" or "French enterprise".

(d) The term "American enterprise" means an enterprise carried on in the United States by a citizen of the United States or by an American corporation or other entity; the term "American corporation or other entity" means a partnership, corporation or other entity created or organized in the United States or under the law of the United States or of any State or Territory of the United States.

(e) The term "French enterprise" is defined in the same manner, mutatis mutandis, as the term "American enterprise".

3°) Pour l'interprétation du présent accord:

(a) Le terme "établissement stable" désigne les succursales, exploitations minières et pétrolifères, fabriques, ateliers, magasins, bureaux, agences et autres centres fixes d'affaires, mais ne comprend pas les sociétés filiales. "Permanent establishment."

Lorsqu'une entreprise de l'un des Etats contractants fait des affaires dans l'autre Etat par la voie d'un agent y établi qui est autorisé à contracter pour son compte, elle est considérée comme ayant un établissement stable dans ce dernier Etat.

Mais le fait pour une entreprise de l'un des Etats d'avoir des relations d'affaires dans l'autre Etat par l'intermédiaire d'un commissionnaire ou courtier vraiment autonome ne permet pas de considérer cette entreprise comme ayant un établissement stable dans ce dernier Etat.

(b) Le mot "entreprise" comprend toute forme d'exploitation appartenant à un particulier, société en nom collectif, société anonyme ou toute autre collectivité. "Enterprise."

(c) L'expression "entreprise d'un des Etats contractants" signifie, suivant le cas, "entreprise américaine" ou "entreprise française". "Enterprise of one of the contracting States."

(d) L'expression "entreprise américaine" désigne une entreprise exploitée aux Etats-Unis par un citoyen des Etats-Unis, ou par une société ou autre collectivité américaine. "American enterprise."

L'expression "société ou autre collectivité américaine" désigne toute société ou autre collectivité créée ou organisée dans les Etats-Unis ou suivant les lois des Etats-Unis ou d'un Etat ou Territoire des Etats-Unis.

(e) L'expression "entreprise française" se définit de la même façon, mutatis mutandis, que l'expression "entreprise américaine". "French enterprise."

American corporations.
Ante, p. 3147.

(f) The American corporations mentioned in Articles V and VI are those which, owing to their form of organization, are subject to Article 3 of the Decree of December 6, 1872. The present Agreement does not modify the regime of "abonnement" for securities.

(f) Les sociétés américaines visées aux articles V et VI sont celles qui, en raison de leur forme, sont soumises à l'article 3 du décret du 6 décembre 1872. Le pré sent accord ne modifie pas le régime de l'abonnement en matière de titres.

"United States."

(g) The term "United States", when used in a geographical sense, includes only the States and the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, and the District of Columbia.

(g) Le terme "Etats-Unis", quand il est employé dans un sens géographique, ne comprend que les Etats, les Territoires d'Alaska et d'Hawai et le District de Columbia.

"France."

(h) The term "France", when used in a geographical sense, indicates the country of France, exclusive of Algeria and the Colonies.

(h) Le terme "France", quand il est employé dans un sens géographique, ne comprend que la France métropolitaine, à l'exclusion de l'Algérie et des colonies.

Second. There shall also be excepted those matters controlled by international agreements now in force.

Chile does not accept obligatory arbitration for questions which have their origin in situations or acts antedating the present treaty nor does it accept obligatory arbitration for those questions which, being under the exclusive competency of the national jurisdiction, the interested parties claim the right to withdraw from the cognizance of the established judicial authorities, unless said authorities decline to pass judgment on any action or exception which any natural or juridical foreign person may present to them in the form established by the laws of the country.

The Delegation of Bolivia, in accordance with the doctrine and policy invariably maintained by Bolivia in the field of international jurisprudence, gives full adherence to and signs the General Treaty of Inter-American Arbitration which the Republics of America are to sanction, formulating the following express reservations:

First. There may be excepted from the provisions of the present agreement, questions arising from

[TRADUCÇÃO DAS RESERVAS]

A delegação da Venezuela assigna o presente tratado de arbitramento com as seguintes reservas:

Primeira. Ficam excluidos deste tratado os assumptos que, conforme a Constituição ou as leis da Venezuela, correspondam á jurisdicção dos seus tribunaes; e, especialmente, os relativos a reclamações pecuniarias de extranjeiros. Nestes assumptos não procederá o arbitramento senão quando, tendo-se exgotado pelo reclamante os recursos legaes, houver evidencia de denegação de justiça.

Segunda. Ficam egualmente excluidos os assumptos regidos por accordos internacionaes em vigor nesta data.

O Chile não acceita o arbitramento obrigatorio para as questões que tenham origem em situações ou factos anteriores ao presente tratado, nem a acceita para as questões que, sendo da competencia exclusiva da jurisdicção nacional, pretendam as partes interessadas subtrai-las ao conhecimento das auctoridades judiciaes estabelecidas, salvo que as ditas auctoridades se negassem a resolver sobre qualquer acção ou excepção que alguma pessoa natural ou juridica extranjeira apresente na forma estabelecida pelas leis do paiz.

A delegação da Bolivia, de accordo com a doutrina e politica invariavelmente mantidas pela Bolivia no campo juridico internacional, presta plena adhesão e assigna o tratado geral de arbitramento inter-Americano que hão de sanccionar as Republicas da America, formulando as seguintes expressas reservas:

Primeira. Poder-se-ão exceptuar das estipulações do convenio presente as questões emergentes

[TRADUCTION DES RÉSERVES]

La délégation du Vénézuéla signe le présent traité d'arbitrage avec les réserves suivantes:

Premièrement. Sont exclues de ce traité les questions qui, conformément à la Constitution ou aux lois du Vénézuéla, relèvent de la juridiction de ses tribunaux, et, particulièrement, celles qui se réfèrent aux réclamations pécuniaires faites par des étrangers. Dans de tels cas, il ne sera procédé à l'arbitrage que lorsque, tous les moyens légaux ayant été épuisés par le réclamant, il sera évident qu'il y a eu refus de justice.

Deuxièmement. Sont également exclues les questions régies par des accords internationaux actuellement en vigueur.

Le Chili n'accepte pas l'arbitrage obligatoire pour les questions qui ont leur origine dans des situations ou faits antérieurs au présent traité, ni ne l'accepte pour les questions relevant de la compétence exclusive de la juridiction nationale, que les parties intéressées prétendent retirer de la connaissance des autorités judiciaires établies, sauf lorsque les dites autorités refusent de prendre une décision en ce qui concerne toute action ou exception que toute personne étrangère naturelle ou juridique pourrait leur soumettre de la manière établie par les lois du pays.

La délégation de la Bolivie, conformément à la doctrine et à la politique invariablement suivies par la Bolivie dans le domaine juridique international, donne entièrement son adhésion et signe le traité général d'arbitrage interaméricain que les Républiques d'Amérique doivent sanctionner, en formulant expressément les réserves suivantes:

Premièrement. Seront exceptées des stipulations du présent traité les questions surgissant d'actes acts occurring or conventions concluded before the said treaty goes into effect, as well as those which, in conformity with international law, are under the exclusive jurisdiction of the state.

Second. It is also understood that, for the submission to arbitration of a territorial controversy or dispute, the zone to which the said arbitration is to apply must be previously determined in the arbitral agreement.

I vote in favor of the Treaty of Arbitration, with the reservation formulated by the Delegation of Uruguay at the Fifth Pan American Conference, favoring broad arbitration; and with the understanding that arbitration will be resorted to only in case of denial of justice, when the national tribunals have jurisdiction, according to the legislation of their own country.

Reservations of Costa Rica:

(a) The obligations contracted under this Treaty do not annul, abrogate, or restrict the arbitration conventions which are now in force between Costa Rica and another or others of the high contracting parties and do not involve arbitration, disavowal, or renewed discussion of questions which may have already been settled by arbitral awards.

(b) The obligations contracted under this Treaty do not involve the arbitration of judgments handed down by the courts of Costa Rica in civil cases which may be submitted to them and with regard to which the interested parties have recognized the jurisdiction of said courts.

The Delegation of Honduras, in signing the present Treaty, formulates an express reservation making it a matter of record that the provisions thereof shall not be applicable to pending international questions or contro-de acontecimentos ou de convenções anteriores á accessão do pacto indicado, assim como as que de conformidade com o direito internacional correspondem á competencia exclusiva do Estado.

Segunda. Fica egualmente entendido que para submetter-se ao arbitramento uma controversia ou um litigio territorial, se deve determinar previamente no compromisso a zona sobre a qual versará o dito arbitramento.

Voto a favor do tratado de arbitramento, com a reserva formulada pela delegação do Uruguay na Quinta Conferencia Internacional Americana, advogando o arbitramento amplo; e na intelligencia de que se terá recurso ao arbitramento só em caso de denegação de justiça, quando teem competencia os tribunaes nacionaes, segundo a sua propria legislação.

Reservas de Costa Rica:

(a) As obrigações contrahidas neste tratado não annulam, revogam nem restringem os convenios vigentes de arbitramento que já existem entre Costa Rica e outra ou outras das Altas Partes Contractantes e não implicam arbitramento, desconhecimento ou rediscussão de questões que já tiverem sido resolvidas por laudos arbitraes.

(b) As obrigações contrahidas neste tratado não implicam o arbitramento de sentenças passadas pelos tribunaes de Costa Rica em juizos civis que lhes sejam submettidos e a respeito dos quaes as partes interessadas tenham reconhecido a competencia dos ditos tribunaes.

A delegação de Honduras, ao assignar o presente tratado, formula a expressa reserva, fazendo constar que as suas disposições não serão applicaveis aos assumptos ou ás controversias internacionaes pendentes, nem aos que se ou de conventions antérieurs à l'entrée en vigueur du dit traité, ainsi que celles qui, conformément au droit international, relèvent de la juridiction exclusive de l'Etat.

Deuxièmement. Il est également entendu que pour soumettre à l'arbitrage une controverse territoriale ou un conflit territorial, il faudra déterminer, précédemment dans le compromis, la zone affectée par le dit arbitrage.

Je vote en faveur du traité d'arbitrage avec la réserve formulée par la délégation de l'Uruguay à la Cinquième Conférence Internationale Américaine favorisant un arbitrage étendu, et avec l'entente qu'il ne sera fait recours à l'arbitrage que dans le cas de refus de justice, lorsque les tribunaux nationaux auront juridiction conformément à la législation de leur propre pays.

Réserves de Costa Rica:

(a) Les obligations contractées par le présent traité n'annullent, ni n'abrogent, ni ne limitent les conventions d'arbitrage actuellement en vigueur entre Costa Rica et une quelconque des Hautes Parties Contractantes et n'impliquent ni l'arbitrage, ni la rétractation, ni la discussion nouvelle de questions qui ont déjà été réglées par des sentences arbitrales.

(b) Les obligations contractées par le présent traité n'impliquent pas l'arbitrage de décisions prises par les tribunaux de Costa Rica dans des cas civils qui peuvent leur être soumis et au sujet desquels les parties intéressées ont reconnu la compétence des dits tribunaux.

La délégation de l'Honduras, en signant le présent traité, fait expressément la réserve que ses termes ne seront applicables, ni à des questions ou controverses internationales en litige, ni à celles pouvant s'élever à l'avenir versies or to those which may arise in the future relative to acts prior to the date on which the said Treaty goes into effect.

The Delegation of Guatemala makes the following reservations:

1. In order to submit to arbitration any questions relating to the boundaries of the nation, the approval of the Legislative Assembly must first be given, in each case, in conformity with the Constitution of the Republic.

2. The provisions of the present Convention do not alter or modify the conventions and treaties previously entered into by the Republic of Guatemala.

The Delegation of Ecuador, pursuant to instructions of its Government, reserves from the jurisdiction of the obligatory arbitration agreed upon in the present Treaty:

1. Questions at present governed by conventions or treaties now in effect;

2. Those which may arise from previous causes or may result from acts preceding the signature of this treaty;

3. Pecuniary claims of foreigners who may not have previously exhausted all legal remedies before the courts of justice of the country, it being understood that such is the interpretation and the extent of the application which the Government of Ecuador has always given to the Buenos Aires Convention of August 11, 1910.

The Delegation of Colombia signs the foregoing Convention with the following two declarations or reservations:

First. The obligations which the Republic of Colombia may contract thereby refer to the differences which may arise from acts subsequent to the ratification of the Convention;

Second. Except in the case of a denial of justice, the arbitration provided for in this convention promovam no futuro sobre acontecimentos anteriores á data em que o dito tratado entre em vigor.

A delegação da Guatemala faz as seguintes reservas:

1. Para submetter ao arbitramento quaesquer questões relativas aos limites da Nação, deverá preceder, em cada caso, a approvação da assemblea legislativa, de conformidade com a Constituição da Republica.

2. As disposições da presente convenção não alteram nem modificam os convenios e tratados celebrados com anterioridade pela Republica da Guatemala.

A delegação do Equador, seguindo instrucções do seu Governo, reserva da jurisdicção do arbitramento obrigatorio accordado no presente tratado:

1. As questões actualmente regidas por convenios ou tratados vegintes;

2. As que surgirem por causas anteriores ou resultem de acontecimentos antecedentes á assignatura deste tratado;

3. As reclamações pecuniarias de extranjeiros que não tivessem exgotado previamente o recurso aos tribunaes de justiça, entendendo que tal é o espirito que dominou e tal o alcance que o Governo equatoriano sempre deu á convenção de Buenos Aires de 11 de Agosto de 1910.

A delegação da Colombia assigna a convenção anterior com as duas seguintes declarações ou reservas:

Primeira. As obrigações que forem contrahidas pela Republica da Colombia, em virtude da presente convenção, referem-se ás controversias que surgirem de acontecimentos posteriores á ratificação da convenção;

Segunda. A não ser que se trate de um caso de denegação de justiça, o arbitramento prepar suite d'actes antérieurs à la date à laquelle le dit traité entre en vigueur.

La délégation du Guatémala fait les réserves suivantes:

1. Afin que toutes questions relatives aux frontières de la nation puissent être soumises à l'arbitrage, il faut obtenir ou préalable et dans chaque cas, l'approbation de l'assemblée législative conformément à la Constitution de la République.

2. Les dispositions du présent traité n'altèrent ni ne modifient les conventions et traités antérieurement conclus par la République du Guatémala.

La délégation de l'Equateur, conformément aux instructions de son Gouvernement, exclut de la juridiction de l'arbitrage obligatoire convenu dans le présent traité:

1. Les questions actuellement régies par des conventions ou traités qui sont en vigueur en ce moment.

2. Celles qui peuvent surgir par suite de causes ou d'actes antérieurs à la signature du présent traité.

3. Les réclamations pécuniaires faites par des étrangers où la juridiction des tribunaux de justice du pays n'a pas été épuisée, étant entendu que telle est l'interprétation et la portée de l'application que le Gouvernement de l'Equateur a toujours données à la convention de Buenos Ayres du 11 août 1910.

La délégation de la Colombie signe la convention qui précède en faisant les deux déclarations ou réserves suivantes:

Premièrement. Les obligations que contracte la République de Colombie en vertu de la présente convention se réfèrent aux différends qui pourraient surgir par suite d'actes subséquents à sa ratification;

Deuxièmement. Sauf dans le cas de refus de justice, l'arbitrage prévu par la présente convention is not applicable to the questions which may have arisen or which may arise between a citizen, an association or a corporation of one of the parties and the other contracting state when the judges or courts of the latter state are, in accordance with its legislation, competent to settle the controversy.

Reservation of the Delegation of Paraguay:

I sign this treaty with the reservation that Paraguay excludes from its application questions which directly or indirectly affect the integrity of the national territory and are not merely questions of frontiers or boundaries.

Mexican Reservation:

Mexico makes the reservation that differences, which fall under the jurisdiction of the courts, shall not form a subject of the procedure provided for by the Convention, except in case of denial of justice, and until after the judgment passed by the competent national authority has been placed in the class of res judicata.

The Delegation of El Salvador to the Conference on Conciliation and Arbitration assembled in Washington accepts and signs the General Treaty of Inter-American Arbitration concluded this day by said Conference, with the following reservations or restrictions:

1. After the words of paragraph 1 of Article 1 reading: "under treaty or otherwise", the following words are to be added: "subsequent to the present Convention." The article continues without any other modification.

2. Paragraph (a) of Article 2 is accepted by the Delegation without the final words which read: "and are not controlled by international law", which should be considered as eliminated.

visto nesta convenção não é applicavel ás questões que se tiverem originado ou se originem entre um cidadão, uma sociedade ou uma corporação de uma das Partes e o outro Estado contractante quando os juizes ou tribunaes deste ultimo Estado são, de accordo com a sua legislação, competentes para resolver a controversia.

Reserva da Delegação do Paraguay:

Assigno este tratado com a reserva de que o Paraguay exclue da sua applicação as questões que affectem directa ou indirectamente a integridade do territorio nacional e que não sejam meramente de fronteiras ou de limites.

Reserva Mexicana:

O Mexico faz a reserva de que as controversias que caiam sob a jurisdicção dos tribunaes, não serão objecto do procedimento previsto pela Convenção, senão por denegação de justiça, e até depois que a sentença passada pela autoridade nacional competente tenha passado á categoria de causa julgada.

A delegação de O Salvador á conferencia de conciliação e de arbitramento, reunida em Washington, acceita e assigna o Tratado Geral de Arbitramento Interamericano celebrado no dia de hoje pela dita conferencia, com as reservas ou restricções seguintes:

1. Depois das palavras do paragrapho 1 do Artigo 1, em que se diz: "Em virtude de um Tratado ou por outra causa" devem ajuntar-se: "Posterior á convenção presente". Continua o artigo sem outra variação.

2. O paragrapho (a) do Artigo 2 é acceito pela Delegação sem as palavras finaes que dizem: "e que não estejam regidas pelo Direito Internacional", as quaes devem considerar-se supprimidas.

ne s'applique pas aux questions qui se sont élevées ou pourraient s'élever entre un citoyen, une société ou une corporation d'une des parties et l'autre Etat contractant, lorsque les juges ou tribunaux de ce dernier sont, conformément à sa législation, compétents pour régler la controverse.

Réserve de la Délégation du Paraguay:

Je signe ce traité avec la réserve que le Paraguay ne l'appliquera pas à des questions affectant, directement ou indirectement, l'intégrité du territoire national et qui ne sont pas simplement des questions de frontières ou de limites.

Réserve des Etats-Unis du Mexique:

Le Mexique fait la réserve que les différends relevant de la juridiction des tribunaux ne seront pas sujets à la procédure prévue par la Convention, sauf dans le cas de refus de justice, et après que la sentence prononcée par l'autorité nationale compétente aura été classifiée comme question réglée.

La délégation de l'El Salvador à la conférence de conciliation et d'arbitrage réunie à Washington accepte et signe le Traité Général d'Arbitrage Interaméricain conclu ce jour par ladite conférence, avec les réserves ou restrictions suivantes:

1. Dans la clause 1 de l'Article 1, après les mots: "Par suite d'un traité ou autrement", les mots suivants devraient être ajoutés: "Subséquemment à la présente Convention". L'article continue sans autre changement.

2. Clause (a), Article 2, est acceptée par la Délégation à l'exception des derniers mots: "et qui ne sont pas régies par le droit international" qui doivent être considérés comme supprimés.

3. This Treaty does not include controversies or differences with regard to points or questions which, according to the Political Constitution of El Salvador, must not be submitted to arbitration, and

4. Pecuniary claims against the nation shall be decided by its judges and courts, since they have jurisdiction thereof, and recourse shall be had to international arbitration only in the cases provided in the Constitution and laws of El Salvador, that is in cases of denial of justice or unusual delay in the administration thereof.

The Dominican Republic, in signing the General Treaty of Inter-American Arbitration, does so with the understanding that controversies relating to questions which are under the jurisdiction of its courts shall not be referred to arbitral jurisdiction except in accordance with the principles of international law.

3. Não ficam comprehendidas neste tratado as controversias ou differenças sobre pontos ou questões que, segundo a constituição politica de O Salvador, não se devem submetter ao arbitramento, e

4. As reclamações pecuniarias contra a Nação serão decididas pelos seus juizes e tribunaes, por corresponder-lhes o conhecimento, e só se recorrerá ao Arbitramento Internacional nos casos previstos pela Constituição e leis salvadorenses isto é, por denegação de justiça ou retardamento anormal em administral-a.

Ao assignar o Tratado Geral de Arbitramento Interamericano, a Republica Dominicana declara que o faz na intelligencia de que as controversias relativas a questões que são da competencia dos seus tribunaes não serão deferidas á jurisdicção arbitral senão nos casos de denegação de justiça, de accordo com os principios do Direito Internacional.

3. Ne sont pas comprises dans le présent traité les controverses ou différends concernant des points ou des questions qui, selon la constitution politique de l'El Salvador, ne doivent pas être soumis à l'arbitrage, et La République Dominicaine, en signant le Traité Général d'Arbitrage Interaméricain, le fait avec l'entente que les controverses relatives à des questions relevant de la juridiction de ses propres tribunaux ne seront pas soumises à la juridiction arbitrale, sauf conformément aux principes du droit international.

Les deux Administrations se communiquent, au moyen de la liste des objets interdits publiée par le Bureau International de l'Union Postale Universelle, tous les objets prohibés. Basis.

L'expéditeur, ou l'ayant-droit a droit, de ce chef, à une indemnité correspondant au montant réel de la perte, de la spoliation ou de l'avarie. Addresses in ordinary pencil are not allowed, but copying ink or indelible pencil on a surface previously dampened may be used.

2. The sender shall prepare one customs declaration for each parcel sent from either country, upon a form provided for the purpose, which customs declaration shall give a general description of the parcel, an accurate statement in detail of its contents and value, date of mailing, number of rates prepaid, the sender's name and address, and the name and address of the addressee, and shall be securely attached to the parcel.
